Mr. Burt Parr was before Mayor Pierce Thursday upon complaint of Jim Clem, who alleged that Mr. Parr had acted in a disorderly manner about his dance hall, over the corner of Main and First street. Mr. Parr was not fined, but was warned by Mayor Pierce to keep away from the hall when Mr. Clem's dances were in progress.

Of all the many camping parties which are haunting the woods and river banks there is none jollier than the one which can be found just east of the golf grounds. North Dakota lands are proving to be very fertile. The harvests this season are very abundant. The sale of harvesters and headers in the vicinity of Sykeston has been immense this season, much better than was expected. In about two weeks harvest will be in full blast. Those who contemplate buying should accompany Mr. Whinery on his next trip to Sykeston, which will be Aug. 22. If all those who had money to invest purchased cheap Iowa lands several years ago they would have been rich men today, so Mr. Whinery says, and the prospect in North Dakota is equally as favorable as in Iowa at that time.

The Iowa Central is experiencing great difficulty through lack of engine men and, although it may seem strange, an engine, No. 63, which was ordered out of the shops to doublehead north on train No. 63, was abandoned on account of not having an engineer. It has been necessary for the past few days to have most of the engineers double back as soon as they reach this city. Engineer John Speer was sent back to Mason City this morning on No. 3, at 2:10 o'clock, after he arrived here on No. 4 at 1:15. Firemen are also very scarce, and Charley Dicks started out on a short trip without a fireman, it being necessary to make the trip, and he undertook the extreme had work of feeding his engine and running it at the same time. As soon as Trainmaster Kerwin returns from Colorado, where he went to accompany Mrs. Kerwin home, a class of firemen will be put through the examinations and undoubtedly will be set up. The class will include, it is said, Charley Rogers, Ed Brown, Oscar Scheiding, Tom Pavey and William Clavier. They are all good firemen and have been in the company's service a long time. One of the best firemen on the road, Charlie McGlade, will not be a member of the class on account of the shortness of his service.

NEARLY A SHUTDOWN.

A Close Call for the Glucose Works Thursday Night—Men Very Scarce.

For a time Thursday night Superintendent George E. Chamberlain, of the Glucose Sugar Refining Company's plant in this city, was afraid that the factory would have to be closed for the night, at least, owing to the lack of men. Several men quit in the evening, and others on the night shift refused to go to work when night came, owing to the hot weather. Mr. Chamberlain managed to scare up several who took their places, but at about 8 o'clock was still short on his roll call in the boiler room, where the men who quit were employed.

The superintendent, accompanied by a Times-Republican reporter, visited the loafing places of about fifty men, all of whom wanted work, so they said. When they were offered it, however, they were not so anxious, although Mr. Chamberlain offered a dozen of them $2 for the night, or until 7 o'clock this morning. But two out of the dozen finally went, but six others were later secured about the depots, and business was kept going through the night.

It was an emergency that Superintendent Chamberlain will not want repeated very soon. The trouble was caused altogether by the bum labor element, which is used in some departments to a greater or lesser extent. Of course this element is the only independent working class, and only works when the conditions are agreeable. Mr. Chamberlain went to Boone this morning, where he will endeavor to employ men whom he understands are out on a strike in the mines near that city.

APPRAISED THE LAND.

Board Selected to Assist in Condemnation of the King Property Holds a Session.

Messrs. J. F. M. Cooper, George Whitton, Frank Brennecke, J. O. Monohon, D. J. Evans and E. E. Carver, constituting the board of appraisers selected by the sheriff to act in the condemnation proceedings ordered against the King property, met this forenoon. This property is the only obstruction at the present time to the opening of Riverside street, the new thoroughfare connecting Center street and Third avenue and running on the south side of the cemetery grounds. The appraisers visited the locality and later met to deliberate. The lot, on which there is a small house, extends into the street twenty feet and that much only is to be condemned at the present time. The cemetery association will have to condemn the balance of the lot unless Mr. King agrees to sell at a proper figure, as the remainder is wanted for cemetery purposes only.

The appraisers fixed the amount to be paid Mr. King at $225, which includes the value of the twenty feet of land and the cost of moving the house.

A SMALL STRIKE.

Laborers Employed on the Woodbury Block Fail to Return to Work at Noon.

Fifteen tenders and laborers in the employ of Contractor J. F. Atkinson on the Woodbury block went on a strike at noon today. When Mr. Atkinson returned after dinner one of his men said the laborers were all over in the park and he had heard them say they would not go to work unless they were paid $1.75 per day. They had been receiving $1.50. Mr. Atkinson then laid the bricklayers off for the day, as he had reached a stage in the work where the machinery had to be raised. The men did not call on him with their grievances, therefore he wrote out their checks and will pay the strikers off. He will secure other men, he thinks, by tomorrow. He says the demands of the men are not unreasonable, and that their request would have been granted had they come to him in a proper way.
