NOW'S THE TIME TO GET INTO RACE

Interest Is Growing and Immense Field Is Awaiting Hustler.

MORE SPECIAL AWARDS

CANDIDATES GET THESE MERELY FOR EARLY ENERGY.

Did you see yesterday's Contest Page? It was a hummer, but today's is much more so. Turn to the Contest Page. Look it over. You will see that every district has comparatively few candidates. Of course the candidates now in could snap up all the votes in time. They are doing great work in vote-getting now. Why aren't YOU getting a good start? There are scores upon scores of persons and business firms to see yet in every district. The former will subscribe, the latter advertise, for never were such attractive rates offered. The Salt Lake Herald is a famous newspaper and a noted advertising medium. Any man or woman in good standing in his or her community can represent The Herald and win valuable prizes. The list of contestants is far from complete. You know that little story about the "early bird"? The moral is: "Early hustle gets the goods." Take the example set by the four candidates who have diamond rings and solid gold watches as rewards for early energy.

More Inducements.

Another inducement to the "hustlers" has been announced by The Herald. Four special prizes are to be divided among four contestants showing the greatest increases between Oct. 15 and 31, inclusive. The new special prizes have an aggregate value of $750, and each prize is something any man or woman longs to have. Read about them on the Contest Page, which also tells how to get them, and dozens of other valuable things, headed by a $6,000 home in one of the west's famous residence tracts. Thousands of copies of the following bulletin have been sent out over The Herald's territory. It tells the story in a few words:

"Once more we are pleased to call your attention to a list of special prizes more valuable and attractive than any ever awarded by a Salt Lake newspaper. These prizes are to be awarded, as advertised in The Herald, to four candidates, two men and two women, who make the greatest increase in votes by Nov. 1. The candidate with 1,200 votes to his or her credit stands equally as good an opportunity, if not better, to win one of these special prizes, than a candidate having a larger number of votes at this time, because these prizes will be awarded to the candidates making the greatest increase in votes during the time between Oct. 15 and Oct. 31, inclusive.

"The winning of one of these special prizes will not in any way debar a candidate from participating in the distribution of the twenty magnificent and valuable capital and grand prizes. To the contrary, the winning of a special prize is a great assistance towards being awarded the $6,000 house and lot, a $2,500 touring automobile or one of the many other very valuable prizes."

New Candidate.

Logic, reason, common sense, all join in one grand chorus whose refrain is: "Get in now and win; get in now and win; get in now and win."

An enterprising young man who has heard the chorus, and heard wisely, is R. H. Forsythe, an attache of the University of Utah. And Mr. Forsythe has evidently got in to win, for in a few days' running he has reached third place in District D—one of the liveliest. His spirit indicates that he is going to make other contestants in all departments "go some." Mr. Forsythe is a young man who is holding a responsible position with the board of regents of the University and the thoroughness and care with which he has always followed any activity makes his methods in The Herald's Great Contest most promising. Concerning the contest Mr. Forsyth says:

"I see in this contest great opportunities, mutual benefits. I believe the contest being conducted by The Herald will result in much good—both for it and for those who take a hand in the contest. I saw good oppoprtunities to do something for others and myself at the same time. That's why I am in."

Liberality the Keynote.

This earnest young man is a thinker. He thinks many times before acting once! His recognition of the mutual benefits offered by The Herald's competition is noteworthy.

It is really a pleasure to hear the candidates discuss the contest generally, and their part in it, particularly. All see the point which helps most to distinguish it from other contests. The Herald has sought to give everyone a chance and to provide prizes liberally. The value of the special prizes to be given away long before the final distribution of $12,500 worth of awards arrives is as much money as most contests see altogether.

Says Mrs. G. D. Barton, leading District B:

"I am in to do the best I can and thus win the most I can."

Were the contest not of the highest standard such contestants as Mrs. Barton would not be entered.

South Excited.

Word comes from Salina, a bustling city of southern Utah, that The Herald contest is getting more attention down there than the coming presidential race. Salina has four candidates entered and the campaigning that is going on would give Hitchcock and Mack pointers. The four Salina contestants are Violet Rex and Josephine Peterson and Dr. Charles E. West and N. E. Snell. All have big followings and each promises to come up in time with "a solid south."

Miss Rex is attending school in Salt Lake at present, but her "campaign managers" are doing great work at home and Miss Rex will draw from Salt Lake. Miss Rex is the daughter of pioneers in southern Utah. Everyone in the lower half of the state is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rex, and this is going to help the daughter considerably. Miss Rex won a popularity contest in southern Utah only recently. This also tells something.

Miss Josephine Peterson is running right along with Miss Rex. Miss Peterson is also the daughter of widely known and liked parents and is an altogether attractive young lady. The contest between the two young ladies will develop into a "race within a race" before The Herald's competition is fairly on.

Of Dr. West enough could not be said to thoroughly satisfy his friends. He enjoys widespread popularity and his friends will stand by him through thick and thin, just as he has stood by them or theirs through sunshine and sickness time and time again.

Mr. Snell is one of Salina's best known residents. He was entered by a friend, who started in to map out a campaign and, as this is now being carried through a la hustle, Mr. Snell's chances look extremely good.

Above all things, don't think, for an instant, that this contest is too far spent to justify you getting in. It is just beginning, and no candidate can rest confident yet, nor until the close itself. There are weeks ahead, and much can be done in minutes by the hustler. Fifteen prepaid subscriptions brought in by one candidate would mean a new grand leader in the race. Yesterday was an excellent day to get in; today is a splendid time. If you din't get in yesterday, get in today!

Millions of men and women work hard for a year for less than half of $6,000, yet The Herald offers a beautiful home and grounds, all complete, worth $6,000, for a few weeks' effort! Isn't that a generous offer? It's made to you!

E. H. CARR IS NEARLY KILLED

Southern Pacific Machinist Beaten With Rocks by Three Thugs.

E. H. Carr, a machinist in the employ of the Southern Pacific shops, was the victim of a murderous assault, on Lincoln avenue near the Peery mill, Wednesday night, and is lying at his home in a critical condition as a result. While passing the mill he was set upon by three thugs, who threw rocks at him and beat him over the head, rendering him unconscious, in which condition he was found and taken to his home. Dr. Powers was called and treated the man. He found a bad wound at the base of the brain, where a rock had struck Carr. The physician declared that, had the blow been a half-inch lower, death would have been instantaneous. As it is, Carr is in a critical condition and may not recover.

When Carr regained consciousness he stated that he knew who his assailants were and gave their names to the police. It developed, however, that his statement was not made from positive knowledge and no arrests have yet been made. The trouble is said to have been due to a grudge which one of the suspected men had held against Carr for some time.

WILL CALL ON GOVERNMENT

Chemists to Be Asked Cause of Decay of Ties on Cut-off.

Engineer Campbell of the Harriman lines in this city proposes to solve the mysterious decay of the ties along the Ogden-Lucin cut-off, which has caused a great deal of trouble in keeping the track in repair since the construction of the trans-lake line. For some unexplainable reason the ties do not endure as long as they should. Soon after they are put in place dissolution sets in and they are soon reduced to a spongy condition. Mr. Campbell has collected twenty-five sacks of the soil along the track near Lakside and will send it to the agricultural department at Washington, in the hope that the government chemists will be able to tell what is in the soil to cause the decay of the wood, and suggest a remedy therefor.

Judge Murphy's Round-up.

In the police court yesterday morning the case against Lawrence Fair and Orin Fisher, charged with running a gambling hall, was concluded and the court took the matter under advisement.

Owen McGeoghan, a mendicant who has been giving the police no little trouble, was arraigned yesterday morning and his case was continued until this morning pending an examination of his alleged crippled hand, as the police are of the opinion that he is "jiggered."

J. H. Garner, charged with trespass, failed to appear, and an order was issued for his appearance at 10 o'clock this morning.

A. H. Blair, who was arrested on complaint of Officer Shoemaker of the Union Pacific, and charged with petit larceny, did not face the court yesterday. Witnesses being absent, the case went over until today.

During the afternoon Judge Murphy's time was occupied with the hearing of the case of Walter Wagner vs. Utah Sanitarium company, wherein the plaintiff sues to recover the value of certain property which is alleged to have been lost at the resort. The complaint states that the property was checked with the company while the plaintiffs were in bathing and when the check was presented for the goods they could not be found. The property consisted of a gold watch and chain and $162.50 in cash.

Colored Democrats to Meet.

The colored Democrats of Ogden are going to have a rally in the building at 2448 Washington avenue, Monday evening, Oct. 19, and will organize a W. J. Bryan club. Judge Rolapp and Chairman Johnson will address the meeting as well as a number of prominent colored men.

Increased School Attendance.

The attendance in the public schools for the first month of the school year is a most gratifying one and shows an unprecedented increase. The following is the record for the various grades: Kindergarten, 308; first grade, 866; second grade, 649; third grade, 591; fourth grade, 512; fifth grade, 498; sixth grade, 406; seventh grade, 377; eighth grade, 294; high schools, 981. Total, 4,982.

Couldn't Handle Jag and Horse.

A man giving the name of Vincent was arrested last night on a charge of drunkenness. While intoxicated the horse that he was driving ran away with him, throwing him to the pavement, but he was not injured.

Ogden Briefs.

G. Lambertson of Rawlins is in the city.

The county teachers' institute will be held next Saturday at the Weber Stake Academy hall.

An execution has been issued in the case of the First National bank vs. Hamilton Pignon, in the sum of $50.50.

The case of Joe Carroll vs. the Southern Pacific company was on trial all day before Judge Howell yesterday.

Jacob Torgerson has been made cashier of the Pacific Express company, vice E. G. Poole, resigned.

An information was filed yesterday with the county clerk, charging W. H. Crutcher with burglary in the second degree.

The funeral services over the remains of Ellis Watkins are to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Second ward meeting house.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday as follows: To William J. Martha and Ida Nichols, colored; to J. H. Hall, Tremonton, and Azora Samuelson, Ogden.

A new meeting house is to be erected by the saints in Roy, Weber county. The building is to be 35x58 feet and will cost about $6,000.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. John E. Henderson will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Richey's funeral chapel. Bishop Ensign will conduct the service.

J. C. Patterson, general superintendent of the western division of the Pullman company, passed through the city yesterday on his way home to Chicago from the coast.

The fruit season has practically closed and the shippers are closing their packing houses for the winter. The past season has been the most successful in the history of the state.

Reuben T. Rhees and George Sanders are the Democratic nominees for justice of the peace and constable at Pleasant View, according to certificates of nomination filed with the county clerk yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Clark went to Salt Lake yesterday and brought back with him George F. Carmen, co-defendant with Dr. Stonecifer on the charge of practicing dentistry without a license. Carmen's bondsmen withdrew and he was again taken into custody.

TAFT RAINBOW CHASING SOUTH

Republican Candidate in Kentucky Looking for Blue Grass Votes.

PEEVISH AT BRYAN CHEERS

GREAT HIT WHEN CHAIR CRUMBLED UNDER HIM.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 15.—Acting on his declaration "that the south is a part of the union and as such entitled to be considered in the national election," Mr. Taft spent the day talking in towns and cities in Kentucky.

He is the first Republican presidential candidate who came to the Blue Grass state.

He will be the first Republican presidential candidate to carry his campaign into North Carolina and Virginia, which he intends visiting in the next two days. His reception has been typical of southern hospitality. The attention he received while expounding Republican doctrines was such as to indicate more than passing interest.

The candidate made many references to his reception during the day.

Made Silly Assertion.

For the second time since his work on the stump began, Mr. Taft made reference to the government guarantee of bank deposits, which Mr. Bryan is engaged in urging in the west. On that subject at Lexington he paid his respects to his opponent as follows:

"Mr. Bryan has another proposition that is going to be the panacea for everything and that is the guaranty of bank deposits. By that proposition he is going to make every respectable, honest banker become the security of anybody that desires to go into the banking business with the idea of getting a large line of depositors with a very small capital, and the result of that, I don't think it takes a very clear-headed business man to see.

Not a Joke, but a Lie.

"In Oklahoma, the place where they try out the experiments, they are now finding that banks are being organized with a capital of $10,000 by persons that have failed in the banking business before, by men that are under charges of embezzlement, but who are able to get deposits by saying to depositors, 'I am a good fellow and want you to help me out. Put your money in my bank, because this million-dollar bank up here of Mr. Smith's is my security that you will get your deposits back.'

"Now that is not a joke; that is a real genuine statement of the condition that is to be produced by that guaranty of bank deposits proposition."

The work of the day for Mr. Taft was begun early this morning at Huntington, W. Va., where he was taken from the train to a rink and received by thousands. Then came his advent into Kentucky.

Arrival in Kentucky.

At Ashland the crowd was big and the cheers of the zipping variety.

At East Kentucky Junction he told the crowd that he believed that Kentucky Republicans were almost better than other Republicans because they had to fight for their doctrine.

At Olive Hill he was again met by an enthusiastic crowd.

To his Morehead audience he said:

"I wish I had a voice as strong as my hand and as strong as the muscles of my arm, because I would like to have you all hear me. I would like to shake the hand of each one of you because I know a thrill of Republicanism would run from your backbone to mine and back again. All I can say is how grateful I am to you for coming here and giving us the courage to believe that Republicanism is going to sweep south of the Ohio river and to give the south the position she ought to have in this government."

More Faith Than Judgment.

At Salt Lick the candidate told his audience that he had been looking through the crowd and felt both pleasure and pride at his reception from such men, and then added:

"The Republicanism of Kentucky is tried and true. It took something to be a Republican in the past.

"I believe that the indications that we have had today of the interest the Republicans are taking in this campaign is as earnest that in the November election Kentucky is going to be where she ought to be—in the Republican column."

Mount Sterling and Winchester brought forth their crowds and received in turn the prosperity argument of the candidate. The Lexington meeting had been arranged with great care and the theatre where the meeting was held was packed an hour before the special arrived.

When he arrived at the theatre the big candidate made a decided hit by sitting on a chair which crumbled to the floor under him. Later when speaking the judge made a lesson of the incident, by stating that "when it comes to affirmative policies the Democratic party falls between two chairs just as I have done."

Frankfort turned out en masse to see and hear the candidate. He spoke from the steps of the old capitol building. An enthusiast tore three buttons from the candidate's vest in endeavoring to shake hands. To his Frankfort audience Judge Taft said:

"It awakens recollections of greatness to stand in these capitol grounds of Kentucky and think of the great men whom in times past you have sent to Washington to take part in the government. I congratulate you as a state that you are now gradually siding with the Republican party in order that you may again have the influence that you ought to have in the councils of the nation. For so long as you continue to be a part of the solid south, to be counted upon always as a tail to the northern Democracy, you would be certain not to exercise the influence exercised in the past and which you deserve to exercise in the future."

Cheers for Bryan.

That Judge Tafe will not permit antagonistic partisan interruptioons while addressing an audience was illustrated at Shelbyville, where the special arrived just at dark. He spoke in a hall which was crowded and as he proceeded there were persistent cries of "Bryan." The judge referred to the interruption pleasantly at first, but as it continued, he declared with some emphasis:

"It is just such instances as this which show why it is that the Democratic party never gets control of the government. It has elements which lack the slightest sense of responsibility, decency or courtesy."

Marching clubs with red fire escorted the candidate from his train to the Coliseum in Louisville tonight. Notwithstanding the rival political attraction of Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri at the Masonic theatre, there was no mistaking the interest shown in the candidate. His audience was treated to a discussion of the general issues by the candidate, by Senator William Alden Smith and by Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury.

A feature of the Kentucky trip was the presence during the day on the Taft special of Senator Bradley, representing one faction of the Republican congressmen in the state and tonight of Governor Wilson, representing the other. This demonstration of energy and union of purpose behind the national ticket was declared to be one of the great benefits of the invasion of Kentucky.

HARRY THAW MAY GO TO PITTSBURG

Demand Made for His Appearance by United States Court.

New York, Oct. 15.—It was announced here tonight that Harry K. Thaw might go to Pittsburg next Sunday morning, or soon thereafter, to testify in connection with the bankruptcy proceedings now pending against him in that city.

This information was given out after a conference had been held by Dr. Amos Aker, assistant superintendent of the Matteawan asylum, where Thaw is confined, and Asa Bird Gardiner, special deputy attorney general appointed to take charge of the Thaw case in behalf of the state.

A writ issued by the United States court in Pennsylvania commanding Dr. Robert E. Lamb, superintendent of the Matteawan hospital, to produce Thaw in Pittsburg, was served on Dr. Lamb today, and Dr. Baker, his assistant, hastened to New York from Fishkill Landing, where the hospital is located, to consult with Mr. Gardiner about obeying the writ. In the meantime Albert H. Meyer, Thaw's attorney, and Roger O'Mara, a friend and business agent of the Thaw family, had seen Mr. Gardiner and explained to him the purpose of the new writ. Mr. Gardiner had objected to a previous writ issued by the Pennsylvania court commanding the production of Thaw in Pittsburg, and the special attorney general had succeeded in having the writ dismissed so that Thaw's representatives had a new writ issued and they explained to Mr. Gardiner that it complied with the form he had demanded.

Mr. Gardiner says that the Thaw representatives have promised not to put any obstacles in the way of having Thaw returned to New York, in case he appears in Pittsburg, and, as this was his main contention against the prisoner being taken there, Mr. Gardiner says he does not see how he can successfully oppose the new writ.

"I have made arrangements to go to Pittsburg to argue the case," said Mr. Gardiner tonight, "but I cannot tell at this time whether Thaw will go there or not. I wish to discuss the case with Attorney General Jackson before taking any definite action. In Pittsburg I will argue against Thaw being taken to that city, but if I fail to have the writ dismissed Thaw will be telegraphed for."

CHEERS FOR BRYAN.

Baltimore, Oct. 15.—John Temple Graves addressed a meeting under the auspices of the Independence party at the Princess theatre tonight. Mr. Graves credited Mr. Hearst with having injected into the present campaign all the interest it possessed and then severely criticised both the Democratic and Republican parties. He denounced W. J. Bryan, the mention of whose name, however, was wildly cheered. His declaration that Mr. Bryan is the Democratic party of the present brought forth the question from one of the audience whether Mr. Hearst is not the Independence party, which Mr. Graves denied.

A FOOD LESSON

That the Teacher Won't Forget.

Teaching school is sometimes very arduous work. If the teacher is not robust and in good health, she can't do her best for her scholars or for her own satisfaction.

When it becomes a question of proper food for brain work, as in school teaching, many teachers have found Grape-Nuts ideal.

"I have been for many years a teacher, and several months ago found myself in such a condition that I feared I should have to give up work," writes a N. Y. teacher.

"So nervous was I, that dizziness and spells of faintness were frequent and my head and stomach gave me much trouble.

"Several physicians who treated me gave me only temporary relief and the old ails returned.

"About three months ago I dropped all medicine and began eating Grape-Nuts morning and night. Now, my head is clear, pain in stomach entirely gone, and I have gained in flesh. I am not only continuing in school, but have engaged to teach another year.

"I owe my restored health, a brighter outlook on life, and relief from doctor bills, to Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason."
