DOUGLASS.—On Thursday, June 27, 1872, at 9:30 a. m., HARVEY DOUGLASS, infant son of Wm. H. Douglass and Lucretia E., his wife, aged 6 months and 21 days.

Funeral services at the parents' residence, No. 1008 F street, this morning, at 11 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances respectfully invited.

The angel of death has entered the domestic circle on an unknown and unbidden guest. The loved one has immortal bloom taken away. A flower has been transplanted from the shadowy garden of earth to bloom in eternal beauty amid the fairest flowers of immortality. Blessed thought for the afflicted, when called to part with their loved ones, to know that they are not compelled to bury their dead in the cheerless sepulchres of the pagan, but to regard them as inhabitants of a brighter and better world than this, and to know that they are really lost in the spirit land—our own dear, dear children, with all their families and companions—as before the foundation of their mortal tabernacles, to enjoy the sweet and silvery music of their baby prattle and forever on our ears. It was Jesus himself who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." As to all afficted parents, as to this surviving mother it may be said,

"Weep not for your children, weep not, children be,
To give a child to God."
