Our repairs for the last Eleven Months have consisted in Stay Chains, Singletrees, Clevises, Seat Hooks, Bolts, Etc., Etc., and have not cost us more than $5.

Every Wagon is Warranted, both by the manufacturer and the agent, for One Year. The purchaser is authorized to have Repairs Made at Our Expense, should the material or workmanship prove faulty.

Connecticut Estimates.

New York, 29.—The Herald gives the following estimates of the Connecticut vote on Tuesday: Democratic committee's figure, 700 democratic majority; republican estimate, 1,200 republican majority.

More Horse Thieves.

Chicago, 29.—A large majority of the members of the Board of Trade, including many who in 1876 voted for Tilden, have signed a circular petition for business men to vote for Garfield, stating that republican success would continue the present prosperity, and democratic success would upset values and imperil business interests.

'Rah for Hewitt.

New York, 28.—At a meeting at Irving Hall last night, Hewitt spoke and referred to the Chinese letter. He repeated that he did not consider the body of the letter written by Garfield, but he regarded the signature as genuine. He reviewed General Garfield's career in Congress, and said: "General Garfield is not a man who has the right to expect that any democrat will believe his unsupported testimony."

Nominations.

New York, 28.—The German-Americans Democratic Citizens' Associations held a county convention to-night and nominated the following candidates for state and county officers, with the exception of for mayor: For justice of the court of appeals, Charles A. Rapallo; for register, Jacob Hess; for judge of the supreme court, Horace Russell; for judges of the marine court, Meyer S. Isaacs; for recorder, D. G. Rollins, and for aldermen, F. Fink and H. C. Perley.

Boston, 29.—Independents of the Fourth Congressional District, nominated F. B. Hayes for Congress. A boiling convention nominated Mr. Hutchinson.

Foreign Miscellany.

London, 29.—Times' Dublin: The Land League has received a check in its agitation, a magistrate of Ulster having forbidden the meeting of the league at Dungannon, on Monday night, because of the anniversaries of the landing of William III. and the gunpowder plot in the first week of November and the celebration of these events would be certain to influence party spirit. The report that arrests are to be made in Dublin and Kilkenny is unfounded.

Paris, 29.—Seven hours' continuous rain, yesterday, in the city of Regio Di Calibria, Italy. Seventeen persons were killed in two neighboring villages, cottages being swept down.

Nonsense.

Chicago, 29.—The Journal says: It is reported that Chicago democratic managers have secured a barrel full of funds from Barnum and the national committee, and that it is now on its way here for distribution here among voting cattle. The sale and purchase plan adopted in Maine is to be repeated here.

Journal's New York: It now looks as if Garfield would receive a majority in the state of over 120,000, outside of New York and Brooklyn. This would carry the state by at least 45,000. Following close up on the speech of General Grant at Syracuse, comes the announcement that several prominent democrats of the city have come out for Garfield. Among them are Thomas Gale, well known contractor; Wm. T. Hamilton, president of the Morris Run Coal Company; John Greenway, the well known brewer; A. G. Cook and many others almost equally well known.

George William Says.

New York, 29.—George William Curtis, giving the reasons for his conviction that republicans will carry the state in Tuesday's election, says: Every reason which gave Tilden his majority has disappeared. Instead of universal prostration, to which any change was welcome, there is universal prosperity. Instead of the hope of reform from the democratic party, the party conspiracy and the Garcelon frauds have stripped from it every pretense of reform. Instead of a loyal and fraternal spirit of union in the southern states, the extra session revealed the monstrous policy defended by the doctrines which have justly aroused universal distrust. The discontented republicans of 1876 are solid for Garfield. The independents, who voted for Tilden then, heartily support Garfield now. There is every sign of a popular uprising, of a movement of the people which sweeps away the politicians and demands the presidency of an honest, able and experienced statesman. If there be one plausible reason for supposing the democrats will carry New York, we have not heard it.

Workingmen for Hancock.

New York, 29.—The address of workingmen of California being circulated as a campaign document here commences as follows:

The workingmen's party of California heretofore not affiliating with any other political party, but now having unanimously resolved to support Hancock and English, send greetings to their brethren and sisters of labor throughout the east, north and south, of their common country, without distinction of party, and appeal to them for relief. After presenting the condition of workingmen in California, as reduced to want and beggary, through the influence of Chinese, it states: We can hope for no relief from the republican party. That party, and especially Garfield, has always worked to promote Chinese emigration to this country, and to give the Chinese the right of suffrage. It concludes: Our only hope is in electing Hancock and English. The platform on which they stand speaks in no uncertain terms. The address is signed by J. H. Grady, chairman of the state central committee, workingmen's party, and by D. J. Gordon, secretary of the workingmen's party.

ROSECRANS REARS

Some Plain Talk About Slanders and Garfield.

San Francisco, 28.—The Call will, tomorrow, publish an interview with Gen. Rosecrans, with regard to the telegram from the east which charges that the signature to the Morey letter was copied from a letter written by General Garfield to General Rosecrans in 1865, which letter is now claimed to be in possession of certain parties in the east.

Reporter—General, can you give any explanation of the manner in which this story originated? Gen. Rosecrans—No, sir, I cannot. It was evidently manufactured out of whole cloth. Some explanation had to be offered, and they probably selected me as the best scapegoat from the fact that I was so far away, and probably because I have been friendly to Garfield.

Reporter—Then there is no foundation to the story that you sent the letter east? Gen. Rosecrans—No, sir. The whole charge is absurd and willfully false. I never sent any such letter, and I pronounce the story an infamous lie.

Reporter—Did you not certify that telegram insinuating that you knowingly lent your aid to the scheme of forgery? A.—Yes, sir. I cannot express my contempt for the men who would stoop so low. It is an infamous outrage, and I just want to say one word about that foolish little fudge speech which Garfield recently delivered at Mentor. I never yet have attacked Garfield, but I do now, and I pronounce him a fraud, an unmitigated fraud.

The general throughout the interview labored under great excitement, his vehemence causing him to tremble violently. He denounced all the parties connected with the charge of complicity in unmeasured terms.

PHILP'S FRIENDS.

An Unsavory Gang of Reprobates.

Chicago, 29.—Most of the associates of the forger Philp are well known in this city, some of them having been well known as newspaper litemers, and all have a most unsavory record. Huntley, who is closely connected with the crowd, has had an escapade in nearly every city where he has worked. He it was who first gave his pal away by telegraphing the facts to a paper several days in advance of Philp's arrest, but the paper, which once employed Huntley as reporter, knew his character for veracity so well that it did not care to publish the dispatch, as from its regular New York correspondent, but placed Huntley's name at the bottom, to indicate that it was of doubtful veracity, and refrained from editorial endorsement of the tale. Huntley evidently let his desire for lucre overcome his regard for his friend Philp. The other persons who are in league with Philp, Josh Hart, the low comedian; Archie Gordon, the newspaper pirate and falsifier; Byrne, of the Dramatic News, have all reputations of the most unsavory sort, and are known pretty generally in this section for just what they are, and the utmost astonishment is expressed that the democratic national committee should give an ear to so graceless a set of scoundrels, whose united sworn testimony would not weigh against the bare word of any honorable man.

Gotham Gossip

New York, 29.—The Ansonia Clock Company, whose extensive works in Brooklyn were burned down on Tuesday, have decided to erect a new factory of the same dimensions as the old one, and on the same site.

Wednesday's receipts of grain were the largest ever known on the Produce Exchange. They aggregated 1,640,000 bushels, divided as follows: Wheat, 6,772,204; corn, 782,400; oats, 86,100; barley, 6,050; malt, 12,100; rye, 22,508.

Fratricide.

Montreal, 29.—John Marden, arrested for killing his brother five years ago, has confessed and says his stepmother urged him to the deed for the sake of money.
