LOCAL NEWS.

LAST NIGHT OF THE ENCHANTRESS AT FORD'S FAVORITE THEATRE.—THE popular place of amusement has been crowded nightly all during the period of its most successful engagement of that charming singer, the beautiful prima donna, Miss Caroline Richings, and the excellent English Opera Troupe, now performing at this fashionable place of refined entertainment, which no doubt will continue to attract overflowing audiences for nights to come. Our reasons for judging of our friend upon the fact that the grand spectacular opera of the "Enchantress" has never been produced in such magnificent style as now represented at Ford's first-class temple of art, owing into requisition for its performance the united talents and services of nearly one hundred persons; the whole framed in the most splendid scenery, interwoven with grand music, duetts, choruses, graceful dances, ballet fluctuations, and beautiful instrumental music. On Monday evening, the first grand comedy night, with Mr. and Miss Richings, and the star stock company of Washington.

GROVER'S THEATRE.—Last Night of Yankee Robinson.—Every night since the appearance of the great comedian, Yankee Robinson, the theatre has been so crowded that many were unable to gain admission on both nights. The national melo-dramatic comedy of the "Days of '76" is of a character well calculated to entertain; not too long, it is full of fun, allowing plenty of room for the display of the ready Yankee wit of Robinson, and enough of military combats to render a number of scenes thrilling. This evening the "Days of '76" will be repeated for the last time on the occasion of the farewell benefit of Yankee Robinson, when he has chosen to perform in the sublime in a new and most thrilling interest, entitled the "Battle of Antietam, or the Death of Gen. Reno," in which Gens. McClellan, Jackson and Stuart are all said to figure. In this piece Mr. Robinson appears as Primeroyal Plummer.

On Monday evening next there will be a revival of Jonathan Ready. The "School for Scandal" will be performed, Mr. Devenport and all the members of the Comedy Congress appearing.

ODD FELLOWS' HALL.—Never, since the erection of this popular hall, has it been visited by such immense crowds as have been in attendance since its occupation by the distinguished company of talented artistes from the Canterbury. Eager crowds seek for admission nightly, many among whom are ladies, who are anxious to witness the superb scenery and mechanism of which they have heard so much said. In addition to the extensive performance nightly offered, the energetic managers have added the celebrated act entitled the "Gipsy's Lay," which attracted such universal attention at the Canterbury. Now the ladies can have an opportunity of seeing it, and as the company will soon return to the Canterbury, where ladies are not admitted, every one of the fair sex who can appreciate a magnificent performance, should attend Odd Fellows' Hall to-night.

WASHINGTON VARIETIES.—A long and attractive programme is presented at this popular establishment this evening, in which Hernandez appears in three of his best characters. Also, is repeated, the beautiful ballet of Fucha Abdul Kazak, in which Stolloey, M'lle Julia Lehman, M'lle Pauline, and the grand corps de ballet, perform. Miss Tessman in new local songs; the famous Budworth Brothers in new acts; the celebrated Morestes on the horizontal bar; the whole concluding with the comic pantomime of "Deshalimesaux." As afternoon matinee is also given, commencing at 3 o'clock, when the entire star company appear. On Monday evening the following artistes make their first appearance: the great Irish vocalist, Kathleen O'Neil; the renowned Ethiopian, M'lle Marie Zoe, and the celebrated comic singer, Sam Long.

BURIAL OF STREET COMMISSIONERS—An Amusing Christmas Diversion—A Yankee Method of Cleaning Streets.—Yesterday afternoon, a large crowd gathered on Seventh street, opposite the post office, near F, attracted thither by four ominous piles of street dirt and filth, which were elevated in the form of graves, with paper imitation of head and foot-boards, on which were sundry inscriptions. The first mound appeared like the half-buried body of a man, with hat at one end and the boots sticking out at the other. At the head were the words, "A sacred one lies buried here—a street commissioner." At the foot, "O, grave, where is thy sting! O, Death, where is thy victory!"

At the head of the next grave was inscribed: "In memory of the street commissioner of the Fourth ward." Here, also, was the portrait of a shabby-looking man, who is made to say—"Why don't you have the street cleaned in front of your store? Reckon the street commissioner is played out; he did not draw pay for the past six months." At the foot: "How are you, Commissioner?" "Are you sick?"

On the next grave were the words: "The funeral of these vurtiges will take place to-morrow, at 4 o'clock, p. m. Common scavengers will attend without further notice. Per order."

The next is a small pile of the most disgusting offal which was ever collected, emitting, as Shakspeare would say, "the rankest compound of villainous smell that ever offended nostril." On this sweet morsel was inscribed the appropriate word, "Filthy!"

We hope the perpetrators of the above do not mean to insinuate that the streets of Washington are not as cleanly as they should be.

HEAVY ROBBERY, AND ARREST OF THE THIEVES. On the night of the 20th of December, Mr. Otis G. Judd, rooming at a house on Eighth street, was robbed of a carpet-bag containing the sum of fifteen or sixteen hundred dollars, more or less, and three Po drafts on the United States Treasury; one for $40, one for $80, and one for $60—making, in all, $180. The matter was placed in the hands of the detective department, under Supt. Webb. Officers Barry and Hogan were detailed to investigate the matter. Wm. Dillon, formerly a clerk to Mr. Judd, who is a native recently returned from the Army of the Potomac, was arrested as a party concerned in the robbery. Subsequently, William N. Chester, alias Wm. C. Butler, was followed to Baltimore, and while at Barnum's Hotel was arrested by Officer Barry, and $600, the three Treasury drafts before mentioned, a gold watch and chain valued at $150, were found in his possession, together with a new suit of clothes which he had purchased with a part of the money. Mr. Judd identified the draft and a $20 note as his property, and a part of the money stolen from him. They have both been committed for trial, in default of $5,000 bail each. Certain books and papers of account, and of great value to Mr. Judd, were taken from the carpet-bag and thrown on the street by the thief or thieves. Any person having the same in their possession will be suitably rewarded by leaving them with Supt. Webb, at his office, 516 Eleventh street, or with Capt. D. G. McKelvey, of detective department.

FIRST.—On Christmas afternoon, the colored teamsters, in the camp on E Street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, were attacked by a large crowd of white teamsters, with sticks, stones, and knives, and driven out of their quarters. Many were severely injured in the affray.

There are several versions as to the cause of the affair, some saying that it was the beginning of "a war of extermination upon the blacks," but the most probable story is, that the white teamsters, having taken in a full supply of whisky, made the attack out of pure devilment. It is not thought that any of the wounded ones will die, although some of them are very badly hurt.

FIRE.—On Thursday evening, about 6½ o'clock, a fire was discovered in a frame stable situated in an alley running from 1 to H streets, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, belonging to Mr. Samuel Stott, and occupied by the Hon. Secretary Smith. The flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to get anything out. A carriage and harness were entirely consumed. The horse was taken out so far as to reach the door, but he was burnt so badly he dropped just outside and died. The roof of an adjoining stable was slightly damaged. The value of property destroyed amounted to $300. The cause of the fire is unknown.

STABBING CASE.—On Thursday night, Officer Shield, of the Third ward, found a colored man lying on the side-walk, on Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets. He was taken to the station-house, when, upon examination, it was found he had been stabbed in the right side by some person or persons unknown. He stated that he was attacked by several white men, who, after cutting and beating him, robbed him of a pocket-book containing one dollar and some cents. Dr. Kusby was called, and, after dressing his wound, he was conveyed to his home, on F street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets.

SUPPER AT THE ODD FELLOWS' HALL HOSPITAL, NAVY YARD.—The ladies engaged in providing an entertainment for the patients at this hospital, not content with supplying them with a sumptuous dinner, also had prepared a supper which fully compared with the former in all respects, and was duly appreciated by the brave patriots. The names of these estimable ladies are: Mrs. G. M. Head, Mrs. Captain Norris, Mrs. M. B. Hays, Mrs. M. B. Hovle, Mrs. Dr. Hodges, Mrs. H. C. Fahnestock, Mrs. Choate, and Miss V. Morris.

RESTAURANTS CLOSED.—The following restaurants were closed by Lieut. Franklin, commanding night patrol, during Christmas night, for selling liquor after the usual hour:

Gillen's Retreat—proprietor fined $10; Eagle Restaurant, Pennsylvania avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets; restaurant of Char. J. Rupler, corner of B street, fined $50; house of N. Lockhocker, known as "Headquarters," Twelfth street, between B and C streets—dismissed the case.

ARRIVAL OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS.—Three hundred and fifty sick and wounded soldiers arrived here from Fredericksburg on Thursday, and one hundred and sixty yesterday.

CAPTAIN SOLOMON WHITEHURST, Captain Wilcox's company, 9th regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, who lost his life at Fredericksburg, in the late battle, had a singular premonition, while stopping here sick, with a friend on H street. He was here some four weeks, and every most of his time writing to his friends, and had photographs taken and sent to them. Said he, "I am going to write to all my friends, for I never felt such feelings in my life. You know I am not a coward, but I feel that I shall never come of the field alive. I don't know why it is, but my feelings are dreadful. I don't care for myself, but oh! my poor wife and children!" he had said they don't would give anything in the world but my honor, if I could remain away from my regiment. Only think: I have been in the service eighteen months and not received a scratch. I suppose my friends think I am a coward; but let the contrary come, and I will show them." When he met his death-wound, he was fighting in command of the regiment, in front of the rebel batteries, the men all fall on the ground waiting for orders to charge. Winchester alone stood up.

When reminded of his danger, he replied: "It's time enough for me to lie down when they knock me down." At that moment the rebels commenced a cross fire. A piece of shell struck one of his legs, mangling it in the most frightful manner—he died shortly after. Winchester was one of those true, genial men, generous to a fault; and to say his men liked him would be too mild, for they loved him, and yet no officer ever had better control over his men; his commands were like magic. He was the counsel, the pride and boast of the whole regiment. In him, the country has sustained the loss of a gallant and brave officer, a man of extraordinary talents, and could always use them for the benefit of his friends, but seldom for himself. His fault, if fault it be, was, he knew not the value of money. At one time, he was prominent in the American party, being the originator of a secret society, the ritual in secret cypher, and was distinguished in the early days of the Know Nothing New York State by the fraternity. He was about 30 years of age, born in New Hampshire, a printer by trade. He leaves hosts of warm friends, who will ever cherish his memory. He was an affectionate and fond husband and parent, and leaves a wife and four children in destitute circumstances. May the God of battles protect them.

THE COLUMBIA ENGINE COMPANY met last evening, in their hall, to take measures for solemnizing the death of their deceased fellow member, Mr. Stephen McKenzie. Resolutions of condolence with the bereaved family were unanimously adopted. It was further resolved to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased. The members will attend his funeral, in full uniform, this afternoon, at 2½ o'clock, from his residence, on D street, between Sixth and Seventh.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.—On Thursday evening as some small boys were amusing themselves in firing off their pistols, on D street south, between Fifth and Sixth streets, one of the boys accidentally discharged his pistol into the face of another boy by the name of Wellant, severely injuring him, the powder from the pistol taking effect in the boy's face, causing it to swell up so as to completely close his eyes. He was conveyed to his home, and Dr. Walsh was summoned to attend him.

REBEL PRISONERS SUPPLIED BY ONE OF OUR CITIZENS.—We understand that Mr. T. J. Magruder, shoe merchant, on D street, (who was some time since confined in the Old Capitol,) on Christmas morning sent a large wagon-load of turkeys, bread, delicacies, &c., to his late fellow-prisoners in the Old Capitol. This may all be admissible, but we wonder if Union men in the South are allowed the same privilege.

ARREST OF A LIEUTENANT COMMANDING BOGUS PATROL.—First Lieutenant Eaton, company B, Second regiment District of Columbia volunteers, was arrested, on Christmas, for patrolling the streets with a squad of men, representing the same as a patrol guard, and attempting to assume the duties of such. He was under the influence of liquor at the time.
