IN LONDON, on Monday, bar silver was quoted 51 15-16d. per ounce.

NOTHING HAS been heard lately concerning the Utah republican convention for the selection of delegates to Chicago. Have the contending factions of the party made peace with each other, or is each working quietly for victory?

JAMES GORDON BENNETT again shines as a generous giver. Heading an Irish relief fund with the magnificent contribution of $100,000, he worked up the fund until it has about reached the handsome sum of $300,000. Now Mr. Bennet, offers to bear one-fourth the expense of a ship-load of provisions, etc., for the suffering Irish, provided the other three-fourths be made up by the generous people of this country.

KEARNEY CONVICTED.

It must begin to appear to the mind of Denis Kearney that his race as an agitator is fast drawing to a close. Astonished at his own success, and swelled up with the idea that he was a great man, he forgot that he was an ignorant drayman, and a dirty-mouthed blackguard, who could incite men to evil, but not to good. The laws and customs and sentiment of the country that allow the widest latitude to speech, have permitted him to go ahead in his society-ruining career until the check had to be put upon him before all was lost in mad chaos. When it was determined to stop him how easily and quickly the work was done. The fellow has just enough sense to understand that when society spoke it was in earnest, and he is so great a coward that he at once settled into his boots. In a San Francisco court, on Monday, the judge declared Kearney guilty of using language inciting to a violation of the peace. It was strongly hinted that the court would not dare to convict Denis, but the result of the trial proves that the voice of the people there has had its effect upon the law officers as well as upon the agitators. In view of the manifesto of the better element of San Francisco, it might prove personally unsafe for a judge to turn Kearney loose without punishment, when the guilt of the man is so plain as it was made in this case by simply reading at the bar the incendiary language. Kearney's sentence has been suspended, but whatever the punishment inflicted, be it light or heavy, the main object has been accomplished; the moral effect is all that was aimed at, and this will be good.

Hereafter we will probably hear very little of Denis Kearney, whose temporary occupation has been taken from him. He will no longer appear as an agitator, and in a short time his hundreds of dupes will wonder how they could have been so dazed as to be led by the ignoramus. It will be a long time before one phase of Kearneyism has died out in California. There is serious need for a revolution in the Golden state, and that revolution must come before the community and its institutions will be like those in other American states. There is much that is wrong in California that must be righted, and which can only be rectified through popular agitation. Capital must be more considerate of the rights of labor; wild speculation must not be the distinctive characteristic of finance, and monopolies that are crushing the masses while enriching the few, will have to be liberalized and overcome somewhat. But to bring about the necessary changes in methods, customs and institutions, lawful and reasonable means must be employed. Kearney's plan involved the destruction of, both good and bad and the complete disruption and destruction of society, with all the laws and rules that it has established for its government and protection. Originally, in theory, Kearney was right. He knew that great evils existed and that they should be reformed. Latterly, in practice, the agitator has been dangerously wrong. He would have replaced the evils by others ten times worse in their effect, and replaced a semblance of order with absolute chaos. The milder form of agitation, that which has intelligence back of it, will proceed until many of the evils and abuses now afflicting other classes, as well as the followers of Kearney, are reformed; but there is reasonable ground for the belief that San Francisco and California will not again indulge in so violent, expensive and ruinous an agitation as that which has been going on for the past two years, and which has been attended by such serious consequences, socially and financially.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple, pure remedies, Hop Bitters, that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column. m9

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

SENATE.

Washington, 15.—Davis (Ills.) presented a memorial from Chicago newspapers, asking the abolition of the duty on unsized paper and paper material. Davis, while regretting that it was impracticable this session to reform the tariff as a whole, saw no reason for not making this desirable change. Johnson, Williams, Beck and others presented similar petitions.

Bayard, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably the bill prohibiting the arrest of election officers on election day, by a marshal, deputy or supervisor, for any offence against the United States election laws, but process may be served at the close of election day. Calendar.

Edmunds said he and others did not concur.

Thurman reported a substitute for the bill making rape in the District of Columbia a capital offense. It gives the jury power to fix the punishment at death or imprisonment.

Edmunds said he did not concur.

After debate on the bill requiring Colorado to cede to the United States ground, on which the new public building, Denver, is located, the morning hour expired, and McDonald submitted the views of the minority of the judiciary committee on the bill to re-emburse the several states for interest paid on war loans, lately reported adversely.

The bill covering the deficiency on Star routes was discussed by several members, when the Senate went into executive session, after which it adjourned.

HOUSE

Washington, 15.—Bills were introduced by Singleton to provide for the protection of senders of telegraphic communications against unreasonable search and seizure, or from the production of their messages, as evidence in judicial and legislative proceedings to the same extent as mailed communications.

By Acklin, proposing a constitutional amendment that the union of these United States shall be perpetual and all acts or attempts to destroy it shall be treason against the federal government, punishable as such; states' limits and boundaries to be inviolate, and the right of a state to make and enforce its local laws never to be interfered with by the federal government.

By Buckner, for adjournment on May 24th.

By Covert, for a scientific commission.

By Butler, against oleomargerine, etc.

By Kelly, a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to furnish a detailed statement of the amount that has been disbursed by the treasury from January 1844 to January 1859, with full particulars.

By Downey, appropriating $25,000 to enable the secretary of the interior to protect and improve the Yellowstone National Park.

Several other bills were introduced, when the morning hour expired, and this being the third Monday in the month, the speaker recognized the gentlemen authorized by committees to move to suspend the rules. The bill relative to the investment of the Pacific Railroad sinking fund was postponed four weeks on account of the illness of McLane.

Dunn, from the public lands committee, moved to suspend the rules and consider the bill relating to the public lands of the United States.

All Love and Good Will at San Francisco.

San Francisco, 15.—A conference of great importance in its bearings upon the present condition of affairs in the city, was held at the mayor's office this afternoon, between Mayor Kalloch, representing the workingmen, and a number of prominent citizens, bankers, merchants, etc., on the part of the Citizens' Protective Union. The conference lasted from 1 o'clock until 2.45 o'clock, and was very harmonious and satisfactory. The whole situation and the events of the last few weeks were reviewed and discussed. At present, various conciliations combine to render it inadvisable to make the details public, but it may be stated that there is every reason to believe that within two or three days arrangements will be consummated ensuring a complete, harmonious and mutually honorable settlement of the questions which have so long agitated this community and a restoration of good will, business confidence and activity and general prosperity.

Washington, 15.—The Star, of this evening, contains the following editorial: Kearney virtually hoisted a flag of truce at the sand lots, in San Francisco, yesterday, and surrendered to the powers of law and order. In his Sunday speech he took a very different tone from that which has characterized his harangues heretofore, and the prospect is that he will soon subside altogether, and sink into obscurity. When he drops violence and vulgarity in his role of agitator, Kearney abandons all that has ever given him any notoriety. The firm stand taken by the citizens committee advised him that it would be dangerous to proceed much further in his old course, and he had the discretion to surrender. He, yesterday, complimented the committee very highly, and declared they had the interests of the workingmen at heart. Mayor Kalloch took his cue from Kearney and wisely recognized the good purpose of the citizens' movement. Thus by a display of unity and firmness have the citizens of San Francisco silenced the two men who were evidently endeavoring to incite the poorer classes to violence. This is a great stride towards the restoration of quiet and order in the community, and then the men who have begun so well will no doubt be able to maintain the peace.

Domestic.

Hudson, N. Y., 15.—Henry Moett, sentenced to be hanged here on Friday next, has been granted a respite till April 30th.

Buffalo, N. Y., 15.—The puddlers and rollers of the Union Iron Works, receiving $5.50 per ton, struck to-day for $6.25. Extra police are on duty at the works.

New York, 15.—Coal managers have resolved upon another advance from 25c. to 30c. per ton.

St. Paul, 14.—General Miles says the troops continue to chase the hostile Sioux who have been committing depredations. The main camp of the hostiles, is under Sitting Bull at Milk River north of Round Buttes.

A Big Mining Sale.

San Francisco, 15.—A Tucson dispatch says: Sheflin Brothers sold their interest in the Toombstone mill and mines, to-day, for $2 000,000 to Corbin Brothers, and Boston party, of Philadelphia, and Messrs. Simmons & Squire, of Boston.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, 15.—Representative Horace Davis, this morning, received a telegram from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, requesting him to endeavor to obtain a congressional appropriation for the purpose of sending a vessel to attempt to rescue the crews of the two whaling ships that are believed to be either frozen up or wrecked in the Arctic. These two vessels, the Vigilant and Mount Walstone, were last seen in the vicinity of Herald Island, and should have returned with the rest of the Arctic whaling fleet last summer. Their crews number some sixty men. The Chamber of Commerce dispatch states that there is no naval vessel on the Pacific station suitable for the purpose, and suggests that Congress provide for chartering a private vessel, in which event, San Francisco merchants will donate all the necessary supplies for the missing seamen. The two vessels in question belonging to New Bedford, Mr. Davis immediately communicated this dispatch to Congressman Crapo, who represents that district, and they proceeded with it to the navy department, where they had a conference on the subject with Secretary Thompson and other officers of the department. As a result of the conference, Crapo this afternoon introduced a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to to furnish a revenue cutter to the secretary of the navy, to be properly strengthened and equipped for this voyage, and appropriating $10,000 to defray the cost. It is believed that one of the revenue steamers will be better suited in all respects for the Arctic voyage than any vessel, and it is desirable to have one strengthened for the purpose of cruising in Alaskan waters, irrespective of the special purpose now on hand.

Senator Farley, to-day, presented to the Senate the joint resolution of California legislature requesting their delegation to advocate legislation for the establishment of a branch dead letter office at San Francisco, and moved its reference to the committee on postoffices. Conkling made a point of order that the paper was not addressed to the Senate or to Congress, but only to individuals, and that, therefore, under the rules, it could not be considered a memorial entitled to reference to a committee. The vice-president remarked that this question had never before been raised in regard to resolutions of a state legislature, but he felt obliged to sustain the point of order. The joint resolution, therefore, was merely received and laid upon the table, without reference to any committee, but Farley followed up the matter by giving notice that he will introduce and urge the passage of a bill to carry out the request. Berry, to day, presented a duplicate of this joint resolution to the House of Representatives, where it was received and appropriately referred, subject to the regular call of states.

Representative Daggett, to-day, introduced a bill providing that all public lands within railroad limits, lying opposite a constructed section of railroad, and which have heretofore been subject to preemption entry at $2.50 an acre, shall be reduced to $1.25 per acre, when three years shall have elapsed after the completion of said section of railroad. The theory of this bill is that all the best double minimum lands have been already sold and that the rest should be reduced in price for the benefit of poorer settlers.

Col. Chapman, of Portland, and T. E Hogg, of Cornwallis, Oregon, were before the Senate railroad committee, to urge the incorporation of some provision in the Northern Pacific bill, that shall secure for any and all railroads the right to run cars over the track to be constructed through the Columbia River pass. Chapman showed that this pass of about seventy miles through the Cascade Mountains, is the only gateway to eastern Oregon, and he argued that it should not be monopolized, either by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, or by any one railroad company, with which they may unite their interests.

General John A. Bingham, now minister to China will, it is understood, soon come home and run again for Congress in his old Ohio district. Bingham, it will be remembered, was for many years a very prominent member of the house of representatives, figuring especially during the conflict between Congress and President Johnson and acting as one of the house managers during the latter's impeachment trial.

AUER & MURPHY think the next best thing to swearing off entirely is to drink good liquor; and to show that such a doctrine is not altogether without authority, submit the following Scriptural Quotations:

Verse 7.—Let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more.—Proverbs, Chap. XXXI.

(Had Solomon lived until to-day, he would probably have added:)

The Culture of Beauty.

Although nature alone can produce perfect beauty, Art may in a great measure supply Nature's deficiencies. We see this instanced in the clearness and lustre imparted to even a sallow skin by "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP." The lady of forty who uses this beautifier drops at least ten years of her age by its application. Unlike the dangerous cosmetics which obstruct the pores, it is entirely harmless. Beware of counterfeits. See that "C. N. CRITTENTON, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by druggists at 25 cents; three cakes, 60 cents. In the same category of valuable toilet articles must be included "HILL'S INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE," a preparation as notable for the naturalness of its tints as for the rapidity of its operation. Of all dyes in existence it is the cheapest and purest. Depot, 7 Sixth Avenue, New York. fy24

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles, when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand, and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it, and be convinced. is17
