BOY SUCCUMBS WHILE COMING OUT OF ETHER

Queer Disease Claims George Sylvester After Minor Operation.

George Sylvester, 16 years old, 711-B Maryland, died this morning while regaining consciousness after being under ether for a minor operation, in the office of Dr. Graham Biddle. Cause of the boy's death was a disease known as status lymphaticus, an ailment peculiar to young people.

The operation had been successfully performed and the young man was regaining consciousness, when his heart action suddenly stopped. Oxygen was administered at once and every effort was made to bring him back to consciousness. The boy's parents were with him during the operation and at the time of the sudden attack of the strange disease.

Status lymphaticus, according to medical authorities, is a disease impossible to diagnose, but one that is fatal under a number of conditions. The Sylvester boy was found to be strong in every respect before the operation was performed.

NEED EDUCATION FOR THE FUTURE

Address by Professor Richter Before the Rotary Noonday Luncheon.

The need of higher education in the United States, especially at the conclusion of the war, during the reconstruction period, was emphasized at the meeting of the Butte Rotary club at noon today at the Butte Grill by Dean A. W. Richter of the engineering department of the Montana State college at Bozeman.

In his address Mr. Richter paid attention to the requests for men which were being made by the various colleges throughout the country. He told that there was a special demand and need for scientists and engineers and paid a tribute to the work which is being done by the alumni of the University of Montana. He referred to the special courses which are being conducted at the University of Montana, in common with other universities, in preparing men to meet the special conditions which will obtain in this country at the conclusion of the war.

Mr. Richter also spoke of the movement in the state to help poor boys who are not in a position to take care of themselves during a college course and appealed to the members of the Rotary club to assist in this very laudable work.

Sam R. White presided [illegible] social session following the luncheon and the following reported on various committee works: Superintendent of Schools W. E. Maddock, on the boys' department; L. A. May, on the financial committee, and Malcolm Gillis, on the arrangements being made for the send off for the boys who leave in the second draft on Sunday night. Julis Colton of Chicago was introduced by M. Swordling.

A very interesting feature of the meeting was the report made by H. J. Menzemer, superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb school at Boulder. Mr. Menzemer told of what had been done by the boys toward planting 420 acres this spring in order to help the government, of the military training which was being conducted and the success with which the movement for national uniforms had been met by the parents and other relatives of the inmates. He said that there were 101 children at the school at the present time, while there were 266 applications for admission waiting for accommodation. He said that the legislature at the last session had appropriated $26,600 for additional buildings and that work on those would be finished up in the shortest possible time.

Dr. John A. Donovan, president of the club, made a business report. Vice President T. J. Davis, who said that he had been compelled to file an exemption claim when drafted in the national army because he could not support his wife and two children on $30 a month, announced that he had accepted a position at a better salary with the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Lewis and would leave for there on Oct. 1. He resigned his position as vice president and the entertainment committee was notified to take cognizance of the act and arrange a farewell reception for Attorney Davis.

Announcement was made at the close of the meeting that next Thursday would be Butte day at the State Fair and for that reason there would be no meeting of the Rotary club next week, as all members were expected to go to Helena and swell the Butte delegation.

WILL MAKE LONG TRIP FOR PARADE

A. R. Currie, marshal of the first parade in honor of drafted men from Butte and Silver Bow county, will be in Butte next Saturday to help with the second great parade for drafted men. Mr. Currie wired today from Washington, D. C., that he will make the trip across the continent to Butte just to help honor the drafted men on Sunday.

"That is just a sample of the feeling that Butte men have for the conscripts," said the mayor today after he received the telegram. "I know of a number of men who are giving up important business trips to be here Sunday to honor our soldier boys."

CHARGE OF BURGLARY AGAINST SPELIOLES

Annie Damon in a complaint filed in Justice Mitchell's court is charged with creating a disturbance, at the instance of Fannie Takala. It is alleged that the Damon woman used vile and profane language toward the complainant.

I knew that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality. But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

Y. M. A. BUILDING TO BE TORN DOWN

Officials Condemn Structure. Organization Goes Out of Existence.

The Young Men's association building, popularly known as the Y. M. A., at Granite and Arizona streets, one of Butte's landmarks and the foundation for the Young Men's Christian association movement here, has been forced to give way to the march of progress. The historic structure, which in the early days served as a gymnasium, later as an auditorium and swimming pool, and finally as club rooms for the young men of Butte, will be torn down. The work will begin tomorrow.

At the same time the Y. M. A. is going out of existence. Regretfully, President Tom Davis made this announcement today, adding that this news will bring tears to the eyes of many of Butte's young men, who have availed themselves of the privileges of the club. President Davis continued that there will be no debts against the old organization, there being sufficient money in the treasury to pay every bill.

The historic building, a two story frame structure, was built more than 25 years ago. In the early days it served as a gymnasium, being conducted by Dunc McDonald, whose reputation as a fight expert and referee was nation wide.

Ten years ago the state legislature passed a law providing for free baths. The building was then remodeled, a swimming pool installed and for a number of years Butte residents, old and young, enjoyed themselves in plunge baths.

It remained a swimming pool until five years ago when the building was condemned. At that time, the Y. M. A. took it over, remodeled it into a gymnasium and club rooms. At one time the Young Men's club had a membership of 50. It gradually began to decline, however. Now that the Young Men's Christian association building is assured, the members believe that their purpose has been accomplished and the club will go out of existence.

The building and site upon which it stands are owned by the city. Mayor Maloney explained this morning that the building is being torn down because it has been condemned. The site upon which the building stands is about 40 feet by 100 feet. Should the city be able to acquire sufficient adjoining property at a reasonable price the site may be considered as a location for the proposed new City Auditorium.

HURLS HIMSELF DOWN MINE SHAFT

Unknown Man, Apparently 30 Years Old, Drops to the 1,300-Foot Level.

An unknown man, about 30 years of age and apparently a Finlander, committed suicide late this afternoon by jumping down the west compartment of the shaft of the Moonlight mine and the body was found a shapeless pulp on the top of the cage at the 1,300-foot level. Efforts are being made to ascertain his identity but the condition of the body almost precludes recognition.

The man entered the Moonlight yards shortly before 3 o'clock. He wore no coat or vest and his appearance aroused the suspicion of Timekeeper J. C. Baird. Baird shouted to him but the man, with an apparent deliberation of purpose, walked directly to the shaft, climbed under the guard railing and hurled himself without a moment's hesitation into the yawning depth.

The body careened down the shaft, buffeting from side to side, and finally thudding against the top of the cage in the west compartment. When reached by workmen, it was an unrecognizable mass. An arm and leg were torn from the trunk and every bone in the body was broken. The remains were hoisted to the collar of the shaft in a canvas bag.

The man committed the act with cool deliberation. From evidence gleaned by Coroner Aeneas Lane this was only the successful one of several attempts at self destruction. Timekeeper Baird noticed that the man had a fresh cut on the neck near the right ear and running under the chin. A bloody towel was protruding from his pocket. Baird hailed the man on noticing these, but the stranger heeded not and walked straight for the shaft.

James Kearney and Mark Price, who were dumping a car near the shaft, saw the man approach the shaft and crawl under the guard rail. Before they could make a cry or a move he had disappeared.

LANDLADY OF AVON BLOCK IS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Answer in Suit for Rent Refused on Ground Default Had Been Entered.

Mrs. Anna Fleming, the former landlady of the Avon block owned by the county and located on Alaska street, is once more in the limelight. Recently under instructions from the commissioners the county attorney's office instituted suit against her to recover rent due, asking for judgment in the sum of $4,800, which is treble the amount of the rent due. Attorney Alex Levinski endeavored to serve an answer in the suit on the county attorney, but acceptance was refused today on the ground that a default had already been entered. The attorney claims that on Monday Judge Lynch signed an order extending the time for answer until Saturday.

It will be remembered that the county commissioners used all kinds of methods to get Mrs. Fleming out of the block as it was desired to tear it down to make yard room for the new jail. At first her rent was raised from $25 to $200 a month, but Mrs. Fleming did not pay any attention and remained in possession without paying rent or water rates. The next move was made a couple of weeks ago when the county commissioners had the water turned off and then the city health department after a few days stepped in and condemned the building as unsanitary. This had the effect of causing Mrs. Fleming to move out.

GUARDS CAUSE I. W. W. TO FLEE IN ALL DIRECTIONS

Crowd Gathered in Front of Finlander Hall Dispersed by Soldiers.

That the guardsmen on duty here will not tolerate any interference on the part of the I. W. W. with miners who are working was demonstrated last evening when a squad of 16 soldiers dispersed a crowd of "wobblies" who had gathered in front of Finlander hall.

As a result of intimidation on part of the I. W. W. since the mines reopened Monday morning, groups of guardsmen are again stationed at the foot of Anaconda hill and along the roads used by miners going to and returning from work.

A guardsman ordered the crowd to move on and not obstruct the sidewalks and when the men refused to obey the order a squad of 16 men rushed to the scene. When the "wobblies" saw the guardsmen approach they scattered in all directions.

SAM WILSON DEAD.

Sam Wilson, who was arrested in Centerville a few days ago on a charge of intoxication, died at the county jail last night. The physicians pronounced his death due to alcoholism. His illness did not appear serious until an hour before his death.

"HONEYMOON SPECIAL" IS CROWDED OUT BY THE WAR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—The cruel war is making itself felt in all directions. Even Cupid is not exempt. This dreadful fact became known when it was announced that the celebrated "Honeymoon Special," an excursion train which has been running from Richmond, Va., to Washington twice a year for a quarter of a century, has been crowded off the rails to make way for troop and munition movements. There was a wailing about the clerk's office at the courthouse, especially when it became known that Mrs. J. R. Gill had planned to bring 40 lovelorn couples to the national capital and the marriage altar early in October.

SAYS "SONG OF WAR" YET TO BE WRITTEN

Washington, Sept. 20.—The present war has given to the country some good martial music, but the "war classic," that will be to this period what "Just Before the Battle, Mother," was to the civil war, or "Hot Time" was to the Spanish-American war, has not yet been written, according to Lieut. William H. Santelmann, leader of the Marine band.

"There have been a number of good musical compositions written in the last few months," said the noted leader today, "but not many of them seem to make an impression on the public."

"But do you think the big song of the war has been written?" Lieutenant Santelmann was asked.

"No, I don't believe it has," was his reply. "I mean that the song which will be associated with this particular war. Of course there is the battle song of the Marine Corps, "From the Halls of Montezuma to the Shores of Tripoli," which will always be sung. But that is a war song that belongs to every war, and will be sung wherever the marines go."

YOUNG AGUINALDO GETS U. S. ARMY COMMISSION

San Francisco, Sept. 20. — Miguel Aguinaldo, son of Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, Filipino rebel, whose capture was made by the late Gen. Frederick Funston, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Philippine national guard, and is about to enter the officers' training camp near Manila to qualify as a regular army officer. Word of young Aguinaldo's military aspirations was brought by G. A. Butz, manager of the Manila hotel, a close friend of the younger Aguinaldo, who arrived here.

"Miguel Aguinaldo was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Philippine national guard by Governor General Harrison a few days before I left Manila," said Butz. "At the same time his father declined to accept a post of high command."
