EXPERIENCE OF THOSE WHO WENT TO LAIE

Statement by Leaders of the Independents of Their Treatment by Railroad Company.

To the Editor of The Republican:

Sir:—The undersigned desire the publication of the following statement of facts, and request space in The Republican for the same.

The regular train from Kahuku for Honolulu left on time on the morning of the 15th instant, having on board twenty-five members of the independent party who went to Laie on the previous day, besides a number of other passengers.

The run to Waialua was made with a short delay caused by a large rock that had fallen on the track this side of Waimea bridge, and which required blasting.

From Waialua the train came through without incident until flagged near the washout at the culvert between Makua and Ohihikilolo. Finding a considerable detention necessary, the passengers accepted the kind invitation of Mr. Sam Andrews and were treated to the best—in fact, owing to our numbers, to everything he had at command. For his Samaritan-like conduct we vote him our must heartfel "Aloha oe."

After a time a work train came down the road from Waianae, bringing a few men, a carload of railroad ties and tools for repairing the damage, which consisted of a washout not to exceed twelve feet on both sides of a wooden culvert, the latter—rails and ties—remaining intact, so that persons could cross and recross the gap on the ties spiked to the rails. Some of our party crossed the washout and assisted in such manner as they could in the work going on.

While this work was in progress the conductor of the construction train announced his intention of running back to Waianae to allow the work train from Honolulu to come down the track so as to have more men to assist in the work.

When Mr. Emmeluth heard this he asked the conductor why he could not wait and allow the passengers from the coaches standing fifty yards from him to be transferred to the caboose of the construction train and be taken to Waianae. The conductor said he would start in about one minute and could not wait for a transfer of passengers.

Mr. Emmeluth caned to those on board the passenger train, but owing to the inclemency of the weather could not be heard. The construction train with the only three passengers who were on the Waianae side of the washout aboard, ran down to Waianae. The three had dinner and asked the railroad agent at Waianae to allow the train standing there (the 9:15 train from Honolulu) to run down to the break and allow the passengers to board before starting for Honolulu. This he declined to do, as he said the work train was on the track and he feared a collision. The fact is that this same work train was stationed at the break during the entire night and up to the time of our running into Waianae the following morning. The passenger train last mentioned lay at Waianae from its regular arrival at that point in the morning until its time of departure in the afternoon, without a single effort to relieve the passengers on the inward bound morning train. It came to this city and delivered three of the members of our party twenty-four hours in advance of the arrival of the remainder of the party.

We notice in Friday's issue of the Bulletin a statement that the railroad company had our train run back to Waialua and that we were being cared for at the Waialua hotel. Had the occurrence been prior to election day and the party one of republicans, we do not doubt that such would have been the forethought of the O. R. & L. Co.!

The truth of the matter is that from the time of enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Andrews to the extent of coffee and biscuits in the morning, the total of our subsistence amounted to a cracker apiece, secured from a Portuguese in the evening.

And yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the railroad company came to our rescue with ten tins of corned beef and about twenty loaves of bread. We arrived at Waianae at about 10 a. m. No attempt was made to assist us to provisions, and had it not been for personal friends there we would have been without food until our arrival in town. We laid over in Waianae from 10 o'clock till about two o'clock, and were then brought to town.

We simply publish our statement at this time in order to allow the public an opportunity to properly judge of the circumstances as they actually transpired, and without prejudice to any further steps we may see fit to take in the matter.

Thanking you for the courtesy of allowing us space for the publication of the above, we remain.

Yours truly,
D. KALAUOKALANI.

Storm on Kauai.

According to the reports brought from Kauai by the Noeau and Waialeale, the Garden Isle has felt the full force of the storm. At Waimea the storm burst very suddenly on Thursday evening soon after sundown. In a few minutes everything was in a turmoil. The sea raged and the heavens took on an inky hue and rain fell in torrents. With the rain and sea came a terrible wind. The wharf early in the storm was almost destroyed. Max Schlemmer's gasoline launch was hurled high and dry on the beach and smashed to bits.

The Waimea river was soon a roaring mass of swirling foaming water, carrying in its onward rush to sea, fences, chicken coops and trees and shrubs which were within its reach along the banks. As the rain continued the river rose and it is thought that all the rice fields in Hanapepe and Waimea valleys are ruined. The violence of the wind unroofed several houses and enough wood is piled upon the beach at Waimea to supply the stoves of the district with fuel for a year. In a little while the river opposite Hoffgard's store rose until the water was waist high in the street.

It was impossible to estimate the damage done in the district up to the time the steamer left Kauai.

A Great Medicine.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps of Poteau Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Territory of Hawaii.

By Authority.

Notice is hereby given that the following rule and regulation has been added and made a part of the Regulations for Hack and Passenger Vehicles:

21stA. Every licensed driver of an automobile shall have a silver metal cap badge, with his number plainly shown on it, as per sample at the police station house; said badge to be worn so as to be distinctly seen on the front of the cap of each driver. (To insure uniformity these badges will be furnished at the station house at cost price.)

The Life Policies of the Grand Old

Pacific Mutual

are just as unique as this cut. Just think of a 20 payment life policy guaranteed paid-up in 15 years, or of a 15 payment policy guaranteed paid-up in 12 years. This guarantee is backed by $20,000,000 more than the security given by any other life insurance company. Policy provides increasing insurance yearly, as well as liberal loans and surrender values either in cash or paid-up insurance. It provides also for automatic extended insurance; in other words, more insurance for the same money, or the same insurance for less money than given by any other company on earth.

Money Back if You Say So!

Some men wear just what they please; others wear what other men affect. There is a certain style which most men regard as proper, and one must be independently rich or hopelessly poor to utterly ignore the dictates of fashion. One great point about our clothing which ought to appeal to every man who would be well dressed is that it is so well made and so entirely in accord with the right fashion without being costly.

It has all the merchant tailor's distinctiveness; is, in fact, tailor-made; but is much less expensive than the so-called custom-made apparel.

SUSPENDERS

The top notch of excellence, the low water mark in prices; that's the way it is in our splendid furnishing department. As typical of values here, we note today a strong line of MEN'S SUSPENDERS made of excellent elastic webbing of new designs, with leather-trimmed, cast off or nickel plated mountings—equal in make-up to the usual 75c or $1.00 kinds.
