LOCAL BREVITIES.

The county court met Monday. See proceedings in court or column.

Nearly all the schools have resumed, after a pleasant holiday recess.

"Factory Girl" by the Coalville Home Dramatic Company next Friday.

Mr. William Wright and Miss Hannah Pyne were united in marriage yesterday.

Mr. Walter Lee and Miss Margaret Sinclair were married on New Year's day at noon. W. F. Smith officiated.

Coalville Home Dramatic Company Friday and Saturday night, January 11, and 12th. For cast of characters, see small bills.

Mr. John J. Smithies and Miss Emma Pushee were married in Coalville early Monday morning, W. F. Smith performing the ceremony.

Word was received in this city yesterday of the marriage at Castle Dale, Emery county, of Mr. William Moore, son of David Moore.

The Coalville Home Dramatic Company will appear at Cluff's Hall in "The Factory Girl" on Friday night, January 11, and on Saturday night, January 12th.

Nearly all of those who came to Coalville from Logan and other points to spend the holiday season with relatives and friends have returned to their studies and various occupations.

The meeting held for the purpose of voting on the special school tax for the coming year on Monday night was very poorly attended, only five or six besides the school trustees being present. A tax of ¾ of 1 per cent was voted.

Like Christmas, New Year's day was generally observed, and good resolutions without number were made—many of which, at this writing, have already been broken. However, the wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year were general, and THE TIMES heartily joins in the chorus.

Salt Lake Tribune: A most praiseworthy act of charity was performed by Mr. R. C. Chambers, in donating to the Labor Unions three carloads of coal from his Weber mine. One car of twenty-four tons has already arrived and been distributed among the needy. The Union Pacific Company also contributes to the extent of furnishing free transportation.

Yesterday while a freight incumbered by Miss Stella Moore and Dr. Noyes of Provo, Misses May and Lillian Cluff, Mr. Frank Olsen and James Blood was on the road to Echo, for the purpose of conveying the Provo visitors to Echo to meet their train, the vehicle upset over, spilling the whole party in the snow. Fortunately no more serious injury than a few scratches were sustained.

William Tay, who for the past ten years has been conductor on the Echo and Park City branch of the U. P., resigned his position New Year's morning. A large number of citizens will regret this step, as he was one of the most popular of men. His courtesy while discharging his duties as conductor has won for him many warm friends, and, as stated above, they will regret this step.

On Monday, January 7, County Clerk R. E. Northcott, Recorder J. S. Sutton, Selectmen Henry Welch, William Archibald and Thomas Cole, Treasurer J. H. Dewing, Attorney H. S. Tarbet, Assessor J. J. Jenkins, Coroner C. M. Wade and Surveyor E. H. Treseder, the newly elected county officers, and Sheriff John M. Harrington, re-elected, took the oath of office and assumed their official duties, and the old officers, viz: Ex-Sheriff Harrington, Treasurer Dewing, took their leave and retired. The retiring officers were: County Clerk W. F. Smith, Recorder John Pugsley, Selectmen R. Maxwell, S. S. Kimball and J. E. Beesley, Assessor and Collector George W. Gray, Attorney D. S. Tarbet and Surveyor E. H. Rhead. Precinct officers W. J. Wright and Constable Andrew Peppmire also resigned their duties.

"The Factory Girl," a beautiful domestic drama, will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights, January 11th and 12th, at Cluff's Hall, by the Home Dramatic Company.

W. H. Branch on Monday received a rare present. It was a watch chain made of the hair from the heads of his wife and children, and was made a prisoner named Rees, now in the penitentiary. It is nicely worked and a valuable keepsake.

Park Record: Edward Tibbs, one of the oldest employes of the Marsac mill and a man well and favorably known and highly respected by the entire community, departed this life Wednesday afternoon, December 26th, at 6 o'clock, the cause of death being diabetis and lead poison.

The Evanston News-Register sends a warning to the editors in the following style: Editors will please take notice that there is a very dangerous counterfeit $2 silver certificate, of the 1891 series, abroad. As few editors have seen a bill of that size since 1891, they may be easily victimized.

In some manner the notice we had written up for last week with regard to the Christmas Herald was left out, but it is not yet too late to say that it was a splendid edition, both in appearance and contents. It contained reading matter enough for a week, and deserves the many compliments it has received.

As will be seen in another column, Marshal Salmon has issued a notice that all cattle hereafter found running at large on the streets will be taken to the city pen. The reason he has not been more strict in this respect during the past couple of months is that he has taken the hard times into consideration, and did not wish to inflict a hardship on anyone.

The New Year's edition of the Salt Lake Tribune was a gem. It contained more information about Utah than any single publication we have ever seen; also a large number of fine illustrations. Besides this its columns contained a complete review of the events and happenings of the year just closed. It is a great paper.

Park Record: Two lots each of silver sulphides and carbonates were shipped by the Marsac company on the 26th. Its value reached up in the thousands of dollars. Following are the ore shipments from the Machinson samples for the past week: Anchor concentrates, 481,080; Silver King, 325,271; Daly West, 245,110; Daly West concentrates, 40,240. Total pounds, 1,091,280.

The Coop are at present very busily engaged in moving their stock of queensware, hardware and groceries into the Smith & Wilde building, which will hereafter be a part of the holdings of this establishment. The clothing department now occupying the upper floor of the Coop will be moved to the lower floor, which, with the dry goods department, will occupy this entire floor. The furniture department will hereafter occupy the space formerly held by the clothing department. The change will make a great improvement in this institution.

An exchange gives out the following: A maiden fair, with sunbeam hair, came tripping down the street; the wind was keen, her age was "sixteen," but per while! wasn't she sweet? The sidewalk was slick and she went down quick, with a jolt that shook not her curls, and the words she used, must be excused, for she's one of the best of girls. The naughty young chap, who saw the mishap, and smiled with a devilish grace, will regret the same, when he finds his name is not called at the leap year dance.

On New Year's day Messrs. George Beard, Frank Wright, O. Y. Bullock and J. T. Hodges went out on a slaughtering expedition, their intended victims being rabbits, geese, ducks, etc. The men who killed the most game to run an elegant oyster supper at the expense of the others. Beard and Wright were one side and Bullock and Hodges on the other. They started very early, and were prepared to kill enough game to glut the market for weeks—but the local markets are still selling beef, mutton, etc. Everything from a grouse to a bear was included in the list of prey—except wildcats. A rabbit counted three points, a goose three, and from this all the way up. Their efforts extended as far as Wanship, and they took in all in. The scheduled round no one in the Weber, though some great stories have come to the front. It was late the party reached very weary, at night, and Bullock and Hodges flushed up one hare rabbit and a parade chicken that looked as though it took cold from flight. Beard and Wright flushed four cottontail rabbits and a wildcat, however, parties claim that Beard and Wright had eight small hares to round up game for them. But we don't believe the story that the boys run all four rabbits down with a dog and got a badger killed the wildcat in his burrow—neither do we credit the report that Bullock and Hodges bought a domestic chicken for 10 cents and passed it off for a prairie hen. At any rate, Beard and Wright say that Bullock and Hodges must get the oysters. They therefore another tour of destruction—if the guns and dogs hold out.

PERSONAL.

Officer Bragg was up from Echo on Wednesday.

Mr. Carl Engstedt left this morning for South America.

Mr. George Thorkurny of Ogden was seen in Coalville Monday.

Miss Annie Faddies of Salt Lake came home to spend New Year's with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Scowcroft spent New Year's day with relatives and friends in Ogden.

Messrs. George Olsen and Frank Quist of Echo were circling around Coalville the first of the week.

Dr. Frank Noyes of Provo was visitor to Coalville this week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cluff, Sr.

Mr. John Clark and Conrad Staley were down from Upton Monday. They report the sleighing as improving.

Mr. John Jones and Miss Clara Jones of Henefer, and Miss Clara Toone of Croydon were Coalville visitors Wednesday.

William H. Smith, Jr., with his two little daughter, Florence and Ethel, were in Coalville Monday on a short visit.

Mrs. Dr. J. E. Hoover and children returned from an extended visit among relatives and friends in Michigan on Wednesday night.

Policeman Henry Welch and William Archibald were in Coalville Monday and Wednesday, transacting their first official business for the county.

Mrs. Mark Hopkins had the misfortune to slip and fall while walking out to make a call on Saturday last, causing a painful sprain of her ankle.

J. H. Wilde made a trip to Evanston Sunday last, presumably to see his girl. He reports having had a splendid visit among old acquaintances.

Miss Stella Moore of Provo has been visiting in Coalville the past week, the guest of the Misses May and Lillian Cluff. She returned to her home yesterday.

Mr. W. H. Kimball of Park City was in Coalville Wednesday, and has the thanks of THE TIMES for delivering a quantity of job work for parties up the river.

David Moore returned last week from a trip to Omaha, where he went with a shipment of cattle. Mr. Moore says he found the markets in a satisfactory condition.

Sheriff John M. Harrington, Judge Shields, D. C. McLaughlin, Henry Ferris and Thomas Webber, all of Park City, were in Coalville Monday in attendance on the suit of Park City vs. D. H. Tewksbury.

Dyspepsia seldom causes death, but prevents enjoyment of life as long as it lasts. Shoff's Europepsin cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

The Prize Drawing.

The numbers on the prize doll and elephant given away by J. I. Mitchell of the Cash Bargain Store were opened by a committee consisting of Hyrum Moore, Homer Thorne and J. H. Putnam on New Year's eve. The number on the doll was found to be 61, and those holding the second duplicate numbers were Mr. George Judd of Hoytsville, No. 102, and J. W. Mitchell of Peoa, No. 104. These gentlemen will decide who shall possess the magnificent gift in question. The elephant "Jumbo" was captured by Mr. W. H. Smith, and as No. 17, the chance on the number mentioned, was bestowed the winner of the vigorous animal.

On the night preceding the prize doll offered by Miss Maggie Nelson was awarded, Mrs. Hannah Eldridge, David Moore and F. M. Pepper acting as the committee. The lucky number was 47, held by Mrs. W. H. Warren of Oakley, and the committee declared her the winner.

Rock drawings were held in the presence of many people, and while all were disappointed on the lucky holders, no complaint could be heard, and all were satisfied at the outcome.

Don't miss the twenty days' cut sale of glassware in lamps, pitchers, tumblers and glass sets at the Cash Bargain Store, opening January 15, 1895. You have seen the sign, "Come and free?" well, our prices on glass and queensware are about about as long free.
