NATIONAL HORSE SHOW OVER.

Nine Thousand Persons Present at Last Night's Exhibition.

New York, Nov. 20.—The national horse show's thirteenth annual exhibition wound up this evening in a blaze of glory, fully nine thousand persons being present when the last class was called. The affair was an influence success financially, the receipts on every day except Tuesday surpassing those of last year.

It is estimated by the management that 75,000 persons attended the exhibition during the six days of its continuance. The classes surpassed those of former years in excellence, save in one or two exceptions, and those who are interested in the horse have reason to look upon the future without feelings of pessimism.

SLIGHT BLAZE IN ROCKVILLE.

Fire in the Courthouse Caused by an Overheated Furnace.

Rockville, Md., Nov. 20.—About 8 o'clock this evening fire was discovered in the inside of the court house, and for a time threatened considerable damage. But the quick response of the Rockville fire department to the alarm checked it before it had made any headway.

The fire originated from an overheated furnace. Janitor Monday is of the opinion that for several days past the fire has been smouldering between the walls and wainscoting, and called the attention of several of the officers of the courthouse yesterday to the smell of the burning of pine wood. The damage amounts to about $50.

Murderer Saved From Lynchers.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 20.—Charles Williams, a negro, was taken to Sumter jail tonight, from Carter's Crossing to prevent lynching. He entered the home of W. J. Lee last night for the purpose of robbery, and being detected, butchered Mr. Lee in his bed with an ax. He says that he had an accomplice. A mob pursued the officers and prisoner.

Resuming the Reunions.

The Saturday evening reunions of the National Rifles were resumed last night at National Rifles' Hall, it being the inauguration of the fourteenth season. Haler's orchestra furnished the music and several hundred people responded to it. The committee was as follows: M. J. Quinn, chairman; Dr. William Cannon, E. E. Gasch, Dr. C. A. Stewart, Schuyler C. Stokes, J. Blake Miller, and Will H. Way.

Rewarded for Bravery.

The mate, cook and two seamen who assisted the shipwrecked crew of the British steamship Warwick have been sent medals by the British government through the State Department.

BENNING'S GET AWAY DAY

Largest Crowd of the Meeting in Attendance.

ONLY ONE FAVORITE WINS

Old Man Daly Couples Billali and Volley and the Stable Won in the Order Named—Debride Turns Up as a Good Thing and Mars Chan Came First With Decapod.

It was get-away day at Benning race track yesterday, and the weather was delightful. The fair sex were out in large numbers, and the attendance reached the high water mark of the meet.

There was a fairly good card, and the betting ring was crowded during the afternoon. The races began fifteen minutes earlier than usual, and the nags were called to the post with a promptness which indicated that not only the owners wanted to get away to the Town of Oysters, but that the judges and officials were anxious to close the autumn meeting of 1897.

Old man Daly pulled off a good thing in the third race. He had Volley and Billali coupled, and told one friend that his stable was out for the coin. To another he said he didn't think he would win. Macrice, with Sims up, was made the favorite, while the Daly followers trailed along with second choice. After a straggling start Billali went to the front, with Old Saugus second. Thomas Cat looked dangerous until well into the stretch, when Volley came and the Daly pair finished heads apart, with Billali first.

X-Ray was made a hot favorite in the fourth race with Esherdown second in betting. Kinvarra, however, at threes turned the heads of the talent and won easily. The owners of the latter did not have a dollar on their animal, because they thought him not fit, but Doggett pushed his mount to the front.

In the opening event Scherrer outrode O'Leary, and lifted Debride a winner by a head over Klepper, who had the lead all the way. Hugh Penny got a bad start and failed to extend himself.

Long Acre was the only good thing Ballard handling his mount to the liking of the backers.

Mars Chan had no trouble in winning the jumping race from Decapod, who was a prohibitive favorite.

Struck by an Electric Car.

A lady who gave her name as Mrs. Nordlinger collided with an F street electric car last night at the corner of Eleventh street. She was riding a bicycle and attempted to cross the track in front of a train and was struck and thrown from her wheel. She was picked up and carried into Mertz's pharmacy, where her injuries were dressed by Dr. Hepburn, and she was later removed to her home in a carriage. She was not seriously hurt.

Special "Housekeepers' Day" at the Palais Royal.

EVERY year, just prior to Thanksgiving Day, comes a grand exhibit and special sale of Table Linens, etc. This year the great G-street show window is filled with Damasks and Napkins, forming the altar of a church—and Children Dolls the choir. This exhibit is alone worth coming to see. But this is not all—in the Eleventh-street window is a magnificent display of China and Glass Wares—everything for the Thanksgiving Day table. Inside the store the great rotunda is draped with Table Naperies, the monster turkey roosting on the second floor railing, inciting a smile. So much for the exhibits.

The sale—with special prices—is told of below.

LAW STUDENTS IN DEBATE.

Discuss With Much Skill Hawaiian Annexation Project.

The subject, "Resolved, That the Hawaiian Islands Should be Annexed to the United States," was debated by the Law School Debating Society, of Columbian University, at University Hall last night. The decision was for the affirmative.

The contestants were: Affirmative, I. Q. H. Alward, New Jersey; F. P. Hopgood, of North Carolina, and F. N. French, of New Jersey. Negative, J. W. Crooks, of Illinois, E. E. Denison, of Illinois, and J. B. Aird, of Alabama. Messrs. Hopgood and Denison were declared to be the best speakers. The judges were Judge W. A. Maury, Hon. C. W. Needham and Prof. L. D. Dodge. Ralph H. Riddleberger, of Virginia, president of the society, presided. Howard S. Lewis, of Kansas, was chairman of the executive committee.

The argument of the affirmative was that the islands were desirable from a strategic and a commercial point of view. No European or Asiatic power should be permitted to get possession of the island as a base on which to fall back while operating against the west coast of America. It was held that America had both an equitable and a legal right to the island, inasmuch as American capital has developed the islands and Americans have introduced western civilization, western ideas of government and Christianity.

The orators in the negative maintained that the islands should respect the Monroe doctrine if we would have other governments respect it.

It was maintained that the population of the islands is unfit for the blessings of our form of government. The native population was claimed to be undesirable. The fact that leprosy exists in the island was brought into great prominence.

It was pointed out that the policy of this government had been against the acquisition of outlying territory. The instances of St Thomas and Santo Domingo were pointed out. Instead of bringing revenue to this government Hawaii would bring us a debt of $400,000 bonded at high rates of interest with British bankers.

There was a large attendance of students and friends and the usual enthusiasm was manifested.

D. P. Wright's Fine Position.

Mr. D. Pratt Wright, formerly of this city, a son of Judge John W. Wright, has recently been appointed superintendent of the New York syndicate interested in a railroad enterprise in Honduras, Central America.

Mr. Wright will have immediate supervision of the work of construction of a railroad from Porte Cortez to the Pacific Ocean

Government Gives Up the Case.

The State Department finds in the case of Hugo Kuie, claiming to be an American citizen, impressed into the German service, that he was born in Germany, and was naturalized when only four and a half years here. The State Department will not further consider the case.
