The Sunday Herald
AND
Weekly National Intelligencer.

J. N. BURRITT, Editor and Proprietor.

WASHINGTON.....JUNE 27, 1880.

LOCAL MENTION.

For several months past workmen have been busily engaged in tearing out and remodeling the old site located at the corner of Seventh and F streets. The same has now reached completion, and the decorator and furnisher are now putting on the finishing touches, which they will complete on Tuesday next, and on the day following, Wednesday, June 30, this magnificent ladies' and gentlemen's restaurant will be formally thrown open to the public. The establishment has been arranged especially for this particular business. The first floor will be used for the gentlemen's saloon, and will be superbly fitted up with marble counters, shelving and bric-a-brac in handsome walnut and bird's-eye maple, splendid French mirrors, and with all the modern conveniences known to science. The ceilings are frescoed with artistic designs, making in all one of the handsomest gentlemen's restaurants in the United States. The second floor embraces the main saloon for the ladies, which is magnificently decorated, handsomely completed, and elegantly furnished with every known convenience, such as ladies' retiring and dressing-rooms. The entrance to this saloon will be from Seventh street. On this same floor there will also be a gentlemen's saloon, handsomely furnished and fitted up with the utmost elegance and regard to comfort and convenience. The entire establishment will be conducted on the same principles as the Pennsylvania Avenue Saloon, which has been the means of making this firm so popular. Ladies when shopping will find this the most desirable place to lunch, the surroundings all being of the most agreeable character, with polite and efficient attendants and that perfect comfort which is so desirable. The kitchen is fitted up with every known convenience and device, so that orders can be filled with despatch, and complete satisfaction guaranteed. While everything will be of the best and furnished in the best style known, and at popular prices, it will also be the aim of the proprietors to make their guests feel easy and at home, and to this end the high character of the name heretofore borne by the firm will be held, and the respectability of the establishment fully maintained. Messrs. Harvey & Hobden, the proprietors, whose reputation as first-class restaurateurs is as wide as our country, are to be congratulated on their magnificent building and its perfect appointments.

Messrs. Finley & Koch, No. 1208 Pennsylvania avenue, are now introducing to the Washington public a new beverage, called "Malt Nutrine," a large sale and become immensely popular. It is a malt wine or beer, brewed by the famous Rochester Brewing Company, under the name of "Benedictine Malt Wine or Beer." It is manufactured from the very choicest imported malt and hops, and while it is a mild and pleasant stimulant it does not create a thirst for strong drink, but rather allays this morbid and corrupted appetite by stimulating and invigorating the natural organs of health. It is especially recommended to invalids and nursing mothers as the most nourishing and pure beverage now in the market, and which cannot fail to be appreciated if properly tested. It is put up in bottles which are corked and wired so as to keep it perfectly fresh until used, and will be sold at the low price of $1 per dozen bottles, delivered at the door. Orders can be sent to the bottling depot, 1208 Pennsylvania avenue, either by telephone or mail, and will receive prompt attention. Messrs. Finley & Koch are the sole agents for the District of Columbia for the Benedictine Malt Wine or Beer and also the famous Rochester Beer, which has attained such popularity in this city.

Maltby, manufacturer of light articles, 517 Seventh street.

The business done at the establishment of A. King Chandler, 822 and 824 Seventh street, is of such magnitude as to require weekly visits to New York and Boston to make purchases, consequently the stock there always embraces all the novelties in the market. Mr. George N. Dayton, popular business manager of this house, has just returned from New York, bringing a large line of seasonable goods bought at auction, at bottom prices, the advantages of which will be given buyers.

In order to not carry any goods from one season to another a reduction of ten per cent. has been made on all spring and summer cassimere suits and pants at the Famous, No. 406 Seventh street. To our readers in search of bargains we refer them to this establishment.

It is a tonic, and one of the most healthful drinks. We mean the Pilsner Beer, P. F. Gentz, corner Eight and D, sole agent. Family orders solicited.

Maltby, mechanical expert, 517 Seventh street.

Cincinnati Lager Beer from the celebrated Weber Brewery, at Charles Mahler's, corner Third and Pennsylvania avenue. Bottled for family use. Telephone.

The celebrated Thompson's hair waves are all the rage; Samstag sells them at 40 cents each; 1,000 gross of pearl buttons at 7 cents per dozen, all sizes. Samstag has ordered all millinery goods to be sold at cost in preference to carrying them over till next season. 730 Seventh street, between G and H.

Call at Neal's drug store, Seventh and N streets, and test his new soda fountain. Pure syrups.

Persons going to the springs, or who intend remaining out of the city during the summer, can be furnished with the books, pamphlets, magazines, and stationery, by addressing Robert Beall, stationer, etc., 495 Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. Theo. Friebes, of 809 Market Space, has a grand closing out sale this week which will continue for a short time only, during which time his large and complete stock of fancy and staple goods will be sold at cost. Now is the time to make your purchases.

Democratic and Republican soda drawn from the same fountain at Neale's, Seventh and N streets.

F. D. Maltby, model maker, 517 Seventh street.

CAPT. YORE'S NERVE.

His Encounter with a Grizzly While Waiting for a Train

The train was delayed several hours. There were but half a dozen passengers all told, and they all got out on the platform of the station platform to looking down the valley from the station (Truckee is away up the mountains on the main line of the Central Pacific Railroad) we could see some kind of an animal coming down the road toward the station. Its way over the top of the snow toward the river. It looked like a steer or mule, and none of the travelers thought it was anything else.

The snow was four feet deep and frozen so hard that one could walk over the top without breaking through. Capt. Vincent Yore of St. Louis, a man well known in steamboat circles both in St. Louis and Pittsburg, and, in fact, all along the river, was one of the passengers. There is considerable of the dare devil underneath his quiet demeanor, having ran the upper Missouri in his early days, and attended many an Indian council along with Gen. Sherman when the General lived in St. Louis. Yore was returning from San Francisco, where he had been to settle some railroad business for St. Louis parties, and was fixed up neat and bright as a new pin. He spied the animal and said he thought it was a bear, and that if he had a gun he would go down and shoot it. We all laughed at him, for he did not look much like a bear hunter, and the station agent, a burly fellow with a red flannel shirt, and boots outside of his pantaloons—a regular picture of a forty-niner—joined in, saying he would give him a gun if he wanted to shoot the grizzly. Capt. Yore was a good shot and could be cool under trying circumstances. The station agent, who was at once the express agent, ticket agent, baggage smasher, and everything combined, went into his little office and brought out a beautiful breech-loading rifle. Handing it to Yore, he said sarcastically, "Here's a gun." Capt. Yore took the gun and started toward the end of the platform. The passengers, of course, never dreamed he was in earnest.

The station agent called him back when he had gone down off the steps, and, bringing out a little fat terrier dog of the light woolly Scotch pattern, said:

"Here, you'll want a dog when you go bear hunting."

Capt. Yore, turned back picked up the dog, and, putting it under the flap of his coat, started down toward the bear. The grizzly had by this time got out far enough to be seen, as he made his way across the narrow valley. He looked to be the size of a horse, and did not seem to care whether there was anybody within a short distance of him or not. The lonely mountain grizzly is the largest and, when aroused, the most ferocious of all animals in Western North America. Travelers on the Union and Central Pacific railroad are familiar with the specimens that is caged on the platform at Lathrop, an eating station of the California end of the line. It has a foot like a "fifteen inch Rodman," and is as large as a Kentucky cow.

The bear kept quietly in his course, and Capt. Yore went straight toward him. The station agent realized the danger. Yore was in, and his anxiety was quickly communicated to the passengers. They got closer and closer, until they were only about the length of the train apart. Yore stopped, took out the little dog, and set him down. The terrier made for the bear at once, and, going behind him, bit him on the heel. The bear turned around to see what had scratched him on the heel, and the minute he turned Yore, who had been dashing noiselessly, watching the bear as it came face toward him, brought the rifle up to his nose and flashed it at him. The bear immediately slapped himself on the shoulder with his paw and went toward the Captain. The passengers, who were watching him, were now wild with excitement.

"He has hit him," said the old Californian on the train, "and now he must look out for him." Yore never moved. The little snipe of a dog bit the bear on the heel again; he turned once more, and again Yore unloaded on him. The bear slapped himself on the other shoulder and straightened up as if to go quickly at Yore. Then the beast broke through the snow and most disappeared from our sight. He tumbled and rolled and waltzed around. The old Californians were almost breathless with fright. "The bear is trampling out a place to fight, run, run!" they yelled to Yore, but he stood motionless as a statue. The little dog flew around the top of the pit the best had made and barked. Presently the bear put out his head to get his assailant's position, and, fixing his eyes on Yore, he crawled up out of his hole in the snow. He had just steadied himself on his four legs when the dog bit him once more, and Yore let him have it again, quick as a flash, the moment he turned, and another time the grizzly slapped himself with his paw, indicating he had been hit. He started on a bee line toward Yore, who now had four loads left in his rifle. Twice again the dog bit the bear, and at each time as he turned Yore unloaded into him, bringing his rifle up to his face as quickly as if he threw a Wesson's double. After he had loaded the fourth load and the grizzly's pace was not slackened up much, as you could scarcely notice his limp, Yore turned to make back a few paces, and as he did so he broke through the snow and went down to his armpits. The passengers, expecting every moment to see the infuriated monster crush poor Yore, covered their eyes in perfect terror. The bear lost got within a few yards of Yore, and but a few seconds would decide it. The dog bit him again, and Yore, who had the rifle firmly sighted, pointed it into him, two more in quick succession, and stretched him, as he was almost at the end of the rifle. The whole thing occurred in less time than it takes to tell it. The passengers rushed down with a shout. They brought the huge carcass back in triumph.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Summer Boarding.

Desirable, cool south-front rooms, with first-class hotel board, at Tremont House, corner Indiana avenue and second street; $45 and $50 per month for two; parlor and bed room, $60. Table board $20.

$1 Alpaca Coats.

The best for the price in the country. Eiseman Bros., corner Seventh and E.

CITY NEWS.

Weather Indications.

For the Middle Atlantic States, partly cloudy weather, possibly occasional light rain, winds mostly southwesterly, nearly stationary temperature, stationary or higher temperature.

Jottings About Town.

Easy feet promote health and longevity.

The coolest and most delightful resort in the city is the summer garden of Driver & Schofield.

Mr. F. S. Moore, of Georgetown, is erecting a large warehouse at the foot of High street.

The foundation of the Farragut statue, to be placed in Farragut Square, on Seventeenth street, has been completed, and it is expected that the statue will be placed in position in a few weeks.

Sparkling fountains, rippling water, fragrant flowers, and tropical plants at Driver & Schofield's summer garden.

We carry the largest stock, we name the lowest prices, and the result is we do the largest trade. A. Saks & Co., 316 Seventh street.

The telegrapher have chartered the W. W. Corcoran for their excursion on Tuesday evening. A splendid time may be expected by those who participate.

The Washington Light Infantry Corps intends giving, Thursday evening, a complimentary excursion to their friends and the ladies who assisted at the fair held in the spring.

Sarah Lucas, an aged lady, an inmate of the Aged Women's Home, in Georgetown, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. The coroner will investigate the death.

The fire yesterday, from box 453, was caused by children setting fire to some rubbish in house 23 Thirteenth street northwest, occupied by Charles Donforth. Loss trifling.

Washington Jackson, a large colored man, was caught yesterday picking the pocket of a lady at the Centre Market. He managed to get the pocket-book, but before he could get away he was arrested.

William H. Smith, a negro, was arrested by Officer Breen yesterday afternoon for the larceny of a lot of carpets, matting, and other furnishing articles from a prominent carpet house on Market Space.

The swimming school is crowded daily with ladies who are taking lessons in the art of natation. Many of our leading society ladies have become expert swimmers, and the natatorium is now looked upon as an institution of the city.

Washington Lodge No. 6 will give their fifth annual excursion Wednesday, July 7. The steamer W. W. Corcoran has been chartered and will convey the excursionists to Marshall Hall, leaving at 6:30 P. M. and returning at 12:30 A. M., at which time cars will be in waiting for every part of the city. A full brass and string band will be in attendance, and a pleasant time may be confidently expected.

The reports in the daily papers of the time made in the boat-race on the Anacostia go ahead of anything we have heard of lately. For instance, the Star of last evening gave out the time of the three mile with a turn working boat-race at fourteen minutes. Either the miles on the Eastern Branch must be very short, the timers held wonderful watches, or else some first-class liars still reside in that vicinity.

Daniel Webster, a young colored boy, employed at the Interior Department, was drowned in a bath tub in the Department Office yesterday about 11 o'clock. The supposition is that Webster, while taking his usual bath, was seized with a fit, being subject to them at times, fell into the water and was unable to help himself. The young man had been employed in the Department nearly six years. The coroner was notified but deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The Philharmonic Society will give an excursion to Marshall Hall July 19, on the steamer W. W. Corcoran. The grounds will be beautifully illuminated, and the society will give a grand concert in the evening at the pavilion, under direction of Professor Gloetzner. The steamer will go down at 10 A. M., and return at 4 P. M., giving two hours at the hall. Another trip will be made at 6 P. M., returning about 11 o'clock. Those who desire may remain there all day.

Select music, attentive waiters, and genuine comfort at Driver & Schofield's summer garden.

Last night a young man named McCann, an auctioneer, caught a man named William Murphy stealing some goods at one of the auction booths near Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth street. He turned him over to Officer Smith, who conveyed him to the Fifth Precinct. McCann, later, tried to arrest another one of the gang, who was with Murphy, but his friends rescued him. The fracas drew to the spot of Tenth street and Pennsylvania avenue an immense crowd. Lieut. Kelly and Officers Smith and Shilling dispersed the gang and arrested one named Charles Wright. At the station house he left collateral for his appearance.

The commencement exercises of the higher grades of the public schools in Georgetown took place in Curtis Hall on Wednesday evening in the presence of a large audience of friends and relatives of the pupils. The distribution of prizes was preceded by a tableau of States of the Union and a comical little farce, entitled, "Paste Your Own Cause." The parts were well taken by the Misses Wheatley, Collins, Mitchell, and Messrs. Curtis, Ormes, Shoemaker, and others. Out of seventeen applicants for admission to the high school from the Georgetown schools thirteen passed the examination—a grand showing for Miss Laura Reed, the teacher.

Do not make your clothing purchases for the coming week until you examine our stock and prices. Prices reduced twenty-five per cent. in all departments. A. Saks & Co., 316 Seventh street.

Mr. James L. Barbour has consented to act as treasurer for the fund now being raised by the police and citizens of this District for the benefit of the Sisters of the House of the Good Shepherd, at Baltimore, as an acknowledgment for their many kind acts in caring for lost and wayward young girls in receiving and caring for wayward young girls of this city, in many cases without compensation. There is no institution in this District for such purposes, and this one has never turned away a case from this city. Mai. Brock states that there has been no record kept of the girls sent there, but he thinks that $10,000 would not more than reimburse that institution for the expense it has been subjected to on that account.

Rus in urbe will be found at the elegant establishment of Driver & Schofield.

The Summer Theatre Comique with its fountains of cool water bids defiance to the heat outside and keeps its patrons pleasantly cool and presents a first-class variety show at the same time. The attractions for this week are superior to any heretofore offered. The management have effected an engagement with Kelly and Collyer's great New York combination, the celebrated Lim Sisters, who made such a hit at the Opera House here some time ago with the Kiralfy Troupe; the Bordeaux sisters, the great song and dance ladies; Howard and Sanford, the German team; Keating and Sands, the best musical mokes in the country; the Delmaines, Dooly and Trabricke, and ten beautiful young ladies in a minstrel olio and dramatic programme of unusual merit. This combination will remain only one week and should be seen by all means.

Remember our prices have been reduced fully twenty-five per cent. in every department. A. Saks & Co., 316 Seventh street.

Temperance Items.

Centennial Council No. 4, Sons of Jonadab, last night elected officers as follows: Wm. H. Young, W. C.; Geo. E. Barr, D. C.; R. B. Downey, R. S.; S. L. Ward, F. S.; F. Goercke, T. A. C.; Craig, G.; W. Creecy, A. G.; J. Rahl, I. W.; G. G. Campbell, O. W.; N. Bunch, Trustee.

Brother "Bud" Eaglerton, president of the Dachaways, is on a month's leave of absence, and is using the time in the interest of the "Tabernacle Boom." When you see that book be carries you may know he is after a subscription for the good cause, and expects to get it.

Pioneer Council No. 1, Sons of Jonadab, last night elected officers as follows: D. L. Hopson, W. C.; A. Warwick, D. C.; Edward F. Taylor, R. S.; John D. Buckley, (formerly a runaway,) F. S.; W. H. Norton, T.; James W. Brown, P.; Wm. A. Chauncey, G.; James E. Hibbs, A. G.; M. T. Parker, I. W.; John W. Hayes, O. W.; J. W. Garland, Organist.

The temperance people will celebrate the Fourth of July on the next day, Monday, at the following places:

The Alexandria Reform Club will give an excursion and family picnic at Cabin Springs. Hon. Lewis McKenzie will read the Declaration of Independence, and a number of temperance orators will speak.

The Dashaway Reform Club of this city will give a picnic at Greenwood, Georgetown Heights, for which stages will run from High and Bridge streets from 8 o'clock A. M. to 10 P. M.

The Maryland Temperance Alliance will hold a grand basket picnic at Spa Springs, Bladensburg, which is expected to be a grand temperance rally of the Maryland stalwarts.

Holy Cross Academy.

The Academy of the Sisters of the Holy Cross held its annual commencement exercises at Odd Fellows' Hall Tuesday morning, the 22d instant, in the presence of a large and most appreciative audience. The programme was exceedingly attractive and clearly demonstrated the high standard of efficiency attained by the pupils. Decidedly the most prominent feature was the rendition of a juvenile operetta entitled "Red Riding Hood's Rescue." While all the characters were admirably sustained, the most prominent deserve especial mention for the unexceptionable and graceful manner in which they sustained their respective parts, viz.: Miss Rosa Cotterill as Mama, Miss K. Shoesta as Rose, and Miss L. Cavanaugh as Wolf. The full-toned singing lady by her decided talent has been selected from the pupils at each annual commencement of the academy for the past seven years to take a prominent part in the musical selection for those occasions, and contributed largely to the success thereof.

Previous to Rebuilding.

$5 pants to order for $4. Eiseman Bros., corner Seventh and E.

W. L. I. Corps, Co. A.

We are pleased to announce that, with the applications to be acted upon next meeting, this popular organization will have upon its roll about one hundred and twenty-five members, and it is their intention to parade with full ranks in white coats and skakos at no distant day. The following members have been announced in order as non-commissioned officers, viz.: George C. Thomas, First Sergeant; J. E. Entwisle, Second; P. J. Duffey, Third; W. H. Harrison, Fourth; J. G. Coyle, Fifth; Corporals, A. Gillis, Frank Cole, George E. Hale, G. S. Woodridge, C. G. Sloan, D. B. Cramer, J. H. Cruger, and C. E. Fraser. They decided also to give a complimentary excursion Thursday, July 1, to their continuing members and the lady attendants who performed such valuable services at their late fair.

The Latest Novelties.

A consignment of ebony bric-a-brac cabinets to be sold at half price. R. Harris & Co., 452 Seventh street.

Niagara Falls and Watkins Glen.

Attention is called to the change in the advertisement of this excursion, by which it will be seen that tickets will be good going on the 3d, 4th, and 5th of July, and good to return until the 15th. The railroad tickets, also the tickets for the tour of the Lakes, are now on sale, and must positively be purchased on or before July 1. This is absolutely required in order that sufficient cars may be provided for the comfort of the party. Don't fail to embrace this opportunity, as there will not be another excursion this season at the same rate.

Previous to Making Improvements,

Clothing of every description at greatly reduced prices, at Eiseman Bros., corner Seventh and E.

OUR SOCIETIES.

Masonic News.

Evangelist Chapter, Rose Croix, and Pentalpha Lodge No. 23 have "called off" during the heated term.

The Grand Master of New York has issued an edict prohibiting Masonic intercourse with Connecticut on account of invasion of her territory by the latter State.

The Masonic friends of Brother Samuel T. Schofield turned out in force to greet him at the grand opening of the splendid new summer garden of Driver and Schofield last Saturday night.

Brother Winfield S. Hancock, the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention for President, is a member of Charity Lodge No. 198, Norristown, R. A. Chapter No. 196, and Hutchinson Commandery No. 35, of Norristown, Montgomery county, Pa. Brother John F. Hartranft, ex-Governor of Pennsylvania, is a member of the same bodies.

The Masons of Germany and especially of the Lodge Amalia, of Weimar, Saxonia, celebrated Thursday last (St. John's Day) the centennial of the initiation of their great poet, Amadeus Wolfgang Von Goethe, who was raised with his friend, the Duc Carl August, the reigning prince of Saxonia. Goethe celebrated June 24, 1830, his fiftieth anniversary as a Mason, on which occasion the Lodge presented him with a gold embroidered apron. He died March 22, 1832. He was for many years the orator of this Lodge, and there are many orations in the archives of the Lodge in Goethe's own handwriting, among them one delivered in the Lodge of Sorrow over the death of the great poet, Wieland, who was initiated April 4, 1803, in the seventy-seventh year of his age, and died four years afterward.

Masonic Personals.—Capt. Max Rosenberg, of Arminius Lodge No. 25, leaves for New York this morning to attend the twenty-sixth anniversary of his mother Lodge, New York No. 330, which occurs to-morrow. Deacon A. Sutherland, of Acacia Lodge No. 18, piloted a gay party of fishermen to Great Falls Wednesday last. It is reported that the fish unanimously declined to bite within the vicinity of the Falls. Sir W. H. H. Grant, of Columbia Commander No. 2, is very ill with malarial fever at his residence on Maine avenue, between Four-and-a-half and Sixth streets. Brother Rufus H. Thayer, W. M., of Acacia Lodge No. 18, started for Michigan Tuesday last to enjoy his summer vacation. Brother D. L. Burnett, of Dawson Lodge No. 16, is in Gloucester, Mass., on a fifteen days' leave of absence.

Arminius Lodge No. 25 (German) celebrated the summer St. John's day, Thursday last, at Washington City Garden by a grand picnic, at which about one thousand persons were present. A splendid display of fire-works and colored lights was given in the early part of the evening, and each of the children, of whom about three hundred were present, received a present. Donch's brass and string band alternately gave concert and dancing music, and the shooting and bowling alleys were well patronized by contestants for the various prizes offered. The following are the awards made: For bowling—first prize, Max Kammerer; second, William Philippi; third, George Seufferle; fourth, Gust. Gieseler. For ladies shooting—First prize, Miss Gustavson; second, Mrs. Gessler; third, Mrs. Blumenberg; fourth, Mrs. Eichelitz; fifth, Mrs. Appich; sixth, Miss Voehl; seventh, Miss Eichelitz. Gentlemen's shooting—First prize, Mr. Emil Heber; second, Mr. Walter Spangler; third, Mr. J. J. Appich; fourth, Mr. George Seufferle. The entire affair was creditable to the Lodge and pleasant to those who participated.

The steamer W. W. Corcoran never carried down the Potomac a more select or happy party of excursionists than that which visited Marshall Hall Tuesday evening last, under the auspices of the "P-X-S Club." Every thing that could contribute to be inspired with the evident good feeling and happiness pervading his passengers and made "one of us," and seemed to be equally impressed by the commander. A splendid new flag of the club presented by Mrs. Hazard, the agreeable and accomplished wife of its president, was hoisted to the mast-head, and the rear end of the upper deck was converted into a theatrical stage, with the American flag for a drop-curtain. Mr. D. C. Bangs read a welcome to the assembled guests, and at a given signal the curtain was drawn, disclosing little Annie Lewis, the adopted queen of the P-X-S, seated upon a throne, from which she extended a right royal welcome to her subjects. Music by Donch's band and glee club and were interspersed with music by Donch's band and The Capitoline Quartette Club, composed of Messrs. Fred. S. Newman, E. F. Coyman, Fred. G. Calvert, and R. W. Sunny. The arrival at the hall was signalled by a fine display of fireworks and colored lights, prepared by a committee of the club who had went down in the morning for that purpose. After over two hours spent at the hall in dancing, shooting, bowling, etc., the highly-pleased party, consisting of about 275 guests, embarked for the home trip, which was made in one hour and ten minutes. The weather was delightful and the moon was in her glory, and indeed everything seemed to conspire to make this trip an unalloyed pleasure. Among the many delighted excursionists were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Birkhead, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Archer, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. G. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Charles La Hayne, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. De Moll, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hadaway, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Harris, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Hoott, Mesdames De Caindry, Desfosse, Bryan, M. E. Hershey, Thomas E. Lloyd, William Scott, Jennie Hergesheimer, Warder, Misses Lillian and Mollie Bond, Clara Suter, Belle Pearson, Josie Sherman, Sophie Richards, Ella Walker, Mollie Fealey, Mary Emmett, Adele, Mattie and Mamie Gray, Clara Gawler, Alice Philpott, Maggie Scott, Ada Betz, Emma Warder, Annie Lee, Lettie Williams, Nellie E. Williams, Ida, Mollie, and Minnie Collins, Ada Miller, Ella Rogers, Lollie Keisecker, Fannie Wallace, Maggie Pleasants, Mollie Burke, Mrs. Rimpold, and Messrs. O. T. Thompson, Jr., J. S. Bond, William F. Reichenbach, E. Willis, W. A. De Caindry, James E. Bell, W. T. Donnelly, O. M. Hagner, A. A. Levy, H. L. Shomo, H. C. Thompson, Joseph Gawler, A. A. Stephenson, William M. Henderson, George White, Vernon Gray, C. A. Campbell, Charles Dulin, William Kenan, Thomas Murphy, of New York, Duff, of the Wall st. Democrats; W. N. Fleming, of Erie, Pa.; C. E. Woody, of New York; Charles Scott, R. T. Dyer, David J. Towers, Robert H. Graham, William Scott, and J. H. Trimble.

Odd Fellowship.

Strangers' Refuge Lodge No. 4 of New York have transmitted to Columbia Lodge No. 1 of this city handsomely engrossed and framed resolutions of thanks for attentions paid to their late member, Brother H. D. Kilnicky, P. G. This brother was suffering with an incurable disease for three years, and under the care of this Lodge until his death, which occurred May 10 last.

Columbia Lodge No. 10 has completed arrangements for the celebration of her fortieth anniversary, and will endeavor to make the picnic at Highland Park on that occasion unexcelled. The beautiful place is situated about eight miles from the city, on the Metropolitan branch of the Baltimore and Ohio road, and is furnished with every convenience for amusement and dancing. A history of the Lodge will be given by one of the charter members.

I. O. O. F. Personals.—Brother Junius Slocum, of Neuse Lodge, Goldsboro, and Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, visited Columbia Lodge No. 10 Thursday evening last and addressed the members with some interesting remarks. Brother H. Burr, P. G. M., held a large reception at his residence, 929 O street, Monday last, between the hours of 5 and 8 A. M. and 4 and 7 P. M., during which time there were many callers. No refreshments were served except "cold shoulder," the "baker" being absent at Alleghany Springs. Similar receptions were held between the same hours at 1016 Thirteenth street.... Brother R. A. Kidder, P. G. M., Thursday evening last was elected Treasurer of Friendship Lodge No. 12 for the thirty-seven consecutive terms.... Brother John F. Havener, G. R., is again in the clutches of his old enemy, the gout, and has been laid up most of the past week. He was somewhat easier yesterday.

The following is a list of officers elected last week:

Central Lodge No. 1—Charles A. Langley, N. G.; E. F. O'Brien, V. G.; Francis E. Lord, Jr., R. S.; A. A. Lipscomb, E. S.; Joseph Gaither, T.

Eastern Lodge No. 7—H. S. Litchfield, N. G.; George S. Cliff, V. G.; Samuel E. Boyce, R. S.; Charles C. Anderson, E. S.; A. A. Lipscomb, T.

Columbia Lodge No. 10—F. A. Fisher, N. G.; H. V. Bisbee, V. G.; S. L. Hodge, R. S.; C. W. Shiles, F. S.; U. H. Ridenour, T.

Union Lodge No. 11—Robert McCutcheon, N. G.; George Lawrence, V. G.; William P. Brown, R. S.; William H. Overley, F. S.; Charles Tupper, T.

Friendship Lodge No. 12—R. F. Moffatt, N. G.; Edgar M. Brandenburg, V. G.; P. H. Sweet, R. S.; Magenau Encampment No. 4—George A. Green, C. P.; Herman Kubler, H. P.; Thomas Gosnell, S. W.; V. B. Edwards, J. W.; William P. Allan, Scribe; John E. Herrell, T.

Fred. D. Stuart Encampment No. 7—George A. Thomas, C. P.; John Long, H. P.; Ed. H. Sipe, S. W.; Ed. E. Webb, J. W.; M. J. Weaver, Scribe; William M. Gibson, Treasurer.

Knights of Pythias.

The K. of R. and S. of the different Lodges to hold elections this week are requested to send to this office the list of officers as early as possible.

The excursion of the Uniform Association to Marshall Hall Monday evening was a disappointment. The steamer Mystic, which was to take the excursionists at 6 o'clock, was disabled, so that the details of the organization were completed by wait until 7:30 for the City of Alexandria and then mix in with the 20-cent excursion crowd, which was not overly civilized, and on the arrival at the wharf again at 12:30 o'clock only one street car was in waiting, so that many had to either foot it home or hire hacks.

Officers were elected last week as follows: Webster Lodge No. 7—R. D. Thompson, C. C.; R. W. Mullins, V. C.; Samuel Sherwood, Prelate; Thomas Sandycraft, K. of R. and S.; Jacob McLaren, M. at A.

Germania Lodge No. 15—Election postponed until next regular meeting.

Union Lodge No. 22—William H. Osborne, C. C.; John A. Menkens, V. C.; J. W. Billups, Prelate; C. I. Snooks, M. of E.; William H. Stewart, M. at A.

Independent Order Mechanics.

The committee appointed to organize a library for the membership of the Order held meetings Monday evening and last night, and effected a temporary organization. Another meeting will be held to-morrow evening, when the association will be permanently organized. It is proposed to give a series of Saturday evening entertainments during the recess and in raising funds for this worthy object.

The following Lodges have elected officers for the ensuing term:

Wm. Louis Schley No. 4—Frank Tomlyson, W. M.; Ed. Jagney, J. W.; A. N. Farr, R. S.; Jos. W. Balinger, F. S.; William Doherty, Treas.; H. G. Divine, Chap.; Brother Brigham, Con.

Washington, No. 6—Howard Beall, W. M.; C. W. Steen, J. M.; A. E. Richards, R. S.; Wm. E. Rathvon, F. S.; E. A. Hoh, Treas.; W. H. Mickle, Jr., Chap.; H. C. Todd, Con.; J. C. Dunbar, Finance Trustee.

Friendship, No. 7—J. H. Furlershaw, W. M.; T. C. Spurgeon, J. M.; A. H. Black, R. S.; B. Kennon, F. S.; J. M. Richards, Treas.; E. H. Evans, Chap.; R. S. Gill, Con.

Anchor No. 8—C. C. Crouch, W. M.; W. D. Tabler, J. M.; Thomas L. Miller, R. S.; Samuel C. Boyce, F. S.; A. C. D. Atlee, Treas.; Brother Deaton, Chap.; J. F. Hall, Con.

Harmony No. 10—J. E. Brown, W. M.; George E. Tissue, J. M.; Ed. Bawsell, R. S.; H. L. Boyce, F. S.; John M. Hinkle, Treas.; E. L. Roland, Chap.; W. H. Keyser, Con.

Improved Order Red Men.

Seneca Tribe No. 11 and St. Tammany Tribe No. 13 will elect officers to-morrow evening, and Osage Tribe No. 6 Tuesday evening.

Logan Tribe No. 8 at the regular meeting Thursday evening last elected the following Chiefs: B. M. Coldwell, Sachem; George T. Bilion, Senior Sig.; Henry Mills, Junior Sig.; C. P. Robinson, Chief of Records.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Base Ball.

The game announced for yesterday between the Nationals and Altoona had to be postponed on account of the rain. This last game and the fifth one of Wednesday will be played off when the Altoonas visit this city in August.

The Nationals and Altoonas played their first game in this city on their second trip on Wednesday last. The game was a curious mixture of brilliant plays and miserable errors combined, in which the most costly of the latter were placed to the credit of the Nationals. The score was a tie, 12 to 12, darkness preventing a continuance at the end of the ninth inning. All through the game excitement among the large crowd ran high, from the fact that first one and then the other club would manage to get the lead. The batting was splendid. Derby and Baker took Lynch and Snyder's places early in the game and a finer exhibition of pitching and catching never was seen in this city. Gerhardt carried off the fielding honors, he making some miraculous stops and throws. During the game the first ballot from Cincinnati was read by Capt. Prince, and the mention of Hanover's name caused loud and long applause. The umpiring was miserable.

The league clubs are again endeavoring National Association players to break their contracts with the clubs they are at present engaged with. Will not some of the papers of Boston, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Worcester, Providence, and Troy condemn the dishonorable practice resorted to?

The Clipper publishes the past week a picture of Mason, of the Athletics, of Philadelphia, as one of the most prominent players of the country. In the estimation of those who saw him here with the Athletics, he is only good enough to carry the bats, for he is about the worst in the business.

Would it not be well for the gentlemen who occupy seats in the grand stand to do less talking, laughing, and shouting at the umpire's decisions? They should remember that they are seated with ladies, and, the noise and racket is very hard for the representatives to hear the umpire's decisions. The exhibition of Wednesday was disgraceful to our city. This is not Albany, should be borne in mind by the strong lungs.

Gerhardt's average will overtake any other player in the country as far as fielding is concerned. McClellan too is away up, both in fielding and batting.

The new Rochester team will play the Nationals in this city Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of the present week. Long Levi Meyerle is with the Rochesters. Give him a hearty welcome.

The Nationals sigh for a League club.

The Nationals and Albanys played a championship game in this city on Friday. The Nationals won easily by a score of 16 to 5. The batting of the home nine was splendid, they pounding Nichols in every direction. Gerhardt, Powell, Derby, Baker, and McClellan excelled. Morrissey was the only Albany player who could hit Derby's pitching. The excellent catching of Baker and the wonderful pitching of Derby were the great features of the game, these two fine players retiring ten of the Albanyson to their bats. The fielding of Gerhardt was another feature of the game. Mr. Massien, of Baltimore, umpired in an impartial manner.

On Monday the Capitols defeated the Manhattans, after a good batting game, by a score of 29 to 13.

On Thursday the Douglas unmercifully pounded the Capitols, formerly called the Keystones, the score standing 29 to 4. The pitching and catching of the Douglas was too effective for their opponents.

On Thursday the Manhattans and Douglas will play a championship game, on the grounds corner of Ninth and S streets.

Ward and Richmond have accomplished the wonderful feat of retiring a professional team in nine consecutive innings without a man reaching first base in safety. The Nationals and Albanys play two games, exhibition ones, on July 5, one at Troy in the morning, the other at Albany in the afternoon. The Albanys have engaged Nichols, late of the Worcesters, pitcher, and McGinnis. At a game in Troy between recently, but three balls were pitched in one inning. Lynch pitched in one of the games lately with the Athletics, of Philadelphia, one inning, without a ball being called on him. Long Allison wants to give up his home in disgust at catching again. Dickerson is about to retire from the Troys.

It is a noticeable fact that in the records published by the Cincinnati Enquirer the best average are made by men who come from the National Association of last year. This shows that if the National Association had been properly managed, they would have been the leading organization of this country.

The record of yesterday's games is as follows:

At Buffalo—Buffalos, 3; Providences, 4.
At Chicago—Chicagos, 4; Worcesters, 0.
At Baltimore—Hop Bitters, 2; Baltimores, 0.
At Cleveland—Boston, 6; Clevelands, 8.
At Springfield—Brooklyns, 17; Harvards, 2.

The game at Cincinnati between Troy and Cincinnati was called at the end of first inning on account of rain.

The standing of the League clubs is as follows below. Chicago still maintain their big lead. The fight for second, third, and fourth position is getting to be very exciting between Worcesters, Clevelands, Providences, and Bostons:

	Won.	Lost.
Chicagos	27	3
Clevelands	17	13
Providences	17	14
Worcesters	16	14
Bostons	15	16
Troys	11	20
Buffalos	10	20
Cincinnatis	7	20
	119	119

The standing of the National Association clubs does not alter from that published last week. It is now utterly impossible for the clubs to overcome the great lead of the Nationals, of this city. One of the great regrets now expressed is that the National did not become a member of the League, where teams are somewhat more evenly matched and better games are played.

	Won.	Lost.
Nationals	21	7
Albanys	8	11
Baltimores	7	12
Athletics	7	12
Rochesters	0	4
	36	36

Aquatics.

The regatta of the Virginia State Rowing Association comes off on July 6 at Fredericksburg. The Analostans are talking of sending a crew there to compete for the handsome prize that for the past week has been on exhibition at Galt's store in this city. The Potomacs will send a double and a four crews; one that will surely go, consisting of Cropley, stroke; Morgan, 3; Bailey, 2,