HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the sundry civil appropriation bill, which was ordered to be printed and made the special order in Committee of the Whole to-morrow.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Mr. Sawyer, of Wis., from the Committee on Commerce, reported the river and harbor appropriation bill, which was ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. Garfield said that in view of the lateness of the session the Committee on Appropriations did not insist upon the reference of the bill to that committee, but did not desire this to be established as a precedent. They did not admit this as a proper order, but waived the question under present circumstances.

Mr. Lynch, of Me., took exceptions to the remarks of Mr. Garfield, and was not willing to admit that the bill was reported from the Committee on Commerce by permission of the Appropriation Committee.

SEATON HOUSE BUILDING.

Mr. Beatty, of Ohio, introduced a resolution directing the Committee on Invalid Pensions to inquire into the condition of the building known as the Seaton house, and occupied by the Pension bureau, whether the archieves of the office were secure from fire, and what the effect upon pensioners and claimants would be in the event of their destruction, and whether they could not be kept in that portion of the Patent Office known as the model room. Adopted.

TICK METERS.

Mr. Kerr, of Ind., from the Ways and Means Committee, submitted a report upon the subject of repayment for Tice meters, and Mr. Beck, of Ky., submitted a minority report, both of which were ordered printed and recommitted.

The Speaker announced as members of the select committee under the resolution of Mr. Chipman, of D. C., for the celebration of the 23d of February in connection with the Washington monument, the following gentlemen, viz: Messrs. Chipman, D. C., chairman; Maynard, Tenn.; Banks, Mass.; Burdett, Mo.; Kellogg, Conn.; Archer, Md.; Cobb, N. C.; Voorhees, Ind.; Monroe, Ohio; Hill, N. J.; Eldridge, Wis.; Sessions, N. Y.; Critcher, Va.

ROOSEVELT RISES TO EXPLAIN.

Mr. Roosevelt asked leave to make a personal explanation. He said gross, bitter, and malignant attacks had been made upon him by the friends of the government of the District of Columbia, which had not only been published in the press but had been laid upon the desk of each member. These attacks were intended to impair his usefulness, and he desired to make a brief explanation.

Mr. Stark rather, of Conn., said that when the gentleman from the District asked the same privilege objection was made, and he therefore objected now.

The Senate bill for the relief of the heirs and legal representatives of George C. Bestor, which came over from Saturday as unfinished business, was then passed.

The House, then in the morning hour, resumed the consideration of the Montana and Wyoming railroad bill, and it was passed.

BILL TO AMEND THE POSTAL LAWS.

After the morning hour, the bill to amend the postal laws came up as the special order for this day.

Mr. Farnsworth, of Ill., chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, explained the features.

The first section, he said, reduced after July 1, 1873, letter postage on letters to 2 cents, and made drop-letters 2 cents. The drop-letters were raised to 2 cents to make all letters uniform, but it was believed that the postal card would very generally take the place of the present drop-letter. He produced statistics of the Post Office Department to show that each reduction made in postage had been beneficial to the revenues of the Department, and led to a large increase in correspondence.

On the subject of prepayment of newspaper postage, he said there was published daily papers with an average daily circulation of 2,564,000; weekly, with an average circulation of 7,536,000, monthly, with a circulation of 4,333,000.

It was fair to estimate that ten per cent. of dailies and eighty per cent. of weeklies and monthlies went through the mails. At the lowest rates of postage this would amount to $2,954,000, while the receipts from postage on newspapers was but $995,000, showing a loss of $1,967,105. At New York, on three days in the week, there were deposited in the post office over 60 tons, which blocked up other matter, and were scattered among the 30,000 post offices to be collected in driblets, with no check upon postmasters. He believed that we would come to the plan of making everything that passed through the mail pay postage, but there was a strong feeling on the part of the country press to compete with the large city dailies, and the committee had reported an exception on papers to subscribers in the county where published. The section in regard to newspapers it was provided should go into effect on January 1, next, as that was the time subscriptions were generally renewed, and to which time many subscribers had prepaid their postage, and to give time to publishers to make their arrangements.

He believed the falling off in revenues for the first year would be compensated by the close of the third year.

Mr. W. R. Roberts, of N. Y., advocated a reduction of the postage on papers, believing that, coupled with more rapid transmission and delivery, would lead to a much greater use of the mails by the newspapers.

Mr. Hawley, of Conn., questioned the propriety of excepting the country weeklies. He thought that as free trade was to be inaugurated, there should be a general application. He called the attention of the House to the fact that it was through the urgency of this class of papers that they were indebted for the repeal of the franking privilege.

Mr. Hill, of N. J., denied that it was through the influence of the country papers but the voice of the people.

An amendment proposed by Mr. Hibbard, of N. H., declaring magazine manuscripts and newspaper manuscripts to belong to the third class of mailable matter, was agreed to, as was one also offered by Mr. E. H. Roberts, of N. Y., fixing the postage on daily papers at 15 cents per quarter.

After some other minor amendments the bill was passed.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President transmitting the bill for the relief of James A. McCullough, late collector of the Fifth district of Missouri. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

Also, a number of Executive communications; which were referred to appropriate committees.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole

ON THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL,

debate being limited to one hour.

Mr. Dickey, of Pa., who had charge of the bill, yielded half of the time to Mr. Wood, of N. Y., who in turn yielded the time allotted him to Mr. Hoosevelt, of N. Y., to reply to the remarks made by Mr. Chipman, of D. C., some days since.

MR. ROOSEVELT SPEAKS AGAIN.

Mr. Roosevelt complained of the malignity and untruthfulness of the attacks made upon him. He denied that he had ever made a threat about the man Riley, who was discharged by the Board of Public Works, and produced an affidavit of his saying that he never made the remarks imputed to him. He next held up four copies of the report of the Board of Public Works. Each he said purported to be the regular report, and yet there were no two alike. He said that he had made three addresses in the House upon the affairs of the District, and each time the board had got out a new report and changed the figures and then cried out that he had falsified.

He also presented a copy of the report of Gen. Babcock, and compared his figures with those of the board, saying that there was but one item on which they agreed, and that was probably fraud on one side and a mistake on the other.

He defended his estimate of the cost, and said he made the computation upon all the assessments which he could obtain. He took eight streets and two avenues—all he could obtain—and based his estimate upon an average of these. This morning he received three more, which raised the average. He charged that the Delegate from the District had based his average upon two of the streets that had been done at the cheapest cost. He said if his figures were wrong, they were the figures of the board, and he was not responsible for them. He said that citizens of Washington came to him—not Democrats, but nine times out of ten Republicans, and often colored men—who told him of the doings of the Board of Public Works with fear and trembling, fearing persecution by the Board of Public Works. He denied that the work was done with the advice of the advisory board, and showed the original plan, approved by the Legislature, in which not a word was said of concrete pavements.

GEN. CHIPMAN ANSWERS.

Mr. Chipman, of D. C., said he would only follow the statements of the gentleman where they had been extravagantly made. He would not admit that the gentleman was the one to come here with clean hands and cry out Tammany No. 2 with his certificate of election from Tammany, and not from the people. He had assailed the personal character of citizens of this District who were in every respect his peers. They had been born here and grown up among the people. They were self-made men. They had had great difficulties to encounter, and had been persecuted at every step, and had here an avenue—he would not say sewers—for all kinds of obstruction. He said that the report of the Board of Public Works did not profess to be precisely correct; but he asserted that it was substantially so.

He next alluded to the report of Gen. Babcock, and showed how the discrepancies occurred. If the Board of Public Works was corrupt, and it was alleged to him by the gentleman from New York or any one else, he would not be the last to denounce them. He had gone before the people of this District on several occasions, and the people had indorsed the Board of Public Works. The opposition came from the wrong direction. "Tammany No. 2," said he, "I think these for the word. It will never send a Delegate to this District that will turn and rend it." was then considered.

Mr. Stoughton, of Mich., offered an amendment appropriating $50,000 for marble or granite sidewalks in the public grounds, to be expended during the current fiscal year, which, after discussion, was rejected.

Mr. Coburn, of Ind., moved an amendment fixing the pay of paymasters' clerks at the same pay as the clerks of like grade in the quartermaster and commissary departments. Rejected.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, for Mr. Slocum, of New York, offered an amendment authorizing the President to appoint, by and with the advice of the Senate, an additional assistant adjutant general. Rejected.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House, and it was passed.

Mr. Dawes, of Mass., offered a resolution setting aside the eastern gallery for ladies of the heads of Departments, the Senate and the House, the western gallery for ladies, and ordering that the galleries be not opened until half-past eleven o'clock. Adopted.

A number of bills which were excluded by the expiration of the morning hour yesterday were introduced and referred.

Mr. Garfield offered a resolution that on and after Thursday the House meet at 11 a. m. Objected to.

The House then, at 4:40 p. m., took a recess till 7:30 p. m.

Evening Session.

At the evening session Mr. Blair, of Mich., from the Committee on Claims, reported a bill to amend section two of the deficiency appropriation bill of March 3, 1871, so that the words "stores and supplies" shall be construed to include potatoes and tobacco taken by competent authority and used by the army or navy, and also the rent of houses and buildings so taken and used.

Mr. Hale, of Me., moved to strike out the words "rent of houses and buildings so taken and used."

On this motion there were 29 votes in the affirmative and 55 in the negative. No quorum.

Mr. Blair asked that the bill be recommitted.

Mr. Beck, of Ky., objected, and said he favored the bill also not the amendment, but should object to any other bill being passed without a quorum. He wanted a quorum, and it might as well be had on this as on any other bill. He moved a call of the House.

Pending this motion, Mr. Dox, of Ala., moved that the House adjourn. Rejected.

On the motion for a call of the House, the vote stood: ayes 32, noes 71.

Two more than a quorum having voted, the question was again taken by tellers on the amendment proposed by Mr. Hale to the bill reported by Mr. Blair. The amendment was rejected.

The third reading of the bill was ordered, when Mr. Hale demanded the reading of the engrossed bill, whereupon

Mr. Blair, of Mich., moved to reconsider the vote by which the third reading was ordered, and the yeas and nays were ordered.

The motion to reconsider did not prevail, and the bill, having been engrossed, was read and passed—yeas 79, nays 49.

Mr. Blair also reported a bill for the relief of George J. Morton, of Miss. Passed.

Also, a bill for the readjustment of the account of Major Philip Pendleton, late paymaster United States army. Passed.

Mr. Foster, of Ohio, reported a bill to pay for services rendered by Wm. J. McIntire, late a lieutenant of Illinois volunteers. Passed.

Bill for the relief of F. W. Bee, late lieutenant of Kentucky volunteers. Passed.

Bill for the relief of Joseph S. Rothschild, collector of internal revenue for the Fifth Ohio district. Passed.

Bill for the relief of Miles Greenwood, of Cincinnati, authorizing him to transfer his claim to the Court of Claims. Passed.

Bill for the relief of Butler V. Pilkin, of New York.

Mr. Garfield, of Pa., made the point of order that the bill contained an appropriation, and it was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Bill for the relief of Alexander Swift & Co., of Cincinnati, authorizing the transfer of claim to the Court of Claims.

This bill gave rise to considerable discussion, and pending a vote upon its passage—

Mr. Robinson, of Ill., moved that the House adjourn. Rejected—yeas 38, nays 102.

Mr. Randall, of Pa., moved a call of the House; pending which,

On motion of Mr. Blair, of Mich., the House, at 10:30 p. m., adjourned.
