Climate and Crop Report.

The report of A. G. McAdie, section director of the climate and crop service of the Weather Bureau, for the week is as follows:

"The temperature has been above normal in most sections during the week, but the nights have been cool, and frosts have occurred in many localities, generally too light to cause damage except to tender vegetation. Light rain has fallen in the Sacramento Valley, in portions of the coast and bay sections and in the northern part of the San Joaquin Valley; it was quite beneficial to early sown grain and pasturage, and in some sections was sufficient to soil for the start of germination.

"Considerable work has been done in plowing and grain sowing, especially in the central and nothern portions, where the rainfall has been sufficient for present purposes. The soil is still dry in the southern portion, but some work is being done. Reports from nearly all grain districts show that the contemplated acreage of wheat, barley and oats will be considerably more than the average. Early sown grain continues thrifty and was greatly benefited by recent rains. Pasturage is abundant in most places. Alfalfa is making good growth. Pumping for irrigation water has been resumed in the southern portion of the State, owing to the continuance of the warm, dry weather. Rain would be very beneficial in that section, as well as in the San Joaquin Valley.

"Oranges have colored rapidly in all sections during the week, and picking and shipping are in progress; a large crop is being gathered. The winter crop of lemons is progressing favorably. A good crop of olives is being gathered. Walnut picking is nearly completed. Guavas and late strawberries are in market. Large shipments of raisins are being made."

Dried fruit in New York

Dried Fruit in New York.

Mail advices from New York say:

"Some little improvement was noted yesterday in the consumptive demand for dried fruits and nuts, but trade is still far from what it ought to be at this time of the year. The colder weather was very acceptable to the trade, but it will be several days before it will have any very appreciable effect. Currants are in quite good demand. Some trade is reported in a very poor grade of Provincials as low as 10¾c. Sales in a small jobbing way also are reported of Amalias at from 12½@12¾c. Dates continue to go out quite freely at full prices. The market for California raisins is slightly firmer, due to the withdrawal, it is understood, of some very low offerings. Demand for raisins of all sorts, however, is light, except for seeded, which are selling out quite well. Prunes are quiet on spot and to arrive, though some business is being done at the cut prices. There is a little jobbing trade on spot, also at association quotations. Some trade is noted in new California unpeeled peaches at 9c. Prime apples on spot are quiet. There is more demand for apricots, which are strong and higher.

"Demand for nuts is a little more active in a jobbing way. More inquiry is noted for walnuts. Filberts are ¼c higher, the market being firm at 11½c. Stocks are comparatively light."

EASTERN MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—No such exciting demand for stocks has been witnessed on the New York Stock Exchange since the boom days of the flotation of the securities of the new industrial combinations in the spring of 1899 as to-day kept all departments of the stock exchange at fever heat of animation and activity. It is rarely in the speculative world that a preconceived plan of operations which has been widely discussed in public results so successfully as the taking on of long stock by professional operators for some time past in anticipation of the large demand to follow the election. The effort to discount the result is almost certain to overdo itself and the flood of selling to realize often neither prices down on the very culmination of a favorable event. But the rush to-day to buy stock was so overwhelming as to absorb all the very large selling, with no great effect on prices. In the opening dealings there changed hands instantaneously with the sounding of the gong no less than 35,000 shares of Union Pacific, 5000 shares of Atchison, 6000 shares of Southern Pacific and of American Steel and Wire, and several thousand shares each of a number of other important stocks. This was as near as could be ascertained by the usual method of records. The same stocks sold at the same time 1½ points apart, and it was believed that the record of a large number of transactions was entirely lost in the feverish excitement of the trading. Many commission houses reported that they were so overwhelmed with buying orders as to be obliged to decline to undertake the execution of many that were offered to them. During the early part of the day small individual transactions had no place whatever in the trading. It was a noticeable fact that later in the day when prices were at the high level the small orders, including whole strings of odd lots, began to make their appearance on the tape. A very large business in Americans had been done on the London market before the stock market opened in New York. Commission houses kept their offices open all night and took orders which were executed in London as early as 3 o'clock New York time. Foreign arbitrage brokers in New York estimated that as a result of the New York buying in London and the London selling in New York, no less than 150,000 shares of various stocks changed hands from foreign to American owners. But the operations by cable were largely confined to professional operators. The events of the day in the New York market proved that the great mass of outside speculation which is attracted by a national political event waited to place their orders in the New York market. The professional operators who have been taking on stocks for several weeks past threw over their holdings on an enormous scale to take advantage of the outside demand. The buying continued with such animation and speculative sentiment became so buoyant that buying for the long account was renewed on a very large scale by both professional and outside speculators. The sudden relapse in the money market had much to do with the renewed outburst of speculation. As against the 25 per cent loan on Monday, the first loan to-day was made at 5 per cent, which was the highest of the day. In the late dealings the rate fell to 1 per cent. The extreme advance in Northern Pacific was 3⅞. A number of industrials reacted between 1 and 2 points, but in the railroads the last prices were only a fraction below the best and the market was in progress of recovery and closed firm.

The bond market was quite as active comparatively as the stock market, and was also very broad, although the mortgages with speculative value were the most prominent. Several of those rose from 1 to 1¾ per cent. Total sales, par value, $5,255,000.

United States refunding 2s, old 4s and 5s advanced ¼, and new 4s ½ per cent on the last call.

The London Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says:

Americans dominated the market here today. They were first, the rest were nowhere. The triumph of McKinley aroused the greatest enthusiasm. The market which opened at 9 o'clock was surprised by heavy realizing sales from New York, but London easily absorbed all these offerings although the public was not prominent as purchasers. The professionals regarded the Republican majority in the House of Representatives as a powerful factor and investors are expected to come into the market for American bonds considering how much they yield, while stocks are thought to be relatively more active. The Continent did little but the market finished buoyant and active, although it is said that the business done was much less than that transacted after the election in 1896.

The bank lost £150,000 gold to Egypt and a small parcel of gold was taken for New York from the open market on an exceptional order.

Money rates were unaltered.

The brokers' price for lead was $4 and for copper $16 75@16 77½.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Wheat started with the boom on an advance of 1d at Liverpool since Monday and on the result of yesterday's balloting December opened ⅝@⅞c higher at 74⅞ to 74½. It took but a few moments for the bubble of activity to burst. That there was a very small short interest became evident early, as opening buyers were few. Late in the day there was some news bullish in character, but it failed to check the decline materially. Around 74c December steadied for awhile on unfavorable Argentine advices, but Bradstreet's increase in the world's visible of 1,250,000 bushels caused renewed weakness and December, under the liquidation and lack of support which had depressed the market all along, dropped to 73¼@73⅝c and closed ⅝@¾c under Monday at 73⅝c.

Corn was quiet and comparatively steady. December closed ⅛@¼c under Monday at 35⅝c.

There was only a small professional business in oats. December closed ⅛@¼c lower at 27⅞c.

Provisions opened higher on a light run of hogs, higher prices at the yards and in sympathy with wheat. Tone, however, showed no particular firmness and on liberal offerings of lard and ribs the price yielded readily. January pork closed 5c under Monday, lard, 2½@5c lower and ribs closed 5c down.

Wheat and Other Grains.

WHEAT—Paris and Liverpool were higher, but Chicago and New York were lower. Chicago opened firmer on better foreign advices, and there was some commission buying, but later on the market weakened off, with Chicago and St. Louis selling freely. The pressure to sell was confined to short wheat as a rule.

The Argentine situation continued important. Snow cabled heavy storms in the Santa Fe district, and all authorities reduced the total crop.

This market was dull and showed no change worthy of note on the spot, but futures declined.

Spot Wheat—Shipping, 98¾c; Milling, $1@1 02½ per ctl.
