THE COUNTY NEWS

GATHERED BY OUR ALERT CORRESPONDENTS.

The Events of the Week From Nearly Every Town in Summit County—What "The Times's" Representatives Have Found to Write About.

[THE TIMES's correspondents are earnestly requested to get their matter in this office not later than Thursday morning of every week, in order to prepare transcripts and sometimes to be possibly to handle matter that arrives later than this date.—ED.]

FOA.

Frank Maxwell unexpectedly returned home on December 20th, in time to visit his Christmas dinner with his father and mother. Frank has been employed by the Butte Mining Co. in Montana. He was joyously welcomed home by a host of relatives and friends.

Mr. Edward Walker presented your correspondent with some very fine new peanuts for his Christmas dinner. New peanuts at this time of the year is something of a luxury in these localities.

The entertainment on Christmas eve was a good success.

On the afternoon of Christmas day the children were given a dance and in the evening the older ones enjoyed themselves in the dance. Good music, large and enjoyment was the general order of the day.

Born, December 23rd, to the wife of D. B. Williams, a boy. The new boy weighed 13 pounds. Henry thinks this honors him a new lease of life. Mother and child doing well.

A drunken fellow, from one of our neighboring towns, disturbed the quiet of our village a few nights ago. Don't do it again, young fellow, or you will be pulled up on a sore ear goes. Sympathy will have no effect this cold time.

James Wheeler's rolling boat is furnishing the music here during the holidays.

R. R. R. VIEW.

OAKLEY.

Annie Scott is recent after an illness of about six weeks.

C. S. Work, the Oakley school teacher, and Mr. Olmstead, the North Kanyon teacher, are spending the holidays at Salt Lake.

William White and wife gave a turkey dinner on Wednesday to a few friends. Those present were Mrs. D. B. Hoff, Mrs. S. Evans, N. B. Sargent and lady, Mr. White and his lady made everything pleasant that they could in the way of necessities of life, not something to make the eye sparkle.

Miss May Belle Fowler returned from Park City last Saturday.

J. B. Fowler's little babe is very sick at this writing.

James Evans and wife spent their Christmas in Park City.

Christmas was a dull day in Oakley, owing to the hard times. E.

ROCKPORT

Christmas passed off quite pleasantly here. The children were given a dance in the afternoon. The dance in the evening was well attended. Quite a number of young people were here from Wanship. All present appeared to have an enjoyable time.

Quite a number of Rockport young people were at the dance in Wanship on Christmas eve.

Howard Malin and wife and Miss Flossie Smith went to Salt Lake City on Monday to spend the holidays.

Miss Lodie Staker returned home on Friday last from Pleasant Grove, where she has been for some time.

Miss Anice Vernon is quite ill. She returned home from Park City on the 20th inst.

Miss Louie Johnson came home from the Park on the 19th.

Mr. William Brown and Miss Sarah Gibbons made a trip to Salt Lake City last week.

Mr. Anna Sargent and wife of Hoytsville spent Christmas here with her brothers, William and Samuel Brown.

William Horton and wife, Nathaniel Staker and wife, Thomas, Allura, and George Gibbons of Oakley, with their families, spent Christmas in Rockport with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wardell of Peoa were visiting her mother, Mrs. Julia Conroy, on the 25th.

Miss Martin of Park City is here visiting with her sister, Mrs. Steven.

There will be a dance in Rockport Social Hall on the evening of December 31st.

James Rhead, William Welsh and Thomas Chappel of Coalville spent Christmas with us. There appears to be some attraction for these guys in Rockport.

Thomas Gibbons is home from Salt Lake City to spend his holidays with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Henry went to Provo to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Gibbons.

William Wendelbo was down from Oakley to spend Christmas with his parents.

WANSHIP

Henry Boyle has three children down with typhoid fever now, and another one with symptoms of it.

Henry Reynolds went to Salt Lake on the 24th on business.

Christmas was a quiet day for both young and old. Those who Christmas now at the usual house which were could on the opposite side but in change, as it was decorated most beautifully. The presents were nice and there were lots of them. A program was rendered as follows: Remarks on the day by A. Peterson; song (quartet) by Mr. and Mrs. A. Bates, Mrs. Berrow and William Pendleton; song, speech, by Peter Hixon; Christmas dialogue, by five small boys and five small girls; recitation by Miss Gracie Young. The song by the girls, which was the greatest hit of the season. It was well rendered. After dancing santa Claus was introduced to the audience, and to the great wonder to distribute the presents, which created much amusement for the children. This closed the program for the afternoon. After partaking of the Christmas dinner, the children met at Young's Social Hall, where they spent the afternoon in dancing. The day will long be remembered.

The dance in Young's Hall on Christmas eve was very largely attended. The hall was crowded.

Mrs. M. A. Williams came out from Salt Lake City to spend the holidays at home. She will return right after New Year's and resume her studies.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dunn gave a social party at their residence on the evening of the 20th.

Mr. Andrew Peterson went to Salt Lake City last week to attend a case he had against the Continental Insurance Company.

Mr. Thomas Reynolds went from Salt Lake to spend the holiday vacation. He is attending the University this winter.

Messrs. E. S. Young, Adam Peterson, J. M. Hixson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson were down from Park City to spend Christmas.

ECHO.

James Hopkins and family and Joseph Hopkins and family, accompanied by Mr Frank Geist and other guests, spent Christmas in Croydon.

Mrs. George Olson ate turkey in Coalville Christmas.

Brim & Weaver have moved their cattle to the Asper ranch.

No trains accept the regular mail run Wednesday.

Joseph Wolst and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wichel, spent Christmas in Morgan.

Christmas was a quiet day here. The absence of sufficient snow excluded those who were so inclined from participating in the enjoyment of a sleighride, and attractions at other places drew a great number away.

The case of the People vs. Porter and Kilburn, charged with cattle stealing was heard by Justice Morse Wednesday afternoon in Hopkin Hall, a change of venue having been taken from Coalville last Friday. Upwards of one hundred persons were present. They were from Porterville, Morgan, Henefer and Coalville. Notwithstanding the strong argument made by the defense they were bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000—$700 for Porter and $300 for Kilburn. The bonds were furnished at once, Mr. Peterson and Eli Kilburn becoming sureties. D. B. Tewksbury of Park City represented the prosecution and A. J. Weber of Ogden the defense. The prosecution had a large number of witnesses, but the defense had none.

All due preparations are being made for the masquerade on New Year's eve.

A. J. Weber of Ogden, counsel for Porter and Kilburn, was a conspicuous figure in Echo Wednesday.

J. W. Gullier of Wahsatch spent Christmas in Echo.

UPTON.

The Y. M. M. I. A. of Upton was favored with a visit on Sunday evening from Joseph Wilde and Carl Allison of Coalville. The regular program was suspended and the meeting was given to these gentlemen. Mr. Allison was the first speaker, his subject being self-improvement and the importance of doing study from all good books. He advised the young to read reading building and nourishing literature, for sources should form a proper course of reading and knowledge. Joseph Wilde spoke of his experience as a missionary and the many challenges he received of the power of God in behalf of his engagement in his labor. He exhorted the young men to prepare themselves for future usefulness and high and important duties.

It is growing rumored that Mrs. William Bower of Upton is seven improving in health since my last writing.

Quite a number of young people from Spring Hollow spent their Christmas evening in Upton, shadowy the Spring Hollow's in attendance. Notable were the following everybody: Matt Wright, Joseph Wilson, Joseph Clark, and John James of Coalville. C.

HENEFER.

Christmas day will long be remembered by the people of Henefer, especially the young. According to program, the people met at 10 a. m. in the meeting house, which, by the way, has just been whitewashed and neatly painted for the occasion by our energetic committee. After opening exercises an appropriate address was delivered by Mr. Stephen Bond on the "Birth of Christ," which was followed by an essay by Miss Dora Ely and a song by the Misses Burton. A local address was also made by Mr. Robert A. Jones and several other pieces were sung by the choir, after which the presents were distributed from the Christmas tree, which to the joy and satisfaction of the little ones. The afternoon was spent in dancing by the children and the adults spent the evening in the same manner. Too much cannot be said for our committee for the taste and good order shown by them throughout the entire affair, and we hope to see more such happy reunions together.

Quite a number of visitors were noticed at our party on Christmas; some some from Park City, Coalville, Echo, Morgan, Salt Lake City and Croydon.

The people of Henefer are hereby informed that the grand masquerade ball that was to be held at Echo on New Year's night will be held on New Year's eve.

About half the male people of our town attended the trial at Echo of Messrs. Porter and Kilburn on the 20th. The lawyers, by their eloquent oratory and interrogations, held the audience spellbound all the afternoon and it was a great relief to everybody when our worthy judge, E. Morse, brought the proceeding to a close by binding over the defendants to the grand jury. E.

The Creamery.

HENEFER, Dec. 25, 1894.

EDITOR TIMES:—I will tell you the best location, in my opinion, for the establishment of a successful and prosperous creamery in Summit county. It can be plainly seen by those who read my last letter in THE TIMES that none of our towns alone would be able to furnish milk in sufficient quantity, but that it would require the combined efforts of Rockport, 10 miles; Wanship, 7; Hoytsville, 3; Upton, 10; Henefer, 10; Echo, 8 miles, and perhaps Peoa and Croydon, which are about 12 miles and also the three wards comprising Coalville, to profitably operate a creamery all the year round. It would be best not far near a railway depot on account of smoke. It should be a distance from a place of worship because of being open to receive milk on Sunday morning. Therefore a good location would be on the county road and south of Chalk creek, close by Chalk creek bridge in Coalville. Good water could be obtained here by sinking a well at a small cost. CIM.

Mercur Mercury.—The steep railroad cut on the hill below the Mercur mine, which was finished the first of the week, opened a vein where no one had any idea that one existed. It is very lively looking matter, and is probably an extension of the Mercur vein. Assays are being made to determine its value, and there is no reason to doubt but that it is good milling ore. This, with the developments recently made in the working below the Ruby tunnel, proves that the resources of this property are not even yet half developed.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The Business of the Week as Reported by Dun's Review.

For the time being exports of gold and uncertainty about financial legislation, the movement would be more favorable, some increase is seen in orders given to manufacturing works. Though the fall off has still made the loss actually of work especially considerable. The holiday trade has been rather poor in most places, partly owing to mild weather. There is distinctly more confidence shown about the future, although for the time being business is at the lowest ebb, though yet above the figures of last year. Failures are larger because a few, unexpectedly capable supplies are never before in prime. In November the average of manufacturing exports gave increase of 12,115,301, besides $2,301,001 gold, and December returns indicate no falling off in exports. For the two years the exports of $53,252,271 of gold were lost Friday, and the withdrawal about three times as much gold from the treasury, are the same period. Money continues to accumulate here, and there is no improvement in the legitimate demand for commercial loans, though some offerings of paper, apparently to purpose to profit settlements, have appeared elsewhere.

Prices of agricultural products do not improve. Wheat is exchanged for the week, although western receipts have fallen to 1,000,000 bushels, against 2,304,000 in the same week last year, and it does not come to much that the Atlantic exports were 930,000 against 240,541 last year. The visible supply still grows, and is now 30,172,000 bushels. Corn fell 1 cent in the week, though western receipts were only 1,322,630 bushels, against 1,972,204 last year, and Atlantic exports were thus a third smaller. Cotton seemed to recover, but seem to affect mere speculation. Cotton has declined a sixteenth to 5.88 cents and receipts from plantations continue larger for December than in 1891, when the crop was over 9,000,000 bales. The theory that planters will not market current prices does not yet fit the facts.

Large orders for manufactured goods have appeared, and yet, except in boots and shoes, the general tendency of prices is downward. Copper is "strengthened by necessity" it is said, as the output in November, 12,641 tons domestic and 6,904 foreign, was the smallest since February. Lead has sold largely at 3.1 cents, and the low level proved half a cent by speculation. In shoes manufacturers are obtaining a good many orders, at 2½ and 5 cents advance over last year's prices, where still larger differences in cost of materials are claimed, but many jobbers have sold, as want of entire agreement among producers raises doubt whether the advance will be sustained.

The heavy auction sale of cotton goods, resulting in prices about 10 per cent below those previously current, and the announcement of numerous reductions in prices by agents, seem to some deemed evidence that many mills have accumulated larger stocks in anticipation of increasing demand than has been supposed. Quite large sales have followed, but the market is still irregular and uncertain. Reorders for spring woolens have been more numerous, though relatively small for the time of year, and the opening of heavy weight woolens for the next season disclosed some reductions in cheaper goods, with occasional advance in goods of the better grades. The confidence of manufacturers seems to increase, but purchases of material are cautious, and for the week were 3,308,900 pounds of wool, against 2,507,900 last year, and 5,567,400 in 1892. The increase for this month over last year is only in foreign wool.

The withdrawals of gold from the treasury have been over $21,000,000 since December 8th, and are attributed in part to replacements of bank reserves which were reduced by the purchase of bonds. Yet it is plain that the desire of foreigners to get gold instead of stocks, and of Americans to get gold instead of notes, rapidly takes from the treasury whatever was gained by selling bonds. Failures have been somewhat more important, the reported liabilities for the second week of December amounting to $2,734,607, and for two weeks of December the aggregate has been $5,849,811, of which manufacturing liabilities were $2,406,114, and the trading liabilities $4,071,529. But last year the liabilities in failures of the same two weeks were $11,679,906, of which no less than $8,174,494 were of manufacturing and only $5,501,784 of trading concerns. The failures for the past week have been 349 in the United States against 344 last year, and 36 in Canada against 37 last year.

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 22.—Dug. Henderson and Frank Jeffery were arrested last night at Carterville, charged with the murder of James Towle. They both confessed to having committed the crime and are now lodged in the jail at Murphysboro. Robbery was the motive.

DAILY LIST OF HAPPENINGS AND OTHER NEWS.

All the Important Events of the Week Condensed From the Latest Telegraphic Dispatches From Here, There and Everywhere.

Monday, December 23rd.

Cuban's bill is withdrawn and a substitute is to be introduced by senator Morgan.

Carlisle and Springer endorse his choice of the New York public library, for Immigration Commissioner and Inspector.

Memphis, Dec. 21.—It is reported this morning on good authority that peace negotiations are proceeding between Peru and Chile. The Japanese have gone into Port Arthur and disposed of the Chinese. No confirmation is yet known.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—Minister Dudley cabled the State department today that the Chilean government has appointed its peace commissioners, Chang Yen Hunn and Shau, who will present themselves as a mission from Pekin to the Japanese capital.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—Advices from New York state that $1,405,000 in gold was today withdrawn from the subtreasury, which leaves the total amount of the gold reserve $59,309,756. Bank December 1st the withdrawals amount to $28,319,275, of which so far as known, less than $7,000,000 was imported for export. The earth believes the treasury to-day was $104,207,203.

Wenner, Ida., Dec. 21.—Special to Tribune.—The remains of the unknown man who was killed by a work train about five miles east of Hazelton to-day were brought to Wenner. He was mangled out of all resemblance to a human being, the head being severed from the body. The supposition is that the unfortunate was a deaf proprietor, who has been seen around Hazelton the past week.

Tuesday, December 23rd.

A legal fight has been begun against the income tax.

The German government is weak in the Reichstag.

The Senate and House have adjourned until January 3rd.

Eight feet of snow and disastrous land slides are reported from northern California.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Coffee of Wyoming has introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 to meet expenses of proceeding claims on public lands.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Representative Bryan has introduced two joint resolutions affecting the term of office of the President. One resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution making the President ineligible to succeed himself, the other makes the President ineligible to a second term.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—A several months bill for the relief of the various States, Territories and cities of the country, as a final discharge of existing claims against the government, has been introduced in the House by Mr. Stone by request. The amounts in the bill are: New York City, $2,036,024; California, $2,801,815; Oregon, $325,152; Nevada, $404,000.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 22.—Chairman Springer of the House committee on banking and currency said to-day that he believed the Carlisle currency bill will have a safe majority in the House, although no caucus has been held. Mr. Bland said he would urge his substitute notwithstanding the amendments in the Carlisle bill. The latter he says still contains the objectionable feature of putting the currency issues of the country in the hands of National banks.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Secretary Herbert gave orders for the preparation of a contract with the Holland Submarine Boat Company for the construction of a submarine boat to cost $150,000. The Bureau of Construction and Steam Engineering, which has carefully examined the matter, reported that the plans are feasible, that there is no danger to the crew of the fleet and that the thickness of the boat should be one-half inch at the middle belt, tapering to three-eighths of an inch at the ends.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Senator Blanchard to-day presented a petition numerously signed by cane sugar growers of western Louisiana for the payment of the bounty of 1894. The petitioners represent that they are poor people, that relying upon the government to pay the bounty they contracted obligations which in view of the repeal of the bounty law and the refusal of the treasury to pay the bounty, is certain to bring ruin upon them unless relief is furnished. They report that much of their outlay was for implements for sugar cane culture which are useless for other work.

Sunday, December 24th.

Reports from various parts of Great Britain are to the effect that a terrible snow storm took hold and was doing much damage.

London, Dec. 23.—The body of Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, who died yesterday at Cliveden, will be taken to New York for burial.

Sitka, Ala., Dec. 23.—A report reached this city of a bloody riot at Pine Apple, a small place forty-three miles south of here. Particulars are very meagre. Three men were killed. The cause of the fight is unknown.

Harlan, Wis., Dec. 23.—Robert Smith, alias James O'Connor, a notorious forger, escaped from the county jail last night. The discovery was not made until the morning. O'Connor was well known to the police in large cities as a clever all-round thief, and had done service at Joliet and Waupun. No clue to the prisoner has been obtained.

Tuesday, December 25th.

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 24.—Mrs. Eleanor Lemon, aged 60, was burned to death here today.

Washington, Dec. 24.—The secretary of the interior has approved the lists of land selected as an indemnity by the Northern Pacific railroad, embracing about 240,000 acres in Minnesota and a great deal more in Montana.

Washington, Dec. 24.—There is a prospect that the recommendations of General Schofield and General Otis for the establishment of a military post at Spokane, Wash., will be carried out.

London, Dec. 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Tien Tsin, which will be published to-morrow, says an edict has been issued continuing Admiral Ting in charge of the fleet.

Boise, Ida., Dec. 24.—[Herald Special]—At Silver City last night James Ford was fatally stabbed by William Thomas. The latter is the son of a preacher. Forgetting all teachings of religion, he howled up and started out to run the town. In a wheel he boasted of his prowess and declared no one could arrest him. Ford, who was standing by, remarked, quietly, he could arrest him if he wished. Thereupon Thomas whipped out a knife and plunged it into Ford's back, just over the left hip. He drove the knife clear through his victim's body. The latter still lives.

Wednesday, December 26th.

Lord Randolph Churchill is at his deathbed.

The Cliff House, San Francisco, was destroyed by fire.

A Los Angeles bookmaker beats the pacer, Flying Jim.
