LOCAL NEWS.

LEVYING BLACK MAIL.—Yesterday afternoon a soldier named John Simonds, pretending to be a detective, approached a man named John Wagner, who was driving a milk wagon, and whose horse was branded with the United States mark, and told him that he must consider himself under arrest for having Government property in his possession. After some conversation, Simonds told the milk wagoner that he would let him go for the consideration of $5, when Officer McColgan, of the Fourth ward, stepped up and arrested both of the parties. They were taken to the Central Guard-house, where the soldier was dismissed and the driver held for a hearing.

RESIGNATIONS AND POLICE APPOINTMENTS.—Yesterday afternoon, at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, the resignation of patrolman David M. Sylvester, of the Second Precinct, was accepted. The following appointmen's were made: Robert J. Nicholson, Second Precinct, vice James O. Lusby, dismissed; Andrew C. Smith, Fifth Precinct, vice Peter W. McChesney, resigned; Wm. J. Grant, Second Precinct, vice James M. Sylvester, resigned; James W. Howard, Third Precinct, vice Augustus Brown, resigned.

MOVEMENTS IN REAL ESTATE.—By James C. McGuire & Co. the following real estate has been sold: Three-story brick house and lot on F street, near Sixth, to R. M. Sutton, for $7,200. Two-story and basement brick house and lot on Thirteenth street, between G and H streets, to F. A. Hoof, for $7,800. A similar house adjoining above to Geo. Parker, for $7,400. Two-story brick back building and lot on Thirteenth street, between L and Massachusetts avenue, to John A. Milburn, for $3,050.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.—A man named John Conner was arrested last night, by Officer Howard, of the Seventh precinct, upon the charge of committing an assault and battery on a woman named Catharine Riley, who is in the family way. The woman went to the station-house last night, with her face and clothing covered with blood, and whilst there swooned away, when she was taken to her home. This morning Justice Gibbrson held the man to bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On last Monday one of the female employees at the Treasury Department accidentally entangled her dress with the machinery of one of the presses and was being rapidly drawn toward a revolving wheel, when her shrieks and cries for assistance brought several persons to her assistance. She was soon extricated, but her dress was torn to shreds.

TO BE TRANSFERRED.—All the officers and men, prisoners of war, except guerrillas, now confined in the Old Capitol, are to be sent to Fort Delaware, in accordance with the directions of the Commissary General of Prisoners. The guerrillas will remain under strict guard.

AN EAGLE FROM THE BATTLE FIELD.—Mr. Wm. Reutzer, of this city, has brought from the White House, a fine young gray eagle, which was shelled out of its nest in a forest at Coal Harbor, by a rebel battery during the recent cavalry fight there. This eaglet promises to be a fine ornithological specimen.

FOURTH WARD COUNCILMAN.—Joseph Foltanshe was one of the members elected to the Board of Common Council from the Fourth Ward, on Monday, instead of Mr. E. Edmonston, erroneously reported elected.

MORE CONTRABANDS.—The steamer She tucket arrived at Sixth street wharf yesterday afternoon, having on board some two hundred contrabands from the White House.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.—A German named Conrad Remler, who was severely injured in a riot at Loeffler's Gardens about a week ago, has since died.

THE SICK NOT INCLUDED.—The order to transfer all prisoners of war confined in the Old Capitol to Fort Delaware does not include those who are sick and who cannot be easily removed.

ALEXANDRIA NEWS.

THE following items are taken from the State Journal of the 9th instant:

Guerrilla Raid.—We learn that while some grillers were this morning fishing off Marlow's Landing, a short distance from the White House, three guerrillas came out and attempted to take possession of their boats. One of the guerrillas was shot dead by the captain as he was attempting to board the vessel. The second one succeeded in getting on board but was soon knocked down and secured. The third one succeeded in making his escape to land. We get this information from a gentleman who was at the landing when the occurrence took place. It is the second attempt these freebooters have made on the fishermen at this point.

Horse Racing in our Streets.—Our attention has been called to the practice indulged in by a numerous party of would-be sporting gentry, of racing horses in our public streets. They appear to have selected Water street, between Duke street and Battery Rodgers, as a most excellent piece of turf on which to try the mettle of their nags, and each evening witnesses an exciting trial of speed, to the imminent danger of children and passers-by.

CANTERBURY.—The Canterbury is rated A No. 1 in the estimation of play-goers. To-night the charming French dancseuse and tight rope artiste, Mlle Marietta Ravel, appears in her favorite character of the Flower Girl, and distributes bouquets to the audience from the rope. Mons. Baptistin and the Donzani Ballet Troupe support Mlle Ravel in beautiful ballets; while Mulligan, West, Williams, and Dougherty will keep the audience in a good humor with their comicalities. The funny pantomime, "The Village Pedagogue," concludes the entertainment. Go to Canterbury to-night.

THE ARGUMENT.

FAUST, a German student, after a life of meditation and laborious research, becomes disgusted with the nothingness of human knowledge, and his own inability to unravel the mystic arena of nature. He summons to his aid the Spirit of Evil, who appears to him under the form of Mephistophiles. Through the supernatural power of the latter, Faust is straightway restored to youth, with all its passions and illusions, and is at the same time endowed with personal beauty and luxurious garb. Mephistophiles, as in a vision, reveals to him the beauteous village maid, Margaret, with whom the student falls instantaneously in love. He longs to become acquainted with her, and his wish is soon afterwards gratified. Margaret, equally mated for her loveliness and for her virtue, has been left by her soldier brother, Valentine, under the care of Dame Martha, a worthy but not very vigilant personage. The maiden at first rejects the stranger's advances, but Faust, aided by the demoniacal influence of Mephistophiles, (who is anxious to destroy another human soul,) urges his suit with such vehemence that Margaret's resistance is at length overcome.

Valentine, Margaret's brother, on returning with his comrades from the wars, learns what has occurred; he challenges his sister's seducer, but through the intervention of Mephistophiles he is slain in the encounter. Margaret, horror stricken at the calamity of which she is the original cause, gives way to despair. Her reason becomes affected, and in a paroxysm of frenzy she kills her infant. For this she is thrown into prison. Faust, aided by Mephistophiles, obtains access to the cell in which she is immured. They both eagerly urge her to fly, but Margaret, in whom holier feelings have gained the ascendant, spurns their proffered aid, and places her sole reliance in prayer and repentance. Overcome at last by sorrow and remorse, with an earnest prayer for forgiveness upon her lips, the unhappy girl expires. Mephistophiles triumphs at the catastrophe he has brought about, but a chorus of heavenly voices is heard proclaiming that there is pardon for the repentant sinner, and the Evil One, foiled and overcome, crouch as suppliantly as the accents of divine love and forgiveness make themselves heard, while the spirit of Margaret, borne by ministering angels, is wafted upwards to eternal home.
