THAT ALLEGED INTERVIEW.

Our Foreign Minister Denies All Knowledge of It.

STRONG LETTER FROM MR. FUJII.

He Objects to Expressions Put in the Mouth of the Hawaiian Minister—Mr. Hatch Assures Him of No Change of Policy Toward Japan-Letters in Full.

It will be remembered that some months ago a purported interview with Minister Thurston was published in the States, which put in Mr. Thurston's mouth expressions derogatory to the interests of Japanese in Hawaii. This resulted in a complaint from Japan's representative, Mr. Fujii. The affair reached Minister Thurston's knowledge while in Lisbon, and his prompt reply was received by the last mail from the Coast. The correspondence given in full below will be read with general interest:

HIS IMPERIAL JAPANESE MAJESTY'S CONSULATE GENERAL.
HONOLULU, H. I., Oct. 27, 1894.

SIR: I beg respectfully to call your attention to what purports to be an interview with Mr. L. A. Thurston, the diplomatic representative of the Republic of Hawaii in the United States, as of the 15th inst., in Washington, and published in both the PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER and Hawaiian Star in their issues of the 26th inst., in which Mr. Thurston is made to say: "It is the desire of the Republic of Hawaii to offset as much as possible Asiatic influence in our islands caused by the presence of Chinese and Japanese, by encouraging European immigration;" and further on, "This labor problem is a very perplexing one to our people, and we are willing to resort to almost any measure to root out the Chinese and Japanese now on the islands."

The prominence given to Mr. Thurston by your Government may impart to the language used by him a significance which would otherwise not have been credited to his talk.

Permit me to ask if in those statements, especially in the last, are reflected the policy of the Government of the Republic of Hawaii and the sentiments of those who are at the head of its affairs? You will doubtless concede that the term "to root out the Japanese" carries enough with it on the one hand, to make it offensive, and, on the other, to commend the new policy of your Government to the serious consideration of that of His Imperial Majesty of Japan.

It must be known to you that the subjects of His Imperial Majesty did not seek these islands or acquire a residence therein uninvited. That fact alone exposes such assertion made by a person who is at present the representative of your Government, as Minister at Washington, and who occupies otherwise a position of prominence in your Government, to just criticism, and justifies me in my inquiry of you whether Mr. Thurston speaks for the Republic of Hawaii, when he announces that "we will resort to almost any measure to root out the Japanese."

I avail myself of this occasion to renew to you the assurance of my highest consideration.

[Signed] SABURO FUJII,
H. I. J. M.'s Diplomatic Agent and Consul-General.

Francis M. Hatch, Esq., Minister of Foreign Affairs, Honolulu.

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS,
HONOLULU, H. I., Nov. 5, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of October 27th, in which you call my attention to what purports to be an interview had in Washington with Mr. L. A. Thurston, the diplomatic representative of the Republic of Hawaii in the United States, in which Mr. Thurston is made to say: "It is the desire of the Republic of Hawaii to offset as much as possible Asiatic influence in our islands, caused by the presence of Chinese and Japanese, by encouraging European immigration;" and also, "This labor problem is a very perplexing one to our people. We are willing to resort to almost any measure to root out the Chinese and Japanese now in the islands, and inquiring if in those statements are reflected the policy of the Government of the Republic of Hawaii and the sentiments of those who are at the head of affairs."

The words in question are said to have been used by Mr. Thurston in a private conversation in Washington, a report of which was published in a newspaper. In view of the fact that newspaper interviews rarely purport to give the exact language used by the person with whom the conversation was held, I am unwilling to admit, until further inquiry has been made, that Mr. Thurston made use of the words in question.

Although it is a matter of some surprise that such a report should be made by you the subject of diplomatic representation, I am very glad to state to you that this Government has no policy in regard to any class or nationality of persons residing here, which can be expressed by the words "root out." It is quite true that this Government desires to encourage European immigration; but this does not involve the idea of "rooting out" or discrimination against any part of our population. I should regret extremely to hear that it could be considered imaginable that the encouragement of European immigration reflect on the uniform spirit of good will and of cordiality which has marked the intercourse between Japan and this country.

I avail myself of this occasion to renew the assurances of high consideration and esteem with which I have the honor, etc.

(Signed) FRANCIS M. HATCH,
Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Saburo Fujii, Esq., H. I. J. M.'s Diplomatic Agent and Consul-General, Honolulu.

LISBON, PORTUGAL, Dec. 13, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of November 8th with enclosures, consisting (1) of a copy of a letter from Mr. Fujii, the Japanese diplomatic representative in Hawaii, dated October 27, last, and (2) your reply thereto, dated November 5th.

I note that Mr. Fujii complains of an alleged interview with myself, published in an American newpaper, in which, among other statements, the following words purport to have been used by me, viz:

"We," meaning the people of Hawaii, "are willing to resort to almost any means to root out the Chinese and Japanese now on the islands."

Assuming that I have used such expression, Mr. Fujii characterizes it as "offensive," and states that it must "commend the new policy of your Government to the serious consideration of His Imperial Majesty of Japan."

He further states that the conditions "expose such assertions to just criticism," and justify him in his inquiry "whether Mr. Thurston speaks for the Republic of Hawaii when he announces that 'we will resort to almost any measure to root out the Japanese.'"

In reply I beg to state, that if, while occupying the position that I do, I have used the language above quoted, I have, without possibility of benefit either to myself or the Government of Hawaii, gone out of my way to commit a gross and wanton violation of diplomatic etiquette and international courtesy, against a friendly nation with whom we are on intimate terms, and with whom, under existing conditions, it is particularly for our interests that we should remain on good terms.

I should also, as Mr. Fujii states, have been announcing a "new policy" on the part of the Hawaiian Government. Not only new, but diametrically opposite to its professions and its acts duding the past ten years, during which period it has not only cultivated Japanese friendship and invited Japanese immigration to Hawaii, but has itself, at large cost, been instrumental in bringing into the country nearly 30,000 Japanese immigrants, the very ones whom I am assumed to have said it now proposes to "root out."

I should, moreover, not only have been announcing a new policy, a change from an exceedingly friendly to a most hostile policy, but one which, from our necessity for laborers, would be in the highest degree injurious to the business interests of Hawaii.

In view of the inherent improbability, I might say impossibility, of the Hawaiian Government adopting such a preposterous policy; or that if it proposed so to do that it would first be advertised in a foreign newspaper; and in view of the well known, to say the least, hasty and loose methods by which newspaper interviews are constructed, it would seem as though Mr. Fujii might have considered it unnecessary to take notice of the publication quoted; or, that if he felt it incumbent upon him to do so, he might have followed the customary diplomatic precedent, and first have enquired as to the authenticity of the alleged interview.

Under the circumstances I deem it almost an impugnment of my intelligence to be asked whether I made the statement above quoted; but, as Mr. Fujii has seen fit to assume that I have done so, and has made an official charge to that effect, which has been published broadcast, I beg to state that I have not at any time or place used the language above quoted, or any other language of a similar character; that I had no such interview as the one quoted, and did not know that such an interview had been published until informed thereof by your letter.

I have the honor, etc.,

(Signed) L. A. THURSTON.

To F. M. Hatch, Esq., Minister of Foreign Affairs, Honolulu H. I.

Disorder at Apia.

AUCKLAND, Jan. 2.—Advices received here from Samoa, December 27, say there has been much disorder at Apia. District collection of taxes has not been attempted for the past year. One native has been sentenced to death and others have been imprisoned for killing three black men. The natives were preparing to eat the bodies of their victims when arrested.

ROYALIST PLOT TOLD IN COURT.

Captain Davies Promised $10,000 For Landing Arms.

TOWNSEND AND WARREN TESTIFY.

Part Played by Charles T. Gulick In the Movement.

V. V. ASHFORD'S NAME MENTIONED

Witnesses Tell of Major Seward's Connection with the Plot—Tom Walker Pleads Guilty—Some Arms Were to Have Been Landed at Fish Market—How and Why Plans of Rebels Had to be Changed—Day of Startling Disclosures.

The cases of C. T. Gulick, W. H. Rickard, T. B. Walker and W. T. Seward occupied the attention of the Military Commission all day yesterday. The court opened at 9 o'clock sharp. Shortly after convening, the Commission retired for a few moments, and on returning announced readiness to proceed with any new business.

The four prisoners had engaged Paul Neumann to act in their behalf and formal appearance was made. Mr. Neumann announced that he would offer the same objections to the jurisdiction of the court made in the previous cases. The objection was put in writing and filed. The order for the calling of the court was again read. No objection being offered to the personnel, the Commission was sworn and the charge and specifications read as follows:

Charge First:—Treason, by engaging in open rebellion against the Government of the Republic of Hawaii by attempting by force and arms to overthrow and destroy the same, and by levying war against the same, and by adhering to the enemies of the Republic of Hawaii, giving them aid and comfort within the Hawaiian Islands and elsewhere.

First Specification:—That the said Charles T. Gulick, William H. Rickard, William T. Seward and Thomas B. Walker, upon the Island of Oahu, one of the Hawaiian Islands, at divers times within six months now last past did commit treason by engaging in open rebellion against the Government of the Republic of Hawaii and by attempting by force and arms to overthrow and destroy the same, and by levying war against the same, and by adhering to the enemies of the Republic of Hawaii, giving them aid and comfort within the Hawaiian Islands and elsewhere.

Second Specification:—That the said Charles T. Gulick, William H. Rickard, William T. Seward and Thomas B. Walker, upon the Island of Oahu, ADJUTANT GENERAL JNO. H. SOPER, N. G. H.

one of the Hawaiian Islands at divers times within six months now last past, did commit treason by procuring and providing munitions of war, arms and forces to be used and which were used in levying war against the Republic of Hawaii, and in attempting to overthrow and destroy the same.

Third Specification: That the said Charles T. Gulick, William H. Rickard, William T. Seward and Thomas B. Walker, upon the island of Oahu, one of the Hawaiian Islands, at divers times within six months now last past, did commit treason by partially organizing and establishing a military force and a pretended government for the purpose of overthrowing, destroying and displacing by force the Government of the Republic of Hawaii, and did appoint agents and officers for such pretended government and military forces aforesaid.

Charge Second: Treason, by aiding, abetting, procuring, counselling, inciting, countenancing and encouraging others to commit treason and to engage in open rebellion against the Government of the Republic of Hawaii and to attempt by force and arms to overthrow and destroy the same, and to levy war against the same, and to adhere to the enemies of the Repub-
