To Advertisers and Business Men.

We invite the attention of advertisers and business men to the columns of the DAILY NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, as an advertising medium. Has a large circulation in the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and the surrounding country, and is constantly increasing. We feel assured that they will find it not only a valuable and reliable medium of communicating with the public.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FOR JUBILEE LAST NIGHT.—Notwithstanding the clouds, which seemed portentous of rain, at an early hour last evening the streets were thronged with people, bent on being jubilant over recent glorious victories.

The Treasury Department was ablaze with light, and profusely decorated with flags. The position representing the National Currency Bureau was the transparencies over the door, representing a fac simile of a compound interest bearing ten dollar note—the first of these bearing the motto:

"U. S. GREENBACKS AND U. S. GRANT—GRANT GIVES THE GREENBACKS A METALLIC RING."

The State Department was tastefully decorated with American flags, and the main entrance was ornamented by the motto:

"THE UNION SAVED
BY FAITH IN THE CONSTITUTION,
FAITH IN THE PEOPLE,
AND TRUST IN GOD."

Over the door of the north front was another transparency, bearing the following inscription:

"AT HOME UNION IS ORDER, AND ORDER IS PEACE."

The War Department presented a fine appearance, and was the theme of general admiration. The pillars on the north front were enveloped in the various national flags, and over the main entrance several storm signal-flags were displayed. The balcony was decorated with garlands of flags, and from the right and left ends of the balcony cords were run to the apex of the main flag staff, and from which were displayed flags of every corps and division of the armies of the Potomac and James. Below this was a fine display of variegated lamps entwined with laurel and evergreens, and under this arch, most brilliantly lighted, was a transparency bearing the national name of

"GRANT."

Halleck's headquarters was illuminated and profusely decorated with flags.

The building corner of Fourteenth street, near New York avenue, occupied by Gen. Augur as Headquarters of the "Department of Washington," and by Col. Ingraham, Provost Marshal General of the Defences North of the Potomac, made a magnificent appearance. In addition to the thorough illumination of the windows, the bunting of every description adorned the building, and sidewalks in front. The dark entry above it was at intervals, throughout the evening, made gorgeously brilliant by the discharge of mines—red, white and blue—the discharge of Roman candles, and light rockets, which, as they exploded, would display the national colors far above the clouds, falling like lightning over the whole city. A band of music was stationed in front of these headquarters, the music of which charmed the entire neighborhood.

Winder's Building, corner of Seventeenth and F streets—occupied by the War Ordnance Bureau under General Dyer, by Major Leet, Adjutant General in charge of Lieutenant General Grant's Special Headquarters; by Major General Hitchcock in charge of the Bureau of Exchange; and Judge Advocate General Holt—was very brilliantly lighted, throwing entirely into the shade the darkened walls of the Navy Department building opposite.

The clothing depot on H street, near Seventeenth, was a feature in the general display, the house being strung with variegated lamps, and immediately under was a semi-circular transparency bearing the inscription—

"THE UNION.
Saved and shall be preserved. Our whole country is strength, and strength is Peace."

In the centre of this transparency was the representation of an eagle, bearing in its talons a scroll inscribed with the word "Richmond," and immediately over the main entrance was another transparency, bearing the word "Union," and a number just above it inscribed "Victory." The halyards of the flag-staff in front of the building were attached to each end of the balcony, and ornamented with the flags of the different nations.

The General Barnes' headquarters was thickly decked with flags, was brilliantly illuminated, and attended during the whole evening by a band of music playing national airs.

The office of Captain R. Brinkenhoff, Assistant Quartermaster, was refulgent. Over the door was a transparency bearing the inscription:

"Our most reliable peacemakers;
U. S. ARMY, U. S. NAVY, AND U. S. GRANT."

Just inside the main entry was a screen bearing steel plate engravings of President Lincoln and Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

The office of Captain Camp was thoroughly illuminated, and made a splendid appearance. In the door he had a transparency with the inscription:

VICTORY!
SHERMAN, GRANT, SHERIDAN.

On the flag-staff in front of the door tri-colored lights. The guard barracks, in the rear of the office, were also illuminated.

The General Post Office Department and city post office were brilliantly lighted up, having twenty-four lights in each window, making in all about two thousand lights. The Government Transportation office, Nos. 459 and 461 C street, occupied by Benjamin Burton, A. Q. M., was well represented with lights and American flags.

The Bank of the Metropolis was thoroughly and handsomely illuminated.

The office of Lieut. Col. G. Bell, depot commissary, 223 G street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, was handsomely illuminated; red, white and blue tissue paper were displayed in each window; extending along the front of the building was a transparency, upon which was the motto, "Our most reliable peace-makers—U. S. Army, U. S. Navy, and U. S. Grant."

At the Adjutant General's office, on G street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets.

The office of Captain Moore, Chief A. Q. M., U. S. A., corner Twenty-first and F streets, was tastefully illuminated. From the top of the flag-staff there were suspended some 25 lanterns, throwing forth lights of the colors of red, white and blue. The star spangled banner was hung in various places about the building, as was also a large number of flags termed "guidons." Altogether the building presented a magnificent appearance.

The following residences and offices were also handsomely illuminated: Gen. Townsend's residence, on Twentieth street, between G and H streets; the office of the Superintendent of the Potomac Boat; Mr. Buckly, on H street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets; the Quartermaster's and Cavalry office, on Pennsylvania avenue; the New York State Agency, F street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets; Brevet Maj. Gen. Wm. Hoffman, office of Commissary Bradson, corner Twentieth and F streets; Mr. J. Williamson, 517 Twelfth st; Mr. Rapley, G street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets; Mrs. Turnbull, 190 F street; Gen. Hancock's residence, 139 F street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets; Gen. Barker's headquarters, corner of Eighteenth and G streets; Brevet Purveyor's office, 212 G street, near Fourteenth street; Mrs. W. T. Carrol, H, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets; Captain Lee's office; 4th division of the Provost Marshal General's office, Eighteenth street, between G and H streets; Colonel Burch, blank department, corner of Seventeenth street and Pennsylvania avenue; Judge Higgin's residence, corner Seventeenth and H streets; Col. F. M. Villard, volunteer bureau; subsistence department, corner of G and Sixteenth streets; Mr. Schofield's office, 440 B street; Mr. Bateman, 454 Thirteenth street; James Beyon, Thirteenth street; Mrs. Ringgold, 448 Thirteenth street, very brilliant; Mrs. Hooker, 296 F st., nicely illuminated by Major Benedict; Thomas E. Williams, 503 Twelfth street; Major Hunt, 445 Third street, red, white, and blue paper displayed at each window; William Sibbers, 447 Thirteenth street; the store of Sigismund & Co., confectioners, on the corner of Twelfth and G streets, was brilliantly illuminated—stripes of red, white, and blue tissue paper were displayed at each window; Mr. Danenhower, corner of Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and the Model House, on the corner of Ninth and F streets.

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT.—The Young Men's Christian Association gave another of their interesting entertainments last evening in the Council Chamber, City Hall. The room was filled, many being unable to obtain seats. Capt. Beardsley, president of the association, occupied the chair.

THE OIL MANIA.

Pa has struck lie is now the theme,
At breakfast and at dinner;
'Tis the only subject now discussed,
By saints as well as sinner.
From Pennsylvania comes the cry,
Canada takes up the song,
White California's golden shores
The oily strains prolong.

And if you pass the church's door,
Or friends long parted greet,
Oil is the subject now discussed,
At church or on the street.
'Tis very fine, we think, to gaze
On a bubble or balloon,
But he who puts his fingers in the fire
Will find them smarting soon.

Now if you would wish to make
An investment good indeed,
Just go to Smith & Bros. store,
And buy something that you need;
And we will guarantee,
Just mind now what we say,
'Twill be a safe investment,
That a dividend will pay.

PETROLEUM.

THE STANDING STONE OIL COMPANY
OF WEST VIRGINIA.

CAPITAL, $2,000,000,

In 40,000 shares, at $50 each.

Subscription price, $15 per share, subject to no other call or assessment.

A working capital of $100,000 reserved. Only 20,000 shares to be sold at the subscription price.

The property of this company consists of the well-known Martin or Standing Stone tract, and contains from 2,500 to 3,000 acres of land, in fee simple, free from lease, undivided interest or royalty. Standing Stone creek (a branch of the Little Kanawha river) and its tributaries pass through this property, and it has upon it a larger amount of boring territory than is owned by any other company in West Virginia. It is situated in Wirt county, near the celebrated Rathbone, or Burning Spring tract, and is extent of territory is five times greater, and is considered by all experienced oil men familiar with the oil district of West Virginia quite equal to if not superior to the Rathbone tract. The Standing Stone Oil Company's property extends from the Little Kanawha river, near Burning Spring Run, across the waters of Standing Stone creek, including a portion of Robinson's Fork and Two Rills run, and is immediately in the Great Oil Break, extending from Burning Spring through by Standing Stone and Petroleum to Horse Neck Wells, near the Ohio river, and embraces the line of CRESAPAH.

The property of this company has not been developed, for the reason that it belonged to minor heirs, who could not convey until they attained their majority, which the youngest did a few days ago.

Wells are being bored on the adjoining lands, and oil had. It is said that upon this Standing Stone tract oil was first discovered in 1790.

On the Dever farm, adjoining, a well is being bored and oil obtained. The well of McFarland & Jones, on the Morgan land, is near this property.

These funds are held in trust by J. N. Camden, Esq., President First National Bank of Parkersburg, West Virginia, and the Hon. John S. Carlile, Senator in Congress from Virginia, and will be by them conveyed to the Standing Stone Oil Company whenever the stock to be disposed of by subscription (to wit; 20,000 shares) shall be subscribed and paid for. Three thousand six hundred shares of the stock have already been subscribed and paid for.
