AMUSEMENTS.

THE NATIONAL last night was very well filled with an appreciative audience, and we observed in the house many of our best people. The play was "Romeo and Juliet," and Mr. Sheridan's Romeo was a capital and eminently correct rendition of that character as portrayed by the great poet. Mrs. Siddons's Juliet was up to nature, and the intense and touching passages in the drama were rendered in a style at once complete and perfect. It is one of her best parts, and right royally does she personate the love sick girl. To-night the "Hunchback" will be placed upon the boards with the full strength of the company, Mrs. Siddons as Julia.

THERE WAS a very fashionable audience at Wall's Opera House last evening to witness the farewell concert of Miss Kellogg and the other accomplished artistes who compose the company. The entertainment was a rare feast in the musical line, and such as is not often witnessed in Washington. We have a sort of national pride in this charming American lady, and can but wish her perfect success wherever she may go.

THE PILGRIM, now on exhibition at Metzerott Hall, continues to interest our citizens. As a rational and deeply interesting exhibition it must command, as it evidently merits, the commendation of all who have the good fortune to witness it. We feel it to be both proper and just to advise all of our citizens to go to Metzerott's and have one good opportunity to see the Pilgrim.

PROPOSALS FOR STATIONERY.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 10, 1869.

Sealed proposals for furnishing stationery for the year ending June 30, 1870, will be received at this Department until the 10th day of June, 1869, at 12 o'clock, m.

A schedule of the articles and quantities required, and blank forms for bidding, containing full information, will be furnished upon application.

The bids will be considered, and accepted or rejected, item by item.

Contracts must be executed by the successful bidders within ten days after being called upon so to do.

The articles contracted for must be furnished from time to time during the year, in quantities pursuant to orders from the Department. The entire quantities in the schedule will, however, be called for during the year.

Each proposal must be signed by the individual or firm making it, and be accompanied by a bond with sufficient sureties in the sum of five thousand dollars, ($5,000,) approved by a United States District Attorney, on a form to be furnished by the Department, conditioned upon the execution of a contract, with good and sufficient bonds, for furnishing any portion of the articles as may be called for.

Bids will be subject to inspection by any person. For the purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury of the delivery of an inferior article, or a failure to meet the contract at the time specified, will be sufficient cause to annul the contract, and to charge at the Treasury any one order under the contract, and to forfeit the money deposited as a guarantee of good faith. If the Secretary of the Treasury shall deem it necessary to advertise for a new contract, the defaulting party will be required to make good any loss or difference between his bid and that which may be received on such readvertisement.

All delivery to be made at such place as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct, free of expense, and at such times as may be required by the Department, Washington.

The failure to comply with the contract will operate as the Treasury may direct the purchase, in the open market, of such quantities of any articles as shall be necessary to supply the deficiency caused by default, and charge to the contractor fifty per cent. of the price which it shall be found necessary to pay for such articles.

Proposals unaccompanied by a satisfactory bond will not be considered, and contracts will be awarded only to established manufacturers of or dealers in the articles.

Bidders will be required to conform their bids to the specifications furnished, and failure to do so will cause the rejection of any bid.

Secretary of the Treasury.

NO. 320 F STREET,
Between Fourteenth and Fifteenth Streets, (Law and Exchange Building,)
WASHINGTON, D. C.
A careful examination of our system cannot fail to convince all who have examined the subject of Life Insurance, that the NEW JERSEY MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY presents advantages that are not offered elsewhere, especially in the provisions of non-forfeiture made in the Policy by which no one can lose a Policy or fail in securing a portion of their insurance after one annual payment has been made.
The Agent takes pleasure in acknowledging the liberal patronage with which this Company has met among the citizens of Washington and vicinity, many of them being our leading business men. Grateful widows and orphans stand ready to acknowledge our promptness in the payment of all our losses. The popularity of our Company and the large increase of our business here may be seen in the fact, that although we have only been established in this Agency a little more than two years, and have made no noise about our large patronage, yet we paid to the Corporation of Washington last year, (as the books of the Register will show) tax on a larger income than a large majority of the Companies doing business in this city.
All we ask is a careful examination of our system, and we feel satisfied we shall still have our share of the business.
