WASHINGTON.....SEPTEMBER 14, 1879.

LOCAL MENTION.

THE elegant furniture warerooms of Wash. E. Williams, Nos. 312 and 314 Seventh street, are filled from cellar to roof with a new and fashionable stock of furniture, such as was never before exhibited to a Washington public. All of the best manufactories are represented. All the novelties in furniture and all the numerous and varied styles are there. For elegant ebony dressing-case suites, inlaid with the finest Japanese lacquery; beauty carved walnut dresser and bureau suites, the best workmanship of the great northern and western manufactories, matchless in design; parlor furniture of the Eastlake and other styles, beautifully upholstered in reps, raw silk, gold-embroidered casimeres, etc.; dining-room furniture, as handsome as artist workmen can make it, and, in fact, all the numerous articles in that line. An invitation is extended to all. Accommodating clerks will be pleased to show you around.

NATURE has prescribed that the human system in order to retain vitality must have a stimulant other than that supplied by the ordinary food we eat, hence we find coffee and tea in general use to supply this want, but while either or both of these narcotics are stimulants, yet they lack the essential life-giving properties so much desired, and which can only be obtained in the form from the extracts of fruit and grain. The celebrated beer of the Rochester Brewing Company comes to the front with its just claim as not only a mild stimulant, but as a beverage which supplies the system with that which feeds the appetite, assists digestion, and contributes to the general health. We advise our readers to order a case from the agents, Messrs. Finley & Koch, No. 426 Pennsylvania avenue. Give it a fair trial and conclude, as we have, that it is the best beer in America.

THE patent strap on pantaloons, as used only by Keen, makes the garment fit perfectly, and gives ease and comfort to the wearer.

THE brand of flour familiarly known as "Bryan's Pride," from the Washburne (Minn.) mills, has justly become the standard with those who have used it, and it only needs a trial by housekeepers to make it a necessity to every household. This celebrated flour can be procured at the well-known grocery of Mr. C. C. Bryan, Fifteenth and I streets, where can also be found the finest assortment of fine family groceries in the city, and at as reasonable rates as they can be procured anywhere.

GODFREY & SULLIVAN, proprietors of the "Gem," No. 9, Thirteenth street, have been making the extensive improvements in their popular establishment, and among other things have fitted up a decant cafe, with furniture from Boston manufactories, the entire second story for a gentleman's eating and lunch room, and a grand opening will take place Tuesday evening next. The place supplies the most excellent meals, the finest oysters, and the purest liquors of the latest prices. Call on them and test the genuineness of these statements for yourselves.

ATTENTION is called to the announcement of W. W. Burdette & Co., in another column, of their opening of fall and winter goods, especially those of black velvets, satins, silks, and the French novelties in silk and wool dress goods. Read advertisement in another column.

MESSRS. W. WAID & Co., 921 Pennsylvania avenue, have entirely refitted, redecorated, and re-carpeted their establishment, and will in enlarged form throw open their doors to the public during the week one of the finest and most completely stocked clothing houses in the United States.

"AROUND the World with Gen. Grant," by John Russell Young, in twenty parts of sixty-eight pages, at fifty cents—eight hundred illustrations. Sold only by subscription. Names received by A. R. Stockman, 828 Ninth street northwest.

MESSRS. SELIG & MERTZ, late with John M. Keene, have opened a gentlemen's furnishing establishment at 457 Ninth street, and invite their friends to give them a call and examine their excellent stock of goods.

THE patent strap for pantaloons is the only one worth having, and Keen, the merchant tailor, Ninth street, near D, is the only man who can sell them.

"TREFOUSSE" Paris kid gloves. The best glove made. Every pair warranted. Fall shades, all lengths, for sale wholesale and retail at May's "Paris Kid Glove Depot," 929 Pennsylvania avenue.

WEBER'S Cincinnati lager beer, bottled for family use, at Charles Mades', Third street and Pennsylvania avenue.

WEBDOG stationery is tasteful and elegant designs at Dempsey's, 913 Pennsylvania avenue. See advertisement.

WE invite special attention to the card of Thomas J. Fisher & Co., to be found in another column of this issue.

THE Palais Royal is the select retreat of the best people, 465 Eleventh street.

THE rage of the town, Keen's patent straps on pantaloons.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Important to Magistrates and Suitors—Mrs. Spalds Again Heard From—Divorce Orders—The Intelligencer Building Suit—Who Will Hold Court.

An important decision to litigants in magistrates' courts was made by Justice MacArthur yesterday in the Circuit Court. The defendant in the case of Ehrlich, executor, etc., against Herbert had judgment for a rule on a justice of the Peace Walter to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to obey a writ of certiorari to remove the case before him up to the Circuit Court. The petition was argued by Mr. F. H. Mackey for and Mr. John A. Clake against. The court decided that, under the schedule of fees prescribed for magistrates, fifty cents was payable for certifying a record up, and that as this had not been paid by the defendant the justice was right in refusing.

An answer has been filed by Mrs. Spalds to the cross-bill of her husband for divorce. She denies all the charges of misconduct with the guests of the Raven House, reiterates her claims to the proprietorship, denies the allegation that her husband was unaware of her prior marriage, and furnishes documentary proof of the fact. Letters addressed to her, etc., of the property and her husband's letters recently written, acknowledging that he knew her history. A motion was granted by Justice MacArthur in the Equity Court yesterday, restraining Mrs. Spalds from disposing of or secreting any of the property in controversy.

On the petition of Minnie A. Barrington, who claims that her right name is Potter, Mr. W. B. Webb was yesterday appointed guardian ad litem, to make answer in the suit for divorce filed against her by George L. Barrington some months since, she being a minor.

In the suit for divorce filed by Peter P. against Martha A. Bergen, in order was made directing P. F. Larner to take testimony. The motion for enlargement of the restraining order on the husband, defendant in the divorce suit of Cahill against Cahill, was, by direction of the complaints' counsel, ordered off the calendar. The auditor's report regarding the ability of John M. Johnson to pay the alimony in the suit for separation brought against him by his wife, Sarah in 1869, was confirmed. It shows a rather poor financial condition on the part of the ex-husband.

Arguments will begin Monday in the case of John F. Coyle against Henry S. Davis and others, which has occupied the Equity Court for three days in reading the testimony. It was brought May 24, 1869, for an account and conveyance of one-third interest in the Intelligencer Building, on Seventh, near D street. Coyle obtained $18,000 from Davis, giving him a deed of the property, which is claimed in the bill to have been only intended as a mortgage, but which is absolute on its face. Three months was occupied in taking testimony, and some of the best legal talent is engaged, Messrs. Merrick and Crittenden appearing for the complainants, and Messrs. Davidge and Norris for the defense.

Marriage licenses were obtained from the clerk of the court yesterday by George Nicholson and Caroline Brown, both of Georgetown, D. C.; Oscar Johnson and Anna Montgomery, Charles D. Scott and Ella Childs, John H. Friess and Grace Spencer, Charles T. Wannamaker, of Baltimore, Md., and Emma J. McDermot, of this city.

Justice Cox will hold the Probate Court at 10 o'clock Tuesday. Justice MacArthur holds the Equity and special term of the Circuit Court daily. No other courts are in session this week.

The Greatest Show on Earth.

Barnum is coming, and the men, women, and children of this city and vicinity are full of visions of an immense mass of people in a mammoth tent, of graceful, daring, wonderful, brilliant bare-back riding, of flying through circles of flames, of hurdle leaping, jumping and dancing on bare-back horses by women, of feats of magic that put everything they ever saw before in the shade, of the most astonishing acrobatic feats, of splendid horses going through all sorts of manœuvres at the will of the master, of a leap with a double somersault over the backs of six elephants, of funny performances of all sorts, of various other strange sights which are less vivid, not because they are not worth seeing, but because the others are so much beyond them. The jokes of clowns, the music of the band, and the speeches of the great showman himself. And over all and above all they are satisfied that they will get their money's worth, and more too.

To say that Barnum's show this year is the best that ever traveled would be invidious. To say it is the best Barnum ever traveled with is saying all that can be said, and is saying just what Mr. Barnum himself says, and with which the thousands who have witnessed it will agree. There are several things that are worthy of special notice, as the hurdle-riding of Mlle. Linda Genl, and her dash through flaming circles; the astonishing feats of magic by the Egyptian jugglers, the wonderful and graceful riding by Madame Dockrill, on one and on four bare-backed horses; the beautiful drawing-room menage act by Miss Emma Lake, the leaping stallion, the poses, pantomimes, and acrobatic feats by the Herbert Brothers, the daring riding of Signor Sebastian, the beautiful stallions, etc., etc., any one of which is a whole entertainment in itself. And this is only a small part of the show. Nor should the extensive menagerie of animals, many of them rare, nor the museum, nor the living curiosities, be forgotten. An hour may be pleasantly and profitably spent in this part of the exhibition. The show will exhibit here on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the 22d, 23d, and 24th, giving two performances each day, and we advise both great and small to visit it either day or night. Tickets and reserved seats may be had on the days of exhibition at Ellis' music store at a slight advance. This will avoid the crush and prevent many annoyances.

THE following account of an extraordinary escape in the Alps is given by a correspondent writing from Uri: "Dr. Gangeri, of Ottenbach, with the guide Vincenz Bissig and Herr Gisler, of the Rössen Inn, has made the ascent of the Schreckhorn. As they were returning, Gisler, who was acting as porter, and had on his back a load weighing seventy pounds, made a false step and slipped. He thereupon, against the desire of his companions, untied the rope by which they were attached, saying he might slip again, and he was determined to endanger no other life than his own. They were then on a steep ice slope. Shortly afterward Gisler did slip again, and, losing his footing, shot with frightful velocity in the direction of a crevasse forty feet deep and six feet wide. As he neared the brink, however, Gisler, who is a man of powerful frame and great presence of mind, contrived to spring to his feet, and, clearing the crevasse at a bound, alighted unhurt on the other side, where the slope being less steep, he was able to keep his footing."

A Present to Company A.

Last Friday evening the forty-sixth anniversary of the organization of the Washington Light Infantry Corps was fittingly signalized by the presentation of a handsome three-quarter size crayon portrait of Col. William G. Moore, executed by McAlister, and encased in a rich and appropriate frame designed by the same artist. This was the gift of thirty-three gentlemen admirers of our crack company and its energetic commander. Probably 200 citizens, including some of our most substantial business men, were easily rallied as the armory by the announcement of a dress parade and exhibition drill, which was first given in a style that elicited unstinted applause, and then the surprise of the evening was gracefully sprung by the committee who had quietly managed the affair. Mr. John F. Ellis made the presentation address, reviewing the history of the corps, and Barton R. Ross, the first lieutenant, accepted the welcome gift on behalf of the company. Col. Moore addressed a few fitting remarks of acknowledgment of the compliment conveyed to him personally. A collation was then served in an adjoining room, at which the utmost cordiality and good-fellowship prevailed.

The portrait will be exhibited for a few days in the window of Ellis's music store.

Amusements in the "Division."

Last night William Jackson invaded the "Division" with plenty of fighting whisky aboard. He is a noted rough of the First Ward, and of course had filled in that section of the city. At the corner of Thirteenth-and-a-half and C streets he got into a fight with a similar character of that locality and tried to shoot his antagonist. Officers Bailey and Fritz arrested him with the pistol still in his hand, but could find no trace of the other.

Charles Jackson and William Clark enlivened Thirteenth street, between C and D, last night about 11 o'clock with a rough-and-tumble fight. Jackson had gouged Clark's eye and was beating him over the head with a two-pound weight when Officers Fritz and Baily arrived and carried them to the Fifth Station.

Catholic Notes.

On the 23d of this month Father Walter, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, will celebrate the "silver anniversary of his ordination and entry into the priesthood." The Young Catholics' Friend Society held their twenty-seventh annual meeting last Sunday evening and elected officers. The annual report shows the total receipts for the past year to be $1,055.41, and the expenditures $865.96. Lake mass at 8. Alovsius Church will hereafter be celebrated at 11 o'clock in the morning, and vespers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The new choir is a great addition to the services. "PINAFORE" at Ford's this week in Grand Opera style.

Virginia Midland Route.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully called to an important change of schedule, taking effect at noon on Sunday, September 14. See regular advertisement.

PRETTY Marie Rockel as Josephine, at Ford's this week in "Pinafore."

Pedestrians.

The Astley contest has been postponed until October. There is much discussion among the contestants, nearly every one differing as to the time limit, some objecting to Hart participating because he is black.

Queen Victoria and the Princess Beatrice recently visited the Astley Hospital and spent half an hour among the soldiers wounded at the Cape. Afterwards the convalescent patients were formed in a hollow square in front of the hospital to see Her Majesty pin the Victoria Cross on the beige coat of Private Hitch, a young fellow belonging to the Twenty-fourth Regiment, who was badly wounded at Rorke's Drift while defending the sick in the hospital, several of whom were saved.

OUR SOCIETIES.

Masonic News.

The Georgetown Masonic Choir meets every Wednesday evening, we are informed, and not on Monday, as printed in the calendar.

New Jerusalem Lodge No. 9 will give a grand reunion and ball in Masonic Temple Tuesday, October 7. This will inaugurate the gay season among the Lodges.

The "R. C. C.'s" are a permanent institution and will give several socials and receptions to the members of De Molay Commandery, No. 4, and their families during the coming gay season.

A French Lodge No. 239, under the Scottish Rite, at Paris, recently made an ascension in a balloon, and while in the air initiated a candidate. This Brother is certainly a "High" Mason, and we presume will feel inclined to be a little "airish."

The Royal Order of Scotland will hold its annual session in Egyptian Hall, Philadelphia, to-morrow evening, and the Supreme Council Northern Jurisdiction A. and A. Rite will assemble in Corinthian Hall, Philadelphia, Tuesday morning next.

At a special conclave of Columbia Commandery No. 2, Friday evening, the order of the Red Cross was conferred on two companions, and the Order of the Temple upon Maj. George E. Robinson, paymaster U. S. A., and Sir George Shoultas.

At the meeting of Potomac Lodge No. 5, Georgetown, to-morrow evening, a masonic relic of the past century will be presented to the Lodge, and in view of this we have deferred the publication of the promised notes respecting the Lodge until our next.

The Grand R. A. Chapter of New Jersey held its annual session in Trenton Wednesday last and was largely attended. Comp. James Ashrand, of Rahway, was elected Grand High Priest, and Comp. George E. Edwards, of Jersey City, Grand Secretary.

The items in relation to Washington Lodge no. 6, and Harmony Lodge No. 10, which appeared in our last issue under the head of "Masonic News" should have been under the heading "Independent Order Mechanics." "Virginia Boy" was to blame for it. The "Devil's" shirts are clear.

Federal Lodge No. 1 have invited their lady friends to a social reunion and entertainment in the Lodge-room Tuesday evening next. This Lodge has entered heartily into the scheme for a Grand Masonic fair, and will take this occasion to enlist the ladies with them in the preparation of their exhibit. It strikes us that the idea of family reunions in the Lodge-rooms at stated times is a good one and worthy of emulation.

Comp. Matthew Trimble, Grand High Priest of the Grand R. A. Chapter of this District, has designated the following dates on which the grand officers will visit the subordinate Chapters: Columbia Chapter No. 1, Wednesday, December 3; Washington No. 2, Thursday, November 27; Mt. Vernon No. 5, Monday, December 8; Eureka No. 8, Friday, November 28; Lafayette No. 3, Monday, November 10; Washington Naval No. 6, Tuesday, November 18; Mount Horeb No. 7, Friday, November 14; Potomac No. 8, Tuesday, November 25.

MASONIC PERSONALS.—Brother C. P. Shekell, secretary of Potomac Lodge, has been laid up for some days past with an attack of asthma, which the disease he is a terrible sufferer at times, but is slowly improving.... Maj. Charles A. Appel, of De Molay Commandery, No. 4, is in the city superintending the construction of a new post office and will not return until the middle of November.... We recorded Sir L. H. Henry last week as a member of Columbia Commandery. He belongs to Washington Commandery No. 4. He has entirely recovered from his recent indisposition.... Dr. F. A. Butts, of De Molay Commandery No. 4, has been appointed internal revenue gauger for Virginia.... Sir William G. Moore, Capt. General of Washington Commandery No. 1, was the president man in the United States Holiday evening and he "put John on the Island" with a vengeance.

Odd Fellowship.

A general meeting of the I. O. O. F. Relief Association will be held Tuesday evening next at Odd Fellows' Hall, Seventh street.

The funeral of Brother John Wahl, late Secretary of Oriental Lodge No. 19, Monday afternoon, was largely attended by the Lodge and officers and members of the Grand Lodge, and the remains were buried in the German Burial Ground, near Glenwood Cemetery.

The thirty-fifth anniversary of Beacon Lodge No. 15 occurred Monday last, and a committee was appointed to prepare a history of the Lodge and make arrangements for a reunion of the members of the Lodge, with their families, at an early day.

Brother A. G. Collins, of Columbia Lodge No. 10, died Monday evening, last at 8 o'clock, of consumption, after a lingering illness, and was buried from his late residence, No. 1, Ohio avenue, northwest, Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. The Lodge attended in carriages.

The Uniformed Battalion of Patriarchs held a meeting Wednesday evening last, when an invitation was received to participate in the celebration of Odd Fellows' Hall at Easton, Md., the 25th instant. The invitation was accepted and a committee appointed to make arrangements for the trip.

The Post of Thursday says, in its Alexandria Annals: "Ex-Mayor Latham is to New York in attendance on the Odd Fellows' Convention, now in session there." There is no convention of Odd Fellows in session in New York, but the G. A. U. S. will meet in Baltimore this week. After all, it is only a difference of time and place.

Brother John Garrett, P. G., one of the oldest members of Mechanic Lodge No. 15, and also a member of Potomac Lodge No. 5, P. G. Lodge No. 2, and Hermione Lodge No. 12, K. of P., all of Georgetown, died Wednesday last at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. A. Garrett, near Rockville, Md., after a long and distressing illness, and was buried Friday afternoon near that place.

At the regular meeting of Oriental Lodge No. 19, Thursday evening last, Brother Henry F. C. Tegler was elected Recording Secretary to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late John Wahl. P. G., and he was duly installed into office. Addresses were also made by Grand Master Gawler, Deputy Grand Master Fauss, Grand Master Mason, and F. A. Stier, P. G. of Beacon Lodge.

The fifty-fifth annual session of the Supreme Grand Lodge of this Order will assemble to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, in Odd Fellows' Hall, Baltimore, and will probably be the most important session of that body held since its formation, owing to the multitude of radical measures that have been under consideration during the last session, and which will come up for final action. It is also understood that the report of Grand Sire Harmon will advocate radical changes in relation to the beneficial features of the Order, which, if adopted, will start the machinery in a different channel, and which will have an chilling effect upon the future interests of the institution. This jurisdiction will be represented by Brothers William R. McLean and John F. Havenner, on the part of the Grand Lodge, and Brother John T. Given on the part of the Grand Encampment. The representative of THE SUNDAY HERALD will be present during the sessions, and will furnish a condensed statement of all important matters disposed of.

Sire of Philadelphia, was in the city yesterday.... Representative McLean goes to Baltimore to-day, and Representative Given to-morrow, to attend the sessions of the Supreme Body. Representative Havenner is already there.

Knights of Pythias.

Brother George W. McLean, of Calanthe Lodge No. 11, was reported last night as worse and growing weaker. He is suffering from a complication of diseases.

The Grand Lodge held an adjourned meeting Tuesday evening last for the transaction of a quantity of routine business adjourned subject to the call of the Grand Chancellor.

Harmony Lodge No. 21, corner Pennsylvania avenue and Thirteen-and-a-half street, has changed its meeting night from Thursday to Tuesday evening. The first meeting under the change was held Wednesday evening last.

Cromelin Lodge No. 89, of Great Falls, Md., will pay a fraternal visit to Hermione Lodge No. 12, Georgetown, Wednesday evening next. After the regular exercises there will be a banquet given to the visitors. We acknowledge, with thanks, an invitation to be present, but will have to forego the pleasure, as we will be absent from the city.

Independent Order Mechanics.

J. Guest King, Supreme Ruler of the Order, and editor of the Annapolis Gazette, visited the city last week.

An adjourned meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held the 25th instant at the Lodge room of Harmony Lodge, Red Men's Hall.

If the members of this order will examine the Masonic news in our last issue they will find some items belonging to them. Sorry they got misplaced.

As the result of the renewed interest created in Harmony Lodge No. 10 by the entertaining exercises recently inaugurated, ten applications for membership were received on Wednesday evening last.

Anchor Lodge No. 9, which meets in Mt. Vernon Hall, Seventh street and New York avenue, on Tuesday evenings, will remove to Association Hall, Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Seventh streets, and hold their meetings there on Thursday evenings, commencing with the 25th instant. The change will be celebrated by a social entertainment on that evening.

The officers of the Grand Council are now making the visitations to subordinates. Spartan Council was visited last week by Pioneer Council last night, and the remaining Councils will be visited as follows: Centennial No. 4, Saturday, September 20; Invincible No. 2, Georgetown, Thursday, September 18; Purity No. 3, Wednesday, September 24.

The meeting of the Dashaways to-night at Tallmadge Hall will be a lively one.... Charlie Nye, the old favorite, who is in the city, will address the meeting, as will also H. Clay Sexton, Chief Engineer of the St. Louis Fire Department, who is a red-hot temperance advocate. Mr. Nye will also speak at Hamline Church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

A certificate of incorporation for an Endowment Association, Sons of Jonadab, has been filed by William H. Young, R. O. Polkinhorn, Thomas Summersales, John Berry, and Robert S. Graham, who, with John S. Lipscomb, of Staunton, Va., William A. Clace, of Providence, R. I., and Halver Nelson, Sovereign Grand Patriarch, Ex-officio, President, constitute the present board of managers. Association No. 1 will be organized at the office of S. C. Mills, Esq., Wednesday evening.

A mutual temperance endowment association has been formed in this city, and at the meeting of the board of managers Tuesday evening last, S. C. Randell, President; William F. Garner, Vice President; Leslie R. Trombly, Secretary; Daniel M. Burbank, Treasurer; Dr. S. S. Lamb and Dr. J. A. Tarkington, Medical Examiners; Robert B. Ferguson, Dr. J. F. R. Dufour, and Rev. Dr. Chester Trustees. Its membership will pay to the beneficiaries of each deceased member $2,000.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Base Ball.

The Nationals play the New Bedfords (championship games) Thursday and Saturday.

The game yesterday afternoon between the Nationals and Chicagos brought together a large audience, many of whom were ladies. The game opened rather gloomy for the Nationals, the visitors hitting Lynch for six bases, one being a three-bagger, securing five runs, three of them being earned. Nothing daunted the Nationals went in, and by good batting, aided by errors of the visiting team, secured four runs, leaving the visitors only one ahead. After this inning the Nationals played with good effect, having no difficulty in punishing the pitcher of the Chicagos, while on the other hand Lynch made it troublesome for the visitors, no less than nine striking out on him, and it was quite amusing to see their celebrated batters carve the air in their endeavors to bat him. This game proved that the clubs in the National Association are fully as good as those in the League. The following is the score:

The game Friday between the Chicagos and Nationals drew together an immense audience, much of which were anxious to see how far the superiority of professional League or National Association extended over the other. The game in itself was not brilliant, the Chicagos playing with too many errors, and their famous long-hitters failing totally to do anything with Lynch's pitching. The Nationals batted and outfielded them, and would have won the game but for poor base running.

Gore, Quest, Remsen, (2.) Left on base—Nationals, 4; Chicagos, 2. Time of game—1 hour and 45 minutes. Umpire—E. Kipp, of Washington.

The Chicagos looked quite funny in their different colored caps, but are all squarely-built ball players.

Anything to beat the Nationals, is the motto of the Northern clubs.

The Arctics defeated the Lone Stars yesterday by a score of 12 to 9.

Albany may yet be beaten in the race for the pennant. Holyoke looks like the dark horse.

Booth and Battis have been released and have joined forces with the Baltimores. Booth is a good player and an excellent gentleman, who will add force to the Baltimores.

Jimmy O'Brien, who has been catching for the Waterburys, of Connecticut, returned home during the week, after having been laid up since the game through the season. He will play on the Stars.

The Nationals meet the "Giants of the West" again to-morrow, when another excellent game will take place. We advise all to go early, as a big crowd will be in attendance. Game to be called promptly as advertised, which is announced in our columns.

It is intimated that the New Bedfords have agreed among themselves to let the Albanys beat them all the remaining games. Mutrie, their manager, in receipt of a letter from Myers, vice president of the Albanys, whereby the bargain was concluded. Nice gentlemen, these two.

The Nationals have changed their nine somewhat during the past week, strengthening it considerably. It will hereafter be as follows: Lynch, p; Trott, c; Latham, 1 b.; McClellan, 2 b.; Ellick, 3 b.; Mack, s. s.; Glenn, l. f.; Baker, c. f.; Derby, r. f. With Bielaski substitute. There will be no more changes this season.

There is a slight possibility of the National winning the championship. They have yet remaining to be played six games—three with the Bedfords, two with Albanys, and one with Holyokes. If they win all, and the Holyokes defeat Albanys twice out of the four games they have yet to play, the probabilities are that the struggle will be over the two games with the Nationals and Albanys. So be it, for we are confident the Nationals will take from the pennant the diamond field when they meet, in return for their niggardly work.

The plot that several clubs of the North have been engaged in for some time past to frustrate the Nationals, of late by their efforts to win the championship was consummated last week by the disbandment of the Springfields. Manager Scanlon's letter, as published (in extract form) in last Sunday's Herald, bears out the imputation that foul means were brought into operation to force the Springfields to retire. The chances are now that this city will lose not a single game, but what is more important, namely, the championship, but they lose it under the circumstances with almost as much honor as the one who will have the privilege of flying the pennant, for the people know what dirty, underhand work the Albanys have resorted to, and will judge accordingly.

The standing in the League is as follows: Providence still lead. Boston being a good second, the stars disbanded in the past week, and the table is corrected with their games as only under the rules count:

Clubs.	Boston.	Buffalo.	Chicago.	Cincinnati.	Cleveland.	Providence.	Syracuse.	Troy.	Games won.

The standing in the National Association is as below, corrected to date, with Springfield games thrown out as per rules. Albanys has a good lead, with Nationals second, and Holyokes third:

Latham guards his base like the Trojan that he is. Mack was off in his game Friday. The Chicagos seem to think Lynch is the best pitcher they have yet faced.

Aquatic.

Courtney and Hanlan will row on October 8, on Chautauqua lake for a purse of $6,000.

Smith and Morris meet Tuesday next on Redford Basin, Halifax Harbor, when an exciting race will be pulled.

Both the Analostan and Potomac Clubs have appointed committees to see about having a joint regatta next month.

The sculler's race between Evan Morris, of Pittsburg, and Warren Smith, of Halifax, for $1,000 a side, will take place at Redford Basin on Tuesday.

From the telegrams of yesterday it is quite clear that Messrs. Hanlan and Courtney have entered into an arrangement with speculators, and that the race announced at Chatauqua Lake on the 8th proximo is nothing more or less than a gigantic swindle on the public. Neither man will challenge, and the offering of the $6,000 purse is a mere blind to tolddeal the community. It is a hippodroming affair all the way through.

The Turf.

The three-year-old cold, Steinway, by Strathmore, recently trotted a fourth heat in 2:25¾, eclipsing all records for that age. He is owned in Kentucky.

Bramble, the winner of five cups this season, a feat never before performed by any other horse in one year, pulled up lame in the race for the Brighton cup, and will not be started again this season. He has won fifteen out of the twenty races he ran during the year.

The fall meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club will commence on the 21st of next month and continue four days. The Dixey, Central, Pimlico, Breckinridge, and Bowie Stakes are the prominent features, and will bring out the strongest array of horses in the country. The celebrated Eastern and Western champions, Spendthrift and Lord Murphy, will meet in the Dixie stakes
