Sherwood House
AND
DINING ROOMS,
ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN.
Corner of Fayette and Harrison streets (Opposite the Maryland Institute.) Baltimore, Md.
The above well known House has recently been opened by C. P. Barnard, formerly of the American Hotel, Washington, D. C., and has capacity to accommodate over a hundred people with lodging, and has spacious and nicely furnished rooms for families. Connected with the House also is a ladies' dining room. The strictest order is maintained and accommodation servants always at call. The House is open at all hours. The advantage of a Hotel upon the plan of the Sherwood House, is that the guest can accommodate the price of his living to his own wishes, paying only for what he gets. The Sherwood House has recently been newly furnished and refitted, and, being in a central and business part of the city, offers unusual inducements to travelers. A fair trial is asked, and patronage from St. Mary's county solicited.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
Harper's Magazine, smart from the illustration, contains from fifty to one hundred pages, more matter than any similar periodical issued in the English language.

Critical Notices of the Press.
The most popular Monthly in the world —New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 120,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.— TAPPAN'S Guide to American Literature, London.

It is one of the wonders of journalism—the editorial management of Harper's. All the periodicals which the Harper's publish are almost ideally well edited.—The Nation, N. Y.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

HARPER'S BAZAR.
A supplement containing numerous full-size patterns, and articles of interest to every Club of Five Subscribers at $4 00 each, in one remittance; or Six Copies for $20.00, without extra copy.
Harper's Bazar contains 16 full pages of the size of Harper's Weekly, printed on superfine colored paper, and is published weekly.

Critical Notices of the Press.
Harper's Bazar contains, besides picture-patterns, etc., a variety of matter of special use and interest to the family; articles on health, dress, and housekeeping in all its branches; its editorial matter is specially adapted to the circle it is intended to interest and instruct; and it has, besides good stories and literary matter of merit. It is not surprising that the journal, with such features, has achieved in a short time an immense success; for something of its kind was desired in thousands of families, and its publishers have filled the demand. The young ladies who pay a single number of Harper's Bazar is made a subscriber for life.—New York Evening Post.
The Bazar is excellent. Like all the periodicals which the Harpers publish, it is almost ideally well edited, and the class of readers for whom it is intended—the mothers and daughters in average families—cannot but profit by its good sense and good taste, which, we have no doubt, are to-day, making very many homes happier than they may have been before the women began taking lessons in personal and household and social management from this good-natured mentor.—The Nation.
It has the merit of being sensible, of conveying instruction, of giving excellent patterns in every department, and of being well stocked with good reading matter.—Watchman and Reflector.

Standard Periodicals for 1870.

Republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., New York.

Indispensable to all classes of being well informed on the great subjects of the day.

1. The Edinburgh Review.

This is the oldest of the series. Its main features it still follows in the path marked out by Brougham, Jeffrey, Sydney Smith, and Lord Holbrooke, its original founders and first capritutors.

2. The London Quarterly Review.

which commences its 12th volume with the January number, was set on foot as a rival to the Edinburgh. It resolutely maintains its opposition in politics, and shows equal vigor in its literary department.

3. The Westminster Review.

now in its 51st volume, occupies a very high position in periodical literature. Passing beyond the narrow formalism of schools and parties, it appeals to a wider range of sympathies and a higher integrity of conviction.

4. The North British Review.

was commenced 52 years ago. Equalling the Quarterlies in its literary and scientific departments, it has won a wide reputation for the narratives and sketches which adorn its pages.

5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

Quarterlies in its literary and scientific depart-
narratives and sketches which adorn its pages.

MARYLAND LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE progress of Life Insurance in the United States proves this great growing branch of modern science and philanthropy to be one of the marvelous features of our social economy.

The wisdom of all ages has devised nothing so profitable as to insure. It is so manly a good, that it is difficult to see how an intelligent man, with proper concern for the comfort and protection of his family, can fail to avail himself of its benefits.

Life Insurance leaves ready money to soliday one's family. It will prevent a sacrifice of property if a man die in debt. It is subject to no tax during life, nor Orphan's Court expenses after death. It is exempt by law from debt. It is rapidly becoming a rule that all men of all attributes insure.

Our Maryland Company commends itself to the confidence and patronage of our people in all parts of the State. Its directors are men of known integrity and ability, to whom the public may look with confidence for a just and careful supervision of its affairs. It will be clear to every intelligent mind that, if we could secure the largest prosperity to our State and people individually, we must build up our institutions and keep our capital at home.

Had the five million dollars sent out of the State annually for insurance been invested at home, it would have done favorably upon our own wealth and commerce. This is emphatically our country's business. The directors endeavor to insure the integrity and ability, to whom the public may look with confidence for a
will be clear to every intelligent mind that,
our State and people individually, we must
build up our institutions and keep our capital
at home.

Such has been our marked success that we were able after the second year to declare and pay in cash large dividends as the old and largest companies in the United States. The Company feel greatly encouraged by the patronage and co-operation they have received, and solicit a continuance of the same. The laws of trade, commerce, self-interest and self-interest combine to make his the Company's aim.

New and extraordinary matters to our benefit. The Company feel greatly encour-
have received, and solicit a continuance of
the same. The laws of trade, commerce,
self-interest and self-interest combine to make
his the Company's aim.

By all means insure, and do it at once in the Maryland Company. The officers of this Company are:
GEO. P. THOMAS, President.
A. K. FORD, Secretary.

will also insure property in Baltimore Company.
