STORM RAGING ALONG THE GULF

Wires Down and Damage at New Orleans Impossible to Ascertain.

HIGH WINDS IN INTERIOR

SITUATION SAID TO BE SERIOUS AT MOBILE, ALABAMA.

New Orleans, Sept. 20.—After attaining a velocity of 60 miles an hour at New Orleans tonight the West Indian hurricane which struck Louisiana and Mississippi gulf coast was reduced in its intensity late tonight.

It left four dead at New Orleans and perhaps others along the gulf coast, though no definite advices of mortality in other sections have been thus far received here.

The property loss in New Orleans will exceed $100,000.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 20.—With New Orleans entirely stripped of wire communication and reports coming from points along the gulf between Pascagoula, Miss., and Pensacola, Fla., of high tides and winds of hurricane velocity, it was apparent tonight that the gulf storm which struck that section early today had scored heavily in property damage, if not in loss of life.

No advices have been received from New Orleans since 3 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the Associated Press was informed that the piling up of the gulf waters at the mouth of the Mississippi had already caused a rise of three feet at New Orleans—a result unprecedented.

Villages May Suffer.

The present stage of the river and the height of the levee will admit of much greater rise without much damage to New Orleans, but the large number of villages scattered between the city and the gulf coast likely will suffer severely. The most threatening of the definite advices thus far received comes from Pensacola, where the wind had attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour and was apparently increasing.

Later tonight the storm apparently was headed northeast across Florida and Alabama and northward into Louisiana. Reports of increasing gales toward Hatteras also were received.

At Mobile, Ala., the situation was serious, the waters of the bay piling along the water front at an alarming rate.

Communication Cut Off.

Railroad communication with New Orleans by way of Mobile is entirely cut off, a great deal of track being washed out. Trains are being detoured by way of Meridian, Miss., but it is possible communication by that route may have been blocked, as advices from Louisiana and Mississippi points north of New Orleans stated that the gale had reached those places also.

Meager Reports.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 20.—Fragmentary reports from points in southern Louisiana and Mississippi say a severe tropical hurricane swept the Mississippi-Louisiana gulf coast tonight, damaging shipping, wrecking numerous frail structures and seriously impeding railroad traffic.

The Illinois Central railroad announced that trains had been detoured over the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley tracks via Baton Rouge, the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad between New Orleans and Kenner being under water and many miles of track washed away.

From Biloxi and Scranton on the gulf coast of Mississippi meager reports of much damage to shipping and buildings along the beach have been received. At least one life was lost.

Natchez, Miss., was cut off from communication by wire.

Along the Texas coast no damage has been reported, this section apparently having escaped the force of the storm. In western Louisiana, at Crowley and Jennings, considerable property damage has resulted. Two-thirds of the unharvested rice crop is believed to have been destroyed.

Damage at New Orleans.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 20.—The Postal Telegraph company had a message from New Orleans just before the wires went down saying that several houses had been unroofed and that much damage had been done around the Rigelets. Railroads were tied up and three wrecks were reported. All wires to Texas were lost.

JUDGE GAYNOR CHOSEN TO LEAD INDEPENDENTS

New York, Sept. 20.—The first independent body of citizens of Greater New York to choose a candidate for mayor for the approaching municipal election selected tonight for this honor Supreme Court Justice William Gaynor of Brooklyn. He was nominated with enthusiasm at Cooper Union at a mass meeting of the Municipal Democracy, an organization of progressive Democrats of the city.

The required petition to make the nomination legal was then circulated, and 1,100 signatures were obtained. Two thousand are required.

CLEAR POLICY IN STATEMENT

Facilitate Rate Appeals.

"It is proposed now by a number of gentlemen of my cabinet, who have conferred with some members of the interstate commerce commission, to facilitate these appeals from the commission by the creation of a separate interstate commerce court of five members, which shall sit in Washington and which shall be the only court to which petitions to set aside or nullify the orders of the interstate commerce commission can be made, and it is proposed to allow a single judge to make an order staying the proceedings of the interstate commerce commission, but sixty days, and thereafter that no injunction shall be allowed against the order of the commission unless granted by the whole court of five members.

"A second change in the interstate commerce law ought to give to the commission the power to hear and entertain complaints against unjust classification of merchandise for transportation. It is perfectly clear that by including articles in the same class which ought to pay different rates a railroad can commit exactly the same kind of injustice as it would by imposing an exorbitant rate as to any one class. Hence, I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending to congress that the power of the commission should be extended to include not only the fixing of rates on a complaint, but also the readjustment of classification if it proves on complaint to be unjust.

New Rate Classification.

"Under the interstate commerce law a new rate classification is to be filed with the commission. It is proposed now to authorize the commission to postpone the date that such new rate classification is to take effect, provided that within thirty days of the date of the order a complaint be filed that such rate or classification is unreasonable or unjust. I am inclined to think this is a fair exchange in the provisions of the law.

"A third amendment to the act should provide that the commission may by order suspend, modify or annul any changes in the rules or regulations which impose undue burdens on shippers. No doubt ought to be left with respect to the power of the commission on such a subject, because the rules and regulations of a railway are the means by which injustice may be done to the shipper. It would seem well to impower the commission to compel connecting carriers to unite in forming through routes and to fix the rates and the apportionment thereof among the carriers. The commission should also be empowered to prescribe the rules and regulations under which the shippers shall have the privilege to designate the route over which their shipments shall be carried to the destination beyond that of the first carrier.

"Another most important amendment of the interstate commerce law—part of which was specifically promised in the platform—is a prohibition against any interstate railroad company acquiring stock in any competing railroad in the future, and a further provision that no railroad engaged in interstate commerce shall, after a certain date, hold stock in a competing railroad.

Agree on Tariff Rates.

"In addition to amendments to the law which are looking to a rather more drastic regulation of railroad rates than heretofore, another provision should be added by which railroads may be permitted to agree upon traffic rates and make contracts with respect to rates that shall not be pooling contracts, but shall constitute agreements as to rates—provided always that such agreements shall receive the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

"This brings me to the question of the anti-trust law. While we have not threshed the whole matter out so as to reach a definite conclusion, I am still inclined to the view that the way to make the anti-trust law more effective is to narrow its scope somewhat so that it shall not include in its prohibition and denunciation as a crime anything but a conspiracy or combination or contract entered into with actual intent to monopolize or suppress competition in interstate trade.

"It has been suggested that the law ought to limit its denunciation to those contracts in restraint of trade that are unreasonable. I don't favor any such limitation. It seems to be proposed to leave to the judges to decide what combinations and contracts in restraint of trade ought to be permitted to exist and enforced on general grounds of public policy—in other words, to have the court attempt to establish some line between what are called good and bad trusts, as if the suppression of competition in some cases was a good thing and in other cases was bad. I cannot agree that any such distinction can be properly made.

Punish All Combinations.

"All combinations to suppress competition, or to maintain a monopoly in whole or in part of interstate trade, are and should be in violation of the anti-trust law, and should be punished as such; and there is no room for the expression—reasonable or unreasonable—in this general view of the statute.

"The two statutes which must claim the attention of our congress in its next session are the interstate commerce law and the anti-trust law.

"Another series of questions for congress are with reference to the conservation of resources. These I shall not discuss now, but shall do later in my journey.

"The monetary commission will probably report so that its final conclusions may be considered at the end of the coming session or at the beginning of the next. In any event, we look forward to the work which this congress has to do. We must be conscious that the measures I have proposed will consume all the time there is.

"All this is in the line of performing the promises of the Republican platform, and we can certainly be discharging no higher or more sacred duty."

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 20.—The dinner at the Omaha club occupied the time from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock. President Taft's remarks were brief and he declared they were not for the use of his "suite," by which term he referred to the newspaper men who accompanied him.

Tonight the president and his party were entertained at the "den" of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. The initiation usually consists of a burlesque grand opera entitled "Paperika, Schnitzel," in which the candidate for admission is compelled to take a prominent part. Tonight, however, the program was varied with hits on the president and others of his party, which the president greatly enjoyed. One of the most telling quips was a scene on the golf links, in which appeared a physical reproduction of Mr. Taft in the costume so often shown in pictures of him with his golf sticks.

The party was taken directly from the "den" to the station, and the westward journey was resumed on schedule time at 11:12 p. m. They are due to arrive in Denver at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Strange as Fiction

Newspaper for Kidney and Rheumatic Sufferers.

In Germany there is a newspaper published in the interests of all rheumatic sufferers, and each week symptoms and treatments are discussed by both laity and medical men. One scientific contributor related that a formula originated especially to relieve kidney disease, had almost phenomenal virtue in the treatment of all forms of rheumatism.

No secret is made of this formula, which is composed of one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, one ounce compound fluid Balmwort and two ounces compound syrup Sarsaparilla, mixed in a bottle, and to be taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and one at retiring.

A local druggist expressed the opinion that every rheumatic and kidney sufferer will be grateful for this item.

COOK WAITING FOR DAYLIGHT

and leave him free to join his friends at that point at 8:30.

On account of the large number of persons who will participate in the first greeting to Dr. Cook on this side of the Atlantic, it would have been impossible to carry out any of the original program had he landed today.

Nearly 2,000 tickets have been sold for the steamer Grand Republic, on which the committee from the Arctic club will go down the bay tomorrow. Slightly in advance of the steamer will go a tug bearing Mrs. Cook and her children and the explorer's two brothers, with two or three members of the committee.

The plan is to take Dr. Cook from the liner aboard this tug, thus enabling him to spend the first few minutes following his arrival at quarantine with his family. Then the tug will go alongside the Grand Republic and the explorer will be taken on board for the last stage of the trip to American soil.

The neighbors of Dr. Cook in Brooklyn were equally concerned when they heard that there was danger of his arrival ahead of schedule time. At the Bushwick club, a neighborhood where the physician used to go, they had planned a rousing welcome.

After a triumphal procession through the streets of Brooklyn the explorer will reach the club house, where there will be a reception and a luncheon.

No public events have been planned for the interval between the first welcome and the dinner to be given at the Waldorf-Astoria Thursday night. Mrs. Cook and her children have taken rooms at that hotel.

D. V. Eskensen, chairman of a committee representing all the Danish-American societies in this country, received a wireless message from Dr. Cook today, accepting the invitation to a banquet which the joint associations will give here in Dr. Cook's honor. The date has not been fixed.

GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA

dently realized the end was near, although he said nothing. Mrs. Johnson was with him.

At 1:55 this morning Dr. Mayo said:

"There is absolutely no hope. However, the governor will not die for several hours yet, possibly not before 6 o'clock."

Governor Johnson was given liquid nourishment twice Monday forenoon, three ounces of strained chicken broth at a time, which he retained. Dr. Mayo dressed the wound at noon and reported that he found it in good condition.

Dr. Mayo said in a bulletin issued at 12:30 Monday afternoon:

"Governor Johnson has passed the full five days' hospital crisis, but yet his condition is critical, and I cannot now say that his chances are better than even. His weakness is progressive. His vitality is keeping up well, however. There are no indications of complications. The governor's condition does not prompt us to say that he has passed the critical period. We cannot say this until we know the effect of the nourishment he has taken. It may not agree with him."

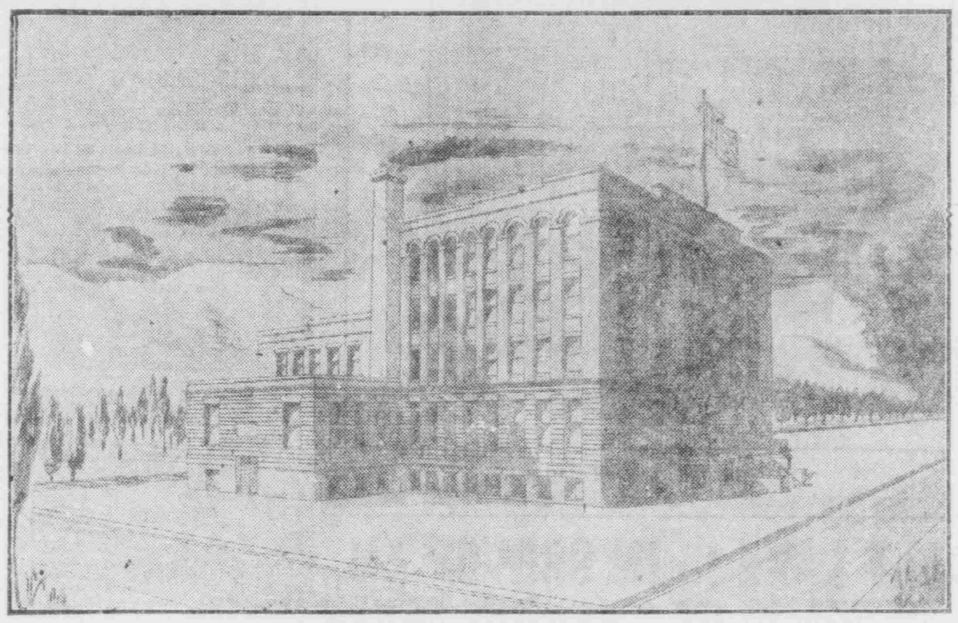
BIG MODERN FACTORY WILL BE BUILT AT ONCE AT TRENTON TO MAKE CEREAL FOODS



Utah's first cereal food factory to be erected at Trenton. —E. Maeser, Architect.

Ground will soon be broken at Trenton, Cache valley, for the first cereal food factory in Utah, which will mark an entirely new departure in the manufacturing field. Plans for this great plant are now being completed by E. Maeser, a Salt Lake architect. The accompanying picture is a faithful representation of what the structure will look like when finished. The estimated cost of the plant is between $80,000 and $100,000. The company back of the big project is the United Development company, made up of local and eastern capital, with offices in the Newhouse building.

The plant will be 65x100 feet and four stories high, with a commodious basement. The dimensions given are exclusive of the boiler house, which is considered separately from the main building.

The framework of the building will be of heavy steel. Reinforced concrete and cement brick will be the principal other building material used. The building throughout will be constructed with a view of furnishing the greatest possible resistance to the incessant jar of machinery.

Promoters are now in the east arranging for shipment of the steel and machinery. The plant, designed by experts, will be thoroughly up to date in every particular.

A feature of the plant which is in keeping with the plans of many big factories in the east is the establishment of rest rooms for the hundreds of employes, many of whom will be girls.

Plans are also being drawn up for cosy cottages for the superintendent and other officials. The grounds, especially in front, will be beautified by lawns, flowers, shrubs and trees.

The plant will be erected on ground near the Oregon Short Line station at Trenton. The foundation for the building will be in before the heavy frosts come, and it is expected to have the plant in running order before the middle of next summer.

SALT LAKE IS IN GRIP OF AN EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID FEVER

with typhoid fever for weeks, but that nothing was given out by the physicians until the officials of the board of health started out to run down all of the cases. The finding of one case would generally lead to the disclosing of another, and in this manner many new cases were found last week. In all, seven cases were discovered at the L. D. S. hospital which had never been reported to the board of health.

No reasonable explanation has been made of the number of typhoid cases on the northeast bench, generally the most healthful portion of the city. It was at first believed that milk from the Moss Bros. dairy at Wood's Cross was responsible for this, but the milk has not yet been analyzed by City Chemist Harms.

P. A. Droubay thinks it is what the people up there eat rather than the milk or water that has caused the typhoid. "I believe it is in the fruit and vegetables," said Mr. Droubay yesterday. "Nearly every grocer in Salt Lake displays his wares on the sidewalk in the dirt and filth which accumulates. The dust from the streets is especially noticeable. Just buy some fruit, especially grapes, put them in a pan and turn on the water. Then look at what there is in the bottom of that pan. I believe right there is where you get the typhoid."

Dr. T. B. Beatty, secretary of the state board of health, started an investigation yesterday into the Wood's Cross affair, but it has not progressed far. Dr. Beatty is still of the opinion that flies are more responsible for the present condition than anything else. He thinks probably the epidemic might have started through milk, but that flies spread the remainder, and the failure of physicians to report cases added still more to the chances for a spread of the disease.

It is believed that there will be fewer cases reported to the board of health today, and will leave an opportunity for the officials to investigate more seriously than has yet been attempted into the probable cause of the present epidemic.

WITHOUT LOSS OF LIFE.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The Chicago & Northwestern railroad carried 27,000,000 passengers during the year ending June 30, 1909, without a single loss of life, according to a report issued by the road today. The other roads which have thus far announced a clear record of this kind for a year include the Pennsylvania, the Burlington and the Santa Fe.

PROVO NEWS NOTES.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, Sept. 20.—Judge A. A. Noon was busy Monday hearing petty cases. Guiermo Arelio and Rafeal Flores, two Mexicans, were fined $5 for drunkenness at Colton. They had been at work on railroad construction. One of the Mexican feast days was their excuse.

Peter Carmicle was fined $5 for stealing a suit of underclothes. He gave them to William Crampton, who was first arrested for the crime and held until Carmicle confessed.

The commissioners had a similar petition from Chief Deputy Fish and Game Warden Brig Madsen at the last session of the board, but no action has been taken.

PEACE FOR A TIME.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Peace for at least three years was assured in the street car situation in this city by the signing today by union officials of the wage scale offered by the street car officials of the north and west side lines. RECORD FOR STINGINESS.

Ohio Brewer Would Not Pay $500 to Save Wife From Prison.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—Rather than loan his wife $500, which would have kept her from going to prison, Jacob Fickel, a brewer, saw her sentenced to the penitentiary for two years here today. Sentence was suspended and Mrs. Fickel's son will attempt to raise the money and save his mother.

Mrs. Fickel embezzled $556.76 from the estate of Bertha Bozenhardt while acting as her guardian. She was convicted, but Judge Vickery told Mrs. Fickel she could go free if she would repay the money.

The judge scored Fickel because he would not pay the amount of embezzlement.

AMATEUR HISTORY SPECIALIST.

(New York Sun.)

Senator Joe Dixon of Montana is getting repute as the amateur specialist in American history, of the upper chamber. The Montana man—who is not yet 42 years old, by the way—was born in North Carolina, though he has lived in the north almost all his life. Naturally, being both a northerner and a southerner, he has taken a deep interest in the campaigns of the Civil war and knows that era with remarkable accuracy. He had a chance recently to revel in the old battle fields which lie all about Washington, and he was a liberal education to the party of friends who had gone out with him in his big touring car for a general sightseeing trip.

At Gettysburg he almost were out his party with chasing over the field and insisting on verifying certain theories he had long entertained about that battle.

On the way back to Washington the party passed through Frederick, Md., the alleged scene of the alleged Barbara Frietchie's alleged adventure with Stonewall Jackson. He insisted on seeing the house where Barbara waved the flag, and an accommodating guide was able to point it out.

"It has been historically demonstrated that Barbara Frietchie is a fabrication," suggested an iconoclast.

Mr. Dixon proceeded to elucidate the historic data in sppport of the theory that Barbara really did live and wave the flag; and he got his way, too; nobody else knew anything about her.

ABSOLUTELY PURE & UNADULTERATED — TRADE MARK

When a man or woman finds sickness coming on, such as indigestion, weak eyes, kidney trouble, etc., it is time some attention is given to the subject of food and drink.

In practically all such cases where coffee or tea is the drink, one can obtain relief by quitting the coffee or tea and taking Postum, for he leaves off a drink that is an active producer of disease and takes in its place a powerful liquid food that contains elements for rebuilding the nerve centres which have heretofore been torn down.
