Mary Blake, indicted for stealing $143 from John Madden; recognizance forfeited, and bench warrant for her arrest issued.

John Weston, indicted for stealing a pair of shoes from Charles F. Cummings; plead guilty, and sentenced to jail for ten days.

A SOUND SLEEPER.—On Sunday night Mr. Fremont Hadley, who resides on K street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, near the Navy Yard, placed a pillow in the window of his room, in the second story, and soon went to sleep with his head in the window. About 12 o'clock he awoke and found himself on the pavement; but how he got there or how long he had been there was more than he could tell. Yesterday morning he complained of being sore, but thought he would be all right in a few days.

THE WEATHER IN WASHINGTON.—We are indebted to the clerk of Thompson's Owen House for a record of the thermometer in that hotel on Sunday, which may be put down as one of the hot Sundays of the season: At 6 a. m., 86; 12 m., 87; 6 p. m., 88. In most places of public resort the mercury ranged considerably higher. Monday, July 9—6 a. m., 84; 12 m., 87; 6 p. m., 83.

HARMLESS AS A SUMMER DEW, yet in the highest degree disinfectant and preservative, Sozodont keeps the teeth always healthy and spotless, and the gums ruddy and free from canker.

WORK PERFORMED BY THE DETECTIVES.—Sergeant Reed, of the Detective Corps, has made his report to Superintendent Richards, showing the work done during the quarter ending June 30. The force now consists of Messrs. Bigley, Kelly, McDevitt, and Clarvoe, with Sergeant Reed in charge, all of whom are active, faithful officers. During the quarter there were 163 robberies reported; 137 arrests were made; amount of property lost or stolen, $26,446 25; recovered by the corps, $8,953 26; amount of property turned over to the property clerk, $4,806 75; amount turned over to owners, $3,552 50; amount taken from and returned to prisoners, $313.70. It is well ascertained by the detectives that in reporting property stolen or lost to them, the owners give it a value at least double what it is really worth. The amount reported as lost or stolen will probably exceed the real loss one-third, and the detectives have recovered at least one-half of that.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.—In the Circuit Court yesterday morning the case of John O. Harris against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, action to recover $20,000 damages, on account of having his leg broken by a collision of trains in Western Virginia, was taken up. The plaintiff says he was on his way, in October, 1864, from Maine to Ohio, and paid a visit to this city, taking the Western train from here. He charges that at the time of the accident the train was being run at twenty miles per hour, and that by the collision he had his leg broken, his spine injured, and was otherwise hurt to such an extent as to have prevented him from following his business. Messrs T. J. D. Fuller and W. D. Davidge appear for the plaintiff. Messrs. Jos. H. Bradley and Jas. A. Buchanan, of Baltimore, for defendants.

MEDALS AND PREMIUMS.—The distribution of medals and premiums to the pupils of the Second District will be held at the Wesley Chapel, corner of Fifth and F streets, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at four o'clock, instead of Metzerott Hall, as announced.

The distribution to the pupils of the Third District will take place this afternoon at four o'clock at the Fourth Street Methodist Church, near the Navy-yard.

CHANGE OF WEATHER.—Last evening a refreshing rain cooled the atmosphere materially. There was a considerable fall of mercury all through the city.

Gen. Sherman's Reception and Speech in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Gen. Sherman arrived here this morning, in company with Gen. Meade, Mayor McMichael, and Commodore Turner. He visited the iron-clad fleet at League Island and the Navy Yard, and was greeted with a salute due his rank. An immense crowd gathered at the gates to do him honor. This evening he dined at the Union League house, and received a grand serenade.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—An immense crowd assembled in front of the Union League House, despite the falling rain, and on Gen. Sherman appearing with his cigar on the balcony, he was received with boisterous cheers. Col. Wm. L. C Michaels, who during the war served on Sherman's staff, introduced the General with an eloquent eulogium of his services, which aroused the enthusiasm of the crowd. Gen. Sherman said he was glad to see so many Philadelphians assembled, though he was sorry so many should be exposed to the inclemency of the weather, though he must say he found it much pleasanter than it was in New York yesterday, where it was as hot as blazes.

He said he would only express thanks for the honor accorded to him, and make them as brief as possible, so as to spare their new hats from being exposed to the rain. His visit to Philadelphia was a short and casual one, as he was now interested in building a railroad to unite the Atlantic with the Pacific, and would shortly start for the Rocky Mountains. He eulogized Philadelphia for the care bestowed by its various societies to soldiers on the way to and from the war, and for the homes that shelter the orphans of soldiers and sailors. He again thanked his hearers, and concluded amid hearty cheering.

General Meade was also called forward, and he made a brief speech in response to the cheers of the crowd. He was followed by Daniel Dougherty and others, when the crowd dispersed.

Gov. Brownlow's Message to the Tennessee Legislature—He Takes the High-toned—Thad. Stevens View of Subjugated States.

NASHVILLE, July 6.—The Senate having a quorum, the Governor sent in his message urging the ratification of the constitutional amendment. He says:

"I beg you to bear in mind in your deliberations that while most of you have been at all times, personally and individually, loyal to the United States, as a whole you represent a State most of whose people went into the rebellion, and raised one hundred and fifty-four regiments and sent them into the field to fight against the National Government, levied war against the United States for four years, and were finally conquered and reduced to the condition of inhabitants of a subjugated province, wholly at the mercy of the conquerors by the laws of nations and the laws of war.

"The General Government has the undoubted right to prescribe the terms of settlement to the State of Tennessee. These terms have been prescribed, and are now presented for your acceptance or rejection. I have every assurance that when they are accepted your Senators and Representatives will be admitted to their seats in Congress, and the State at once be clad in her long-lost rights. Are these terms reasonable?

"For my own part, they seem to me to be but the decree of political justice and equity, made necessary by the result of the rebellion.

"It is now your privilege to restore the noble old Commonwealth to her ancient position in the Union of our fathers. As you have performed your duty heretofore in defiance of the abuse and denunciation of traitors, so, I am confident, you will do in the future, heedless of threats or dictation from any source."

This is thought to be the first step towards Mosquero declaring himself permanent dictator.

Fire in the Oil Region.

LOUISVILLE, PA., July 8.—Last night, during a thunder storm, the lightning struck a gas-pipe in the Western Union Telegraph well. The fire quickly communicated to the tank, which exploded. The oil ran down to Bemhoff Run, causing the flames to communicate with several other tanks, which, in turn, exploded, and caused one of the heaviest conflagrations the oil regions ever experienced.

Between eighteen and twenty large producing wells were burnt up, including two or three large flowing wells, among which were the Sheridan and Western Union Telegraph wells. The Sheridan well had eight or nine tanks filled with oil destroyed. As far as we can learn, 20,000 barrels of oil were destroyed.

There were twenty derricks destroyed, besides several wells in various stages of completion.

The loss cannot be ascertained at present, but it is very heavy.
