Fitzgerald Is Surprised.

OAKLAND, Oct. 29.—Prison Director R. M. Fitzgerald was very much surprised to read in a morning paper that he was a candidate for Governor on the Democratic side, "and does not care if Maguire knows it."

"I cannot conceive how such a statement could have originated," he said. "It is absolutely false and absurd. I cannot afford to give four years to the office, and am in no condition financially to go into the campaign for Governor. I have never been interviewed, and if I were making any statement I should not use the language credited to me. While I am taking no hand whatever in politics I will say that I am personally very friendly to Mr. Maguire."

Testimony in the Hobden Trial.

OAKLAND, Oct. 29.—The testimony today in the case of Myron Whidden, charged with embezzlement, was to establish the fact that Whidden acted as agent or servant of Tax Collector Rosborough. This was opposed by the defense, but Judge Ogden admitted the evidence. Stephen Rice, Charles Allen and Calvin Cowing testified to giving Whidden money and receiving receipts in return. Ex-Tax Collector Rosborough testified that Whidden never was his deputy and only given the freedom of his office as any other county official.

SHOPS ERECTED ON SIDEWALKS

Merchants Insist That They Should Be Speedily Removed.

The Exchange Working to Reduce the Number of "To Let" Signs.

Some Corners Are Blockaded so That Foot Passengers Are Impeded.

OAKLAND OFFICE SAN FRANCISCO CALL, 908 Broadway, Oct. 29.

The Merchants' Exchange has undertaken a crusade against merchants and others who carry on their trade on the sidewalk. They are not after the shoeblacks and the small vender of peanuts or similar petty dealers, but they intend, if possible, to prevent stores being built and conducted on the sidewalk in the heart of the city.

It is a well-known fact that at the present time on some of the most traveled streets of this city there are thoroughly equipped stores with counters, shelves, awnings and other furniture, all placed on public property and for which no rent is paid.

So me of the Sidewalk Stores of Oakland That Are Objected To by the Merchants' Exchange.

The most prominent example of using the sidewalks for a store exists near the corner of Thirteenth and Washington streets. For about forty feet of the sidewalk there is a store more fully equipped than many candy-stores in town. There is a large counter standing well out on the sidewalk, the side of the house is covered with brackets supporting glass jars of candy, a soda-fountain is built there, mirrors are hung behind the counter, two assistants are employed and apparently a good business is done. The Merchants' Exchange declares that such practices are illegal, that the people doing business under such conditions should be required to rent stores, and that the officials should prevent such misuse of sidewalks.

At two of the corners at Eighth and Washington streets there are large fruit stores which cover over half the sidewalk. In addition to a succession of platforms for the display of fruit, one dealer also has a complete peanut-roasting outfit on the edge of the sidewalk. There are many similar places all over town.

About two years ago an effort was made to clear the streets of all obstructions. This bit of decency went so far that for a few days bootblack-stands, merchants' signs and all manner of trivial obstructions were rapidly taken away by the Street Department. The spasm passed away after Mayor Davie's piece of coal had been seized, and since that time the practice of doing business on the sidewalk has rapidly increased. The matter is now in the hands of a committee, which will make a report at the next meeting of the Council.

Came Home Safe.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 29.—City Attorney E. K. Taylor and Joseph A. Leonard went down the bay on Tuesday night in Taylor's gasoline launch. They were expected home yesterday morning, and when they did not come some of their friends became alarmed and decided they had come to grief in Tuesday night's storm. They came home in good order last night about 6 o'clock and explained that they had camped out all through the storm.

HOWISON WAS NOT SATISFIED

He Says His Address Should Be Criticized as a Whole.

Principal Crawford Wanted to Read Some Resolutions for Passage.

They Were Not Admitted Because It Was Ruled They Were Too Late.

OAKLAND OFFICE SAN FRANCISCO CALL, 908 Broadway, Oct. 29.

Professor Howison's pointed remarks contained in his address before the County Teachers' Institute last Wednesday came up again before the session this afternoon. Professor T. O. Crawford wanted to introduce a resolution regarding the matter, but President Garlick did not consider that it was proper to do so.

Principal Crawford wanted to know if Mr. Garlick was going to be so un-American as to deny him the right to express his opinion. The president said that when Professor Howison made his address all present were requested to express their opinions at the time, and having failed to do so it would be unwise to take the matter up again.

"I want to say, then," said Principal Crawford, "and to have it go out as my position on the matter, that I believe what Professor Howison said at that time was dogmatic, uncalled for and untrue in fact."

At the morning session to-day Professor Howison said his report had not been correctly understood. He objected to certain paragraphs of his address being taken out and displayed prominently while much of his speech was totally ignored.

Professor Crawford, however, in framing his resolution, did not base his opinion upon any extract that he had read, but upon his impression of the whole lecture, as delivered by Professor Howison. The resolutions, which were not permitted to come before the institute, were as follows:

Resolved, That the teachers of Alameda County assembled in this County Institute do most emphatically repudiate and condemn the statements made here before this institute (by Professor Howison of the State University), couched in the following language:

"The skilled forger and counterfeiter got his knowledge in the school and didn't get something else he should have had. The effect of the public school system is to make criminals. The lack of a recognition of the distinction between vocation schools and liberal schools in the present system of teaching turns out crooks and criminals. Now don't say that I say that the whole school system is making criminals, for I do not. It is the lack of a true distinction between primary and secondary education."—Oakland Enquirer, Wednesday evening, October 27, 1897.

Resolved, That such statements are as devoid of truth as they are of sense, as devoid of philosophy as they are of logic.

Resolved, That we regard such statements coming from such a source as calculated, if allowed to go out to the world unchallenged and unrefuted to, wound unto the death that system of free education which we believe in spite of some defects to be the most beneficent the world has ever witnessed.

Resolved, That we still have unbounded faith in our public school system and in the men and women who are concerned in its administration; and that we pledge each other to stand as a unit against the blows of its honorable, outspoken enemies, as well as against the foolish, unjust and even untrue attacks of those to whom in the past we have looked as the trusted champions of a righteous cause.

Resolved, That the teachers of this institute assert the natural right of all free men and free women everywhere to register their condemnation of this false accusation; that a copy of these resolutions be by the secretary forwarded to Professor Howison, in order that he may know how completely we repudiate such sentiments even when they are uttered by the foremost philosopher among us.

BROKE AN INCH STICK ON HIM

A Woman Arrested for Most Cruelly Beating a Boy.

Mrs. Restivo Says She Did It to Settle a Grudge With Mrs. Hill.

Colonel Dimpfel Says the Woman Admits Everything and Must Be Crazy.

OAKLAND OFFICE SAN FRANCISCO CALL, 908 Broadway, Oct. 29.

Mrs. Mary Restivo of 1642 Delaware street, Berkeley, was arrested by Deputy Constable Robinson of East Oakland this afternoon and brought before Judge Lawrence, on a charge of cruelty to a child. She is charged with brutally beating Allie Vincent Hill, a boy 10 years of age, living at 1801 Magee avenue, near her residence.

There are five witnesses to the alleged deed, all of whom told Colonel Dimpfel of the Children's Society the same story, and according to this officer Mrs. Restivo admits the truth of their accusations.

Colonel Dimpfel received the complaint from the boy's parents on Thursday and began a careful investigation. This morning he swore to the complaint. She was arrested and released on cash bail pending her appearance to-morrow morning to plead.

"I saw the lad's back yesterday," said Colonel Dimpfel to-night, "and counted nineteen welts from his neck to his waist, five on his hips and two abrasions on the back of his head. I never in all my experience saw such cruelty, and the strangest part of the whole thing is that Mrs. Restivo admits the whole thing. She produced the broken whipstock, nearly an inch in diameter, and told how she beat the boy.

"When I asked her what caused her to do such a horrible thing, she said she did it to get satisfaction out of his mother. She told how she put on mourning to catch the boy, and how she broke the stick on him. She asserted that she had been intending to do it for a long time.

"The witnesses claim that while beating the boy, Mrs. Restivo kept saying, 'I am not hitting you, but it is your mother.' The witnesses in the case are Percy Given, aged 14, Earnest Given, 10, Leland Griggs, 10, all of whom were playing with Allie when Mrs. Restivo caught him; Mrs. Marian Jewett, 1815 Bristol
