CLEANING HOUSE IN WALL STREET

Broker Expelled as a Warning to Others Who Make Fictitious Deals.

New York, Jan. 14.—The mixed and uncertain price movement in today's stock market was much the same as for several days past, but the marked subsidence of activity was a distinguishing feature. The number of disciplinary measures adopted by the board of governors lately, to which was added an expulsion today, operates to curtail some kind of activity in the market, but it is doubted whether operations of the kind aimed at make up a large proportion of the dealings from day to day. The moral effect of these measures, however, is to discourage manipulative and fictitious transactions which are made with a view solely to the effect on prices.

The current dullness in the speculation finds its truer explanation in the doubts felt over the industrial and business outlook and in the height to which previous speculation had pushed prices. The proportion of demonstrated truth in the numerous rumors which have helped to lift prices remains up to the present small, and conjecture over the reliability of much of these reports grows anxious with the spectacle of prices halting or receding. Renewed advances in special stocks on fresh rumors of this sort do not serve entirely to wipe out misgivings. Such movements were in evidence today and proved of effect in sustaining prices, but of it in broadening the demand. Wisconsin Central, it was still confidently said, was to be bought in the interest of Canadian Pacific, but no authoritative announcement was made on the subject.

New York Central was affected by the currency given to a story that E. H. Harriman had obtained an option on the holdings of W. K. Vanderbilt and was to assume the chairmanship of the board of directors. This report received no countenance from the interests immediately concerned.

The advance in the Bank of England discount rate to three per cent, which was the principal event of the financial day, was of small immediate effect in New York. The action has been generally expected and had no unfavorable effect on foreign stock markets. Private discount rates rose in London and Paris. The strong return made by the Bank of England coincident with this advance in the official discount rate was notice of the pursuit of a policy of strengthening its position for future contingencies rather than to meet the present demands.

The heavy repayments to the bank, amounting to over $20,000,000, were supplemented by a decrease of $11,445,000 in the holdings of government securities in the effect toward the reduction of supplies in the open market. The purpose of the bank to attract gold is thus definitely proclaimed and a competition announced with the Bank of France for the weekly arrival of Transvaal gold, which the latter institution has been taking from London markets for the last month.

Heaviness of the metal industrials proved a drag on the market. The note of disappointment in the views of steel trade authorities over the rate of revival of new demand carried United States Steel to the lowest point touched since its rise to a record price late last year. Amalgamated Copper also was unfavorably affected by the declining tendency of the price of copper and the reports of accumulating stocks of copper and the high rate of production of that metal. The market closed with none of the intermittent swings of prices in progress.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,644,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Metal Markets.

New York, Jan. 14.—The London tin market was higher today, with spot quoted at £127 15s and futures at £129 7s 6d. The local market was quiet, but higher, sympathy, with spot quoted at $28.00@28.25.

Copper was lower at £61 17s 6d for spot, and £62 15s 6d for futures in London. Locally the market was weak, with lace unchanged at $14.37½@14.62½. While buyers' views were a little lower on the other grades, electrolytic was quoted at $14.00@14.25, and casting at $13.87½@14.12½.

Lead was unchanged at £13 2s 6d in London. The local market was dull at $4.17½@4.22½.

Spelter was unchanged at £21 7s 6d in London, and while the tone was easy locally, quotations remained at $5.12½@5.17½.

Iron was unchanged at 48s 3d for standard foundry in the London market. No change was reported locally. No. 1 foundry northern, $17.00@17.75; No. 2, $16.75@17.25; No. 1 southern and No. 1 southern soft, $17.25@17.75.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—The wheat market was a dull and narrow affair the greater part of the day, but livened up during the final half hour as a result of a cover support by bull leaders. This demand carried prices up, half to 1⅛@1¼c from the low points of the day, the May delivery showing the greatest gain. Pit traders finally were bearishly inclined, but were afraid to venture far from shore and consequently only a moderate demand by the bull leaders was sufficient to maintain prices during the first half of the session.

Foreign news was somewhat bearish, the European markets showing little response to the upturn here yesterday. Advices from India also told of light rains that had partially relieved anxiety regarding the crops in the united provinces.

The strength late in the day was based to some extent on a considerable improvement in the local demand for cash wheat, sales today being reported at 80,000 bushels. Kansas City at the same time told of sales aggregating 150,000 bushels, all of which, it was said, was for shipment to Mexico. The market closed strong at almost the top, final quotations on May being at $1.06⅝, and on July at 97⅝c.

Free sales by some of the principal holders caused weakness in the corn market. A slight recovery was made late in the day because of the sharp rally in wheat, and owing to sales of 150,000 bushels of cash corn to a Baltimore exporter. The market closed easy with prices off ⅛c to ⅛@¼c. Final quotations on May were 61⅝c and July at 61⅛@61¼c.

Poor demand for the cash grain caused moderate weakness in the oats market. The price of cash grain was off ¼c to ½c. The market closed unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower, with May at 51½@51⅝c, and July at 46⅛@46¼c.

Provisions were firm throughout the entire day. At the close the prices were unchanged to 17½c higher.

BIG STRIKE REPORTED IN TRUETT LEASE AT RAWHIDE

Rawhide, Nev., Jan. 15.—The biggest strike ever made in the famous Truett lease on Happy Hooligan claim on Coalition occurred yesterday afternoon in a crosscut from the east drift on the seventy-foot level. The first shot put into what was supposed to be the footwall of the vein exposed a body of ore assaying from $40 to $50 a ton. A streak of rich stuff varying from one to two inches in width extends clear across the four-foot face.

Samples displayed at the office of the company this morning are fully half gold. Drillings from the holes that are being put into the new ore shoot this morning yield pannings that indicate an average value of $50 a ton. General Manager Howard expressed the belief that he has broken into the biggest body of high grade shipping ore ever struck in the camp. A machine drill has been set up in the crosscut and the size and value of the new discovery will be determined within a very few days.

At the Nugent lease on Coalition both drifts on the newly discovered vein on the 100 level are in high grade milling ore this morning and the Nugent is now one of the permanent producers of camp.

Ore and Bullion.

Ore and bullion settlements in this city yesterday, as reported by McCornick & Co., amounted to $110,000, as follows: Silver, lead, gold and copper ores, $99,000; base bullion, $80,000.

LOCAL MARKETS

Flour is still on the upward incline with no prospects of stopping at anywhere short of famine prices. Thursday morning all grades of flour took another jump of 10 cents a hundred. The cause of this increase in the price of flour is still unexplained, though it is charged the railroads are responsible to some extent. Utah wheat is shipped outside the state at low freight rates. This makes it necessary for this state to depend on outside flour which is shipped in at high rates.

No other changes either way are reported in the market. The trade on Market Row is brisk and prices remain firm and steady. The market is well supplied with a choice assortment of green vegetables from California and Moapa, Nev.

Fish, poultry and meats have not changed during the last week. The fish market is in good condition with a large variety to select from. Chicken and turkeys remain scarce but this has not caused any advance in price.

Prices for the week are as follows:
