PROVISION PRICES DECLINE SHARPLY

They Follow Break in Corn and Oats, But Buying is Heavy.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Material declines took place in the corn market today, influenced chiefly by absence of signs that there had been any serious damage from frost. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅜ to 1½c lower at $1.18⅜ to $1.19¼ December, and $1.16¼ to $1.16½ May, were followed by moderately increased setback.

The close was weak, 2⅜ to 2¾c net lower, at $1.17½ to $1.17⅝ December, and $1.14⅜ to $1.14⅜ May.

Oats duplicated the action of corn.

Sharp breaks that were witnessed in the provision market seemed to result from the weakness of grain.

On the decline commission buying expanded and some reaction followed.

WAR INDUSTRY ENRICHES MANY

Emerald Isle is Becoming the Golden Isle, Says Correspondent.

BY KENNETH W. PAYNE.

Dublin.—"The Emerald Isle has become lately an isle of gold and diamonds!

"America's last-year spree of war-time prosperity has been emulated here, on a smaller scale. War profits have converted this land, which used to complain of poverty, into a country rejoicing in new riches and reaching out for more!"

Without standing sponsor for these assertions, made to American correspondents here by enthusiastic advocates of the great Irish convention now hard at work, I can say from personal observation that today in Ireland there are few signs of the misery it is said used to mark Irish life.

The Germans, and certain Sinn Feiners, have attempted to draw a parallel between Ireland and stricken Belgium. As a matter of fact, Ireland is a veritable paradise compared to Belgium, crushed under frightful fines and taxes, devastated, enslaved, its industries ruined, and its populace decimated.

War Seems Far Away.

Here in Ireland the war seems far away. Food is excellent, plentiful, comparatively cheap. Life is easy, pleasant and far less oppressed by the war than in England. Those in America who sympathize with the Sinn Fein movement for independence must henceforth buttress their sympathy only with visions and ideals of nationality.

Arthur Griffith, Sinn Fein leader and editor of their paper, Nationality, declares no home rule should be acceptable which did not give Ireland the right to raise and maintain its own army and navy. He declares Norway and Sweden, on less taxation, are able to do this.

A member of the nationalist party, believing in home rule but not in an Irish republic, answered:

No Comfort in Independence.

"Norway and Sweden support their own navies by their own taxation, and as a result are so pitifully weak they have had to endure the loss of nearly half their merchant marine through German submarines. I question whether there would be any comfort for Ireland in independence of that kind!"

America's vast aviation plans have brought especial joy to Ireland. It takes 180 yards of the finest cambric to make the wings of a single one of the thousands of airplanes America plans to build. "And this cloth can come only from Ireland," say the enthusiasts. "Irish lien, made from Irish flax, can have practically monopoly prices henceforth."

Flax is Ireland's prime industrial crop. This year it covers 107,400 of Erin's acres—an increase over last year of 15,900 acres.

From America.

Said one authority, "America's huge military aviation scheme alone will call for over nine million yards of Irish linen, a strip of cambric over 5,000 miles long! In one airplaine, the monster ship's wings would span the whole Atlantic from New York to Queenstown!"

Ireland expects also to be the terminus of the trans-Atlantic aerial service, which aviation experts are predicting after the war.

While the Irish farmer is prosperous as never before, the industrial north, especially the Belfast shipbuilding district, has had its war prosperity. And to Dublin the Irish convention has brought not only crowds and money, but the dawn of a new hope for a self-governed and prosperous Ireland.

BRINGS HOME ALLIGATOR TO SATISFY SCOFFERS

Brockton, Mass.—It was not a pink alligator, but a green one, that George Pelham of this city saw in a country road near here. What is more, George sneaked up and captured the unsuspecting alligator, bringing it home to prove that he is not a drinking man. It relishes flies, dead or alive, so George says.

LANGUAGE OF PATCHES.

A lady advertised for a man to work in her garden, and two men applied for the job. While she was interviewing them on the lawn she noticed that her mother on the piazza was making signs to her to choose the shorter of the two men, which she finally did. When the ladies were alone the daughter said: "Why did you signal me to choose the shorter man, mother? The other had a much better face." "Face!" returned the old lady... "When you pick out a man to work in your garden you want to go by his overalls. If they're patched on the knees you want him; if they're patched on the seat, you don't."

SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION.

In the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Montana in and for the County of Silver Bow.

Annie King, plaintiff, vs. Frank King, defendant.

The State of Montana sends greeting to the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action which is filed in the office of the clerk of this court, a copy of which is herewith served upon you, and to file your answer and serve a copy thereof upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint, which alleges:

1. That the plaintiff, Annie King, is now and for more than one year last past has been a bona fide resident of the state of Montana, and for more than one year immediately preceding the commencement of this action, to-wit: September 7, 1917, has been and now is a bona fide resident of the state of Montana, and is now residing at Whitehall, Jefferson county, Montana; that said defendant is, to the best knowledge, information and belief of said plaintiff, a non-resident of the state of Montana, to-wit: a resident of the state of California; that said plaintiff's attorney in said action, is a resident of Silver Bow county, Montana, and plaintiff herein hereby designates Silver Bow county, Montana, as the place of trial of said action herein.

2. That on the 8th day of February, 1880, the plaintiff, Annie King and the defendant, Frank King, intermarried at Kearney, Buffalo county, state of Nebraska, and said parties ever since have been and now are husband and wife.

3. That on or about the first day of December, 1914, more than one year before the commencement of this action, to-wit: September 7, 1917, the said defendant disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vows, wilfully, voluntarily and without cause deserted and abandoned said plaintiff, and voluntarily separated from the said plaintiff with intent to desert the plaintiff, and ever since has, and still continues to, so wilfully and voluntarily and without cause desert and abandon said plaintiff, and to voluntarily live separate and apart from her, without any sufficient cause or any reason, and against her will and without her consent, and with intent on the part of said defendant to voluntarily separate from the plaintiff and to desert said plaintiff.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays judgment: That the marriage between the said plaintiff, Annie King, and the said defendant, Frank King, be dissolved and that the said plaintiff be divorced and freed from the bonds of matrimony, and all the obligations thereof, and that plaintiff be awarded a decree of divorce.

(SEAL.) Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 7th day of September, A. D. 1917.

OTIS LEE, Clerk.
By RENE O. ROLEAU, Deputy Clerk.

Ed Fitzpatrick, attorney for plaintiff, Rialto Block, Butte, Montana.
