The French Wave in Salt Lake City.

The French wave that engulfed San Francisco last winter when Professor Nesbitt gave his famous "French in Five Weeks" course to a class of over a thousand people of all ages and walks of life, bids fair to overwhelm this city. Even before the versatile linguist-entertainer has given his opening lessons his work forms the sole topic of conversation in society, club and business circles. As Professor Nesbitt stated in the course of his address to the Salt Lake Ad club on Tuesday evening, his principal aim in advertising is to excite curiosity enough to bring people to his free opening lessons. Then he is able to demonstrate in convincing manner that he is able to fulfill the promises of his announcements. The San Francisco Bulletin, in a full page article on Nesbitt and his work, describes the professor as "a meteoric brain, a compelling personality, with a world-wide knowledge of men and places." Referring to the then prevalent furore, the same paper said "people in all walks of life have got the French fever." A large proportion of Nesbitt's pupils are public school teachers, who are invariably inspired to do better work after attending his class. Such at least seems to be the testimony of hundreds of letters from teachers contained in the volumes on exhibition at Nesbitt's opening lessons. The free opening lessons are being given at Unity hall, 138 Second East, today and tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., 4:15 and 8:15 p. m.

SOCIETY

A beautiful military wedding of yesterday was that which took place at the post chapel at 4:30 o'clock, when Miss Gretta Storm became the bride of Lieutenant Fauntley Miller. The chapel was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and palms, with draperies of the national flag.

The fort orchestra played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party proceeded to the altar. First came the ushers, Lieutenant O. R. Ellis, Lieutenant E. B. Garey, Lieutenant M. E. Adams and Lieutenant George Huddleson. After them came the matron of honor, Mrs. Hugh Walthall, a sister of the bride. Then followed the bride, on the arm of Lieutenant Hugh Walthall. The party was met at the altar by the bridegroom and Lieutenant Eugene Santschi, who acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bulkley of St. Mark's cathedral, and the bride was given away by her brother, Lieutenant Walthall. As the bridal party left the church the Mendelssohn wedding march was played.

After the ceremony 100 guests were entertained at a reception given at the quarters of Lieutenant Walthall.

The porch was enclosed with flags and was beautifully decorated with the bright-colored autumn leaves. Indoors white chrysanthemums were banked in profusion about the parlors, and here the flags were also used with charming effect. In the dining room pink roses were used in the decorations, a mound of the blossoms decorating the table, which was lighted with pink-shaded candelabra. During the reception music was rendered by the fort orchestra.

Mrs. Walthall was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. G. W. Storm of East Orange, N. J.

The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of white satin, with applique trimmings. It was made en train in the princess effect, and the bridal veil of tulle was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses, and her only ornament was a pearl and diamond heart, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Walthall's gown was of bright blue meteor cloth, with silver trimmings, and she wore a white picture hat, trimmed with white plumes. Her bouquet was of pink roses in the shower effect. Mrs. Storm wore a beautiful gown of gray meteor cloth, made en train, with lace trimmings.

The gentlemen were in full military dress, and the entire scene was one of the most brilliant of the season..

After Dec. 1 Lieutenant and Mrs. Miller will be at home at No. 20, at the Fort Douglas quarters. The wedding trip will be to California, and the young couple will be away two months.

The bride wore a going away gown of royal blue broadcloth, and with it a large black traveling hat.

A beautiful home wedding that took place yesterday was that of Miss Aimee Best and Albert Raymond Jordan, who were married at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Thaxter White in State stret, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles Perkins, pastor of St. Paul's church.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Lydia White, as maid of honor, and Miss Belle Blythe as bridesmaid, and the Misses Ruth Treweek, Helen Clawson and Annie Adams as ribbon bearers. The little Misses Katherine Keith, Florell Johnson and Dorothy White acted as flower girls. The bridegroom was attended by Gordon Glass of New York as best man. A reception to 150 guests followed the ceremony. A large mound of pink and white asters decorated the dining table, and pink ribbons extended from the chandelier to the table, where they were caught in butterfly bows. Those who assisted in the dining room were Mrs. Walter Tuttle, Mrs. Charles Ross, Mrs. Jack Keith, Mrs. Robert Forester and Mrs. Charles Fuller.

Mrs. White was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Colin McIntosh, an aunt of Mr. Jordan.

The bride was beautiful in a white satin princess gown, made en train, with trimmings of princess lace. Miss White's gown was of pink silk, with trimmings of real lace, while Miss Blythe wore an imported gown of pink messaline silk, with jewel trimmings, and made en train. The bridal bouquet was a shower effect of white bride roses, and the attendants carried clusters of pink roses.

After Oct. 15 Mr. and Mrs. Jordan will be at home at the Bungalow apartments on Third East street.

The marriage of Miss Janet Murdoch and Jerrold E. Thompson took place yesterday afternoon at the temple, with President John R. Winder officiating. In the evening a reception to about 200 guests was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Murdoch in G street. Pink asters and palms were used with beautiful effect in the parlor decorations, the palms forming a bower where the bridal party stood. Sunflowers were massed with pretty effect in the hall and many palms were used. Here punch was served, the table being presided over by Miss Emma Dykes. In the dining room a red color scheme was used, a cluny lace cloth over red satin covering the dining table, which was lighted by the shaded candelabra. A large mound of red flowers formed the table centerpiece and red satin ribbons were drawn from the round table to the chandelier. Mrs. Grace Woolley and Mrs. William Murdoch presided at the dining table, assisted by the Misses Margaret Romney, Sarah Romney, Marvel Madsen, Genevieve Simmons, Claire Pendleton and Mary Murdoch. Those who assisted Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch in receiving were the Misses Mary and Edna Hunter.

The bridesmaid was Miss Nora Murdoch, a sister of the bride, and the bridegroom was attended by T. L. Christensen as best man. A beautiful gown of embroidered white net over white messaline silk was worn by the bride, the gown being en train in the empire effect. White bride roses in the shower effect were carried by the bride. Miss Nora Murdoch wore a white net over blue silk, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The bride's traveling gown was of dark blue broadcloth, with hat in the same shade. Following a wedding trip to the Pacific northwest, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will be at home after Nov. 15 at 69 G street.

The wedding of Miss Anna Picker and E. Bernard Kelsey took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Picker. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. C. C. McIntyre, and was followed by a reception to about thirty guests. The parlor was beautifully decorated in white asters and dahlias, and asters in the various shades were used in the dining room, a large mound of the blossoms forming the table centerpiece. Those who assisted in the dining room were Mrs. T. H. Talbot, Mrs. T. B. Tripp and Miss Lena Picker. The bride was attended by Miss Emma Picker and Miss Myrtle Kelsey. Roy Teter acted as best man.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk and carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses, while the attendants, who were also gowned in white silk, carried cluster bouquets of the white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey left last night for a month's visit in California.

An autumn luncheon was given yesterday by Mrs. C. E. Richards, with Mrs. Elmer Jones as the complimented guest. The house was beautifully decorated in the autumn leaves and flowers.

* * *

A musicale was given last night at the home of Mrs. Rodney Hillam, the guests of honor being Mrs. A. J. Prosser of Los Angeles and Miss Naomi Van Dyke, an autumn bride. The rooms were decorated in pink roses and asters, a mound of the roses decorating the dining table, where the Misses Leonore Van Dyke and Ida Van Dyke and the Misses Luella Wareing and Nina Waring assisted. Thirty-six guests were entertained during the evening.

* * *

Mrs. R. H. Peale entertained at a delightful bridge tea given yesterday afternoon at her home in First avenue, the guests of honor being her mother, Mrs. M. Allen, and her sister, Miss Allie Peale of Chicago. Four tables of bridge were played and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. H. Beifuss and Mrs. H. A. Clark. The tables were prettily decorated in sunflowers and autumn leaves.

A pretty home wedding last night was that of Miss Mabel Florence Parry and W. Field Williams, the ceremony being performed at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Parry, Nephi L. Morris officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Eda Taysum, and Frank L. Reinsimar acted as best man. The bride was gowned in a cream messaline silk, with trimmings of silk lace, and carried white bride's roses. Miss Taysum's gown was of pink silk, trimmed in Battenberg lace, and her bouquet was a cluster of white asters.

For the reception which followed the ceremony the parlors were decorated in pink and white roses, with streamers of red hearts extending from the chandelier to the corners of the room. A wedding bell was suspended from the chandelier and under this the bridal party stood while receiving the guests.

A color scheme of red was carried out in the dining room decorations, the red hearts being strung from the chandelier to the dining table, which was lighted with red-shaded candelabra, and decorated with a centerpiece of red roses. Those who assisted in the serving were the Misses Winnie Parry, Hazel Parry, Hulda Nielson, and Mrs. Harry James. The punch bowl was presided over by the bride's sister, little Miss Gwendolyn Parry. Mr. and Mrs. Parry were assisted in receiving by their daughters, the Misses Hazel and Minnie Parry.

During the evening a number of delightful musical selections were rendered. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home after Oct. 1 at 518 Sixth avenue.

Miss Ione Morrison was the honored guest at a delightful luncheon with which Mrs. C. R. Pearsall entertained yesterday at the Country club. Covers were laid for sixteen guests.

* * *

A delightful afternoon tea was that with which Mrs. Ned Ferry entertained yesterday, the complimented guests being Miss Juliet Banks, who is the guest of Mrs. Montague Ferry, and Miss Margaret McClure, who leaves Saturday for the east. A silver basket filled with purple asters formed the centerpiece on the dining table, about which were strewn autumn leaves in the bright red and golden tints. Here Mrs. Ferry was assisted by Mrs. Montague Ferry, Mrs. E. O. Howard, Mrs. Benner X. Smith, Mrs. Lewis McCornick, Mrs. Frank Jennings and Mrs. Ernest Bamberger. The hall was beautifully decorated in quantities of the Virginia creeper, while yellow golden glow and sunflowers were used in the hall and drawing room. The beautiful red ash berries were effectively used in the decorations upstairs. Fifty guests were present at the tea during the hours from 4 to 6.

* * *

Mrs. Walter Romney was hostess at a delightful matinee party given yesterday at the Colonial theatre in honor of Miss Ardelle Romney, whose marriage takes place today. Following the play, a delightful luncheon was given at Franklin's, the table being decorated in pink and white asters, with covers laid for nine guests.

* * *

A beautiful luncheon given at the Country club yesterday was that with which Miss Winifred Brice entertained in honor of Miss Marie Odell, who has recently returned from an extended trip abroad. Pink and white chrysanthemums decorated the luncheon table and dainty covers marked the places of ten guests.

A recital was given Tuesday evening by the pupils of Madame Brodbeck at her recital hall. The work of the pupils was of the usual excellence, and special praise is due to the younger pupil, Miss Sarah Sims, who gave two delightful numbers during the evening. The playing of Miss Olivia Brodbeck and Mrs. Brodbeck was most pleasing to the audience, while the vocal numbers given by Mrs. Brodbeck won much applause. Mrs. Brodbeck was ably assisted by Dr. A. Brodbeck, baritone, and H. J. Sims, flutist.
