IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL

To see what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become convinced of this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY. You are landed by the Union Pacific Railroad in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where stands the C. & N.-W. Palace Train, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, Elegant Day Coaches, Smoking, Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and into Chicago. Gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail through thriving cities and villages, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discovers the high rate of speed which he is riding. Trains of this road are always on time, connections sure, and passengers seeking pleasure, comfort, safety and ease in traveling, will find the "North-Western" in excess of their expectations, and the greatest of all roads to Chicago and the East. Insist upon Ticket Agents selling you Tickets via this Road; all Agents sell them. Examine your Tickets, and refuse to buy if they do not read over this Road. If you wish the Best Traveling Accommodations, you will buy your Tickets by this Route, and AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER. j29

What an Englishman Thinks of the American People.

He says "they hurry, they eat quick, they gulp, they belch, they have stomach ache, headache, liver troubles and bowel complaint; they fret and they scold, they get cross at nothing and without cause; they look sallow and hollow-eyed; they look hungry and can't eat; they spit up food; they have wakeful nights. They die early because they disregard the true principles to correct."

These troubles and many others all grow out and from a torpid liver, and called dyspepsia or indigestion. They can be cured and have been cured, and in every case with a guaranty that they will be cured by the use of Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills. Sold by all druggists. Price 50c. per bottle.

Health, strength and vigor of the Kidneys and Bladder always follow the use of the great Buchu compound, Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Inflammation, Smarting or Private Diseases are quickly cured by it. For Leucorrhœ it has no equal. Don't be persuaded to take any other preparation. Everyone who has tried it recommends it. For sale by all druggists.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE.—The great English remedy has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, despondency and inability for mental labor, despondency and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined. THE LEGISLATURE.

Twenty-fourth Session.

Twenty-Sixth Day's Proceedings.

COUNCIL.

On Friday, at 2 p.m., the Council convened, and during the afternoon disposed of the following:

The chief clerk read a message from the House, announcing the passage of the bill creating Castle County. The bill was then read once, passed its first reading, and was referred to the committee on counties.

Councilor Harrington, from the committee on judiciary, reported back the bill for an act amending an act to regulate proceedings in civil cases in justices courts of this territory, etc., having considered it and found it to be a wise measure. The committee had amended it somewhat, and recommended that the title be changed, so as to read, "a bill for an act to amend section 1444 of the Compiled Laws of Utah." The report was accepted, the amendments were adopted, and the bill passed its second reading. It was then read the third time by its title, and so passed, and was sent to the House.

Councilor Thurber presented a remonstrance of Samuel W. Gregg and 247 others, citizens and taxpayers of Sevier County, against making an appropriation for a road through Sevier Cañon. A number of the names affixed to the petition were read, of which the majority appeared to be non-taxpayers. The petition was referred to the committee on claims and appropriations, in whose hands the first petition on the subject is.

Councilor Wells, from the committee on mineral resources, reported back the bill requiring recorders of mining districts to give bonds, without amendment, and recommended its passage.

The bill for an act to change the county seat of Kane County was next taken from the table, on its third reading by its title; the title was amended so as to read, "changing the boundaries and county seat of Kane County," and the bill so passed, and was sent to the House.

Councilor Cluff presented a petition from the mayor and city council of Brigham City, praying for amendments to their charter. The powers asked for embrace authority to dig ditches, make canals, reservoirs, etc., to increase the water supply; to assess and collect a tax not to exceed one-half of 1 per cent.; to require males between certain ages to work on the streets for the improvement of the city; to control, regulate, keep clear, open, widen, etc., the streets; to regulate the planting of trees on the sidewalks, and to protect them; to establish a hospital and infirmary; to declare what shall be nuisances, and abate the same; to restrain tramps, mendicants, prostitutes, etc.; to prohibit immoderate driving, horse-racing, abuse of animals, and so on. The petition was read and referred to the committee on municipal corporations and townsites.

The bill for an act to prohibit the smoking and chewing of opium, was taken up, read the third time by its title, and so passed.

Councilor Cluff presented a bill for an act to punish persons entering into or upon railroad cars, in certain cases, which was read once and referred to the committee on railroads.

The bill for an act requiring mining recorders in this territory to give bonds, was then taken up, amended, and passed its second reading. It was then read the third time by its title, the title was read, and the bill was so passed and sent to the House for its action.

Councilor Wells offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, The House concurring, that a joint committee, composed of three members of the Council and five of the House, be appointed to take into consideration the necessity of establishing a territorial asylum for the insane, hospitals for the sick, and quarantine and protective regulations against contagious diseases, such as small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc.

Adjourned till Saturday.

HOUSE

A message was received from the Council announcing the concurrence of that body in the amendments made by the House in the bill in relation to guardian and ward; also one stating that that body had passed the bill for equalizing taxes on transitory herds of stock, without amendment.

Mr. Sharp presented a petition from the treasurer of Salt Lake County, asking for compensation for the receiving and disbursement of certain county funds. Referred to the committee on revenue.

Mr. Grover called up the bill for an act pertaining to highways, made the special order by the action of Thursday. The bill was put on its second reading by sections, each being closely scrutinized and numerous amendments were made. Pending further action consideration of the bill was postponed until Saturday.

A communication was received from the Council announcing the passage of the bill requiring recorders of mining districts to give bonds; also stating that the bill against opium smoking had been passed by the Council.

The bill relating to the giving of bonds by mining recorders was then taken up, read, amended and passed.

The bill relating to the practise of smoking and chewing opium and providing punishment, etc., was then read the first time, and referred to the committee on judiciary.

A message from the council announced the adoption of a concurrent resolution appointing a joint committee to take into consideration the propriety of establishing a territorial asylum, etc. It was read, and on motion of Mr. Fisher, the House concurred, and the Speaker appointed James Sharp, Lorin Farr, Albert Carrington, A. Hatch and D. H. Peery, as the committee on the part of the House.

Mr. Farr reported back from the judiciary the bill providing for a jury fee, with a substitute therefor.

A communication was received from the Acting Governor stating that he had approved the bill empowering railroads to deed and mortgage their franchise, rights, etc.

Mr. Peery reported back from the committee on public lands, relative to the report of the commissioners for the location of university lands, and recommended that the committee communicate again with the secretary of the interior for instructions, etc. The report was read and adopted.

Mr. Hatch presented a bill from the committee on counties for the organization of San Juan County.

The substitute reported back from the judiciary committee to the bill providing for the creation of a jury fund in civil cases, and for other purposes, was then read and accepted. It was then read the second time by sections, and on discussion was recommitted, so that the committee could incorporate some suggestions made in the discussion.

The report of the committee on counties, reporting back the bill for the organization of San Juan County was taken up. The bill is precisely the same as heretofore passed by the House, except in regard to the objections of the Governor that the boundary lines were not compact and contiguous. This objection is removed. The bill was read the first and second times, and a slight amendment made as to the starting point of the boundary lines. The bill was then read by its title and passed.

Adjourned till Saturday at 2 p.m.

Bingham Shooting Scrape.

BINGHAM, Feb. 6, 1880.

Editors Herald:

The Old Reliable has enjoyed a reign of peace and quiet during the winter up to the present. This, however, was broken last evening about 5 o'clock, a row being started by L. B. Kinney and his son John. As given to me, the facts are as follows: L. B. Kinney went up to Coakley & Mount's livery stable for a two-horse sleigh, which was immediately sent down to his residence, the hire being for two hours. The time for returning the team had expired, but it had not been brought back. In the meantime, the livery stable men were informed that Kinney was running the team up and down the cañon at a breakneck rate, endangering the lives of persons passing; while the whipple trees were broken, the harness off one of the horses, Kinney and his son on the war path, and his wife, Mrs. Jackson and two little girls were in the sleigh, and liable to get killed. Hearing this, J. Mercer, an employé at the stable, started down the cañon to bring the team back. He found the team where he had delivered it, and demanded it to be given up to him, when John Kinney, with an oath, told him he could not have it, and assaulted Mercer. The blow was warded off by Mercer, when he knocked young Kinney over fifteen feet, on his back, and laid him out in a senseless condition. L. B. Kinney then drew a single barrel pistol and made an attempt to shoot Mercer, who, to save his life, struck Kinney's arm up, the ball passing over his head. He then grabbed Kinney, wrested the pistol from him, and threw it to the ground, and Kinney went and looked after his son.

The Temperance Movement.

The Theatre was packed last night, on the occasion of the second of Dr. Mackenzie's lectures on temperance, delivered in that building. Whatever may be said of the movement, it is certain that many have been induced to sign the pledge who have been viewed as confirmed inebriates, many of them bright and intelligent men, who would be an honor to themselves and a benefit to society if they will stop the use of stimulants. There is no necessity for a discussion of the question of the possibility or impossibility of good resulting from movements of this nature, but one thing is certain—it will do no harm, and if but one-twentieth of those that have signed the pledge through the lectures of Dr. Mackenzie will only keep it, he will have done a work that will compensate him well for all the trouble and pains he may have been put to. Besides the names of confirmed inebriates to be seen on the pledges scattered around the Theatre, were those of persons who are merely in the habit of what is called tippling, and these promise him their support in his efforts.

The lecture was listened to attentively by the immense audience and applauded frequently. The doctor took a vote of the audience to see how many would support a movement looking to the building of a temperance home, and there was a liberal response. He will speak to ladies in Independence Hall again at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and again at the Theatre to-night.

The Evanston Jail-Breaking.

EVANSTON, WYOMING,
February 6th, 1880.

Editors Herald:

On Wednesday of this week, about 7 o'clock, when the jailor opened the hall door leading to the jail, three of the prisoners stood ready to receive him, which they did in good shape, leaving him inside and locking the door after them. They then passed out through the hall and have not since been heard from. The escaped prisoners are Ingersoll, of Tribune fame; McBride, in for a shooting scrape at Smith's Fork, and Sloan, for obtaining money under false pretenses. As the snow is deep on the mountains and the railroad closely watched, we anticipate their return to the county hotel at an early day.

The Keyser Case.

A jury was obtained, yesterday, in the case of Henry Keyser, charged with the larceny of the church cattle, mentioned repeatedly heretofore. The trial of the case immediately commenced, and the witnesses for the prosecution were the officers connected with the search after the larceny took place, and the parties to whom the hides were sold. When the other witnesses had been examined, Isaac Hunter and William Hemmingway, arrested and charged with having driven the cattle off, and sold them to Keyser, were put upon the stand, Hunter first. These parties have turned state's evidence, telling, or claiming to tell, the entire transaction. From their testimony, Keyser made an arrangement with Hunter to drive the cattle off, and he agreed to pay a good figure for them. Agreeable to this understanding, the cattle were driven to Keyser's slaughter house, at Bingham, and there turned over to him by Hunter and Hemmingway. Keyser, it was testified, gave Hunter $20 and Hemmingway $5, with a promise that he would give them an additional sum when he came to Salt Lake City. This is the substance of the testimony as given by these witnesses, who confess to participation in the larceny. The prosecution rested and the defense commenced, the opening speech being made by F. Hoffman, Esq.

A Miner's Inch of Water.

A miner's inch of water is a quantity that will flow through an inch aperture with a free discharge, and under a pressure of six inches above the top of the opening. An aperture 12¼ by 15¾ inches above the top of the opening, will discharge 200 inches, and is the basis of all measurements where water is retailed in small quantities, in the states of California and Nevada. A miner's inch will discharge a quantity of water equal to 2,250 cubic feet, or about 17,000 gallons, weighing 139,500 pounds, in twenty-four hours. Water will hold in suspension or solution 1,670 of its entire volume—i. e., an inch of water (miner's inch,) having a grade of four inches to the rod, will carry off, in twenty-four hours, a distance of ten miles, ten tons of heavy quartz, sand and iron. At one gravel mine in Nevada City, California, twenty-five cubic yards, or forty tons of tailings, as the washed material is called, are moved from three to fifteen miles every twenty-four hours. One hundred miner's inches of water, conducted through iron pipes, and falling 359 feet vertically, and applied by means of a nozzle against a hurdy-gurdy wheel, sixteen feet in diameter, will furnish sufficient power to run an 80-stamp mill, besides carrying off all the ore it has furnished the power to crush.

Another Suggestion.

LOGAN, Feb. 1st, 1880.

Editors Herald:

We notice in a late issue of your paper that a petition has been presented to the Legislature asking for the passage of a law licensing commercial travelers. Should any action be taken in this matter we have to suggest that some provision be made to tax goods sent direct to people using them. The merchants of our territory are compelled to pay licenses, taxes, etc., which are a benefit to the people. In consideration of these benefits the business men are entitled to some protection. But at present any person not living in the territory can come here, sell their goods to private parties, and not be obliged to pay anything. Or houses in Chicago, New York or other cities can send goods by mail or express direct to consumers, and pay no taxes. This is obviously an injustice to our business men, and should be remedied in some way. Besides doing business without taxation, such houses are a detriment to the people. For while they may sell goods cheap for a time, they will soon make up their profits by sending inferior articles. Many such firms are not reliable, and people cannot tell what they may get when sending orders a long way from home. Though catalogues describe goods, the dealer can send whatever he pleases, and there is little chance for redress. If the people here could be made to understand it, they can always get goods at home at better prices than by sending away for them. Here they can select patterns and see the quality, but in the other case this must be left to the judgment of another person. Where people cannot understand what is for their interest, some one should take measures to protect them. An honest business man is a benefit to any community, and should be supported. The fact that he makes a profit on what he sells is no discredit, as foreign merchants do the same.

We cannot see fully how the above measure could be enforced, but believe it would be only just. Tennessee has such a law, and her supreme court has lately decided in favor of a county clerk, who held some C. O. D. goods for the "privilege" tax.

A Plea for Landlords.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 6, '80.

Editors Herald:

A friend of mine, for the benefit of the Mormon, the Jew and the Gentile, wishes through your columns to call the attention of our present Legislature to the necessity of passing a law for the protection of the landlord against the dishonest tenant, and says by way of argument: The humble property holders of this city, viz., mechanics, laborers and their dependant families, together with widows and orphans are robbed (a proper term) of tens of thousands of dollars in this city and county annually, so that with the heavy assessments for taxes, loss of rent, wear and tear and the usual damage to the premises, sharp and prudent capitalists look upon the building on your numerous cheap city lots comfortable houses, with the certainty of a fair revenue for this investment, as a pennyless disappointment. And this is one of the hindrances to your city's growth.

The law exempting the tenant, to the detriment of the landlord, is only a premium given to the dishonest debtor (some of whom have left the rented houses in debt to the owner to the tune of hundreds of dollars) who is generally of that type that thanks frank clemency and their peculiar luck. The writer believes that the flinty landlord and bloated bondholder will work less of evil in the main, in the mistaken idea of charity for the homeless, but who is to build equip, and keep in order, pay taxes and make improvements?

Now, these are facts, stubborn and severe, and which religion and politics cannot set aside. I have all sympathy with the poor, being one of that class, but that gives no right to whine for favors from those who plod the weary and manly round of honest industry. Let our Legislature give us a law to collect small debts, rents, etc, easy and practicable, with light expense.
