IRREGULAR BUT STRONG MARKET

Wall Street Continues to Absorb Stocks, Not Allowing a Reaction.

HEAVYWEIGHTS BUYING

OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE REGARDED AS GOOD.

New York, April 1.—Price movements in the stock market developed a mixed tendency between gains and losses, showing irregularities during the progress of most of the trading. This mixed movement, however, did not obscure the absorption power of the market, and the effective character of the new demand which has come into the market during the last few days. The high level at which prices were started today, added to the sharp advances scored yesterday, and combined with the material broadening of the participation from miscellaneous outside sources, offering so advantageous an opportunity to convert paper profits into cash that it was taken advantage of on a very large scale by previous purchasers.

The action of the market in the last few days had its effect in bringing in some increase of buying orders at the outset, but the concentrated character of the dealings and the concerted operations of the advance gave evidence of an organized speculative party at work in the market. Names were freely bandied about in the day's discussion of the probable identity of the organization, supposition pointing to wealthy capitalists associated with great market movements of the past. These rumors, lacking entirely in authority as they were, were of great effect in shaping speculative sentiment, nevertheless. The professional element viewed the movement with suspicion and were constantly testing the market for a reaction, but without success. The basis for the movement continued to be the conviction that the bottom of the business depression had been reached and that improvement is to follow.

Some of the day's news confirmed the views of an upward trend of business. The public profession of confidence by E. H. Harriman to this effect was one of the items of this news. So, also, was the announcement that the Ensley steel plant of the Tennessee Coal & Iron company had not been shut down on April 1, as had been previously determined, owing to the receipt of new orders enough to extend the active period of operations. The large business booked in March for structural steel was noted as a consequence of the lower prices in that trade. Notice of wage reductions failed to cause disturbance, owing to the apparent acceptance by workmen of the situation created by lower prices for products. The action of United States Steel in the latter market in its aggressive advance through enormous sales made at 50 to a top price of 51, was of material sentimental effect on the whole market.

News from Washington of formidable opposition forming to some of the proposed tariff reductions seemed to be accepted with equanimity, if not with satisfaction. February earnings repor's of railroads are regarded as satisfactory evidence of improving traffic conditions.

The reduction in the Bank of England discount rate, although expected, gave the initial impetus to the rise and was an influence inducing continued purchases of stocks by foreigners. Use was made of the speculative element of words and phrases from the numerous interviews emitted by E. H. Harriman to push upward movements in special stocks. Encouraging reports of the condition of the winter wheat crop made a substantial basis for much of the hopefulness over business prospects. The market was strong and the most active at the close of the day.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $6,468,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 1.—The advance of wheat prices to a new high level was made without any unusual excitement. The market was strong with the exception of a brief period early in the day, when a moderate reaction occurred on liberal sales by a leading holder. Demand by this same trader was partly responsible for the advance later in the session, which carried prices beyond the previous best mark. Sharp advances at nearly all the leading grain centers of Europe, brisk demand for the cash grain in this country, and fresh reports of damage to the growing crop, particularly in Ohio and Indiana, were the chief reasons for the bullish sentiment which prevailed throughout the day. The range on May was between $1.19 and $1.20⅛, while July sold between $1.06¾ and $1.08. The market closed strong with May at $1.19⅞@1.20 and July at $1.07⅝@1.07¾.

The feature of trade in corn was the buying of the May delivery by cash interests, which caused considerable firmness in the wheat market in general. The market closed firm at net gains of a shade to ¼@⅜c. May closed at 67⅝c and July at 66¼@66⅜c.

Trade in oats was quiet and the market was barely steady. At the close prices were a shade lower to ¼c higher, with May at 54¾c and July at 47½c.

The provisions market was heavy nearly all day. At the close prices were 2½c higher to 5c lower.

Local Produce Market

Prices in both the wholesale and retail markets have been showing a rather downward tendency during the last week, but not to such an extent as to cause the dealers any worry. With the coming of spring the products of the farm and dairy become more plentiful and prices gradually get down to a reasonable figure. Strawberries which only a few weeks ago were held at 30 and 35 cents a box, can now be had at 15 cents a box. Fresh tomatoes have dropped from 20 cents a pound to 15 cents a pound and promise to be retailing at a lower figure than this before many more days. Asparagus is now on the market in large quantities and selling at 2 pounds for 35 cents. Eggs, fresh from the ranch, are also in with the other food stuffs and can now be had two dozen for 45 cents, just half the price which prevailed a month ago. Sugar took a jump Thursday of 10 cents a hundred pounds. Beet sugar is now retailing at $6.30 a sack and cane sugar is demanding $6.40 a sack. This price, however, is not expected to hold sway for any length of time.

The fish market has reported a few changes for the week. Codfish advanced from 15 cents a pound to 17 cents, and shrimps advanced from 20 to 25 cents a quart. Crawfish and black bass are off the market. Fine sea bass and striped bass are plentiful. The poultry market remains unchanged and in a good solid condition. The spring chickens are coming on the market in good shape and are in good demand.

BOSTON AND NEW YORK STOCK MARKET REPORTS

Following is the daily market comment of Paine, Webber & Co., Boston, together with the range of prices of copper stocks and other Boston listings in which the west is interested, as well as a similar report on New York curb transactions, by James A. Pollock & Co., and from whom it is secured for use in this department of The Herald:

Boston, April 1.—All predictions of a further advance in the New York market were perfectly justified by the action of the entire list today. Under the lead of steel common, Amalgamated and Union Pacific, all stocks were very active and buoyant, rallying from 1 to 5 points and closing at the top. In the local market, the activity was less but the underlying strength was great and any amount of stock could be sold at current prices. The proposed issue of new stock by the Superior & Boston seems to be favorably received and in view of the excellent reports from the mine, we advise every one to subscribe to the new stock to which they are entitled. Floor leaders picked up what scattered East Butte there was today offered around 14¾ and we expect to see a little upward move in the stock tomorrow. Especially good buying was noticeable in Butte Coalition, Corbin, Shannon and Arizona Commercial.

Mining Notes.

Six carloads of ore from the Pioneer sampler were released yesterday.

There were released from the Taylor & Brunton sampler yesterday five carloads of ore from Utah mines, one from Idaho and one from California.

De Witt B. Lowe, the well known stock broker who, with Mrs. Lowe, has been on a month's trip to Honolulu, reached home last evening after having experienced a most enjoyable time.

C. E. Taylor of the Pioneer Sampling Works company returned from Chafey yesterday morning to learn that the control of the stock in his company had changed hands during his few days' absence.

Ed F. Freudenthal came up from Pioche again yesterday morning to see his brother, who is sick in St. Mary's hospital. He says there has been two and one-half feet of snowfall in the hills around Pioche since March 21.

General Manager John A. Kirby of the Pioche King Mining company left for camp Wednesday night to see how the new plant is working. The Pioche King is now one of the best equipped properties in the Pioche camp.

A. J. Scott of this city, who has been in the Midway oil field of Kern county, California, for the past six months, putting down oil wells for the Standard Oil company, is home again to stay. Mr. Scott is an expert in the handling of drilling machinery.

What with finding whisky in the water cooler; soap, cayenne pepper, cheese, cotton batting and numerous other delicacies in the candy passed around by the new members, to say nothing of the "loaded" cigars, the members of the stock exchange were wrestling with All Fools' day propositions all through both sessions yesterday.
