THE WORKINGMEN

ORGANIZING A NATIONAL TRADES UNION.

Meeting of Delegates at Baier's Hall Last Night—A Permanent Organization Effected—Discussing the Labor Question.

The adjourned meeting of delegates from different trades organizations, called by the Columbia Typographical Union, for the purpose of forming a general trades union, was held at Baier's hall last evening. There were about thirty-five persons present. Mr. Wm. R. McLean, the temporary chairman elected at the former meeting, presided, and Mr. J. H. Ralston acted as secretary. The following is a list of the regularly accredited

DELEGATES PRESENT:

Sailmaker—Jno. T. Lewis, Jno. Fernandue and Wm. Boston.
Riggers—Steve Charlton and Jno. Cooney.
Bookbinders—Alfred Thomas, F. J. Cunningham and John L. Langyord.
Carpenters—J. F. Suter, R. E. Crump and Jno. F. Whitemore.
House Painters—Wm. Beron, John J. Meany and E. P. Rawlings.
Pressmen—Jno. F. Clarkson, T. F. Maher and E. L. Barker.
German Workingmen's Union—Wm. Speer and Otto Heldemann.
Navy Yard Machinists—J. M. Stamp, Richard Emmons and Jos. M. Padgett.
Typographical Union—Wm. R. McLean, Samuel Haldeman, J. H. Ralston and J. P. Hamilton.

Messrs. Thomas, Beron, Hamilton, Whitemore and Maher were appointed a committee on credentials, and retired from the room to prepare a report.

There were a number of persons in the hall who represented no union or association, as their trades have no organization in this city. Some of these gave their names in as follows: Joseph Roenberry, plasterer; O. B. Chappell, trunk maker; Oscar Pumphrey and Henry Storch, brickmakers; S. Bolton, W. P. Maltby and R. Jones, machinists; Daniel E. Speer, carpenter and joiner.

During the absence of the committee on credentials, there was a general discussion of the subject of workingmen's organizations.

When the committee returned they reported that they found the following trades represented and their delegates entitled to seats: Columbia Typographical Union, Pressman's Union, Journeymen House Painters, Sailmaker's Union, Rigger's Union, House Carpenter's Union, German Workingmen's Union, Bookbinders' Union, and recommended that all gentlemen present representing trades not regularly organized be accredited to their respective trades, and that they be entitled to seats in the body. The report was adopted.

WHO SHALL BE MEMBERS?

A motion was made to admit to admit to the privileges of membership other persons than the representatives of trades.

"That would be taking in lawyers and doctors," exclaimed an alarmed delegate.

The resolution gave rise to a discussion upon the question as to who should be entitled to membership, and whether laborers not identified with any trade should be admitted.

The secretary wrote out a resolution "that all gentlemen connected with productive pursuits are invited to send representatives." This did not suit the original mover of the resolution, and it was rewritten as follows: "That laborers and those entering their living by the pen present this evening be admitted as members."

A delegate urged that if this organization in its infancy wanted to succeed it must throw away the scribe, and that they could well afford to do without even preachers and organize as mechanics. Mr. E. L. Barker said that the workingmen never had known how to take care of their own interests but have allowed the management of their affairs to be taken from their hands by politicians, an account of which the party had become corrupt.

DON'T LIKE LAWYERS.

Mr. Maltby said that he had been a working mechanic for forty years and had worked in six different trades, and had concluded that a man used in any productive pursuit was just as much a workingman as he was.

If they were going to start with the idea that none but mechanics were to take any part in the movement they would never control the legislation. There was only one class of men they need fear. The man who for a consideration would become the accomplice of a criminal and shield him was a man who should be feared, but the man who toiled over books year after year was a necessary member of the productive class.

The resolution was amended so that persons present not representing organized trades be entitled to the floor that evening.

The amendment was accepted and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Barker, the meeting proceeded to form a

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The following officers were elected: President, Wm. R. McLean; first vice president, Richard Emmons; second vice president, Alfred Thomas; corresponding secretary, J. H. Ralston; recording secretary, John J. Meany; treasurer, T. F. Maher.

Mr. Ralston moved that a committee of five be appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the government of the organization.

The resolution was amended so as to include in the committee a representative from each delegation, and adopted.

The following committee was appointed: Columbia Typographical Union—J. P. Hamilton; Book-binders—Frank Cunningham. House Carpenters—R. E. Crump. Painters—Wm. Beron. German Workingmen's Union—W. Speer, R. Eggers—Stephen Charlton. Pressmen—John F. Clarkson. Machinists—S. Maltby. Navy Yard Machinists—Jos. M. Padgett. Unorganized trades—O. B. Chappel. The sail makers made no nomination to represent their union on the committee.

A motion was made that two persons be designated to address the next meeting. The motion did not prevail.

The meeting was then adjourned until next Tuesday evening.

The National Hotel.

The National hotel, corner of Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, has been newly furnished throughout, and the patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited, as nothing will be left undone by the proprietors, Messrs. Tenney & Co., to provide for the comfort of their guests.

Miller & Jones.

Attention is invited to the advertisment of Miller & Jones, proprietors of the National Theatre Billiard Palace and Sample Room. The billiard department has been refitted throughout, and the bar is stocked with the finest brands of liquors and cigars. Gentlemen wishing to spend a pleasant evening should give them a call.

Opening at Mrs. C. King's.

Mrs. C. King invites her patrons and the public to the opening to-day, of French pattern hats and bonnets and the novelties in millinery, at her store, No. 922 Pennsylvania avenue (south side). A beautiful assortment of goods of the latest importation, has been selected expressly for this market, and will be offered at remarkably low prices.

The Assault on Charles Draeger.

Thomas Fitz, one of the men who entered the grocery store of Mr. George Draeger, corner of Second and H streets northeast, last Friday evening and who brutally assaulted Charles Draeger by striking him in the forehead with a four pound weight, fracturing his skull, has not yet been arrested. At a late hour last night Mr. Draeger was lying in a critical condition. He was delirious all day yesterday and last night. Little hope is entertained for his recovery.

The Philharmonic Society.

The Philharmonic Society of this city met last evening at the office of Mr. C. M. Parks, Seventh street, and organized for the season by electing Mr. E. H. Saylor, president; R. H. Willett, vice president; — Pratt, secretary; C. Stores, treasurer; Dr. J. P. Caulfield, musical conductor; Josiah Bellows, librarian; and Messrs. C. M. Parks, N. L. Rockwood and S. P. Gage, executive committee. The society proposes to meet at their old quarters in the Congregational church, and take up the oratorio of Elijah or some other of the sacred oratorios and render them this winter in their usual style.

The Y. M. C. A. Building.

The board of managers of the Young Men's Christian Association held a meeting last evening in their parlors to consider the relations of the association with the joint stock company. The meeting was entirely harmonious, and the report of the committee recommending that the association continue in the building, was adopted after considerable discussion. For some time there has been an embarrassing misunderstanding between the joint stock company who own the building and the Young Men's Christian Association, and it appeared doubtful that the association would leave the building. In the action last night harmony was restored between the two organizations.

Resisting an Officer.

About eight o'clock last night Officer Chase, of the Fourth precinct, heard a noise in the vicinity of the corner of Twenty-first and L streets northwest, and on proceeding to the spot he found the house of Archie Fletcher on that corner surrounded by a disorderly crowd. Fletcher, who is known to the police as a tough, told the officer he shot at a man who was creating a row. The officer said that Fletcher would have to accompany him to the station house which the latter refused to do. Chase caught hold of him to arrest him and a number of his companions came to his assistance and threatened to take him from the officer. Chase drew his revolver and kept the crowd at bay until a patrol wagon came and after quite a struggle succeeded in landing Fletcher in the station house. At the station Fletcher was very abusive. He was locked up for a hearing before Judge Snell this morning.

BASE BALL.

The Eagles Compel the Patriots to Lower their Colors for the Third Time—Score 18 to 7.

Yesterday afternoon a large audience witnessed the last game of the series between the Eagles and Patriots, and as on two former occasions the "Pride of Capitol Hill" compelled the "Babies" to bite the dust, this time the score being 18 to 7 in a game of six innings. Mr. Jennings surprised every one by the admirable manner in which he umpired, his decisions being strictly impartial and in accordance with the rules. The details of the contest are as follows:

First Inning.—Joy opened the game with a hard hit between short and second and secured first, but was thrown out in attempting to steal second. Major struck out. Wise ran to first on a hit to left, but was left, as Trott's foul fly was attended to by Hessler. No runs.

Leins saw first on Major's error and tallied on an overthrow by Groves after catching Dean's high fly. Tucker threw Shehan out at first on his bounder to front of the plate. Bradshaw sent a bounder to Joy, who disposed of him at first. One run.

Second Inning.—McNamara was sent to first on three balls, stole second, but was thrown out at the home plate by Hagan, who stopped the ball which Harrison overthrew to Shehan on a pick up of Groves' hot bounder. The striker reached second and came home on a rattling drive for two bases by Brown to left centre. O'Brien was called out on strikes, and as Tucker sent a ball to Shehan he was out at first. One run.

Starr secured first on Major's error, but was thrown out in stealing to second. Brown caught Ragan's foul bound after along run, and Major put Harrison out at first on a slow-bounding ball. No runs.

Third Inning.—Hessler made a square muff of Joy's high fly back of third and Joe reached first safely. Darnall accepted Major's fly. Wise sent a liner to Shehan, who grabbed it and threw it to first in time to cut off Joy, making a neat double play. No runs.

Hessler made first on Joy's error, and as Darnall's hit to Wise was fumbled, both men were safe. Leins filled the bases as his slow hit was not handled in time by Joy. Dean made a short hit over in the left field, which Brown overthrew to the catcher, resulting in the occupants of the bases scoring. Shehan struck out, Bradshaw ditto, and Starr kept these gents company. Four runs.

Fourth Inning.—Major knocked a ball through Harrison for one base. Ragan captured wise's high fly to centre. Trott struck a hard one between first and second which hit the runner, and he was declared out, and the ball being returned to first in time the striker also retired; a double play marking the finish. No runs.

Brown sent a beauty to left on which he took first but in attempting to steal second he was thrown out by Trott. Harrison sent a safe one to centre for a base. Hessler was sent to first on balls, when Trott, in attempting to play a point, made an overthrow and both men advanced a base. Darnall cleared the bases on a rocker over the crowd, and he in turn tallied on another triple-bagger by Leins to right centre, who came home on O'Brien's muff of Dean's high fly. Shehan fouled out to Trott, and Bradshaw ended run getting by sending up a foul, which Wise took after a hard run. Four runs.

Fifth Inning.—McNamara's fly fell into Ragan's hands, Hessler threw Groves out at first on a clean pick-up of his grounder, and as Bradshaw fouled on to Brown's high foul the side was out. No runs.

Starr fell a victim to Joy and Major. Ragan found an opening between third and short and safely reached on a clean hit, but was thrown out at second by Tucker, who stopped Harrison's hit, the latter reaching first, and run to second on O'Brien's muff of Hessler's fly to right. Darnall brought Harrison home on his hit to right Hessler securing third. Both men came home on Levins' hot to Joy, which was fumbled, and O'Brien overthrown to Trott in an attempt to catch Darnall. Dean sent Leins home on a sky-scraper to left, but as Shehan carved the air for the third time, no more runs could be made. Four runs.

Sixth Inning.—O'Brien made first on an error by Hessler, and tried to second on a clean hit by Tucker, just short, and both advanced a base on Major's daisy cutter to left. Wise got on to hit him, which he sent to centre, bringing in two men, and Trott filled the bases by sending a hot one to Leins, who checked his hot hoof to save it, but fumbled on a peg by Dean, but McNamara he himself by sending a liner to right on which two more scores were made, and he was brought home by a clean hit to left by Brown. O'Brien spoiled the fun, however, by fouling out to Dean. Six runs.

Bradshaw sent a liner over third for one base, Starr struck out. Joy biggled Ragan's hit and he lined a fast one on first. Harrison knocked a little one to Tucker, who threw home to catch Bradshaw, but on an error by Brown at third he was saved only to be brought home by Hessler who landed a bell over the crowd in left field. Darnall brought Hessler home on a bounder to centre, on which he went to first. Shehan sent out and remained on Leins' hit to right. Dean's bounder went into Joy's hands at second, who cut off Leins. Shehan's slow bounder to Major ended the game.

A summary of the game is given herewith:

The uptown and downtown bank clerks played a game of base ball on the grounds in rear of Ninth and S streets northwest yesterday afternoon, and after a stubborn contest the "nips" proved too much for the "aliens," the score being 13 to 7.

The Keystone trotted out a curve pitcher against the Mutuals yesterday and sent them to Chicago in an early inning, the score standing 15 to 0. The contest took place in the White Lot in the presence of an immense throng of colored base ball patrons.

This afternoon the Creighton will play the college nine on the college grounds at half-past three o'clock. A coach will leave the club rooms at 2 o'clock sharp.

The National will play the Eagle the first of a series of exhibition games on the Olympic grounds this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and as these clubs are the leading contestants for champion hip honors a close game may be expected.

AMUSEMENTS.

The National.

One of Shakespare's greatest plays, King Henry V, was presented last night to a large and intelligent audience. It was admirably placed upon the stage. The celebrated actor, George Rignold, a young, handsome, well-built gentleman, assumed the character of King. His performance was marked by a calm and unruffled dignity, which gave him a right royal mien. He has much natural fitness for the impersonation of such a character. Nothing like staginess is suggested by him. He comes and is the brave, tender hearted, considerate King, who loves an occasional practical joke, is thrilled by poetry and great deeds and has a grand faith in the King of kings. It was in all respects a very noble personation, and should go on the acting with well deserved bravos. There are upon the stage nearly 200 people actors—actresses and utilities—engaged during the evening in presenting this play. Want of space at this time prevents us from remarking about the performance of the ladies and gentlemen associated with Mr. Rignold in the presentation of the play, suffice it to say they all did remarkably well last night. King Henry will be repeated this evening.

The Opera House.

This pleasant place of resort was crowded last night. Minon Nobles with his combination troupe appeared for the first time in the highly sensational drama of "The Phœnix." The entire performance was a success, and the audience was evidently much delighted. In addition to this play there was a full line of various specialties, which added to the attractions of the performance.

DISTRICT AFFAIRS.

A Visiting Georgetown Delegation.

Messrs. John Marbury, Anthony Hanlan, Thomas Knowles, James E. Lydane and Dr. Charles Becker, a committee representing the citizens and property-holders of Georgetown, waited on the Commissioners yesterday and asked that High street, between Bridge and West, be paved with the Belgian block. The gentlemen informed the District officials of the bad condition of that thoroughfare, stating that the trade is fast being driven from it and that they fear it will become totally impassable the coming winter. The Commissioners were fully impressed with the necessity of the improvement, but informed the delegation that they were powerless in granting the request, as they were without the means. They suggested that the parties most interested cover over the decayed wood blocks with gravel for temporary use until such time as the District treasury will admit of making the improvement asked for. This was the best that could be done.

FRIENDLY DISPOSED TOWARD THE DISTRICT.

Commissioner Bryan yesterday morning had an interview with Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, at his hotel, for the purpose of having him present the petition of the letter-carriers for an increase of pay to the House of Representatives. This being disposed of, the conversation turned upon District matters, when Mr. Stephens stated that he had formerly when in Congress always been friendly disposed to the District; that he was a strong advocate for the appropriation for bringing the Potomac water into the District, and he is now disposed to make such appropriations as are needful in public improvements and in making this city worthy the capital of the nation. He saw no reason for changing his hitherto friendly course towards this District.

Minor District Notes.

—The auditor yesterday passed six bills, aggregating $1,122.10.

—A pardon has been granted by the Commissioners to T. H. Elliott, who was fined $200, or in default 60 days in jail, for doing business as a commercial agent without taking out a license.

—The workmen under Messrs. Davis & Murphy, contractors for rebuilding the Tiber arch on North Capitol street, struck yesterday for their wages, which have been overdue for some time.

—James Reynolds has been awarded the contract to put in a sewer-trap at the corner of Thirteenth and Q streets northwest, and resetting curb on alley entrance on Twenty-first street, between L and M streets northwest.

The inspector of buildings has issued the following permits to build: Seventh Baptist church, 8 street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets; $1,200. L. I. Chapman, eight two-story brick houses, F street, between First and Second streets northeast; $22,000. Wm. Brewer, two-story brick, Frederick street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, Georgetown; $1,200. J. C. Miller, repair two-story porch; $150.

—The following work has been ordered, and proposals invited, which will be opened at noon today: For filling the bed of old Tiber creek passing through Jackson alley, in square 677, to the present grade of the alley; also, for filling Sixth street north, between First and North Capitol streets, to the flow line of the sewer; also, for the construction of a bridge at Chase road, near Lincoln avenue, (county,) and a culvert on the Fourteenth street road, near Piney Branch.

"Figures Never Lie," hence our statement of double the quantity of goods of any other house is borne out by the fact that we display on our second floor over Fifteen Hundred Men's Overcoats, exclusive of our Boys', Youths' and Children's stock.

A. SARS & Co., 316 Seventh street.

Military Excursion.

The arrangements of Company A for their visit to Richmond, Va., have been completed, and the indications are that they will not only be accompanied by many friends, but that they will receive a hearty welcome at the capital of the State of Virginia. They will leave here, by special train, on the night of the 31st, via the Baltimore and Potomac and Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac roads, and make the distance in five hours or less, reaching Richmond at six the following morning. Preparations are already being made to receive them. Last Saturday night Company F, of Virginia regiment, whose guests they will be while sojourning in the city of Richmond, held a meeting to consider some preliminaries with reference to the visit, and appointed the following committee to arrange for their recreation and entertainment, viz: Lieut. R. H. Gillian and Privates Clark, Sesson, Harvey and Taylor. Mr. A. Sax, a member of Company A, who has a branch clothing house in Richmond, has tendered the company the entire second floor of his establishment for a temporary armory and lodging place, and the generous offer has been accepted. The companies in Richmond are at work perfecting themselves in the manual, and hope to be perfect when the time for the competitive drill arrives, which will be one of the features at the annual State fair. A company from Norfolk will also enter for the prize.

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

Receiving Applications from the Unemployed—Meeting of the Managers Last Evening—Hon. M. G. Emery Elected President, vice Commissioner Bryan, Resigned.

There were in all forty-six applications placed on file at the Labor Exchange yesterday by persons in want of work. Twenty-six were made by males and twenty by females. Of the men who applied five were laborers, five coachmen, two brass finishers, two footmen, one cooper, one clerk, &c. All of the women wanted situations as house servants except one, a bright-eyed, interesting lady of twenty, who wished to teach French, music, &c. The total number of applications so far has been 1,152, of which 703 were from whites.

Two requisitions for help came in yesterday—one from Mr. Cragin, of Terre Bonne, La., who is an extensive sugar planter, and owns two large plantations in Terre Bonne parish. He wished fifty first-class laboring hands, and was willing to advance the money to pay their railroad fare, if it would not amount to over $20 per man. He offered to pay them fifty cents per day, and allow each one pound of bacon and two pounds of cornmeal, a house in which to live with their family, a kitchen garden and the right to cut and haul wood for their own consumption. This is a liberal offer, but the great difficulty which the Exchange has to meet is that there are hardly any of those seeking employment who are willing to leave the city. The majority prefer to stay here and starve rather than to go any distance and be fed.

There are various causes assigned by the men themselves for this. Some cannot leave, as there are too many dependent upon them. Others had this excuse and that, but a young man of tender years—and thought, probably—capped the climax yesterday by declaring that he couldn't go, as he was—to use his own words—"sparking." It is wonderful with what tenacity the colored men will cling to their "societies." This is the standard excuse given by men when they are asked if they are willing to leave town in case they can have a situation. Another requisition was received from Charlestown, W. Va., for a printer. Some 400 circulars have been addressed to the authorities in the neighboring towns and cities in relation to sending away from here the surplus population who are out of work. As yet but few answers have been received, but those that do come in are favorable to the undertaking. The adjourned was held at their rooms, 626 Louisiana avenue, last evening. In the absence of the president, Hon. T. B. Bryan, M. G. Emery, esq., was chosen chairman.

After the meeting was called to order and the minutes of the last meeting had been read and approved, a motion was made and passed to extend to Mr. Thomas L. Tullock and Mr. Kringle the thanks of the Exchange for their zealous attention to the interests of the association during the short period they were in charge of the business affairs.

The report of the superintendent showed that up to the present time 298 persons have been supplied with work by the Exchange. This, considering all the circumstances, was thought to be encouraging.

The committee on emigration handed in several favorable communications, one from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and one from the coast and river line of steamers. Both of the corporations offered special rates to those who were going to places procured for them by the Exchange.

As Mrs. Hitz had kindly volunteered to take the supervision of the woman's department free of salary, she was tendered the thanks of the Exchange and the best wishes for her success. This is a heroic move for this well-known lady to make, and there are few in Washington who would have the self-sacrificing disposition to spend their time among the poor and distressed, where only the gloomy side of life is seen, and where misery and want are ever appealing to kindly charities.

The treasurer's report showed that up to this time $3,345.57 had been contributed, the latest additions being $558 from the Schnetzen Verein, $13.17 from the Daily Nation, and $47.50 from Captain J. T. Smith. After passing a resolution of thanks to the above, the managers proceeded to elect a president, vice Hon. Thomas Bryan, resigned. Mr. M. G. Emery was unanimously chosen for the position. A somewhat lengthy discussion was then entered upon as to the advisability of presenting a memorial to the District Commissioners, requesting them to urge upon Congress the need of allowing a certain amount of money to be used in public improvements, to hereby give work to those who might gain work and bread. The motion was finally laid upon the table until the next meeting, which will take place on Monday evening, October 22, at 7 o'clock. Among those present were Mr. A. S. Solomons, Consul General Hitz and wife, and Messrs. Kringle, Davis, Marks, Smith, Cook and others.
