◈ ◈ ◈

The last meeting of the year for the Woman's club was held on Tuesday, and was devoted entirely to the business of election. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Amelia Gatrell, president; Miss Fannie Buckbee, vice president; Mrs. Howard Stowe, secretary; Mrs. Pease, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen V. Kimball, treasurer; Mrs. C. S. Kinney, auditor; Mrs. P. N. Cook, critic; Miss Monroe, historian; Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. Jones, members of the advisory board.

◈ ◈ ◈

All the city clubs except the Reviewers have adjourned for the summer months, and the last meeting of the Reviewers' club will be held May 26, at the home of Mrs. C. D. Moore. The meeting will be open to guests by invitation, and a splendid programme will be given. The afternoon is to be devoted to Stevenson, and Mrs. C. E. Richards will have charge of the programme.

◈ ◈ ◈

A meeting of the new officers and of the board of directors of the Ladies' Literary club was held at the club house Thursday morning. The business of appointing the various committees for the coming year was attended to, and arrangements made for the purchase of some needed supplies for the club house.

◈ ◈ ◈

At the last meeting of the Browning section Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie was elected chairman for the coming year.

◈ ◈ ◈

On Tuesday evening the ladies of the First Presbyterian church will give a programme at the home of Mrs. Thomas Weir on Brigham street, at which Mrs. Igleheart will deliver a lecture on "The Literature of the South." Among other numbers is a solo by Miss Edna Duncan.

◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Jane Hamilton, secretary of the National League of Women Workers will be in the city shortly, on her return from the biennial in Los Angeles, and will stay a few days with Mrs. C. E. Allen.

Provo Clubs.

The year's study of "The Netherlands" was delightfully supplemented on Friday afternoon at the Nineteenth Century club by a lively narrative of sojourn among the Dutch, by Miss Josephine Booth, daughter of Judge J. E. Booth, who recently spent two years abroad. Incidentally, there were many glimpses of other European lands and people as seen by the clear, unsophisticated eyes of a western girl. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered Miss Booth.

At the close of the address the subjects for the coming year were submitted by the executive committee. Mrs. Scawab was the hostess. It was a pleasure to see the president in her place, though only convalescent. At her request the vice president occupied the chair.

Mrs. De Moisy invited the club for next Friday, and asked each member to bring a guest.

Ogden Clubs.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Coterie was held at the home of Mrs. Corlew on Tuesday afternoon. The reports of the officers on the work and progress during the club year were most satisfactory. There being no regular historian's report, the president, Mrs. Emerson, permitted her own journal to be read, this was supplemented with an exquisite bit of prose concerning the last meetings of the year and the promises for the new year by Mrs. Gideon.

The president's final address was full of beauty, dignity and encouragement.

The election of officers resulted in the following members being unanimously chosen: President, Mrs. H. S. Emerson; vice president, Mrs. A. P. Bigelow; secretary and treasurer, Miss K. M. Greene; historian, Mrs. L. B. Adams. After the business was concluded an elaborate supper was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Kimball.

On Saturday afternoon, May 10, at the pleasant home of Miss Seaman, a charter member of the club, was held the last literary meeting of the year, with Miss Whalen president pro tem.

"Oliver Goldsmith," like every subject by Mrs. Wellenger, was well handled, and came forth from her manipulation glowing with good humor, prodigality and skill—a theme well placed.

Then came a sweet, womanly tribute to the beautiful qualities of Hannah More from Mrs. Corey, president of the club.

In the reading of Gray's "Elegy," Mrs. Gordon demonstrated a fine appreciation of its prevailing pathos and profoundly grand, poetic tone.

A very interesting paper on "Progress of American Inventions," by Miss Ethel Smith, was also given.

The following guests increased the pleasure of the hour: Mrs. Bent, from the Aglaia, added dignity and tone; Miss Keller, unlike Jane Eyre, who played "a little," played so well that she narrowly escaped a second encore; Mrs. L. E. Farnsworth, as a lecturer—a student of Shakespeare and expounder of his style—demanded instant admiration, while heart and substance were graciously represented in Mrs. Seaman and her daughter, Mrs. Cragun.

Refreshments truly refreshing were served by the clever hostess, and the club adjourned to meet on May 24 with Miss Smith, 500 Thirty-first street and Adams avenue. As this will be the annual business meeting, members are urgently requested to be present.

MUNYON'S WITCH HAZEL SOAP
MAKES THE SKIN SOFT AS VELVET

I want every woman who wishes to improve her complexion—who wishes to have her skin soft as velvet—who would like to have her face free from all skin eruptions and facial blemishes—to use my Witch Hazel Soap. I want every mother to try this soap on baby and see how quickly it will relieve the little one of all hives, baby rash and chafing. Makes baby sweet as roses.—MUNYON.
