AT THE ORPHEUM

The largest week-night crowd since the opening of the Orpheum here witnessed the performance last night. This week's show has made an exceptional hit with its music, comedy, dancing and novelty and the attendance has been increasing at a marked degree.

The Orpheum has a system of reserving the same seats for the same night of each week. Patrons in this way are able to occupy their favorite seats all through the season. The names are registered at the box office and the seats held. The seats do not have to be paid for in advance.

There will be a special matinee at the Orpheum next Monday, which is Labor Day. Seats are already on sale. -

WOMAN WHO CAN CHARM SNAKES

WILL BE SEEN HANDLING RATTLESNAKES AT THE FAIR.

Madame Brew, Famous as a Snake Charmer, Has a Curious Collection of Reptiles.

Madame Brew, said to be the "greatest snake charmer in the world," has wired the Four-State Fair for 20x32 feet to place her exhibition of LIVING REPTILES. The Coeur d'Alene Times on August 15th, says:

"Madame Brew,the snake charmer, with her large number of different kinds of large and poisonous snakes, is attracting considerable attention. Among her pets she has a good sized rattlesnake which she plays with and pets as one of us would a small kitten. Her manager claims that Madame Brew is the only snake charmer in the United States today that handles a rattlesnake with fangs. The madame also accompanys her performance with a scientific lecture as to the habits and method of handling the reptiles with which her work is connected."

LINES OF BELL PHONE WILL BE EXTENDED

Eastern Montana to Have Connections With Bell Long Distance System

Contracts that mean much for the telephone development of eastern Montana have been signed by the Eastern Montana Telephone company and the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company. They provide for Bell local and long distance connections through a territory which has heretofore enjoyed only limited telephone facilities.

The Montana Eastern Telephone company, which already has a good copper circuit from Glendive to Forsyth, Montana, will build a line from Forsyth to Billings and will connect with the Bell at Billings. The Montana Eastern company owns an exchange at Glendive where its general offices are, and has good connections in the eastern part of the state. When its new line has been completed, Huntley, Forsyth, Rosebud, Miles City, Terry, Glendive and other points in the Yellowstone valley east of Billings will be abe to communicate directy with all points on the Bell system in Montana and elsewhere.

CASES PENDING IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT

BROWNING IS BACK FROM LIEGE

WHERE THE WOMEN WORK AT THE FORGE

And Where the Browning Automatic is Being Manufactured at the Rate of 175,000 a Year.

After a three months' trip to Belgium and to the eastern cities of the United States, John M. Browning, of Browning Brothers Company of this city, has returned home.

His trip to Belgium was in the interest of the manufacture of firearms of his designing. Mr. Browning is known the world over as an inventor of firearms that are being used everywhere.

Mr. Browning states that he has had a very pleasant trip and, in a business way, it has been successful. The commercial condition of the European countries, says Mr. Browning, is not altogether satisfactory. A financial depression prevails there which has a tendency to curtail business enterprises. The factory at Liege has just finished the making of his new automatic shotgun, which is of a smaller gauge than others, and it is being placed upon the market.

"I have other inventions in mind and am working on them daily, but I do not care to say anything about them. Wait until they are perfected and they will then be made known. I believe in doing things, rather than talking things. Sometimes, you know, men say things that they do not carry out. It is better to do the thing before proclaiming it from the house tops.

"The company making most of our guns is the Fabrique Nationale d'Armes Je Guerre of Liege, Belgium. It is a large manufacturing concern and makes daily about 500 of the Browning pistols and averages 175,000 a year. We have nothing to do with the making of the guns nor with the selling of them. We get a royalty on all the guns of our invention that are sold. There are United States companies also that make the Browning guns. Winchester, Remington, Colts and Stephens all manufacture our firearms.

This factory at Liege employes 3,500 people, and it might be interesting to say that most of the work is done by women and girls. They handle the machinery, do the milling and drilling and many other things calling for rather heavy work. They roll up their sleeves and go at it like men. It is quite amusing to hear them, clankity, clank, over the wooden floor as they go about their work in their heavy wooden shoes. These women and girls are paid from 60 to 70 cents a day for their work.

"I am glad to return and expect to remain at home for an indefinite time."

FOULGER'S LECTURE ON SOUTH AFRICAN COUNTRY

Wonderful Collection of Stereopticon Views and Lecture Tonight.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, Albert B. Foulger gives his lecture with stereopticon views, in the old lecture hall of the Weber Academy.

Mr. Foulger is just back from Africa where he spent three years as a missionary and during that time made it his business to collect photographs showing all phases of African life, the physical geography of the country, animal life and vegetation. Some of the views in this collection were presented by the officials of the Cape government who told Mr. Foulger that he had the finest lot of African views extant.

Of the eighty odd views which will be used tonight, there are scenes from the diamond mines, showing the open mine, the natives imprisoned in their compound, showing hoisting machinery and the diamonds in the rough. A fine collection also of photographs, shows the Cecil Rhodes estate, the interior as well as the exterior of his mansion and his famous library, some of which were copied from books from the British museum. The habits and customs of the inhabitants are shown in many photographs and the wonderfully luxuriant foliage of that country is also shown.

The lecture is given under the auspices of the Sixth Ward Sunday school and Mutual Improvement Association.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS FINDING OF WOMAN'S BODY IN PARK

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 1.—Mystery surrounds the discovery of the body of Mrs. Albert A. Banta, the divorced wife of Former United States Senator John R. Phipps of Homer, La., in Breckenridge Park here today. The body was found by the police in a secluded spot in the park, after a telephone message had been received from an unidentified man who told of its exact location.

SPORTS, RACES AND WILD WEST SHOW

See the Prizes and Free Gifts:

The Labor Day committeemen are endeavoring to make this Labor Day celebration the best and most enjoyable affair of the kind that has ever been held in Ogden. In order to make it such it will require the earnest cooperation of all. We are desirous of making the day of especial interest to the children, and will present each child under 12, who takes part in the sports, with a little present, as well as a prize to the winner of each event. Heretofore it has been the custom to limit participation in the sports to union people, but this year the sports will be "free for all" (unless otherwise specified), except to professionals and regular amateurs. Don't be afraid to let your little ones take part in the sports, for there will be several ladies on the sports committee, who will see that they are well taken care of, and returned to you safely. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free in the morning. The grand stand will be free to all in the morning up to 12:30 o'clock. Remember, get up early, get breakfast early and get to the fair grounds early, for the fun will begin at NINE O'CLOCK SHARP.

JAPAN AND AMERICA NOW ON MOST FRIENDLY TERMS

Tokio, Sept. 2.—In the statements made by Baron Takabira, ambassador to the United States, to the press on his arrival here, the fact that the relations of the United States and Japan are now of the closest nature was emphasized. The ambassador attributes the unfriendly expressions in some of the American papers to a small section of the public.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—The grand reception given the delegation of Japanese commercial men by the civic and mercantile bodies of Seattle, is warmly appreciated here.
