SPRING WEATHER COMES TO BUTTE

City Gets a Taste of California Climate in the Middle of Winter.

Butte took a taste, in fact quite a large helping, of California weather today for the first time after a period of low temperatures. Indeed the moderate amount of early spring weather and induced many to believe that winter had passed and that the summer was on its way to this section. The thermometer went up to 47 yesterday while the lowest point for the past 24 hours was 20 above.

The early morning resembled the dawn of a day in May. There are reports that the robins are here and that the birds have been seen in their flight from the southern lands to the northern summer homes. This is a mistaken idea, however. There are robins at the gardens at the present time but they are small birds that are separated from the main bodies in the fall during the southward flight and remained in the southern states during the winter.

The weather report from Helena is favorable to fair weather for the next few days. The temperature is due to fall but this might mean another period of cold as well as a warm spell. In the meantime the citizens are dusting their heavy coats and some are shedding them after a sufficient lapse of weeks. This is the time when persons have been wanting to be healthy to be very careful as many are taken unawares during a change in the weather conditions and pneumonia sets in unfavorable to good health.

The real first will give a respite for a few days and there will arise at the prospects of spending of their wheelbarrows after weeks of disappointed traffic. The absence of any snow fall for several days and the clearing up of the streets has prevented anything like slush. The condition of the streets is fairly good. Water is beginning to run in the gutters but no serious trouble from washouts, even in the midst of the warm days of the present weather is looked for.

WANT UNIFICATION OF SERBIAN RACE

That Will Be Serbia's Peace Demand, According to Her Minister Here.

New York, Jan. 10.—The unification of the Serbian race will be the principal demand of Serbia at the close of the war, says Lieutenant R. Milosavljevic, newly appointed Serbian minister to the United States, who is now passing on his way to Washington. Serbia's minister, Mihajlo Mihajlovic, will, it is said, be a candidate for the Serbs of the south.

The demands of Serbia, he continued, will necessarily include the reclamation of Serbian Macedonia now held by Bulgaria. He saw little hope for more friendly relations between Berlin and Austria as a result of the accession of Emperor Charles to the throne of Francis Joseph.

The Serbian military forces, said he, and the government felt the aid been neglected in their time when the Germans overran their country.

"It is understood that we and our allies are striving for peace, but a peace which will be on a basis of justice and freedom. The same full satisfaction is the ultimate result, so much the more as because all neutrals are sure to be on our side which is fighting for justice and for the freedom of all great or small states."

ECONOMY ROUND GAS STOVE MAKES FUEL BILL SMALLER

Creamed Codfish Suggested as a Suitable Breakfast Dish by Miss Inez Alkire, Who Arranges Three Meals for the Average Person at Small Cost. A Boiled Dinner, Featuring the Popular and Ordinary Ham and Cabbage, is Suggested. Another of Those Interesting and Instructive Menus Shown by a Girl of the Butte High School Domestic Science Class.

WENU NO. 14.

BY MISS INEZ ALKIRE.

In planning three meals for a day the main object is to be economical and still have the correct amount of health-giving food.

Some kind of fruit, either dried or fresh, should be served for breakfast. In this case the fruit are cooked with the cream of wheat and served with milk and sugar.

Creamed codfish is not expensive and is given variety in making a breakfast. It is very good served with toast.

Whole wheat bread should be served thick a day and is very good to serve with butter a light lunch.

Cheese is the best meat substitute. It has twice that amount of nutrition of the meat. The American people eat too much meat and if more would use a meat substitute their health would be much better.

A boiled dinner is not expensive and is very good for a change, as most people serve "fried" meats for supper for a dinner.

The vegetables including the cabbage, turnips and potatoes are cooked separately from the meat. These are all very strongly flavored vegetables and therefore should be cooked in plenty of water somewhat and uncovered.

Do not cook vegetables until they become mushy, but drain them, but as soon as they are tender. They also taste better and do not present a very unappetizing appearance.

The cabbage should be cooked about ten and changed to boiling water and then served with melted butter. After the vegetables have been cooked serve with the boiled ham.

Steamed pudding is very good and is often served to the meal.

This dinner is all cooked in one of the ovens. If one uses gas for cooking one should plan to use the top of the stove exclusively or if one lights the oven one should cook everything in the oven. Dry all of the dishes and leave the fire 100 smaller.

BASEBALL MEETING POSTPONED A DAY

Directors of Butte Club Plan to Elect New Officers Tomorrow.

Owing to the absence of Tom Bulkins, one of the newly elected directors from the city, the meeting of the board of directors of the Butte Baseball club for electing officers has been postponed until tomorrow, according to announcement this afternoon by W. H. Dwyer. Marvin Charles H. Lane and Lou Frank, who with Bulkins and Joe McGinnity constitute the board.

McGinnity will be unable to attend tomorrow's meeting of the board, but Bulkins is expected back from Anaconda tonight so that at least four of the five directors will be in attendance.

In view of the consummation of Bert E. Calkins to assume the duties as president of the club and the certainty of "Bill" Quinlan that he will be retained behind so much of the time that it will be impossible for him to serve again as president, there has been considerable speculation as to who will be elected to these offices. As one of the directors put it today there have been no caucuses on these offices yet and there has been but little opportunity for securing available timber.

Many fans however are discussing "Bill" Lane who has shown intense interest in affairs of the club from its organization for the presidency and Tom Bulkins for secretary. There has been no expression from either of these men thus far as to whether or not he will accept.

That the new board proposes to get down to business right away and pave the way for the greatest baseball season Butte has ever known is apparent from enthusiasm of the members.

The season will probably open in Butte the latter part of May although the Northwestern league's first games will not take place on the coast. The schedule meeting will be held next month in Spokane. There is considerable speculation among some of the clubs to open the season a fortnight later than last year because of fear of repetition of the extreme wet weather which was experienced during the opening games of the coast last year.

The club today filed its annual statement with the clerk and recorder and the figures show a deficit of $1,546.62. It is stated that the capital stock of the organization is $24,000, amount paid in $12,146 of which $14,346 is in cash and $1,800 issued in stock in payment of property; existing indebtedness $1,546.62.

RAPID PROGRESS IN SELECTION OF JURY

The work of securing the jury list from among the taxpayers of Silver Bow county is making such rapid progress that the task is expected to be completed by Saturday. Those engaged in the work are Otis Sinclair, chairman of the board of county commissioners; John J. Harrington, county treasurer, and Peter J. Kelly, county assessor, with Miss Lottie Smith as stenographer.

"I certainly did," replied Mrs. Gabb. "It is always safe to believe exactly the opposite of what he says."

MYERS SAVES DAY FOR PROHIBITION

Leaves Convalescent's Chair to Vote Against Dilatory Tactics.

The Post's Washington Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Although not fully recovered from effects of his recent operation, Senator Myers left the easy chair of a convalescent yesterday afternoon to save the day for the prohibition forces of the District of Columbia. He went to the senate and cast his vote against referring the question of prohibition, a dilatory tactic in this instance, to referendum of the people of the district and the proposal was defeated by a tie vote, 42 to 42. Then with 24 other solons of the upper house he voted for the Shepard bill and it carried 38 to 22.

The Shepard bill permits the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia, but allows small importations for personal use. Its proponents were planning for its immediate enactment while its opponents sought continuance by referring the issue to popular vote. It is a well known fact that no elections are held in the District of Columbia and that therefore a referendum would entail establishment of elective machinery, registration and the like, which would probably consume many months. It was evident on the eve of the voting that the decision on the matter of referring the question would be close and the prohibition forces made a determined effort to register their full voting strength. It was on the referendum that the fight centered, so that the unexpected appearance of Senator Myers in the senate and his vote really saved the Shepard bill.

BURIED WITH INDIAN ARROW IN HIS BODY

Los Angeles, Cal.—In a fight with Sioux Indians near Independence 55 years ago Allen Cornell Van Fleet was shot in the side with an arrow which ranged from right to left across his back, barely missing the spinal column. That Indian died with the twang of the bowstring in his ears for the wounded man quickly and carefully put a bullet through his head.

That Van Fleet underfoot to pull the missile out of his own body. The wooden shaft came, but the obsidian point, three inches long, slender and sharp, stuck. Through the half century and more it has remained.

A few days ago it was laid in the grave with Van Fleet, who passed away at his ranch home eight miles east of Bishop. He would not permit its removal during life, and it will stay with him in death. Van Fleet was 93 and death was due to his years.

BURGLARY IS SERIOUS OFFENSE, SAYS DWYER

Jarvis Pleads Not Guilty and His Bonds Are Fixed at $5,000.

J. A. Jarvis charged with burglary, entered a plea of not guilty before Judge John V. Dwyer this morning. He was represented by Attorney W. G. Sullivan, who asked that a bond be fixed, informing the court that Jarvis was a young man of 26 years of age and that if a reasonable bond was fixed he could get out and go to work. He added that the father of the man had come here from Minneapolis for the purpose of looking after his son's case.

County Attorney Jackson, in reply to a question from the court, stated that Jarvis was charged with entering the room of Charles Henry in the Goldberg block with the intention of committing larceny. "Gamblers and such have had bonds fixed of sufficient size," said the county attorney "to ensure their presence in court when required and as burglary is a serious crime I believe the bond of Jarvis should be sufficient to guarantee his presence in court."

"Yes," said the judge, "I regard burglary as a very serious offense and I will make the bond $5,000."
