SOLEMN HIGH REQUIEM MASS FOR MRS. KELLY

The body of Mrs. Lillian Kelly, wife of Dan M. Kelly, former attorney general and at present a member of the legal department of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, will be buried Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence, 2160 West Platinum. There will be a solemn requiem high mass in the church of the Immaculate Conception, after which interment will take place in Holy Cross cemetery.

Mrs. Kelly died at Murray's hospital yesterday after an operation for appendicitis. She was 35 years old.

IS FOUND INNOCENT OF RESISTING ARREST

A jury in Justice Doran's court today found Theodore Tuck innocent of a charge of resisting arrest. The complaint had been filed by Deputy Sheriff Mike Boric, who testified that when he ordered Tuck under arrest, he ran away.

AMERICANS NOT TO GO TO RUSSIA

More Men There Now Than They Can Use—Government Stronger.

confirm this point of view and show that many conservative leaders who have recently gone out of office are now again coming to the front of affairs. They include such men as the former president of the duma, Rodzianko; the former minister of instruction, Ignatieff; Leader Plehkhanoff, of the social domestic party; Professor Avksenteff, socialist, and Admiral Kolchak, of the Black sea fleet. This is interpreted to forecast a more representative and better balanced government.

At the same time arrests among the Bolsheviki and the Red Guard are continuing. The council of workmen and soldiers delegates has issued different appeals to different sections of the community, citing the danger of the situation and supporting dictatorial powers to make the results of the revolution safe.

Premier Kerensky's call for an extraordinary national council announced today from Petrograd to meet in Moscow July 31 was also forecast in embassy dispatches sent just prior to the decision. They state that all parties had united in demanding an emergency meeting of all leaders, including conservatives, professors and others not now connected with the government.

Fears of food riots which originally precipitated the crisis in Petrograd leading to the revolution are dispelled, the dispatches add, by reports of splendid harvests from all over Russia. At the same time every effort is being made to improve the transportation system so that parts of the country will not be starving while others are over supplied.

The Galician military defeat was further explained by mutiny in one division of from 16,000 to 20,000 men which opened up the front to the Germans and allowed them to drive in a wedge 20 miles deep which necessitated the retirement of the whole of General Korniloff's forces of 300,000 men.

VROOMAN ON WAR MAKES GOOD TALK

Secretary Austin Home From Meeting Held at Placer Hotel, Helena.

One of the most interesting speeches on war conditions given in this state since the United States entered into the world conflict was delivered in Helena Wednesday afternoon by Carl Vrooman, secretary of the department of labor and agriculture of the United States, now making a tour of the west in favor of food conservation, according to Charles Austin, secretary of the Butte Chamber of Commerce, who represented the Silver Bow county committee on national defense at the meeting. Mr. Austin said: "Mr. Vrooman arrived in Helena Wednesday morning. He spoke at the Placer hotel to an audience of 300 or more prominent citizens of the community. He detailed how it came that the United States entered into the war and then launched into a discussion of the economic side of the world battle. He explained that the entire community had a big part to play in the war; that every individual had a special duty to perform; that the business man should follow his business in a legitimate way, by declining to 'gouge' the public and by being contented with a reasonable profit; that the banker should be reasonable in his loans to such people as the farmers, who will help the nation to fight the war to a successful conclusion; that the farmer must conserve his crops and labor and that in fact every member of the nation must do his and her share in order to help the boys who are giving their life blood for world democracy.

"Some of us are too short, too tall, too lean or too fat to be accepted in the army, but all of us can contribute something to the great fabric of preparedness."

Governor Stewart attended the meeting and introduced Mr. Vrooman, who was glad to meet a representative from Butte. Mr. Vrooman inquired very anxiously about the labor situation in Butte, stating his conviction that the industries of the country must be maintained at high pressure in order to assure that the war can be maintained satisfactorily and with due regard to the high position which the United States holds in the court of the world powers.

ESTIMATES TO MOUNT TO ELEVEN BILLIONS

Washington, July 27. — Complete estimates for the additional five billion dollars to be asked of congress for the conduct of the war were being prepared today by Secretary McAdoo.

Total appropriations for the fiscal year were estimated to run up to approximately $11,000,000,000, exclusive of further appropriations for loans to the allies. With loans and possible emergencies the amount may run up to $15,000,000,000 or possibly $20,000,000,000.

Against these totals, figures submitted to congress leaders for comparison with appropriations of European belligerents indicated that for the British fiscal year ending March 31 last, they aggregated $10,000,000,000 and an estimate for the current fiscal year was $12,000,000,000.

JUSTIFICATION.

A former Berlin correspondent was talking about Admiral Holweg's book in justification of the submarine war.

"The Germans, with their queer, blind souls, can justify anything—anything, I mean, that they do themselves," he said.

"The Germans are like the lady who had a costly string of pearls sent home.

"'You ought to be ashamed to buy those pearls,' said her husband, bitterly, 'considering how I'm situated.'

"'Why, George,' said she, 'that's just it. Do you think I want everybody to know what a hole you're in?'"

MERCHANTS ACCEPT CLERKS' INVITATION

Employers Will Unite With Employes for Commercial Day Outing.

At a meeting of the Butte Merchants' association the invitation of the Butte Clerks' union to attend the annual picnic and outing at Dillmont park, Dillon, on Commercial day, Aug. 15, was accepted unanimously. Each member of the Merchants' association pledged himself to attend the outing, which, according to the plans of Chairman William McLoon, will be one of the best in the history of the local organization. Mr. McLoon has gathered around him a most capable committee, and as he is specially fitted for the position of chairman of such an outing, the very best results may be anticipated.

In fact, Commercial day this year will be celebrated on a larger scale than ever in the past. The United Commercial Travelers, Butte council, are arranging for a picnic at the present time. They have been invited to make Dillmont park the rendezvous for the day. It is very likely that they will accept the invitation, and if so the outing will include clerks, merchants and traveling men in the one party for the first time in the history of the city. The merchants were very enthusiastic over the invitation extended by Chairman McLoon.

As in former years, there will be a big sports program. A band will be in attendance and there will be dancing during the afternoon and evening. As usual also some of the refreshments will be distributed free, through the courtesy of the merchants. Two trains will go from Butte to Dillon over the Short Line on that day, one at 7 o'clock, the regular train, and one at 8 o'clock, a special train. Arrangements are also being made to have a small special run during the afternoon between Dillon and the park, so that those who desire to go to the city will have an opportunity of doing so.

There are many trees at the park and a goodly shade will be provided. In fact, the Dillmont park is credited with being one of the finest outing camps in the state.

SUGGESTS AN EXAMPLE BE MADE OF SPIES

Executions Would Have a Good Effect on Enemy Operations.

London, July 12 (by mail).—The most effective method of combatting the German espionage system in the United States is to be found in cooperation between the public generally and the police, according to opinions expressed to the associated press by high officials of Scotland Yards.

Since the entry of the United States into the war English officials and officials of the United States department of justice have been closely cooperating along these and other related lines and the American agents have been furnished with such information not only in regard to persons, but in regard to methods of catching those who are working for Berlin.

The compact wireless apparatus usually moved about and within containers that disguise its real nature, is to be especially guarded against, Scotland Yards feels. Considerable difficulty has been experienced here with the wireless and the police now freely employ an instrument through the use of which these enemy instruments are detected.

Wholesale internment of Germans will not solve the problem. England has not interned all her German residents, but the police are absolutely sure of the connections of those allowed to remain at large.

There is a general feeling in London that the execution of the first spies caught would go far in the United States toward persuading others, Germans as well as neutrals, that such work is extremely hazardous.

FORTUNE TELLER SEES SIGN, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Nancy Hanks for First Time Reads Own Future—Fires Bullet Into Brain.

Confronted by the sign of death—the nine of spades—Nancy Hanks, fortune teller and a one-time queen of the redlight district, shot and killed herself at 2:15 o'clock today in a cabin back of the Woodrow hotel on Arizona street. For years the well-known character had been earning her living by telling fortunes under the name of Madame Manna. She claimed to have predicted the European war and said she foretold the date when the United States would enter into the great struggle.

With the closing of the redlight district the fortune teller's trade vanished. She had recently suffered from hunger, according to her friends.

About noon Nancy went into the home of Mrs. Tillie Woods and asked for something to eat. Mrs. Woods went into the back yard to hang out some clothes, after giving Nancy a bowl of soup and some bread. She heard the shot and found the woman lying upon the floor in a pool of blood.

From the deck of cards found it was apparent that the fortune teller told her own fortune, something she has steadfastly refused to do. The nine of spades was in front. The gun was found clutched in her right hand.

From letters found Nancy's right name was learned for the first time. It developed she has a sister who is the wife of a prominent California postmaster. The coroner has decided that Nancy Hank's secret, regarding her family, will be buried with her.

According to the police the deceased was a troublesome character. She had been arrested dozens of times for drunkenness within the past few years. But, according to the jailers, her word was as good as her bond. She was known to give her last two-bits to some unfortunate who was hungry.

Coroner Lane will hold an inquest at a date to be announced later.

REASONS STATED FOR THE LOWER DIVIDEND

Directors of St. Paul Issue a Letter to Stockholders of the Road.

New York, July 27.—Reasons for the decrease in the common dividend from five to four per cent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company are set forth today in a letter the directors have sent to stock holders.

It is stated that the need for ownership by the company of its own line to the Pacific coast, amounting to about 3,045 miles and involving an expenditure of $260,000,000, together with increased mileage of 658 for second main line track at a cost of $36,000,000, made the decrease necessary. This increased mileage has caused the purchase of large additions to motive power and rolling stock costing $61,000,000.

Mortgage bonds issued to meet these expenditures have increased the fixed annual interest charges approximately $9,500,000. Had not the cost of maintaining and operating railways, the letter concludes, radically changed, such as labor, fuel, material, supplies, the company would easily have earned its interest charges, its usual dividends and a substantial amount as surplus for use in betterments.

NO HUMANITY.

"The Germans," said Admiral Chocheprat of the French mission, during his visit to New York—"the Germans don't know what humanity means. When they talk about being humane they remind me of little Marius.

"Marius was very proud of the new kittens, and went one day to get them to show to a visitor.

"As he returned through the hall the kittens made a frightful noise, and his mother called:

"'Don't hurt the kittens, Marius!'

"'No, motheer, I won't,' said he. 'I'm carrying them very carefully by their stems.'" burden of calling the strike on switchmen affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The statement lists the number of switchmen in the Chicago switching district at about 6,500, of whom 2,500 belong to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, about 2,500 to the Switchmen's Union of America, and about 1,500 are either non-union or belong to some other labor organization.

What Managers Say.

The managers' committee declared that to agree to the demands of the B. A. R. T. switchmen would establish the closed shop in favor of members of that organization and deprive the management of the power to select yardmasters and assistant yardmasters. Nineteen railways entering Chicago are affected by the demands.

The switchmen's demands, the statement says, were presented July 2, after offers to submit the differences to the federal mediation and conciliation board were rejected by the representatives of the B. O. R. T. switchmen.

THE CHASED RING.

Mrs. Vernon Castle, at a dance in New York, condoled with a young man who danced badly.

"You'll soon master it," she said. "Pitch right in and learn, and don't mind if they do laugh at you. Ignorance is always laughable, but there's no disgrace in it."

Then Mrs. Castle told a little story.

"A young man," she said, "visited a jeweler's and asked to look at some wedding rings. He selected a very handsome ring, and the jeweler said:

"'H'm. That one is dearer than the others. Yes, sir, I have to charge ten dollars extra for that one on account of the chasing.'

"The young man flushed.

"'You won't have to chase me, mister,' he said, coldly. 'I pay cash.'"
