New Advertisements.

WE ARE STILL RAKING IN A COMPLETE REVOLUTION IN TRADE, and selling every description of DRY and FANCY GOODS, PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, WATCHES, SEWING MACHINES, &c., for the uniform price of

ONE DOLLAR.

We would impress upon our patrons that our stock is not composed of second-hand Goods or Pawn Brokers' unredeemed Stock, but Goods carefully selected direct from American and European Manufacturers, the greater portion of which are

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY FOR US,

which fact enables us to offer our customers better Goods for the money than those who purchase to be disappointed, or than can be Obtained in Any Other Way.

The unprecedented success of our business, and the endorsement of prominent business men and the press in general, is a convincing proof that we have adopted the fairest and most popular system ever placed before the public. We pay the first five persons attempted to make a "Revolution in Trade," by enabling the public to procure goods in small quantities at manufacturers' prices, thus saving immense profits. The latter is now in process through the hands of the Commission Merchant, the Wholesaler, and Retailer.

Send clubs of ten or more, with 10 cents for each member thereof, and the getter-up of the club will receive a present worth $5 to $500, according to number sent.

SEND FOR OUR NEW CIRCULAR.

We have also made arrangements with the GREAT ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, of Boston, so that we can furnish our customers with other GOODS and a full line of TEAS at prices and on same terms to agents as though dealing directly with the company, thus giving an opportunity of selecting from the various grades any quality they may desire. We also pay agents the same commissions as allowed by the Company. Blank form of order, with price list and "THE TEA CUP," sent to any address.

RED JACKET AXE.

COLBURN'S PATENT—JULY 9, 1867.

TRIED AND NOT FOUND WANTING.

WE CLAIM IT WILL CUT TWENTY-FIVE (25) PER CENT. MORE CORD WOOD PER DAY THAN ANY OTHER AXE MADE.

Sirs: I have fully tried your Patent Axe and find that it is the best for the price. It will chop faster than any other Axe that I ever saw, and leaves the wood without sticking at all. I would not chop three days without one for the cost. I need not say any more, for any man that tries one will be satisfied. WM. KEES.

McKeesport, Dec. 19, 1867.

CAUTION.

The Axe and the Label are both patented. Infringers on these patents will be prosecuted according to law. Vendors of dealers, and persons using any infringement, are liable with the maker of the infringement.

For sale by all Dealers and the Manufacturers, LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL, (Successors to LIPPINCOTT & CO.,) SOLE OWNERS OF THE PATENTS, Pittsburg, Pa.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Fortieth Congress—Second Session.

TUESDAY, May 12, 1868.

SENATE.

The Senate was called to order at 11:30 a. m.

The Chaplain prayed for the Divine presence in this council chamber to-day, and that the mind of the President would be prepared for the suspense of to-day; the mind of the people for the result of the issues to be there decided, and that the minds of the Senators might be prepared for the duties they are called on to fulfill; that they will be faithful to their high trusts. God bless all the people and preserve the Government.

The Chief Justice then took the chair and the Court was opened in due form.

The reading of the minutes of yesterday were commenced by the Secretary, and after he had proceeded some minutes, Senator Edmunds moved that the further reading be dispensed with, to which Senator Davis objected.

Senator Edmunds called up the order offered by him rescinding the order that the vote on the articles of impeachment be taken at twelve o'clock to-day.

Senator Chandler stated that his colleague (Mr. Howard) was taken very sick, and was delirious yesterday. He was anxious to be here when the vote was taken, but could not be here except at the price of his life, as his physician had told him. His colleague thought he would be able to be here on Saturday.

The motion of Senator Edmunds was agreed to.

Senator Chandler then moved that the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, adjourn until Saturday.

Senator Hendricks moved to amend by making it Friday.

Senator Chandler did not think his colleague could be here before Saturday.

Senator Fessenden asked the effect of the adjournment relative to the filing of opinions.

The Chief Justice understood it as relating to the final day.

The amendment of Senator Hendricks was not agreed to, and the motion of Senator Chandler to adjourn the court of impeachment until Saturday, was agreed to.

On motion of Senator Drake, the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, then adjourned.

The President pro tem. then resumed the chair.

Mr. Drake moved that the Senate adjourn; which was not agreed to.

Mr. Yates moved that when the Senate adjourn it be to meet on Friday.

Mr. Anthony said that some of the Senators seemed to think that they were to stay here until September or October. There was a great deal of business now on the table, and it should be disposed of. Every day that they did business now would make one day less to stay here in the summer.

Mr. Sherman said that next week there would probably be a necessity for taking a recess for a few days, to put the chamber in summer order, and that being the case, it was best to lose no time now.

Mr. Hendricks said there was no reason now why legislative business should not be at once proceeded with. The evidence and arguments had all been heard, and he supposed Senators had made up their minds, and were now in a proper frame to attend to legislative business.

Mr. Drake said he had made the motion to adjourn over because he believed Senators were not in a condition to attend to business.

Mr. Conkling asked what was the matter.

Mr. Drake said if Senators could not see what was the matter, it was useless for him to tell them. The whole country now was trembling in an agony of suspense. If, in view of the throes in which the country was now suffering, there were Senators here who were possessed of such composure as to be insensible to it, then he envied them.

Mr. Sherman thought to-day was one of the least exciting which they had passed through. They had met and without the transaction of any business had adjourned the Court of Impeachment on account of the sickness of one of the associate judges.

Mr. Yates said it was useless to talk about doing business under present circumstances. It was impossible that anything could be properly attended to pending the result of the trial.

Mr. Cameron felt calm enough, but thought it was as well to adjourn for to-day, and he therefore renewed the motion to that effect.

The concurrent resolution from the House providing for an adjournment from May 15 to May 25 was, on motion of Mr. Sumner, laid on the table.

The President pro tempore presented a message from the President, enclosing the constitutions of Arkansas and South Carolina.

The bill to extend the charter of the city of Washington as received from the House, with amendments, was read.

The amendment making 15 days residence only in a
