NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

The Usual Bright and Newsy Notes Gathered in

BY OUR ALERT CORRESPONDENTS.

Summary of All the News and Events in Summit and Morgan Counties During the Past Week.

OAKLEY.

Miss Emma Hartle returned home from Salt Lake the 12th inst.

H. H. Stevens and others returned from a trip to Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, where they have been looking for locations. They bring some very flattering reports.

The baseball game between the Red Bells and the Hoytsville nine was very interesting. The Hoytsville boys came out victorious. In nine innings the Hoytsville boys made 30 runs, Oakley boys 45 runs. The Oakley boys gave a dance [illegible] was well attended and [illegible] pleasant. Come again [illegible] time since the [illegible] to entertain you [illegible]

[illegible] Miss Hortin is visiting [illegible] friends in Wanship.

Miss Sylvia Snapp went to Park City to spend the summer.

S. B. Snapp has commenced to letter on his brick yard with a full set of hands.

Wanted, a boy about 16 years old at the brickyard in Oakley.

The river banks are lined with fisher[illegible] at [illegible] camps are in every bend of the river where they can pitch a tent.

Mr. Thomas Cunklin of Salt Lake is visiting Mr. Jensen and will assist Oscar in farming.

FROM

On and after August 1st, 1894, money orders will be issued and paid at the Post-office. Who says Peoa is not [illegible] the front?

[illegible] from Salt Lake City last week, where she has been staying for some weeks past.

W. H. Blessed, Albert Miles and Lon. Merrit went to Salt Lake City last week and returned home on Sunday morning.

The rain storms during the fore part of the week put a stop to haying, but it did a great amount of good to the growing crops.

The prospects for a bountiful harvest this season are very encouraging to our farmers.

The cutting of lucerne will be general as soon as the weather clears up.

Utah, the 45th State of the Union, will be the banner State, and her star on Old Glory will be the brightest of all.

Mrs. Sadie Roundy and Mrs. Ann Eliza Noel were both severely hurt on Tuesday afternoon by being thrown from a buggy. They, with some of their children, were returning home when the pole of the buggy came down, frightening the horses. The ladies and all but one child were thrown to the ground. Mrs. Noel's arm was thrown out of joint at the elbow and Mrs. Roundy, who was in a delicate condition, was severely hurt. The children escaped with nothing more than a fright. Dr. Maxwell set Mrs. Noel's arm and the lady is doing as well as possible. Mrs. Roundy, at last account, was suffering severely from a hurt in her back and was unable to move around without assistance. Both ladies have the sympathy of the community.

S. P. Stevens returned home on Tuesday afternoon from his trip through the National Park. Mr. Stephens reports that he saw a large amount of country and many thing of interest, he and party having traveled over thirteen hundred miles since leaving here. The trip was made with wagons and saddle horses. Some of the parties who went out with Mr. Stevens did not return with him. Robert E. Maxwell procured work in the National Park, John L. Miles at Idaho Falls and Abraham M. Lyons at Basalt, Idaho. Horace H. Stevens, of the party, returned on Monday.

Our citizens will celebrate in grand shape on the twenty-fourth, Pioneer Day.

The Quarterly Conference of the Twenty-Second Quorum of Seventies will be held in Wanship, on Sunday, July 22nd. A full attendance is requested.

Dr. Ira Lyon passed through Peoa on Wednesday for Holiday Park.

H. B. Clawson, Jr., and family, of Salt Lake City, went to Hoyting Park last week. That lively resort is being filled up rapidly.

Albert Miles is putting up a large barn.

Andrea Jorgensen has moved on to his land just South of his old home.

It is said that Mr. Warth will "camp" [illegible] the young idea how to shoot" at Stony, Salt Lake county, this coming fall and winter. May success attend him.

During the severe electric storm on Monday a flash of lightning struck so near to John R. Maxwell and his team that the horses of the hair raised one of the horses in though he was shot. The animal lay as if dead for some little time when it slowly began to recover. Mr. Maxwell felt the effects of the jolt and says he can feel a pain in his head now from it. Both men and team had a narrow escape from death. Mr. Maxwell says he never saw the lightning so vivid and continuous as it was on that day in Weber county, and that he can see he never will have an experience like it again.

Upon the news reaching Peoa that President Cleveland had signed the statehood bill, the flag was unfurled to front of the postoffice, and were flung and the good citizens of our town rejoiced that Utah would soon take her place in the Union of States. All honor should be given to "Old Joe," and those who resisted him so manfully in bringing about this desired and happy result. Utah is truly the Queen of the West and will do honor to our great Nation. Both Republicans and Democrats are united in congratulations.

S. R. L. VISA.

ROCKPORT.

James Salmon of Coalville and Lorian Crittenden of Hoytsville gave the speakers at the meeting on Sunday last.

Arrangements are being made for a little Pioneer Day.

[illegible] July 20th is the [illegible] of the week.

Joseph D. Mallin and Alfred Simmons made a trip to Salt Lake City the first of the week.

Wm. White of Oakley is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Beesley.

The Rockport boys will cross bats with the Red Bells in a friendly game of ball on Saturday, the 21st.

Joseph Vernon and wife, J. M. Mallin and wife, and Miss Hattie Mallin have gone to Kansas to spend a few days.

HOYTSVILLE

There will be [illegible] of devastating [illegible] summer if there is not an early move on the part of the farmers in order to exterminate them by poison or otherwise. They have already this season cleaned out crops of alfalfa, wheat and oats lying near the foothills.

Born, to the wife of Alma Stonebraker, a daughter, on Sunday last, July 15th.

For five or more years Mr. Byeron Smith and wife have had two of their children, aged 7 and 12, under treatment for catarrh and consumption, as they were advised that was their complaint. But recently a doctor took from the ear of one several kernels of popcorn, and from the other's nose a clove button. These had been pushed in by the children years ago. They are now getting along all right.

The following will be the program for the celebration of the 24th of July at Hoytsville: Morning exercises at the meeting house in charge of the marshal of the day, Mr. John Quinn, commencing at 10 o'clock sharp. Singing by the Ward Choir; Prayer by chaplain, Robert McMichael, Jr; Oration by orator of the day, G. G. Redden; Duet by the Misses F. Brown and A. Sargent; Select reading by Orson Ryan; stump speech by C. H. West; recitation by Master Jonah Hatch; selection by the harmonic band; song by Miss Olive Crittenden and others; benediction by chaplain; refreshments and recess for one hour, followed by the potato, egg, three-leg, wheelbarrow and foot races; a contest game of baseball between the Red Bells and Odd Fellows; then a dance for the juveniles; also a free dance for the adults at the meeting house in the evening.

ECHO.

Evanston and Coalville played a baseball game in Bromley's Grove Sunday, July 15th. The result was 18 to 17 in favor of Coalville.

The work train has resumed work with a force of new men.

J. E. Bromley returned from Salt Lake July 16th.

Joseph Hunt goes to Wasatch to day, July 19, to watch the tunnel.

The Evanston base ball boys express themselves as being well treated by the Coalville people.

George F. Olsen has been to Wasatch looking after the interest of John Hopkin for the last ten days.

The Union Pacific Relief line shoot forty watchmen on the road between Echo and Ogden, looking after the bridges and track.

Detective T. C. Scott is now at the Croydon bridge, County's lookout.

The Park City day schools have a picnic in Bromley's Grove July 20th.

WAHSATCH

There have been several wool buyers here the last few days, and nearly all the wool has been sold, though some clips have not yet changed hands.

William Moss is shipping his large clip of wool East through a commission agency.

Mr. Cowan, of Cowan, Lee & Co., was here on Friday and made some purchases of wool.

The business season is about over here, and the Hopkin company have moved their goods from their branch store.

The ranchers here are busy starting on their hay crop.

David Moses has contracted to gather the hay on the Bennion place.

The present season has been the poorest for the wool business known for years. Prices realized for this staple have been very low compared to previous years, excepting last year, when the rates were about the same.

The Wyoming sheep-herd goose has was on for the season on the Hills, and now chickens on our border are being slaughtered by wholesale.

HEBER.

Mrs. Sarah Garner of Park City is visiting her many friends in Heber.

Mr. Thomas Conklin, Sr., of Croydon, was one of the speakers at the services here on Sunday.

Mrs. John Mitchell of Park City is visiting her sister, Mrs. James E. Hewes.

John Foster and Robert A. Jones visited Echo on Sunday as home missionaries.

[illegible] to Castle [illegible] during the week.

[illegible] closed here on the 17th and haying was somewhat delayed.

The Heber boys have sold their wool and about five thousand dollars worth was shipped from here on Monday last.

Mr. John Roberts, who has been making a prolonged business stay here, returned to Salt Lake on the 16th.

MIDWAY.

Ross Smith's three-year-old son, of this city, who has been sick for the past week, died Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m. The funeral takes place Wednesday.

David Tracy of Ogden is here on business connected with the Heber Brick Commercial Company, of which he is a member.

Joseph Fort of Park City, who has been visiting his family and friends, returned home the 16th inst.

[illegible] Miss Hutchley left for [illegible] Rockford, Ills., who have been visiting friends and relatives here the past three weeks, returned home Wednesday, July 18th.

The first crop of lucerne through this part of the country is cut and mostly all hauled. The farmers here have been working both night and day for fear of rain coming and damaging their crops.

The game of baseball played Saturday between the Coalville mixed nine and North Morgan first nine was very close and interesting and was watched with eager eyes by a large crowd of spectators. The game came out 19 to 20 in favor of the Morgan boys. One of the Coalville boys by the name of Crompton was taken suddenly ill from the effects of drinking too much ice water while playing. He suffered intensely for several hours while at the Morgan house, but later in the evening got better and returned home.

A grand ball at Lake Como was given by Littlefield & Eddington in honor of the Coalville boys Saturday evening which was well attended, and all present had a very pleasant time. The evenings enjoyment concluded at about 2 a. m., and all returned home well pleased with their night out.

The North Morgan and the first nine from Hooper, Weber county, will play a match game here on the 24th inst.

The German picnic at Lake Como Tuesday was a decided success. Several ladies and gentlemen were considering the next day of the attacks brought on by too much laughing, but at last accounts no broken ribs were discovered. Of course we can only blame our Mayor, as he was the ringleader, and when ever he takes a hand in anything something is going to peg.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Friday, July 20th.

The Democrats of the House, today, without a division of sentiment, so far as the surface indications were concerned and amid a scene of unparalleled enthusiasm, sent the tariff bill back to the conferees to stand firm against the amendments which the Senate had placed upon the bill.

The following dispatch from Sacramento has been posted by the A. R. U. strike committee: Fillmore agreed to take back all men without prejudice. The company could not withdraw Pullmans without incurring a law suit. [illegible] strains moved until further notice. The last part of this dispatch greatly pleased the strikers who interpreted it to mean an unconditional surrender by the Southern Pacific. They say that pending the settlement of the question of rates between Pullman and the Southern Pacific Company no trains will be put out of Sacramento.

Earthquakes at Constantinople, continuous at irregular intervals. The inhabitants of the city have been driven to a condition of abject fear by the repeated disturbances, and in all places which have felt the earthquakes, a state of panic exists. Houses have been deserted, and the people are clustered in the parks, gardens and fields. All are suffering hardships, and the exposures are especially severe on the sick and persons injured during the early shocks. The sea of Marmora seems to be the center of the disturbance. A wing of the Millinen school fell to-day, killing three persons and wounding twenty-two. Many bodies have been extricated from the ruins in various parts of the city. The shocks are very severe at Adabazaar. One hundred and thirty-houses were wrecked here, and seventy-two persons lost their lives.

While in the p[illegible] a speech [illegible] At 11 AM at which John Morris [illegible] the darkened end of the rope and the disrupted rope was slowly lowered and took to the coffin standing underneath the platform. The face was not badly disfigured, though the mouth was open and the tongue protruding. The color of the features was a bluish tint, while the sideburns, reddish hair, sagging nose and the bruised, marks the night one long to be remembered.

Harry Knox, the A. R. U. leader at Sacramento, is arrested for destroying the trestle by which five lives were lost.

Biloxi, Miss., July 14.—An unknown negro was lynched here this morning. On Thursday evening he attempted to commit an outrage on a woman living three miles from this city, but she succeeded in driving him off. He was captured and afterward confessed the crime.

Hoboken, N.J., July 14.—The striking Italians on the new boulevard throw stones at the police to-day. The police then fired on them. Policeman Anderson latally shot one Italian. The mob then quited down.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 14.—News reaches here from Dickson county that masked men shot William Bell, alias Dave, a negro. He was a horse-thief and was suspected of many crimes.

Helena, Mont., July 14.—Special to Tribune.—The robbers who stole a safe containing $11,000 from the driver of an express wagon at Wickes yesterday did not get away with their booty, although they have so far escaped detection themselves. When the alarm was spread posses sprang up in great numbers and were soon hot on the trail. The robbers found they could not escape [illegible] a shallow creek, [illegible] the safe and it was [illegible] this morning. They wrapped their wrapper in some old clothes and tried to force them beyond identification. They drove their team within a mile of town and abandoned the rig. It is supposed they came into that town during the night and are probably there yet. The two men who found the safe received a reward of $500 each.

Humboldt, Tenn., July 14.—Miss Fortia Wellington, the 16 year-old daughter of L. W. Wellington, a wealthy planter was ravaged and murdered by an unknown fiend near her father's home at Pierson, Tenn., yesterday. Miss Wellington and a younger sister while out picking blackberries, became separated. After some hours the younger one could not find her sister and gave the alarm. The whole neighborhood was around and she was finally found with her throat cut. There was also evidences of criminal assault. The whole settlement is aroused and hundreds of men are scouring the woods for the fiend.

A Tribune special says:—Lewis W. Tyler of Ogden, Utah, a miner, was found dead in his room at No. 50 Colfax Avenue, Denver. Death resulted from an overdose of morphine. Tyler was suffering from rheumatism and it is supposed he took morphine to relieve the pain.

London, July 16.—A special dispatch to the Times from Chemulpo says fresh trouble has broken out in the district in Korea where the recent uprising occurred. Christians are involved in the trouble and a number of them have been killed. The French are now threatened. A gunboat is proceeding to the maritime point nearest the scene of the disturbance, where it will close from communication to the person of escape for Mr. Twelgrave. A dispatch in the Standard states the North German Gazette, commenting upon British doubts on the Chino-Japanese dispute, says such hesitation does not mean a settlement of the question, as it is perfectly clear that Japan wants to profit by the trouble to push the Chinese out of the peninsula. It is a matter upon which Japan fairly thought and claimed to transport.

New York, July 16.—A man 50 years of age, who registered at the Grand Hotel, Hoboken, on June 10th, as John H. Powers, was found dead in his bed this afternoon. Death is supposed to have resulted from an overdose of morphine. It was first thought to be from Seattle, Wash., but letters and effects seem to show that his real name was T. W. Riley of Memphis.

The Colgate searching party sent out by the Evening Mercurian, under the direction of Ben F. Keeley, the trapper who escorted the Carlin hunting party out of the mountain fastness last fall which left this city June 8th, returned unexpectly this afternoon. The party made a thorough search of the river banks and surrounding country for a distance of seven miles in all directions from the spot were the unfortunate cook was deserted by his companions. Not a single trace of the missing man can be found, nor was there anything to indicate he had wandered away from the camp where he had been left. The Herder party encountered many hardships on the trip but stuck faithfully to the task until all hope of finding Colgate's bones had to be abandoned. It is now generally believed the old man perished near the spot where deserted, and that his remains were carried away by the waters, which attained a height of forty feet above low water mark during the spring.

A telegram signed by Debs is produced in which he advises Montana strikers to save their money and buy guns.

SEORET BY THE TREASURY.

A Tribune special says: At midnight last night President Cleveland signed the act enabling the Territory of Utah to be admitted into the Union. The bill after having been sent to the President, was submitted to the Attorney-General for his opinion as to whether it was in proper form. Mr. Cleveland just before going to bed took up the silver proclamation which had been left with him for the purpose, and affixing to it a plain steel pen, wrote on the engrossed copy the words "Approved—Grover Cleveland." He did not sign the bill.

The proclamation will be presented by Delegate Rawlins to the Utah Historical Society.

CONGRATULATIONS ALL ROUND.

All those who have been working for Utah's admission have been congratulating themselves to-day that the measure has become a law. It is now conceded that had the bill with its blunder regarding the election of Congressmen gone to the President uncorrected it would doubtless have been sent back to Congress for revision or have been vetoed on account of its defective form. The correction made by concurrent resolution enabled the bill to be sent to the President as the Senate Committee on Territories intended it should be, and there was no ground after that for any doubt as to the outcome.

Governor West, on the day in which the bill passed, was the President and congratulated him on the action of Congress. He was satisfied from the President's manner that he was favorable to the measure.

CLEAR OF THE CAUCUS.

The attempt made to spring a sensation in regard to the alleged "illegal scheme did not at all effect Mr. Cleveland, and whatever its object, is failed to accomplishing the main purpose.

The Star this evening gives the following account of how the President signed the Utah bill, in which the gold pen was called upon [illegible] work:

"The President has signed the bill providing for a constitution for Utah and its admission as a State, but Delegate Rawlins of Utah is a lucky dog appointed man over one piece of the spoil. When Congress passed the bill for the admission of Utah to the Union as a full-fledged State, he purchased a solid gold pen and a solid silver holder, elaborately carved and engraved and left them with Private Secretary Thurber, with the distinct understanding that it should be used by the President in affixing his signature to the admission bill and by that act making it the law of the land.

FOUND THE PEN.

The pen and holder were then to be returned to Mr. Rawlins for presentation for all the time as public exhibition in the seats House of the new State. The President and Mr. Thurber each entered gladly into the arrangement, and Mr. Rawlins felicitated himself accordingly. But the best laid plans "gang aft agley," and so it happened in this case.

The President sat at his desk late last night and disposed of a lot of routine business in a perfunctory way. Several bills were laid on his desk with the statement that they all had been reported favorably by the department to which they belonged.

WITH MANY PENS.

Either the President overlooked the fact that the Utah bill was in the batch or he forgot his promise to Mr. Rawlins. At any rate he signed the Utah bill first as he did not scribble with a small steel pen [illegible] with the [illegible] material, but as the only possible remedy, after it was too late to rectify the mistake, it was decided to give the pen actually used to Mr. Rawlins as a souvenir of the event. The virgin gold pen was thereupon removed from the silver holder and the old black steel pen put there instead. They were put in a beautiful plush case, together with the engraved gold pen, and will be presented to Mr. Rawlins as soon as he calls at the White House.

Thursday, July 19th.

Silver, 62½ cents; lead, $3.10.

Cholera is increasing in Europe.

Debs says he enjoys his stay in jail.

[illegible] of silver is ordered.

France will suppress [illegible] by drastic laws.

Natives loot the British flag on Corn Island.

The strike seems practically ended in the East.

Bondholders of the Oregon Short Line take an important step.

The Senate passes Carey's measure for cession of arid lands to the States.

The Senate Committee recommends the admission of Arizona and New Mexico.

The Union Pacific shops in Wyoming and Idaho will not be reopened for repair work.

Mr. Preston, the director of the mint, to-day by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, issued orders to the mint authorities at San Francisco and New Orleans to begin at once the coinage of silver dollars, and during the present month to coin up to the ordinary capacities of the mints. The silver to be first coined will be blanks and ingots, of which there is sufficient to coin $1,500,000 in these two mints and at Philadelphia. At such as this supply is exhausted work probably will begin on the silver, of which there is a year's supply at San Francisco and New Orleans, probably five year's supply at Philadelphia. So far as can be learned, it is the purpose of the Government to coin the coinage of seigniorage beyond a [illegible] millions, but it is stated that after coining what gold may be necessary, reaching the shadow treasury of each of the three mints probably will be warned at their normal capacity on silver dollars, for the next several months, at least, and presumably up to the end of the present year. Whether treasury notes will be retired as fast as received for silver, so far as known, has not been determined.
