WILL CONDEMN LIGHTHOUSE LAND

Fourteen Sites Already Occupied by Beacons to Be at Once Proceeded Against

BRECKONS TO PREPARE CASES

United States District Court Officials to Have Busiest Day of the Term.

A [illegible] United States District Attorney Breckons [illegible] his labors before the grand jury [illegible] condemnation proceedings against [illegible] of ground for lighthouse purposes in the Hawaiian Islands, [illegible] chief on the islands of Hawaii and Kauai.

This will be the first step of [illegible] is to start action [illegible] taking which the lighthouse department has announced in Hawaii.

Breckons received orders by the last mail from the acting attorney general at Washington to proceed at once in the various cases and is now hastily engaged in deciphering blue prints portraying the lands needed for each.

The only lighthouse provided for this island in this series of blue prints is that of Barber's Point where a flashing light already warns the mariner of danger. Not only the land on which the lighthouse is to be erected is to be condemned but also roadway from the lighthouse to the nearest government road. This is the case with nearly every one of the fourteen.

On Kauai land will be condemned for a lighthouse at Lae o Kaiolo on the southern coast and also for one at Ulua Point, at the entrance to Hanapepe harbor. On the opposite side of the island land for a light station will be condemned at Kalaia Point, together with a right of way to the Anahola wharf landing.

Five or six are planned for Hawaii. In North Kohala there will be land condemned for a light at Mahukona landing and also at Kawaihae, the former with a right of way to the nearest government road although no such provision is made for the latter.

Kukuihaele is to have a lighthouse, it being the sole item which Hanaiana receives in this list.

One order instructs Breckons to start proceedings to condemn land for seven different lighthouses, all of them scattered. Kipahulu on southern Maui is one. Maui's sister island, Molokai, gets two, Kaunakakai and Pueo being in the list.

The other three plots of land which will be condemned are at Pepeekeo, Hawaii and Lae o ka Laau.

The district attorney's office will not languish for work today for the commencement of the condemnation suits for the above mentioned lands is not by any means the limit to its labors.

At ten o'clock this morning the head of the department faces a [illegible] damage suit incurred in an [illegible] which may or may not turn [illegible] successful. At the same hour a whole [illegible] of petit jurymen report for duty as the jury.

At one o'clock the grand jury resumes its duties and will [illegible] further alleged infractions of [illegible] of the Edmunds Act, [illegible] obscene mail matter and [illegible] government property.

On top of which comes the lighthouse condemnation cases which will [illegible] make the marshal's office.

And as if District Attorney Breckons has not enough to do with these [illegible] matters he will be [illegible] kept awake by a [illegible] this [illegible] which has been [illegible] for a month and which still on the [illegible].

BIG CAMPAIGN STARTS TODAY FOR REPUBLICANS

Three Weeks of Enthusiasm and Earnest Work For Victory---Great Feast and Stirring Speeches Down Country on Sunday.

DELEGATE KUHIO KALANIANAOLE.

Today the Republicans start into the final of the campaign and are determined to make the next three weeks fairly hum with the energy of their candidates. There will be no idle moment between now and the day of election, Tuesday, November 8. The days will be filled with hard and enthusiastic work and the evenings will resound with eloquence from the throats of those whom the party intends to put in office for the progress and prosperity of the whole Territory.

Thousands from this city will turn out in the early hours of the night to learn from the lips of candidates the great principles of the Republican party and to study the problems for which the Republican platform offers solution.

From among the candidates have been chosen men to address the populace on portment subjects of vital interest to all and concerning which questions are flying from mouth to mouth, questions which the Democratic leader, Lyle McCandless, has [illegible] and which he has refused to answer though he has been offered the columns of The Advertiser in which to state what ever reasons he may have for [illegible] the welfare of these Islands in the matter of immigration.

The various promises of the Republican platform will be [illegible] by able and entertaining writers, of which there are a goodly number in the Grand Old Party's fleet and it is on the school question, some sight [illegible] the promises of the McCandless method. The platform will be read before the people [illegible] and [illegible] come to listen and [illegible] for [illegible] and [illegible] are [illegible] the Republican [illegible].

STARTS SOMETHING FOR NOTHING GAME

With Himself as Beneficiary When the Naughty Police Take a Hand.

A desire to open an opium business, doubtless on an illegal basis, and as cheaply as possible, landed Ah Yee in jail yesterday before the police had a chance to catch him in his nefarious trade of the dope that dreams are made of.

Ah Yee sought his equipment by the exact of his brow rather than the coin of the realm, certain financial overtures being the prime cause of his being where he is.

On the fourth of the month he commenced operations at Waipahu where he received himself from the proceeds of selling himself from the selling of opium he was selling at the time.
