SET DOWN OHIO for fifteen thousand majority on Tuesday.

THE FIRST DUTY of every Pennsylvanian in Washington is to go home and vote.

THE LIBERALS are deriving a good deal of comfort from Georgia. Will they tell us what they think of Delaware?

The Herald in its leading editorial article yesterday says: "The present campaign is the most curious on record." We think we have either seen or heard that remark before.

HIS HOLINESS THE POPE, if we may believe the cable dispatches, has the fullest faith in the ultimate triumph of the Church in Italy, and has so declared to a deputation that recently waited on him.

THE GREELEY ORGANS tell us that the Georgia election is "the beginning of the movement that is to place the Sage in the White House." We suspect it is the ending of it, too. Look at Delaware.

GEORGIA is the only State that has afforded a crumb of consolation to Mr. Greeley since the inception of Liberalism. The Republicans made no contest there whatever, for the reason that the fight was entirely local, and possessed no national significance whatever. We offset Georgia by Connecticut, Oregon, North Carolina, Maine and Vermont.

THE DEMOCRATS are indulging in very loud boasts just now about what they will do in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. They are pre-eminently a party of "great expectations." Those who remember their prophesies in regard to North Carolina, Maine, Vermont, &c., will not be very apt to place too implicit a faith in their sanguine election assertions.

ALECK MCCLURE, as chairman of the Liberal committee of Pennsylvania, has written an address, in which he says: "Forward friends of honest government and reform." Does McClure really think that people anywhere can read this without a smile? For years Aleck McClure has been the most corrupt, unprincipled man in public life in Pennsylvania. He is the direct author of more legislative and political corruption than any other man in the Keystone State. He would not be honest if he could, and he could not if he would.

THE HEAVY REGISTRATION in Philadelphia—upwards of 163,000—is giving considerable uneasiness to the Liberals, who read in it their approaching doom. Their first impulse, of course, is to shout "fraud and corruption," which they do most lustily. There is nothing in it. The large registration means that we shall have a full Republican vote; the Republicans of Philadelphia mean to administer a scathing rebuke to the infamous coalition that would hand the State over to Democratic misrule and destroy the Republican party.

THE ADVANCE OF THE RATE OF DISCOUNT by the Bank of England, reported in our dispatches yesterday, is accounted for as follows: During the week the bullion in the bank has been decreased by over half a million pounds sterling, and the raising of the discount rates is regarded as an anticipation and preparation against a further export of specie from England, particularly in the direction of the United States. It seems that our imports have not kept pace with the transfer of foreign capital to our shores, both in the banking business directly and through the negotiation of American railway loans.

THE ELECTIONS OF TUESDAY.

To begin at home, we shall elect General Chipman by a handsome majority.

Pennsylvania we shall carry for Hartranft and the entire State ticket.

Ohio is no longer in doubt. Put it down for from ten to fifteen thousand majority.

Indiana is all right. The contest is close, but victory is assured.

The October skies are bright as they can be for our cause. The November battle is as good as won. U. S. Grant is to be our President for four years to come.

"THANK GOD I have conscience enough to know what is right, and I will do it."—Mr. Carlin's speech.

It is astonishing what a number of gentlemen have found a conscience during the last six or eight months. Mr. Carlin is by no means the only one, and no extraordinary credit is to be bestowed on him on that account. Aleck McClure, for instance, whom no one suspected of having a conscience, has found one in the present grave crisis of our country's peril. So has Schurz, although his prickings are not sufficiently sharp to induce him to pay that thousand dollars he owes the Government. Then, there is Kilpatrick. Kilpatrick has been able to find a modicum of conscience, and Dunlittle, of Connecticut fame, another. Even Fenton has provided himself with one, though where he got it is something no fellow can find out. Conscience is a drug in the Liberal market. Gratz Brown has a double-distilled one, which does not, however, prevent him from indulging in soft-shell crabs now and then. We suppose it is all right, but we respectfully suggest that when some of the notorious conscienceless men in the country begin to talk about that article it is time for honest men to put their hands in their pockets.

NATIONAL AND LOCAL POLITICS.

A notion prevails to some extent in this District that our local politics have no connection with national politics. Such a supposition is an error, and if adopted to any considerable extent will lead to fatal and pernicious results. Our national and local politics at this juncture are inseparably connected, and they are so intimately joined that a defeat in any essential particular of either is a defeat and a disaster to both. The Republican party is one and indissoluble all over this country, and should any mishap occur on Tuesday next to throw it in any essential respects out of power in this the capital of the nation, it would tend greatly to weaken the strength of the party in the Presidential election in November.

We are told that Mr. Hine is a Republican, and that Mr. Boswell is a Republican, and that inasmuch as it is necessary to rebuke and check the Board of Public Works, Republicans who do not approve the conduct of the board can vote for either one of these gentlemen and maintain his Republicanism intact; that it is not necessary to vote for General Chipman to conserve the Republican party, or to maintain our character as Republicans. Such reasoning is absurd. Chipman's defeat—an event not likely to occur—would be hailed everywhere as a Greeley and Democratic triumph. A vote for Hine or Boswell is a vote for Greeley and the worst form of the sham Democracy. We say, therefore, to the Republicans of this District, go solid for Chipman and your candidates for the Legislature, and thus rebuke all renegades, changelings, and pseudo-Republicans, who, to satisfy a local feeling of opposition to the board, would jeopardize Grant's election.

DELAWARE DESERTS GREELEY.

Victory comes to us from a point where it was least expected. The Democracy of Delaware sustained a most disastrous defeat in the late election, so full and complete that the State is almost certain to give its electoral vote against Mr. Greeley in November. The unexpected result in a State so hopelessly given over to Democratic rule only a few months ago is only an additional evidence of the demoralization that has come upon the party by the nomination of the ex-editor of the Tribune as the candidate of the Democratic party. The Wilmington Commercial, in commenting upon the subject, says:

"Full returns of the elections, from all parts of the State, were received at the Commercial office, by 4 o'clock, yesterday, including the complete record from every Hundred in Sussex county. The figures were even more encouraging to the Republicans than was at first supposed, and it is now certain that the result in the State is a most overwhelming disaster to the organization now controlling Delaware. The decrease in the Democratic majority is prodigious. Two years ago (at the last 'Little Election' previous to this) the Gazette claimed 2,000 Democratic majority in the State as the net total. Now it is but 42.

"It is a well-known fact that the Democracy are the best voters—we give them credit for it, a citizen always ought to vote—and yet their majority has fallen from 7,000 to the fag end of nothing.

"New Castle county in 1870 gave 44 Republican majority; now it gives 340. Sussex county gave nearly 1,200 Democratic; now it gives only 115. Kent county gave some 800; now it gives 307.

"It must be remembered, too, that this vote is cast by the Democratic party, and not by the Greeley party. Manderson, who supported the Democratic candidates on Tuesday will not vote for Greeley in November, and the majority of those who would vote, at any rate, when the full strength of both sides is voted, will be overwhelming, and turned out of sight, when the anti-Greeley element is withdrawn from the vote.

"This is but the beginning of the end. Delaware is entered upon a revolution. The day of emancipation from family rule has come. The close corporation is broken up, smashed and is about to be wiped off the face of the State. Not only can Delaware be carried for Grant and Wilson, stick as grease, but the Republicans, by a little steady, earnest, well-directed work, can elect their Congressman, and choose a majority of the Legislature. Why won't they do it?"

After this, we should not be at all surprised to see Kentucky refuse the shelter of "the white hat."

THE RESULT of the Georgia election had a depressing effect on Wall street business on Thursday. The money editor of the Herald writes as follows on the subject: "The depressing influences, outside the constant hammering and opposition of the bear clique, were to-day the advance of the Bank of England rate of discount and the result of the election in Georgia, the anti-Administration majority in that State having excited fears that the Grant ticket may be defeated throughout the entire South, while serving at the same time to help the opposition chances in Pennsylvania, and still more remotely in the November election throughout the whole country." * * * "At least Wall street felt in a bad humor over Georgia, and conjured up pictures of a new financial policy which might be hostile to the steady, easy-going way of the present regime." It is very evident that a Greeley victory in November means a financial crisis that will extend over the entire country.

DRIVEN TO DESPAIR.

The Washington correspondence of the New York Times of yesterday contains the following:

"It has leaked out that the managers of Mr. Greeley's campaign in this city intend about next Monday morning to startle the country with an old-fashioned Democratic rush on the finances in the hope of influencing the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana on Tuesday. Two or three of Andrew Johnson's Treasury officials have been pressed into the service to manufacture some plausible statement whose falsity cannot be exposed before the elections take place. Mr. Jeffries, who was Register of the Treasury under Johnson's administration, and who wrote the Democratic pamphlet on the finances, that is now being circulated as a campaign document, is believed to be at the bottom of the forthcoming publication. It is said that he is assisted by Wood, formerly chief of the detective corps, and by Carl Schurz, who arrived in town this morning. The intention is to charge an enormous of bonds amounting to $100,000 or $150,000,000, to assert that the gold in the Treasury vaults is several millions short, and that within a short period the Treasury presses have been at work night and day printing millions of dollars in greenbacks, which have been sent into the different States to defray the expenses of the campaign. The story of a defaulter in Mr. Boutwell's stamp account, while he was commissioner of internal revenue, is to be revived with additional embellishments, and various other exploded charges are to be again put in circulation just about the time indicated. The Greeley and Democratic newspapers are to be used to give these charges, or charges of a like false and fraudulent character, the widest circulation for purely political effect."

We have reason to know that the Liberal campaign managers have been contemplating some such publication immediately pending the elections as that indicated above. The attack, as we understand it, however, is not to be confined to the Treasury alone, but is to be a general assault upon all the Departments of the administration—the Post Office, the Interior, the War and Navy, &c. Republicans will do well to be warned in advance so that when the "crowback" does appear they may know exactly what it is worth and the motive which inspires it. The cause of the Liberals is indeed desperate when it is found necessary to have recourse to such desperate expedients.

WILL MR. FENTON EXPLAIN?

Would not an explanation from Mr. Fenton on the following points be in order just about this time? The charges have been in circulation for some weeks; thousands and thousands of people are asking if they are true. Mr. Fenton's organ and professor of journalism are silent upon them. By all means let us hear what they have to say:

"It happened that in 1868, Reuben E. Fenton was intrusted with various sums of money to take to Albany, to be delivered to persons doing business there and at Troy. On his arrival he reported that the money had been stolen from his trunk. The story at first imposed upon the parties interested, but a member of the firm of Erastus Corning & Co., had his doubts excited, and, as a result, Fenton's trunk and room were searched, and the money was found concealed in the mattress of his bed. He was at once arrested, and then confessed his crime, but, through the influence of friends, he was allowed to escape without other punishment than a couple of days in jail.

"This is the brief and simple story of one of Mr. Fenton's early exploits. That it is correct is abundantly shown by the documents which we publish. We give first the affidavit of James Barner, who was at that time a member of the firm of Erastus Corning & Co., and has continued down to a recent period, when he removed to this city. His character as a witness cannot be impeached. He deposes that Fenton declared to his boss robbed of the money intrusted to him; that it was afterward found hidden in Fenton's bed, and that upon the finding of said money said Fenton confessed his crime, and pleaded earnestly with deponent to be forgiven, and that deponent would not prosecute him."

KOERNER, of Illinois, tells his auditors that they may vote for Grant, but begs them to vote for Koerner. He virtually gives up the State, as to the national ticket, and hopes only to save himself.

STOVES FOR UNITED STATES ARMY.

WAR DEPARTMENT, QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28, 1872.

Manufacturers are requested to send to this office printed descriptive cuts and price lists of such stoves as they make and can recommend for use in the United States garrisons and camps.

The rooms in quarters of officers are generally of moderate size, not over 15 or 16 feet square.

The cooking stove or range, for troops, should be of size to cook for eighty (80) men.

Wrought iron, as less liable to breakage, is preferable to cast-iron for these large cooking stoves.

Patent models will be none based cars or vessels, so securely packed for transportation.

Prices of spare parts are also desired. From these lists it is intended to select those which, being suitable for the purpose, will be kept ready in each geographical military department, or at such point to be supplied. M. C. MEIGS, Quartermaster General, Brev. Maj. Gen., U. S. A. sep-tt

Pianos and Music.

Steinway Pianos

Are universally conceded to be the leading first class Pianos now before the public, being preferred to all others by the world's most celebrated Pianists, and used by all the principal concert troupes whenever attainable. They have a truly "world wide" reputation, being largely exported to Europe and all parts of the civilized world, and they are sought to be imitated by nearly all American and European piano-makers.

STEINWAY & SONS

Now manufacture, in addition to their established styles, a PARLOR GRAND with their new

"Patent Grand Duplex Scale,"

The Patent Iron Cupola and Pier Frame,

AND

"A NEW UPRIGHT PIANO,"

With plain but neat exterior, but three feet ten inches high, yet possessing a tone fully equal to Steinway Square Grand Piano, and of the most equitable musical character.

Both the new Parlor Grand and Upright Pianos are placed at very moderate prices, and must be seen and heard to be appreciated.

Every Piano Warranted for Five Years.

Prices as low as the expensive use of the best materials and most thorough workmanship will permit. Old Pianos taken in exchange.

REMOVED, EVAN HUGHES, MERCHANT TAILOR,

Thanking my many patrons for their liberal patronage in the past, and hoping for a continuance of the same in my new establishment, 415 Thirteenth street, I do now invite my friends to visit me, where I have removed from my old stand, corner of Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue. Having dispos ed of my entire old stock at auction, previous to removal, I have stocked my new store with a large and indeed the best selected stock of imported Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings to be found in the market. I pledge myself to my patrons and the public generally to furnish them with all articles in my line to my usual style of excellence, and cheaper than ever before, on account of reduced expenses by my removal from the Avenue. Respectfully,

EVAN HUGHES, 415 Thirteenth street, three doors from the Avenue. sep13-2m
