Pianos and Music.

A CARD.

It is six months since I opened my new and beautiful Piano and Music Warerooms. Many friends ventured to express the opinion that it was a bold and hazardous undertaking; that the city business in my line would not justify it, &c.

Yet, encouraged by my extended trade and the lavish patronage which I had received from a generous public, I was impelled to make this fine improvement—erecting an immense warehouse and devoting four stories and a fine basement exclusively to the Piano, Parlor Organ, Music and Musical Instruments business.

I beg to return my sincere thanks to the public for their liberal patronage, and to assure them that my undertaking has proved itself a decided, a perfect success. My business is in a flourishing condition; my stock always the largest and most complete; my facilities without limit.

Having with me a corps of assistants always gentlemanly and willing and anxious to please, I hope to continue to deserve the patronage of my old friends and customers, and trust to make many new ones. Respectfully,
