John Erickson, who is employed at the Star Consolidated mine at Tintic, is at St. Mark's hospital being treated for injuries received last Thursday in a fall of 115 feet. He was working on an incline at the time and missed his footing. Notwithstanding the frightful fall he escaped without breaking a bone, but he received a severe shock and suffered internal injuries which made it necessary to take him to the hospital.

Joseph Johnson, an employee of the Mercur mill at Mercur, met with a very serious, if not a fatal accident, last night. He was hauling tailings from the cars and car and man by some means fell over the dump. Johnson had several ribs broken and was smashed up quite badly, as well as sustaining internal injuries, the extent of which have not yet been fully determined.

SOME LIVING PIONEERS.

Mary Eliza Westover, who now resides at Huntington, Emery county, is a surviving pioneer. She is the daughter of Charles and Julia A. Shumway, and was born in the town of Sturbridge, Worcester county, Mass., on Oct. 27, 1838. When 2 years of age, she removed with his family to Illinois, and in the fall of 1842, went to Nauvoo. Her family was the first of the Saints to cross the Mississippi. They spent the following winter at Winter Quarters, where her mother and only sister were buried. The next spring, her father and brother started west, and Mrs. Westover followed later, arriving in the valley in October, 1847. She went with the first company to Manti, Sanpete county, and four years later moved to Payson, where she lived during the Walker Indian war and then moved to Big Cottonwood, this county. In September, 1856, she married Charles Westover and in the fall of 1862 they were called to go to St. George with the original settlers of that place. She then moved to Pine Valley and later to Pinto, where a flood destroyed their property.

MULLOY WILL FIGHT.

STREET SUPERVISOR GENERALLY DENIES CHARGES.

Looks to a Man Up a Tree That the Council is Preparing For an Election in the Near Future and Wants to Have a Chance to Play Some Favorites—Report of the Building Inspector for the Week—Health Department News.

Thomas Mulloy, street supervisor, will make a defense at the next session of the city council of the charges made against him at the last meeting in the resolutions offered by Councilman Buckle. The officer has prepared a statement, which is a general denial of all the allegations which have been set out in the complaint and will be prepared to answer any and all questions which may be propounded to him. As a matter of fact the trial, so called, at the council meeting will be little more than a farce. It cannot be reasonably expected that the entire council will enter into a trial of the case at a regular session. The charges will be read and the answer to the same, and then there will be a session of conversation, which will end by the entire business being referred to the committee on streets, or some other aggregation, for an investigation and report.

As a matter of fact, it begins to look as if there was a scheme on foot to get Mulloy out so the members of the majority can put a man in the position who will put a few of the faithful in a place where they can do something for the party. The fight against Mulloy will be vigorously contested. As Mulvey said at the last meeting of the council, the allowance for the street department has been about one-half that required to keep the streets in fair condition, and any man, restricted as he has been, could have made no better record.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The amount of building going on in the city up to this time has been confined chiefly to small repairs and additions, with occasionally a large expenditure. Last week the Jennings' alterations on the Emporium helped out, but this week the construction of a business house on West Second South comes in handy in footing a total. The permits were as follows:

E. E. Jenkins, brick house, Eighth South	$ 2,500
C. M. Davis, Eighth East and Fourth South, same	500
William Hurd, Fourth South and Eighth East, same	2,000
H. Phipps, business block, 142 West Second South	9,000
Three minor permits	470
Total	$11,970

HEALTH REPORT.

The report of the health department for the week which has just closed is somewhat remarkable in this particular, that only two persons have died in the time alluded to. The deaths were one male and one female, the latter passing away as a result of consumption. The births during the same time were: Males, 8; females, 3; total, 11. The contagious diseases in the city are confined to four cases of scarlet fever, all of which are doing well and will recover.

The annual report of the department for the year 1896 has just been issued and is a neat work. The volume comprises 74 pages and is adorned with half tone engravings of Health Commissioner Dalby and Sanitary Inspector Greenewald, which lends beauty to the book with honors about equally divided. The subject matter of the work appeared in The Herald at the time the report was submitted to the council and ordered printed.

THE PIONEER JUBILEE.

At last night's session of the Pioneer Jubilee commission Bishop Preston, who presided, Miss Emily Katz, Miss Cora Hooper and Messrs. Rognon, Smith, Whitney, J. D. Spencer, Moritz, Smoot and Colborn were present. Routine work consumed the time of the session.

The following subscription, the first received from a business firm in Utah outside of the city of Salt Lake, was received yesterday with many expressions of pleasure from the members of the commission who heard the communication, announcing the subscription, read:

Provo, Utah, June 26, 1897.

Spencer Clawson, Chairman Jubilee Commission:

Dear Sir—By order of the board of directors I take great pleasure in handing your our check for $100, to help our coming Jubilee. Wishing you every success, we remain yours truly,

PROVO WOOLEN MILLS CO.
REED SMOOT, Manager.

The Jubilees and the Browns play a return game of baseball at Beck's today, beginning at 1:30 p. m., and as the Browns are still smarting under the defeat administered to them two weeks ago by the Jubilees, an interesting game can be anticipated.

The officials of the Oregon Short Line have informed the commission that the railroad rate from Phoenix, Prescot and other Arizona points on the Santa Fe, Phoenix & Prescott railway to the Jubilee will be $28.70 for the round trip. Tickets will be sold July 16th to 20th, inclusive, bearing final limit of 60 days, continuous passage in each direction.

Two thousand invitations to be present at the Jubilee will be mailed to distinguished men of the nation during the coming week.

Miss Hilda Perry, of Vernal, will be Uintah county's representative in the Jubilee ceremonies and parades.

A package of photographs addressed to "E. H. Smith, care Jubilee commission," and bearing the Washington postmark is at headquarters awaiting a claimant.

Robert H. Haslam will be in Zion during the Jubilee. He is best known in the west as "Pony Bob," and was one of the bravest and most daring riders in the service of the pony express.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Andrew J. Peterson Failed to Pay Alimony.

JUDGE HILES SUNDERS THE CHAINS OF TWO COUPLES.

Foreclosure Sale of the Utah Central Railroad Approved by the Court—Another Sheep Rock Case in the Supreme Court—District Court Orders and Notes.

Andrew J. Peterson appeared on a citation to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt for failing to pay alimony to his divorced wife, Emma L. Peterson, in the sum of $250 and $10 a month, as ordered by the court when the decree of divorce was granted. Attorney Benner X. Smith represented Mrs. Peterson and Attorney Tewkesbury appeared for the defendant, who was examined and stated that he had not the wherewithal to comply with the order of the court, and further hearing was postponed for a week to allow Mrs. Peterson to introduce further evidence as to her ex-husband's means.

Two Divorces Granted.

Tillie Thomas was granted a decree of divorce by default from John J. Thomas on the grounds of cruelty and failure to support. Mrs. Thomas was awarded $1,750 alimony for the benefit of the child Kate Thomas, the custody of whom she was given.

Eliora Shendall was granted a decree of divorce from Ernest G. Shendall by Judge Hiles by default on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide.

P. L. Williams was the attorney for Mrs. Shendall.

Utah Central Sale Confirmed.

Judge Hiles yesterday made an order of court approving the sale of the Utah Central railroad under foreclosure and also approving the report of Special Master Loomis. The report shows in detail the amount received for the property, the amount of the various claims allowed, the expenses of the sale and the various acts of the special master therein.

Later in the day Attorney George Moyer came before Judge Hiles and obtained leave to file a motion praying that the sale be set aside. Mr. Moyer's clients hold certain judgments against the company and sufficient money is retained to satisfy them pending an appeal to the state supreme court and Mr. Moyer complained that the terms of the report of the master as approved by the court were such as to preclude these judgments from drawing interest.

Another Sheep Rock Case.

An opinion was handed down by the supreme court yesterday in the case of J. W. Chandler et al., appellants, vs. Sheep Rock Mining and Milling company, which affirmed the judgment of the lower court. The suit was brought to restrain the directors of the defendant company from levying an assessment on the capital stock and from selling the plaintiffs' stock as delinquent.

The court below found that the assessment was legally levied and refused to grant the injunction.

The supreme court opinion, which was delivered by Justice Barton and concurred in by Justice Miner and District Judge Cherry, refers to the opinion handed down on Friday in the case of Cait vs. the directors of the Sheep Rock Mining and Milling company, in which it was held that the said directors were legally and properly elected and being so had the right to levy the assessment, hence the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

GRAND POPULAR CONCERT

At Saltair Today.

The Christensen Bros. have organized a military band, consisting of 20 selected musicians. The band is nicely uniformed, and has been carefully drilled under the direction of Mr. Mose Christensen. Mr. Christensen has recently returned from New York, where he has spent the last two years studying under the great master Henry Schradeick, and has played with a number of the leading orchestras and military bands. His experience in New York has taught him that the people want popular music, and he has therefore made a careful selection, which will be rendered at Saltair today. Those attending this concert will hear the same music that would be heard at The Mall in Central park, New York. In addition to this programme Box Grosbell, the wonderful bicycle rider of the west, will give an exhibition of fancy trick riding.

Concerts at 2:30 and 7 p. m.

FOUND A DEAD BODY.

CHARLES HUGO MILLER DIES NEAR FORT DOUGLAS.

Was Once a Jailer at the Post—Judge Sommer Has Charge of the Matter.

The dead body of Charles Hugo Miller, once a soldier and latterly a tailor with company F, at the fort, was found yesterday by one of the old veteran's comrades.

The cause of his sudden taking off was ossification of the heart.

Judge Sommer, who is handling the legal phases of the case, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, and it was a post mortem examination at the fort which revealed the cause of his death. The funeral was held last evening by company F, and was conducted with military honors.

The only possession of value left by the veteran was a policy for $5,000 in the Legion of Honor of Boston in favor of his daughter Eliza. Judge Sommer has written to Mexico and Texas for Miss Miller, who is supposed to reside in one of these sections. As no receipts, indicating that payments had been made on the policy were found, it is believed that the document is now void.

Mr. Miller served in the war of the rebellion, and has been with the regiment for about 15 years.

No adulteration. Pure as the drifted snow is Three Crown Baking Powder.

Shakespeare.
There is no name in the world of literature like the name of William Shakespeare. Homer broke as a sudden dawn through the darkness of the earlier ages and sang the grandest of heroic songs. Dante, when the gods of Homer were no more, towered up proud and solitary with his sad and solemn dreams, his fierce hate, and his majestic love. Milton opened the gates of death, of heaven and of hell, and saw visions such as no man ever saw before or will see again. But Homer, Dante and Milton do not live in our heart of hearts, do not twine round our affections, do not satisfy our souls as Shakespeare does. Here and there we may find touches of more daring sublimity, passages more steeped in learning, lines more instinct with abstract thought, but the greatest and best interpreter of human nature, the poet of the widest sympathies, of the most delicate perceptions, of the profoundest knowledge of mankind, a greater sculptor than Phidias, a truer painter than Raphael, came into the world at Stratford-on-Avon in April, 1564. The special attention of our readers is requested to our "Shakespeare club" announcement. By sending coupon and $1 you can secure Appleton's Stratford-on-Avon edition, 12 de luxe volumes, superbly illustrated in photogravure, together with portfolio of plates (made in Paris by Goupil & Co.) As the distribution is strictly limited to 499 sets, prompt action is necessary.

Aladdin's Cave.
Aladdin's Cave will open July 10 as a family resort, presenting new novelties in the way of amusements. The lessee, C. E. Carter, jr., has secured some of the leading features of the vaudeville stage, presenting new faces each week. One of the leading novelties will be the vivescope, the most perfect machine of the kind ever made. Although several attempts have been made in Salt Lake to show moving pictures, they have met with little or no success, owing principally to the electric current furnished. The management of this resort has had a special dynamo made and the machine will be put in as a permanent feature, with a change of new views weekly. Illustrated songs, demon, fire and serpentine dances, with the latest pyrotechnic, electric and mechanical effects will be seen nightly. This palace of amusement will be run on the same liberal scale as the concert halls now so popular in the east. Carl Zellnter's Grand Opera House orchesta will introduce special musical novelties nightly.
