A Fragrant Breath and Pearly Teeth

Are easily obtained by cleansing your teeth daily with that justly popular dentifrice, SOZODONT. Composed of rare antiseptic herbs, it imparts whiteness to the teeth, a delicious aroma to the breath, and preserves intact, from youth to old age, the teeth. Acidity of the stomach will destroy the strongest teeth unless its effects are counteracted with SOZODONT, and this pure toothwash protects the dental surfaces by removing every impurity that adheres to them. Ask your druggist for SOZODONT.

IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL

To see what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become convinced of this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY. You are landed by the Union Pacific Railroad in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where stands the C. & N.-W. Palace Train, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, Elegant Day Coaches, Smoking, Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and into Chicago. Gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail through thriving cities and villages, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discovers the high rate of speed which he is riding. Trains of this road are always on time, connections sure, and passengers seeking pleasure, comfort, safety and ease in traveling, will find the "North-Western" in excess of their expectations, and the greatest of all routes to Chicago and the East. Insist upon Ticket Agents selling you Tickets via this Road; all Agents sell them. Examine your Tickets, and refuse to buy if they do not read over this Road. A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

A Boy Crushed Almost to a Jelly.

The Junction has the following particulars of a frightful accident which occurred at Ogden on Saturday evening:

On Saturday evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock the most frightful accident that ever occurred in our city, took place in the new Coöp building, corner of Main and Fourth streets. The victim, Julian Flygare, a bright little fellow between 11 and 12 years of age, was the son of Bishop N. C. Flygare, who has the contract for the carpenter work upon the building above named. The unfortunate lad had been engaged at work on the building, and as his father was holding the responsible position of contractor on the same, he felt a confidence in going about the building and manipulating the machinery.

On Saturday evening after the workmen had quit for the night, deceased, in company with his younger brother and several other companions, of about his own age, were in the building, and the elevator not being secured, the lads commenced playing on it, some coming up from the first floor, while others descended from the second to the first floor. The cages which weigh about 300 pounds each are so arranged that when they are empty, they balance each other. The boys, when commencing their fun, were "teetering" upon these cages, but, getting tired of this, decided to vary their procedure. Accordingly young Flygare went below to the first floor, and agreed to act as "brakeman."

Just previous to the time of the accident, the south cage was at the second floor, a distance of sixteen feet from the first, and a couple of boys were standing upon it; the north cage was upon the floor; deceased was standing immediately under the south cage; the word was given from above "One, two, three," and the poor boy pulled the spring, which, releasing the north cage, immediately flew upward, and the other, with the boys upon it, commenced to descend with great velocity. Naturally enough the unfortunate lad, seeing that if he remained underneath he would be crushed, placed his left hand upon the beam and jumped under the cage he had released, and which had just ascended. The weight of the boys upon the south cage caused the latter to rebound about a foot when it reached the floor. The shock threw the other cage up a foot higher than it is accustomed to be taken; the wire rope being stiff, did not give like an ordinary hemp rope would have done, and the consequence was that the hook to which was attached the south cage, came out of its loop. Then the north cage came down with a crash, almost crushing to a jelly poor little Julian, killing him instantly. When the accident occurred the boys, fearing they had broken something, and that the law would take cognizance of it, ran away. A couple of special policemen hearing the noise, ran over, and were in time to capture two of the largest boys, who were taken into the building once more examination being made to see if any damage was done—no suspicions being entertained that under one of the huge cages lay the mangled corpse of a human being. Upon it being found (it being nearly dark in the building) that no damage had been done to the elevator, the boys were released. When the cage descended these boys had no idea that their companion was stricken down, and in the confusion thought that young Flygare had run from the building with them. His parents hunted all night, and in the morning the little brother above mentioned, started to hunt for his older brother. He knew full well that he left Julian at the building the night before, and was led to visit the elevator. Just above the board of the north cage, and between it and a beam, was just visible a human hand. Then the little fellow rushed out and gave the alarm. Several gentlemen were soon upon the spot, the cage was raised and there lay the crushed and bleeding remains of what was once Julian Flygare. His legs, arms, back, wrist of the left hand, and ribs were broken, though—singular enough—his head was hardly bruised. From the posture in which the body was found, it was evident that with his left hand upon the centre beam, hearing the jar occasioned by the hooks slipping out, he had attempted to get out, but the cage must have descended in a second. Had he been in an upright position at the time, his head would undoubtedly have been reduced to an unrecognizable mass.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts given above, and the funeral took place on Monday, attended by a large concourse of persons.

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for Liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. BEN. TASKER'S ESCAPE.

What Sheriff Coombs has to say About it.

BEAVER CITY, UTAH,
August 14, 1880.

Editors Herald:

Knowing that you publish an independent paper, and are disposed to see even-handed justice meted out to all, I take the liberty of asking the favor that you give place to the following:

I see in the Tribune of the 12th inst., an article relating to the escape of Ben Tasker, that is inconsistent and glaringly false. In regard to the matter, and in justice to myself, I wish to place before the public a few facts in regard to the escape.

On the 30th of July last, Tasker was found guilty of murder in the first degree; and was then turned over to the care of Deputy United States Marshal Pratt, and I and my guards had nothing further to do with him. In proof of this I send you a copy of an order issued to me by Judge Boreman:

In District Court of Second Judicial District. July term.

On motion of P. T. VanZile, United States attorney, it is ordered by the court that the jailor of Beaver County shall not, nor shall any other officer or guard, allow any person to have access to or communication with any prisoner committed to jail by this court, or who may be there awaiting trial in this court, unless such person desiring to see a prisoner shall bring a written order from the judge of this court granting him so to do, and it is further also ordered by the court that said jailer shall allow the United States marshal or any of his deputies to post and keep at, in and around said jail, but outside of the cells, as many guards as said marshal or deputy shall deem advisable for the safe keeping of said prisoners, or any of them. These orders are subject to modification, revocation at any time by the court or judge thereof.

JACOB S. BOREMAN, Judge.

In accordance with the above order, the marshal hired and placed two guards over Ben.

My prisoners, six in number, were confined in their cells and my guards sleeping by the cell door, and it was impossible for prisoners to get out of the cells without making sufficient noise to arouse the most sound sleeper.

Had Tasker been confined in his cell where I kept him, before conviction, and where he certainly should have been after, he could not have escaped.

As to irons I had two pairs in the office where Ben was kept by the marshal.

The Tribune says "an investigation is needed." So say I. Let it come. I want to do an act of justice to one of the marshal's guards (Geo. Tracey). He was placed in front of the jail and did not leave his post for an instant. Had the guard in the rear of the building done the same Ben could not have got out without being seen.

In regard to the marshal and myself being at loggerheads, Mr. Snow is as ignorant of the cause as he is with the rest of the information. Our misunderstanding was not in regard to county prisoners. I am always willing to receive them, the different counties paying me for their board and guard, but I objected to receiving prisoners belonging to the marshal, as I very seldom get any pay for keeping them, and I will not receive them unless I am secured. I hold myself entirely blameless for the escape of Tasker and consider reports to the contrary malicious and circulated for political effect and meant to defeat me in the election just past.

Had I kept a prisoner in an open office, without irons on, who was convicted of murder, and he escaped, I would be indicted for complicity in aiding the escape, but so long as it is one of the Liberal party, they try and throw the blame on an innocent person. This is in keeping with some of the nefarious doings of the so-called Liberals of this county.

Holding myself responsible for the above statements, I am,

Respectfully yours,
J. M. COOMBS,
Sheriff of Beaver Co., U. T.

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings at the City Council on Tuesday evening, August 16th, 1880, Mayor Little presiding:

A petition was submitted from John Clark and fourteen others, residents on First South, between Second and Fourth West Streets, asking that the water mains be extended from their present terminus on First South Street, one block and a half west, and to aid the city in defraying the expense of such extension, the petitioners proffered to pay the sum of $550 on the completion of the work, which amount should be credited to them and allowed on future water rates. Referred to the committee on water works.

Louis Reggel petitioned for the privilege of placing building material on Fifth South Street, fronting his lot on the north, during the period of building about to be commenced. Granted under the usual restrictions.

A communication was submitted from Mr. Jos. A. West, agent of the American Pipe Company, presenting and expatiating upon the superior merits and advantages, both for cheapness and durability, of the wooden piping manufactured by the aforesaid firm, and now in use by Logan, Ogden and Park Cities of this territory. The agent proffered to put down a quantity of the wooden piping at his own expense as a test experiment of its utility in making extensions of the Salt Lake City Waterworks. Referred to the committee on waterworks.

The committee on finance, to whom was referred the monthly report of the committee on construction of Jordan and Salt Lake City Canal for July, rendered a report recommending the approval of the canal expenditure and the placing on file of the July report. Adopted.

The committee on license, to whom was referred the petition of John B. Cecil and thirty-four others, fruiterers and greengrocers, doing a licensed business in the city, which petition asked for the suppression of unlicensed fruit vending and the establishment of certain regulations for controlling those persons engaged in peddling products of their own raising, reported that the grievances of the petitioners had received the consideration of the committee, who were of the opinion that some legislation is necessary for the protection of the legitimate merchandizing from the encroachments of unlicensed persons, engaged in the business of purchasing the products of the country and retailing them to the consumer. The committee therefore recommended that the committee on municipal laws be instructed to report an ordinance protective in its provisions, both to the petitioners and to the producers. Adopted.

Bill of Z. C. M. I. for doors to vault in course of construction at the City Hall, $138, was allowed.

An appropriation of $1,000 was made to street improvement account to be drawn upon the order of the supervisor of streets.

The subject of making certain improvements on Washington Square for the convenience of people camping there and of supplying a water trough at the northwest corner thereof for man and beast, came up, was discussed at some length and terminated in the Council authorizing the Mayor to purchase the quantity of pipe required for the extension and cause it to be laid down First East street from the present terminus of the mains to the nearest adjacent corner of Washington Square.

On motion, the superintendent of waterworks was instructed to place some limit upon the time for allowing lawn sprinklers to operate (similar to the restrictions enforced last season) and that this limit be understood to continue during the present scarcity of water and until the garden crops are harvested and irrigation season over.

The chief engineer of the fire department was instructed to sprinkle South Temple street from the Valley House corner to the depot a number of times in order to pack the gravel recently placed there, but which, owing to excessive travel and dry weather, is now becoming loose.

The committee on municipal laws, were granted another week in which to report an amendment to the waterworks ordinance specifying the license charges for water motors and elevators.

Adjourned for one week.

Be Ye Like Foolish.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be foolish once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, and she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it only cost me two dollars. Be ye like foolish."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.

Indeed, to all appearance it is the work of Nature and not of Art, and herein consists its sterling recommendation. Beware of counterfeits. See that "C. N. CRITTENTON, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by druggists at 25 cents, three cakes 60 cents. For gray whiskers or mustache, as well as for those silver threads which will intrude on the heads of middle-aged beauty, there is no Dye so natural, durable and reliable as "HILL'S INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE." It contains no property of the metallic Dyes.

PROPOSALS FOR BEEF.

FORT HALL INDIAN AGENCY,
Ross FORK, IDAHO,
August 16th, 1880.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE received at this office until 10 o'clock a.m. September 16th, 1880, for the delivery, under contract, at this Agency of six hundred and eighty thousand (680,000) pounds beef cattle on the hoof, good healthy, merchantable steers and cows (no bulls or stags), not over seven years of age, at such times and in such quantities as may be required during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881. The average gross weight of each delivery from May 1st to December 1st to be not less than 850 pounds, and from December 1st to May 1st not less than 800 pounds. All cattle to be fatted without food or water for twelve hours preceding each delivery. A deduction of twenty per centum to be made for cows.

The right is reserved to increase or diminish the above quantity five per centum, and to reject any or all bids.

Proposals for any portion of the above amount of beef cattle, from fifty thousand (50,000) pounds upwards, to be delivered at times specified in the bids, will also be delivered and opened at the time and place above mentioned.

All bids must be accompanied with a certified check upon some United States Depository, payable to the order of the Indian Agent, for at least five (5) per centum of the amount of the proposal.

Envelopes should be endorsed "Proposals for Beef Cattle," and will be opened at the hour designated in the presence of interested witnesses.

Further particulars will be furnished upon application to this office.

READ THE RECORD OF THE

NEWTON WAGON,

FOR THE LAST ELEVEN MONTHS.

We have sold EIGHTY WAGONS since September, 1879, and out of the Entire Lot

Not One Tire has been Loose,
Not One Hub Band has been Loose,
Not One Spoke has been Loose,
Not One Thimble has been Loose,
Not One Wheel has Failed,
Only One Axle Broke—That at Silver Reef—Circumstances Unknown.
Only One Tongue Broke—That Caused by a Runaway.

We are free to admit that the NEWTON WAGON COMPANY, in the year 1878, under-estimated the severity of our country and climate on wagons and sent us some defective material. We are just as honest in believing that the wagons we have received in the years 1879 and 1880 are the best that have ever been sold in Utah of any one make.

Our repairs for the last Eleven Months have consisted in Stay Chains, Singletrees, Clevises, Seat Hooks, Bolts, Etc., Etc., and have not cost us more than $5.

Every Wagon is Warranted, both by the manufacturer and the agent, for One Year. The purchaser is authorized to have Repairs Made at Our Expense, should the material or workmanship prove faulty.

We keep a Full Stock of Farm and Freight Wagons and Wagon Material.

☞ Before Purchasing a Wagon, do not fail to See the NEWTON.
