ARRESTED AT THE BIDDING OF YEE GEE

Two Treasury Officials Taken Into Custody at Seattle.

ALLEGED SMUGGLER RETALIATES.

Special Agent Lewis and Dr. Gardner Charged With Robbery.

SEARCHED THE HOME OF THE MONGOL.

Carried Away Papers to Be Used in Prosecuting the Puget Sound Ring.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SEATTLE, WASH., Oct. 12.—Charles E. Lewis, special employe of the United States Treasury Department, and Dr. J. E. Gardner of San Francisco, Chinese interpreter for the United States Government, were arrested in this city to-night on a warrant sworn out by Yee Gee, who was official Chinese interpreter for J. C. Saunders while he was Collector of Customs. The warrant charges them with robbery. They will go to Port Townsend to-morrow to answer to the accusation.

Warrants are out for the arrest of Special Treasury Agent George W. Whitehead and Special Treasury Agent Leslie Cullom. Whitehead is now en route to the East, having left this city last Saturday night for Washington City. Cullom is in Chicago. He will return, but it is not known for a certainty whether or not Whitehead will come back. His mission to Washington is to place before the Treasury Department certain matters which have come to his attention. It is said they relate to the case on which he has been working since he came West, but their nature has not been made public.

The arrest of Lewis and Gardner was kept very quiet, and there were not half a dozen people in the city who knew anything about it. Those who know Yee Gee and who claim to be acquainted with the details of the case say the Government officers find themselves in a serious predicament, out of which it will be hard for them to extricate themselves. Yee Gee charges them with having robbed his house at Port Townsend of several private letters and books. It has been rumored for some time that the arrest of the Government officers was contemplated, but no one believed that Yee Gee would be so bold as to make a move against the Government officials, who are backed by all the powers of the United States Treasury Department.

There were not many details known in this city to-night in connection with the issuing of the warrants. It was stated that Yee Gee had gone to Port Townsend and placed his signature to the information filed before Justice of the Peace Enos Snyder. The warrants were brought to this city, and Constable Pike was instructed to serve them. He found Gardner and Lewis in this city, and told them they were wanted at Port Townsend for robbery.

Good lawyers who are acquainted with the present case say that the Government officers under arrest are undoubtedly guilty of a technical robbery. When Whitehead arrived in this city from New York with Lewis to investigate the acts of the alleged smuggling ring, they very quickly came to the conclusion that it would be a good idea to search Yee Gee's place of business at Port Townsend. They went before United States Commissioner Keifer, and Whitehead swore out a search warrant for Yee Shing's grocery-store on Washington street, Port Townsend. Instead of entering Yee Shing's place, it is alleged, they went into Yee Gee's store, which is next door, and there proceeded to help themselves to everything they thought would aid them in showing Yee Gee's connection with the ring. They took a quantity of his private letters, which told, as it is claimed by the Government officers, many details of the alleged ring. A book containing writing supposed to be that of Yee Gee was seized.

Yee Gee's claim is that the officers entered his place without authority. If the search warrant had called for a search of his place he would not have thought so much about it. The Government officers say, that as a matter of fact, Yee Gee had been interested in Yee Shing's place, and that he had sold out a few days before without letting any one know it.

FLAGSHIP BALTIMORE IN SERVICE

hundred workmen, but the admiral was safe in making his report, for at the time there was not an officer or man at the navy yard to turn the ship over to.

Since then the repairs to the flagship have been completed, most of her stores shipped and all that has been lacking has been the necessary complement of men to man her.

Last Friday night Lieutenant Stoney and a detachment of 101 men from the Brooklyn Navy-yard arrived at Mare Island, and it was expected that this inadequate force would be utilized to place her in commission, but as the necessary orders from Washington were not forthcoming it was supposed the department had decided to adhere to its original plan, to await the arrival of the Philadelphia from Honolulu and transfer the latter's officers and crew in a body to the new flagship.

To-day's orders, therefore, were a complete surprise, and while nobody can anticipate the next move of the department, it is the general expectation that the Baltimore will continue to occupy her present berth at the quay until the Philadelphia reaches here, when the transfer of men will be made with appropriate ceremonies. By that time she will have received the last of her stores and will be ready to proceed to sea if it is deemed necessary to order her to Honolulu.

The Philadelphia will undoubtedly arrive before the close of the week.

TWO VESSELS TO RETURN.

Yorktown and Wheeling No Longer Needed at Honolulu.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—It was definitely announced at the Navy Department this afternoon, according to a Herald Washington dispatch, that when the cruiser Baltimore leaves for Hawaii, probably next week, she will carry with her orders to the Yorktown and Wheeling to go to Mare Island.

The withdrawal of these two gunboats means that the administration is satisfied that the Baltimore and the gunboat Bennington will be sufficient to protect American interests at the islands in the future. It indicates that the temporary need which called the two gunboats to Honolulu has expired and the President feels safe in directing their return.

It was frankly admitted to-day, continues the dispatch, that the only reason the authorities had for sending the gunboats to Hawaii was because of a fear that the Japanese residents of the islands, instigated by their Government, might precipitate a riot which would wreck the Dole administration and place them in power unless checked by United States forces.

The authorities believe the presence of such a large force of American vessels in Honolulu harbor had much to do with the peaceful conditions now obtaining.

FORESTERS CONVENE IN ANNUAL SESSION

High Court of the Order Begins Its Deliberations at Santa Rosa.

Reception Tendered the Delegates by the People of the Sonoma City.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SANTA ROSA, CAL., Oct. 12.—The eighth annual session of the High Court, Independent Order of Foresters, convened at Odd Fellows' Hall this afternoon. All the High Court officials were present when High Chief Ranger McElfresh called the session to order. There were 120 delegates present at the opening meeting, and the High Court degree was conferred upon ninety-eight members.

The usual routine business incident to a first meeting was transacted. The election of new officers for the ensuing term was made a special order of business for next Thursday morning. From 9 to 12 o'clock in the forenoons and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoons will be devoted to business sessions.

During the afternoon Supreme Chief Ranger Dr. Oronyhatekha was received with honors due his rank, and delivered an interesting address to the delegates. The usual committees were appointed, after which an adjournment was taken till to-morrow.

A reception was given this evening in honor of the delegates at the Athenæum Opera-house. There were musical and literary exercises, addresses being delivered by Supreme Chief Ranger Dr. Oronyhatekha, High Chief Ranger McElfresh, High Secretary W. H. Perry, High Vice-Chief Ranger C. S. Peery, Councilman J. M. Carter and others. To-morrow night a souvenir ball will be given in honor of the Foresters at the Athenæum.

PLENTY OF TALENT HERE.

So Charles Frohman Hesitates About Sending Out the Empire Stock Company.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Charles Frohman announces that he is going to send his Empire Theater stock company to London during the summer to play in his new Duke of York Theater, instead of sending his company to the Pacific Coast. Frohman has been quoted as saying he could get a run of three months in the British capital, while he would only have three weeks in San Francisco; also that San Francisco could not give returns as big as the New York company was entitled to. It was added that the Alcazar, Morosco's and Columbia were presenting excellent plays at prices too cheap to justify his company going west.

Al Hayman in discussing the subject to-day was inclined not to draw the situation so strong as Frohman. "Of course Mr. Frohman has made this decision, and I presume he knew what he was talking about," began Mr. Hayman, "but the programme as arranged for this season will be carried out, nevertheless, as at first intended. As to the ensuing season I presume there is some doubt. It is true that there are several theaters in San Francisco which have made prices so low as to affect big companies and keep them in the East. However, the Empire plays billed for San Francisco will be rendered there according to the programme. One of these is 'Under the Red Robe,' and there will be at least one other play which is fully as popular."

Albert Bonner has been here for several days. He told THE CALL correspondent to-night at the Holland House that he was consulting with Mr. Hayman in regard to the booking and assisting to arrange other matters relative to different companies. He will probably leave for home Sunday evening.

POLITICAL CLANS GATHERING.

Delegation of Prominent Republicans Leave San Francisco for Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 12.—What does their coming portend? This is the question that is to-night agitating the local politicians with reference to the announcement that a delegation of prominent Republicans left San Francisco today for this city.

In the party are said to be John C. Lynch, Internal Revenue Collector; D. M. Burns, Judge Brooks, Assemblyman Bettman and others influential in the councils of the party.

Among those who are in touch with the situation both north and south of the Tehachapi it is surmised that the leaders from San Francisco are simply coming here to look over the ground in relation to the Governorship, with the purpose, if matters can be arranged, of effecting a combination; on what lines no one presumes to say.

There are no less than eight well defined candidates already in the field for the nomination of the Republican convention. This plethora of timber—and all of it is admitted to be good—is accounted for by the prevalent opinion that the nomination will be as good as an election next year.

A name that has not heretofore been mentioned in the newspapers in this connection is that of Joe Campbell of the old law firm of Reddy, Campbell & Metson.

MEYERS, THE OUTLAW SUSPECT.

UKIAH, CAL., Oct. 12.—Sheriff J. R. Johnson arrived to-night, having in charge Charles Meyers, who is believed to be one of the outlaws who took part in the hold-up of the Ukiah-Booneville stage on September 28 and murdered John R. Barnett, one of the passengers. Meyers was arrested at a Kearny-street lodging-house in San Francisco. He had for some time been working on a Geyserville ranch, but disappeared at about the time of the robbery. Meyers' description tallies with that of one of the men who rode away toward Geyserville from the scene of the hold-up shortly after Barnett was killed. He will be held to await the return of Fred Donohue, who saw the two suspicious characters who, it is believed, were the highwaymen who stopped the stage. John Crow, who was with Donohue at the time, says the prisoner bears a marked resemblance to one of the suspected pair.

TURF GAMBLERS UNDER ARREST

Sausalito Officers Raid the Harrison & Co. Poolroom.

Ten Men Given an Opportunity to Plead and Released on Bail.

Town Authorities Attempt Once More to Prohibit Betting on Eastern Races.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SAUSALITO, CAL., Oct. 12.—Town Marshal John E. Creed made a descent upon the poolroom run by Harrison & Co. in the Buffalo Hotel building on Water street this morning at 10:30 o'clock and arrested ten men. The gamblers were taken before Recorder Pryor, where they were released upon giving bonds to appear for trial next Thursday.

The players arrested by the Marshal gave their names as William Barnett, Benjamin Burr, William Dolard, Peter Ward, John Lahey and James Jones. Recorder Pryor held them under $25 cash bail or $100 bonds. The latter were immediately forthcoming, and the men went back to the game.

The principals placed under arrest were: William Harrison, Max Cohen, Joseph Belfast and Dick Creighton. The Recorder fixed their bail at $100 cash or $250 bonds. They also gave bonds and departed for the poolroom, which began business again as though nothing had happened. The cases of the first six are set for 10:30 o'clock Thursday forenoon, and those of the principals for 4 o'clock of the same day. All the men pleaded not guilty.

A venire for 150 talesmen was placed in Marshal Creed's hands to-day, and from this list twelve men will be selected to try the cases of Lahey and Jones.

There was no excitement attending the arrests of the gamblers. It has been known for some time that this procedure was to be taken and consequently when it came it was expected. All the excitement that has attended this last move on the part of the town officials to oust the poolrooms took place at the meeting of the Trustees last night. Trustee J. M. Kilgarif, who has been the leader in the crusade against the gamblers, seized his hat and left the meeting, saying as he passed out that the whole thing was a farce and that he was done with it and intended to wash his hands of Sausalito's Trustees and the town's affairs.

The various phases of the situation leading up to Kilgarif's hasty retiring are in themselves interesting. Kilgarif, when the Trustees came to order, asked Prosecuting Attorney Adolph Sylva what action had been taken to arrest the poolsellers and players under the new ordinance. Sylva stated that no action had as yet been taken; that they had delayed so as to follow the board's instructions.

A discussion then arose as to how many arrests should be made, and Kilgarif said that at least 100 should be arrested, but the other members of the board thought that the expense to the town would be too great, as $20 for each case would be about what the town would be taxed. General Dickinson opposed wholesale arrests, and the board, over Kilgarif's objections, instructed the officers to make but ten arrests.

Kilgarif then grew indignant and walked out. The board resolved to meet again next Thursday night, when any action as to making more arrests will come up.

Another important subject was the consideration as to whether Westerson's and Dean's licenses should be revoked because the poolrooms were conducted in their resorts. It was finally agreed that further action should be taken next Thursday night, but if in the meantime the poolrooms close the licenses will not be interfered with.

The poolmen who were arrested to-day say that the town ordinance is invalid and that they cannot be punished. The arrests did not have the slightest effect on the playing and the sport goes on as lively as ever.

YOUNG CHANLER IN AN ASYLUM

His Appears to Be a Hopeless Case of Paresis.

He Sleeps by Day and Walks About the Grounds at Night.

Strange Affliction of the Man Who Was the First Husband of Amelie Rives.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—John Armstrong Chanler, great-grandson of John Jacob Astor, and formerly husband of Amelie Rives-Chanler, was taken to Bloomingdale Asylum six months ago. His friends spread the report that he had gone to Europe and it was said at his law office in the Equitable building to-day that he was still abroad.

Amelie Rives, whose divorce from Mr. Chanler was obtained in a mysterious manner, as was his commitment to Bloomingdale, and who on February 18, 1896, was married to Prince Troubetskoy, became a mental wreck last June and was taken to a sanitarium in Philadelphia. Later it was announced that she had recovered her health.

Mr. Chanler married the author soon after her book, "The Quick and the Dead," made a sensation in the literary world. No two persons in all the country were more talked of when they went abroad for their honeymoon. Now both are under treatment for mental disorders.

Mr. Chandler occupies a suite of rooms in Macy Villa, attached to Bloomingdale Asylum. When he first went there he was lively at times, liking to take long drives. He commanded the finest horses in the Bloomingdale stable, and when the driver got out of sight of the asylum ordered the beasts speeded to the utmost. He would cling to the seat and shout with glee when the horses did a particularly good mile.

Of late Mr. Chanler's malady has taken a different form. He is quiet and morose and refuses to see visitors, turning away even his most intimate friends. He will talk to no one but his attendant, and the attendant is with him continually night and day. He reads the newspapers and an occasional book and often writes for hours at a time.

An extraordinary development is his desire to sleep in the daytime and prowl around the asylum grounds at night. All day long the curtains of his room are drawn. When the electric light is turned on at night he rises, takes a bath and then leads his attendant a merry chase, lasting sometimes for hours.

He speaks to no one he meets on these night rambles and his seems like a hopeless case of paresis. From property handed down to him from the Astor family he has an income of more than $30,000 a year.

TRACY GAINS SUPPORT.

Republicans of Greater New York Find Many Causes of Encouragement.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Senator Platt said to-day that he was more confident than at any time during the campaign that General Tracy, Republican candidate for Mayor, would be elected.

In a few days he will give his reasons in a statement which he is preparing. Among the many causes for encouragement to the Republican leaders is the growing strength of the Henry George movement. At first it was thought that Mr. George represented and would get the votes only of those who shared in his peculiar economic ideas. That was the Tammany leaders' estimate of his strength

It turns out, however, that Mr. George is drawing his main support from the Tammany ranks. He will get, it is predicted, thousands of votes from those who are disgusted with Tammany and Crokerism, and if Charles W. Dayton, the former Postmaster, is nominated for Controller on the George ticket the Van Wyck ticket will be cut generally and severely. The Tammany men admit this.

The situation had a very roseate look today. General Tracy has gained strength within the last few days.

TOM COOPER'S GREAT DAY.

Wins the Mile Wheel Race and Lowers a Half-Mile Record.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Oct. 12.—The Southern end of the winter circuit opened here to-day for the touring cyclists. There were thirty-eight entries among the professionals, which necessitated the running of heats and semi-finals during the afternoon and run-offs at night at the electric light track.

It was Tom Cooper's day, for he not only won the mile open, but lowered the world's record for a half-mile handicap race on a six-lap track. He finished fourth in the race, but as he started from the scratch his time, 1:00 4-5, established a new record for this class of track.

Among the amateurs Peabody of Chicago seemed to be invincible against the strong riders of Louisville, winning the two-mile handicap from the scratch with ease. Summary:

Professional, one mile, 2:05 class—Seaton, Louisville, won; Walthour, Atlanta, second; C. S. Wells, San Francisco, third. Time, 2:10.

Professional, half a mile handicap—Con Baker, 30 yards, won; C. S. Wells, 35 yards, second; Watson Coleman, 25 yards, third. Time, 1:00 3-5. Tom Cooper, scratch, fourth. Cooper's time, 1:00 2-5 (record).

Amateur, two miles, handicap—E. W. Peabody, Chicago, scratch, won. Time, 4:42 3-5.

One mile, open, professional—Tom Cooper, Detroit, won; Bob Walthour, Atlanta, second; Nat Butler, Camuridge, third. Time, 2:07 3-5.

OSTLER JOE TRAVELS IN STYLE.

The Citrus-Belt Handicap Candidate Arrives at Los Angeles in a Special Car.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 12.—There will be seven starters in the 2:12 trot on Thursday, opening day of the Agricultural Park races, which is just half the number of entries, and an excellent harness race is looked for. There will be ten starters in the citrus-belt handicap on the same afternoon.

Ostler Joe arrived this afternoon in a private car all to himself, in charge of W. D. Randall. A carload arrived early this morning from San Jose. They were nearly all harness horses, and included Vendome stable string, consisting of Our Boy, Ivan, Alto and Ethel Downs. Charles Burch has these horses in charge. Jim Sullivan came along with Mamie Griffin, Our Jack, Chico and Fitz-Lee.

A car from Fresno brought in Farrar & Tuberville's Polish, J. Cavanaugh's Marcia A, Timmons & Marks' Marquise, J. Linell's Viking, Gus Marion's Mestor and T. Kelly's Gold Dust, the latter two jumpers; Burt Edsall's Decision, Judge Tanis' Roadwarmer and Bodacia, Frank Storkey's Jim Bozeman, Lou Rocklan's Captain Coster, George Tibbetts' Gold Bug, Lady Kern, Trilby and Queen May.

There was never such an array of running horses on this track.

A review of the score shows that at the longer range better work was done than at either of the other ranges.

TRAINMEN BREAK FOR THE WOODS

that the baggageman open the safe, but upon being assured that he could not do so turned their attention to the passengers. They took only money from them, not overlooking a single cent, and walking two by two through the cars so as to always keep their eyes on all the passengers.

Securing about $200 in this manner, they uncoupled the engine from the train and started down the track. After going several miles they set the lever at a moderate gait and left the engine, scampering into the surrounding country. The engine came on to the flag station at Duval, four miles below, and was there captured, and the station agent returned to the scene of the robbery with the engine, secured the train and came on to this city, arriving here shortly after dusk.

Officers have gone to the scene with bloodhounds to locate the robbers. The two men who boarded the train at McNeill were not masked, but the other bandits had their features concealed.

The Sheriff and a posse have gone to the scene of action and a message at midnight is to the effect that they have struck the trail of two of the robbers.
