CONGRESS.

SATURDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Report from the Committee to Wait on the President and Vice President Elect—Mr. Anthony's Resolution to Expedite Business Passed—The House Passes the Geneva Award Bill.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1873.

Mr. Sherman, from the committee appointed to wait on the President and Vice President elect, announced that they had performed that duty. The President replied that he accepted the office, and he would endeavor in the future, as in the past, to discharge his duty to the best of his ability. The Vice President-elect also accepted the office, and said his aim would be to discharge his duties fairly and faithfully.

The conference report on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was agreed to.

Mr. Cole, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the Post Office appropriation bill with amendments.

Mr. Anthony called up the order limiting debate on appropriation bills and excluding from such bills all bills not germane; which was debated until the expiration of the morning hour.

Mr. Thurman moved to take up the two per cent. bill. Lost by a vote of 34 yeas, no nays.

The order limiting debate and excluding amendments not germane to appropriation bills came up again, and after some debate was passed by a vote of yeas 34, nays 20. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That during the present session it shall be in order at any time to move a recess, and pending an appropriation bill to move to confine debate on amendments thereto to five minutes by any Senator on the pending motion, and such motions shall be decided without debate; and amendment to any such bill making legislative provisions, other than such as directly relate to the appropriations contained in the bill, shall be received; and no special order shall be made during this session.

The naval appropriation bill was then taken up, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Cragin relative to retired naval officers, their pay and employment, which was agreed to—yeas 29, nays 15.

An amendment, providing that the act of 1869 to promote the efficiency of the navy shall not be construed so as to retire any officer before the age of 62, was adopted.

Mr. Nye moved as an amendment the bill guaranteeing to the amount of eight million dollars the funds of the International Steamship Company and the Western Iron Boat Building Company, to enable them to build dock-yards in the Atlantic and Mississippi.

The Chair ruled the amendment out of order.

Mr. Cragin moved an amendment placing servants of officers in the Marine corps on the same footing as regards allowances for quarters, as the servants of army officers, but subsequently withdrew it.

Several other amendments were offered and rejected, and the bill having been considered by the Committee of the Whole was reported to the Senate, when the amendment restoring the appropriation for certain clerks at the navy yards, which had been left out by the House, were concurred in.

The next question was on concurring in the amendment of Mr. Cragin relative to retired naval officers, when Mr. Edmunds moved to strike from it the provision giving them increased pay.

The vote was—yeas 13, nays 22, which disclosed the absence of a quorum, and the Senate then, without further action, at 5:45 p. m., adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Dawes, from the select committee to wait upon the President and Vice President elect and inform them of their election, reported that the committee had performed that duty, and that they were charged to report to the Senate and House the acceptance of the trust by them, respectively.

Mr. Shanks, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill regulating private contracts or agreements with Indians, which, among other restrictions, makes it unlawful for any officer of the United States to enter into any such contract with any tribe of Indians, or any individual Indian, until said contract has been approved by the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and recorded in the office of the latter. Passed.

Mr. Willard asked unanimous consent to offer a joint resolution congratulating the people of Spain upon the establishment of a republican government in that country.

Mr. Banks. I object to that. I object to that. It is a proposition to approve of slavery in the colonies of Spain.

The Geneva award bill came up as unfinished business. Several amendments were proposed, to which General Butler replied as follows: As to that proposed by Mr. Peters, he said he had no objection to it if there was money left to pay interest after all the claims had been settled with interest from the date of the award. To the amendment proposed by Mr. Poland he had decided objections. It proposed to establish a court and bring all in here to make their claims. Every sailor from Oregon and every mariner from California would be compelled to come here. It was an impossibility. More than that, it allowed foreign insurance companies to come in, even Laird himself, as a claimant for damages done by the Alabama. He was not willing that any such claimant should be allowed to present a claim. But the trouble was that the proposition was wholly impracticable, and thousands of small claimants would be deprived of redress.

The next amendment was that proposed by Mr. Potter, to substitute the insurance companies in place of the fifth class—the payers of the war premiums; and here again no distinction was made between foreign and American. The theory of insurance, he said, was that the premiums paid the losses. The fact was that the losses paid amounted to a little over five millions, and the war premiums over six millions. The insurance companies had, he said, made a million, and he believed over two million dollars, and now were they going to give them five millions more? The idea was preposterous, and he could only account for members taking that view by supposing that they had only heard one side and listened to the sophistries of the learned gentleman, [Mr. Evarts,] who was the paid attorney of the insurance companies before he became the agent of the Government at Geneva, and the paid agent of the insurance companies after his return from Geneva. The war premiums, he said, were a dead loss. If the vessel was lost, the insurers got but the insurance, and if the vessel was not lost they still lost the premium.

Mr. Bird moved to lay the bill and amendments on the table. Rejected—yeas 54, nays 98.

Mr. Monroe's amendment to include damages by the Shenandoah before her arrival at Melbourne was next rejected.

The yeas and nays were ordered on the amendment proposed by Mr. Potter, and it was rejected—yeas 35, nays 156.

The yeas and nays were also ordered upon Mr. Poland's substitute for the bill, and it was rejected—yeas 45, nays 118.

The bill was then passed—yeas 122, nays 57.

Mr. Beatty, from the Committee on Public Printing, submitted a joint resolution in relation to the publication of the Debates in Congress, and directing the public printer to contract with William J. Murtagh for the publication of the same.

Mr. Beatty explained the different bids made in a speech, which will be found elsewhere.

THE SENATE CREDIT MOBILIER COMMITTEE.

Saturday's Proceedings—Examination of Senators Patterson, Wilson, Harlan and Gen. Boynton.

At the meeting of the Senate credit mobilier on Saturday, Senator Patterson was examined as to the exact time of his conversations with Mr. Ames. Morton, Bliss & Co., his bankers, never sold any credit mobilier stock for him, and in his final settlement with the firm no such stock appeared on the list. Gen. H. V. Boynton was examined in regard to the dispatch which appeared in the New York Times last September. Senator Harlan made a long statement in which he accounted for the expenditure of a portion of the $10,000 which were contributed by Dr. Durant.

[Harrisburg papers please copy.]

LOEFFLER.—The funeral of Mrs. LOEFFLER took place from her late residence on New York avenue, near I street, yesterday afternoon, and, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Our fellow-townsman, Ernst Loeffler, esq., will be sympathized with by a large circle of friends in the sad bereavement he has sustained in the death of his estimable wife. Death came to her, not clothed in the dreary and dark circumstance of war, but in the peace, the quiet and serenity of the sick chamber; she, while yet in the meridian of life, passed to her reward, crowned with the immortelles of the fragility of life and the certainty of death. In the death of Mrs. Johanna Christine Loeffler, which occurred on Thursday, the 20th instant, her household has been bereft of a faithful wife and a kind and affectionate mother. The pleasant smile and cordial greeting with which we have all been met in our visits to her home will ever live as green spots in our memory, and may we, together with her bereaved husband and children, look forward to the time of our dissolution, and endeavor to meet her in the bright world above, where we shall be ever with the Lord, and to that end may we be always ready.

WHEELER.—On Saturday last, after a painful sickness of several weeks, Mrs. LUCY A. WHEELER, relict of Theodore Wheeler, and daughter of Peter and Martha Lemon, deceased.

Vicarious in intellect, positive in purpose, earnest in action, generous in feeling, she was ever sternly faithful to the logic of her thoughtful, clear, intuitive mind, and to the dictations of her cultured conscience. The weary, sleepless days and nights of her sickness were alternately crowded in succession, or blended by doubts and fears, but were illumined by the steady light of an abiding faith in the goodness, mercy and love of our God, a faith of unbroken and heart, which she had professed from early youth, matured by thoughtful care, and which encouraged, consoled and sustained her through the chilling, untriable and sorrowe of life. Thus strengthened and exalted by faith and hope, consoled by the votive offerings those who knew her best, and loved her well, with quiet, submissive resignation she passed away through the pearly opening portals of death to the immortality of the future.

The funeral will take place from her late residence, 606 F street, on Tuesday, the 18th instant, at 11 o'clock a. m. The friends of the deceased and acquaintances of the family are cordially invited to attend. [Star please copy.]

Baltimore Lock Hospital.
DR. JOHNSTON,
Physician of this celebrated Institution, discovered when in the Great Hospitals of Europe, viz: England, France and elsewhere, the most certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual remedy in the world for EXCESSES OR ABUSES OF THE SYSTEM.
Such as Pain or Black or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Loss of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affection of the Liver, Lungs, Kidneys or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipation, rendering marriage, &c., impossible—destroying both Body and Mind.
YOUNG MEN
especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have expanded listening females with the thunders of eloquence, or wielded a sceptre capable of controlling the destinies of a nation, may safely place their lives in the hands of the undersigned, with the confidence.
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.
MARRIED PERSONS or YOUNG MEN contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness, Loss of Procreative Powers, Impotency, Nervous Excitability, Pimples on the Face, Pains in the Back, Seminal Debility, or any other disqualification, speedily relieved.
WHAT YOUNG MEN OF THE CITY HAVE TO SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES.
The many thousands cured at this establishment within the last twenty years, and the numerous important surgical operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the representatives of the Press and many others, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, makes this standing as a mark of honor and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.
