HOME AFFAIRS.

CITY NOTES.

—The Ebbitt house received its stock of new furniture yesterday.

—The west face of the Capitol is receiving a new coat of paint.

—Fourteenth street, at the intersection of R, is greatly in need of repairs.

—Two coal carts were wrecked yesterday on Twelfth street on their way from Riley's wharf.

—Two fine three-story press-brick fronts are just completed and ready for occupation on Fifteenth street, between K and L streets.

—The rehearsal of the Franklin singing school, at the Franklin school building was largely attended yesterday. The audience expressed themselves well satisfied.

—A praise meeting will be held in the chapel of the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 6 o'clock, to be led by Prof. Bischoff, the blind organist. All are invited.

—Last evening the Barker family gave a free concert in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association. This family is very talented, and those present were very much pleased with their efforts.

—Prof. Henri Masson, teacher of French, 2113 Pennsylvania avenue, is forming his classes for the winter, and persons desiring to study that language will find it to their advantage to become pupils of the Professor.

—Mr. M. Geary, who has opened the new central billiard hall directly opposite the Ebbitt house on F street, proposes during the coming season to give a series of entertainments in the billiard line, and to have all the most noted knights of the cue to tourney. It is certainly one of the best appointed and convenient billiard rooms in the city.

—Mr. Willie S. Brock, who heads the list of the lucky five who passed the best examination at the recent competitive trial at the Interior Department, is a son of Captain Brock, of the Metropolitan police. Both father and son may be congratulated upon the achievement of the latter, which was to be expected from one who at school gave promise of a brilliant career.

—By direction of the Secretary of War, at the request of the board of commissioners of the Soldiers' Home, District of Columbia, the Quartermaster's Department will furnish transportation, the cost of which will be refunded by the treasurer of the Home, for the following named men, from the places indicated in their respective cases to this city, to enable them to enter the home: Patrick Murray, formerly private company C, 5th artillery, Wm. Wade's division, R. I.; Wm. Smith, late private company B, 24 cavalry, from Dayton, O., and Wm. Barnes, late corporal Ordnance department, United States army, from New York city.

Paralysis of Mrs. W. F. Nelson.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Susie Nelson, relict of the Rev. W. F. Nelson, No. 27 Grant Place, was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning, and has been unconscious since, with little or no hope of her recovery. Mrs. N. is highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances for her many personal and Christian virtues, and her demise will be profoundly regretted.

Poor Lo as a Till-Tapper.

About noon, yesterday, William Dundee, a half-breed Indian entered the restaurant of Mr. Otto Eckstein, on Seventh street, between G and H streets northwest, and, during the temporary absence of the proprietor, abstracted a $20 bill from the money drawer. He had not gone far, however, before the loss was noticed and he overhauled by Officer Chawson, who took him to the lock-up. The unadulterated child of nature will attend Judge Snell's reunion to-day.

Gentlemen in Want of Fine Fall Clothing are referred to Messrs. Hahn Bros., corner Seventh and D streets as having the best facilities for supplying this line of goods. Their establishment is the largest in the city, and they will be found reliable business men. In point of general style and quality we do not think their goods can be surpassed, and as they buy of first hands and manufacture all their stock, they can offer very decided advantages in the way of prices. Strangers and others in the city will do well to call on this firm, if only to see the styles.

The Ryland Church Revival.

Rev. Thomas Harrison, the young clergyman of Boston, so youthful in appearance as to be called the "boy preacher," is now conducting a series of services at Ryland church. His wonderful success in Baltimore and at other points has given him great reputation as an Evangelist. Last night the church was crowded, and many left, being unable to get in. About thirty knelt at the altar for prayer, and six were converted and joined the church. A large number stood up in the congregation and asked for prayers. Meetings are held every evening.

MURDERED.

Dreager, Whose Skull Was Crushed With a Four-Pound Weight, Dies of His Injuries.

Charles Dreager, who was assaulted last Friday evening in the store of his brother, corner of Second and O streets northeast by Thomas Fitz, died about 7 o'clock last evening from the effects of the injuries received. The fatal assault was a most brutal one. About 7 o'clock last Friday evening two drunken loafers, Morris Conners and Thos. Fitz, entered George Dreager's grocery store and demanded a drink of whisky. They were told by the proprietor that he did not sell liquor in quantities less than a pint whereupon they given also give. Dreager, thinking it best to let the ruffians quiet, went into an adjoining room and during his temporary absence Fitz took a four-pound weight from the counter and concealed it behind his back. When Dreager came back into the store Fitz and Conners repeated their demand for liquor and they were going to have it anyhow and became more violent in their demeanor than before. Dreager, judging from the manner of the ruffians that there might be trouble called his brother Charles. He came in answer to his brother's call and putting his hand upon Fitz's arm, ordered both to leave the store. They refused to go and him by the coat and began to pull him about.

In attempting to free himself from their grasp Charles raised his hand to push them off when Fitz dealt him a crushing blow with the weight fracturing the unfortunate man's skull and felling him to the floor. Both Fitz and Conners then fled. The latter has been arrested, but Fitz is still at large. Since that time young Dreager has been under the care of Drs. J. Ford Thompson, Ford, Herbert and Hudson. They extracted four pieces of the crushed skull, and relieved the sufferer very much. Apparently Dreager was improving until yesterday morning when he began to sink rapidly. Dreager was twenty four years of age and leaves a wife and child. On the night of the assault both Conners and Fitz escaped. Conners was afterwards arrested, but as he could not be connected with the assault he was fined $10 for profanity. It was not at that time considered that the assault would prove fatal. Fitz has not been seen since Friday. He is about twenty one years of age, and bears a bad reputation among the police.

SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT.

Before Chief Justice Cartter and Justices Wylie and Olin.

Wood vs. Wood. Passed on account of illness of Mr. Davidge.

The Charter Oak Life Insurance Company vs. Tallmadge. This is a case under the landlord and tenant act, and involves the question of the possession of the valuable property on F street known as Tallmadge hall. It appeared upon the argument that the defendants, H. H. and L. C. Tallmadge, leased the property from the plaintiff over two years ago at the annual rental of $4,400, and the taxes to be paid by the lessees, with a clause of forfeiture of lease and right to re-enter upon the failure for sixty days to pay rent semi-annually or to pay the taxes; that no rent has ever been paid, but that the lessees claim to have expended some $5,000 in improvements for which they should have an allowance out of the rent.

The suit for possession was brought before Chas. Walter, justice of the peace; but before trial the defendants obtained its removal to the court above by certiorari, setting forth the claim of defendants to an allowance for repairs, and that the case involved questions and amounts beyond the jurisdiction of the magistrate.

Upon motion of plaintiff, before Chief Justice Cartter to quash the writ of certiorari, his Honor, upon defendants giving security for interesting costs, &c., granted the motion to be heard by the General Term in the first instance. The counsel for plaintiff claimed, first, that the petition for the writ sets forth no sufficient grounds for the same, the action being one for possession only; second, that the magistrate has exclusive jurisdiction of cases coming within the landlord and tenant act, and must pass upon all questions involved, and third, that there can be no set-off or recompense for expenditures in these summary proceedings for possession.

The counsel for defendants claimed that a corporation cannot institute these proceedings, because it cannot make the affidavit itself, but can only act by its officers or agents; that there is nothing to show that the vice president of the company was authorized to bring this suit; that the complaint does not set out the necessary facts to give the magistrate jurisdiction; and, finally, that to obtain possession for forfeiture of lease by non-payment of rent, the action of ejectment must be resorted to. Argued by Messrs. S. R. Bond and Wm. A. Maury for plaintiff, and Gen. S. S. Henkle for defendant, and submitted.

Thomas vs. Pollok. Continued. Bill of exceptions not yet perfected.

Bates vs. District of Columbia. Argued by Mr. Perry for plaintiff and Gen. Ramey for defendant, and submitted.

Fant vs. Fendall. Passed until the 24th instant.

Carrie L. Lander vs. Joseph S. Thompson. On the 17th of December, 1875, and prior thereto, the plaintiff was engaged as a seamstress and as such was received into the families of her employers, and thereby acquired profits and advantages. She conducted herself with propriety, chastity, modesty and decorum, being a young unmarried woman, and had always been esteemed among her neighbors and employers to be a moral woman, and at the time was a member of the African Methodist Episcopal Union Bethel church, in good standing, of which church the defendant was pastor. Divers persons circulated falsely wicked slanders, charging her with conduct unbecoming a chaste woman, she feeling aggrieved thereby, sought within the church and according to its rules to have her good name vindicated. To that end she had the defendant to confront her slanderers, preferred charges against them severally, which she submitted to the pastor for action thereon. Whereupon he, disregarding his duty, and to defeat her efforts to obtain redress, wholly disregarded the charges preferred and summoned the plaintiff to appear and answer certain false charges preferred by one of plaintiff's slanderers, Mary E. Gordon. When plaintiff appeared with her witnesses, on the date first mentioned, ready to answer any charge against her in answer to said summons, the defendant postponed the trial until the 23d day of December, 1875, when plaintiff again appeared, and there, without grounds of complaint on the plaintiff, and without any evidence against her, and in violation of the rules of discipline for the government of the church, the defendant directed and procured an irregular and unjust judgment of guilty on said charges, with intent to injure her good name and fame, publicly, and without color of right expelled the plaintiff from membership in said church, thereby grievously injuring the plaintiff in her character and reputation, and in her person, by causing the foul, false and malicious slanders, circulated as above mentioned, to be believed as true among the friends and acquaintances of the plaintiff, and in the community in which she lived, she suffered pecuniary loss in her business and brought suit for damages for $5,000.

In the court below judgment was given for the defendant, as the declaration did not set forth any slanderous words spoken, or allege that any had been spoken. Messrs. F. P. B. Sands and H. W. Garnett appeared for plaintiff, and Messrs. A. G. Riddle, J. F. Coulter and J. E. Padgett for defendant. The judgment of the court below was affirmed, and leave given to amend.

Police Court.

Patrick Mack forfeited an X for an assault on Lieut Kelly. Susan Clark, profanity, $5. John Johnson, loud and boisterous, $5. Arthur Edwards paid $5 for the same offense. Lafayette Waters, same, $5. John Gaither, same; $5. Clinton Johnson, profanity in Georgetown; $5. Annie Hill, same; $5. George Elliott, charged with vagrancy; dismissed. Charles M. Floyd, charged with keeping a dangerous dog; which he was ordered to have killed within twenty-hours. Jane Brown, charged with profanity in Temperance alley, dismissed. Clayton Waters, charged with trespassing on the White Lot; dismissed. George Rowley, loud and boisterous in Theatre alley; S. Henry Washington, loud and boisterous on the White Lot; $5. Mesia Laws, threats; nolle pros. George Glasgow, charged with larceny; nolle pros. August Daw, stealing a counter; nolle pros. Anderson Scott, charged with chicken stealing; postponed till to-morrow morning. Henry Sandwell, charged with assault; continued till to-morrow morning. Wm. Brown, alias "Flip," charged with an assault on John Thomas. In the evidence it was shown that these two men were coal-heavers at G street wharf, and that in May last they had some difficulty in regard to who should be waited on first, when "Flip" laid Thomas out with a board, from the effects of which he is still suffering, being now under medical treatment; case sent to grand jury. James Miller, charged with keeping an unlicensed bar at Lyceum Hall; $100 or ninety days. Philip Jackson, assault on David Berry; $5 and costs or fifteen days. Nathan Day, charged with larceny; continued till to-day. Henry Saunders, maintaining a nuisance; continued till 29th inst. Henry Magruder, assault on Mary Parker; $5 or thirty days.

BELLIGERENT MERCHANTS.

Samuel Robinson was arraigned for committing an assault on Jos. L. Savage. From the evidence it appeared that Mr. Savage went into the store of Smith, Birge & Co. to collect a bill, when Mr. Robinson ordered him to leave, and on his refusing to do he caught hold of him and put him out, at the same time striking several blows. Mr. Savage, in being ejected, fetched for a piece of iron lying in the store, but missed it, and, instead, pulled over a valuable vase, which was broken to atoms, and Mr. Robinson, becoming angry, struck the blows as charged; dismissed. James Butler, charged with attempting to revish a little girl three years of age; case continued until to-day, bonds being fixed at $1,000. George W. Harrison, assault on Ernest Mathews; discharged. Thomas Smother, assault on James O. Smith; discharged. Michael Ford, assault on Ann Ford; continued. Christiana Johnson, assault on Charles Washington; continued until to-day. John Brown and William Flanner engaged in an affray; Flanner was discharged, but Brown's collateral was ordered to be forfeited. Charles Washington, threats against Maria Shaw; released on personal recognizance. Andrew Smith, larceny of a pair of pants from Moses Cohen; $10 or thirty days. Andrew was also charged with profanity; suspended. John Maloney, threats against Emma V. Goddard; $300 bonds or six months in jail. Amanda Stewart, threats against Frederick Stetter; discharged. Edward Woods, dismissed, having abated the nuisance.

BENNING'S BULLS-EYES.

The Match Between Baltimore and Washington Riflemen—Washington Wins by Seven Points.

The return match between the Maryland Rifle Club, of Baltimore, and the Columbia Long Range Rifle Club, of this city, was shot at the range at Benning's yesterday. The Washington team was composed of Prof. Wm. Harkness, Col. J. O. P. Burnside, and Messrs. P. J. Lauritzen, C. H. Laird and Jas. E. Bell. The riflemen from Baltimore were S. J. Scott, G. T. Smith, A. V. Canfield, jr., H. R. Colesen and E. W. Scott. The day was an excellent one for rifle practice. The atmosphere was clear and the wind light and unchangeable. From the time the firing commenced until it ceased, the wind was from the west, and the hand of the wind-clock kept between six and half-past seven. The Washington riflemen did the shooting over the eight and nine hundred-yard ranges, and when they entered upon their last range for their opponents by thirty points.

Their shooting over the 1,000 yards range was unusually poor, and their Baltimore rivals reduced the difference between them by 24 points, leaving the Washington team victorious by 7 points. The averages of the Baltimore club over the different ranges were nearly the same. The poor luck of the Washington team at 1,000 yards was attributed by the members to the fact that the platform from which they fired was unsteady. Generally the Washington team make greater scores at long distances than at short, but yesterday they met with a reverse of fortune. The best individual score made was that of E. W. Scott, of the Baltimore team, who scored 224 out of a possible 225; S. J. Scott, Baltimore, scored 222, and Laird and Bell, Washington, each scored 221. At 800 yards Harkness, Washington, and S. J. Scott, Baltimore, each made 14 bull's-eyes out of 15 shots, and made scores of 74 out of a possible 75. Harkness made 13 consecutive bull's-eyes. Each riflemen had 15 shots over each range. The following are the scores:

AMUSEMENTS.

The National.

"Henry V" was greeted with a house full of smiling faces last night. Players always play well when the house pays well. Shakspeare was never better personated in the many extraordinary conceptions that he has given us in King Henry. Rignold was in excellent voice. Meade was almost perfect in Pistol, improving much in the character, for the very reason that he did not overdo it.

Tonight Mr. Rignold will play "King Henry V" for the six hundredth time, an unprecedented event in the theatrical world. It is the occasion of his benefit, and of course the public will respond.

The Opera House.

Milton Nobles has good and substantial reasons to congratulate himself on the success of his sensational drama, "The Phœnix." He has a benefit to-night, and the money-box should be filled. The play is a good one, and there is not a word or action that can offend the most fastidious, and hence the reason that so many ladies are in nightly attendance. There will be a matinee tomorrow.

Blind Tom

continues to delight his many visitors at Odd Fellows' hall. His musical talents are much improved, while his witty sayings and musical way of spelling difficult words is well worth a visit.

The Sunday Night Concert at the National Theatre.

Our music-loving community must not forget that on Sunday night next the Boston Philharmonic Club will give a grand sacred concert. It is the first appearance of this celebrated musical combination in this city. Bernard Listeman and Fritz Listeman, both solo violinists; Adolf Hartdegan, solo violoncellist; Eugene Weiner, solo flutist, and Adolf Belz, solo horn player, are in the club. Mr. Freygang, one of the world's greatest harpists, is also among the attractions. He was for years the soloist to the Czar of Russia. Miss Louise McQuestin, the soprano, is the great Boston favorite. In fact the entire vocal and instrumental combination presents sufficient attractions to crowd the National, and our belief is that Mr. Redpath will make a grand success of his enterprise.

Barnum's Great Show.

Perhaps the little ones are not already reminding their papas that Barnum's Circus and Menagerie is coming. It is claimed to be the greatest show on earth, and we believe the assertion is well founded. Major Charley Stowe, the press agent for Barnum, says that in all his experience he has never witnessed such a combination. The tent is to be pitched at the corner of Ninth and S streets, and the grand entertainment will be here next Friday morning, the 26th instant. The first performance will commence at 1 p. m. on Friday, the 26th, the second at 7 p. m. of the same day; and at the same hours on Saturday there will be similar performances. Tickets can be had at Ellis' music store, No. 937 Pennsylvania avenue.

There is to be an exhibition of the show at Alexandria on Thursday next, the 25th instant.

NEWS FROM GEORGETOWN.

What Occurred Yesterday on the Other Side of the Creek—Police Items—Died from Injuries Received While Wrestling—Arrivals of Vessels.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

A few days since a youth, about nine years of age, named Butler, residing on Jefferson street, south of the canal, had a wrestling match with some of his companions, when he was thrown on his back and received internal injuries, from which he died Wednesday night.

POLICE ITEMS.

Yesterday afternoon Sergeant Hess and Officer Lyddane arrested Harriet Hardy, Nettie McPherson, Annie Offutt, Cassie Cattlet and Eliza Cattlet, all colored, on a warrant sworn out by Mollie Harris, also colored, charging them with assault and battery. The same parties, with the exception of Cassie Cattlet, were also charged with assaulting Frances Hundley, also colored. The complainants, as well as the accused, are all hard characters, well known to the police, and it is not the first time they have counted noses through the bars. When placed in the cells they entertained passers-by with songs, and seemed to take their arrest as a good joke, but the laugh will be on the other side when they have their interview with Judge Snell this morning, their mirth will be turned to sorrow.

H. P. Markham, of Racine, Wis., and T. Jenks, of Chicago, Ill., are registered at the West End hotel.

The item in THE REPUBLICAN Tuesday morning in reference to "Blockade in the Canal" has had a good effect. For the past two days, although there have been a large number of boats in the canal, the coast has been kept clear.

There are a large number of boats lying in Georgetown level of the canal, laden with from 50 to 65 tons of coal, which shippers are unable to unload, in consequence of the scarcity of vessels to transport it to Eastern ports, where it is intended to be shipped.

The little house erected on the northeast corner of Fayette and Second streets for the use of the car drivers on the Metropolitan street railway has become to be an intolerable nuisance. Instead of using it for the purpose for which it was erected, the drivers have made other use of it, and the residents threaten to call upon the Board of Health for relief.

The Police Commissioners.

The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners held a regular meeting at their rooms last evening, all the members present except President Britton.

John R. Mullady, vice president of Georgetown College, asked for the appointment of John O'Brien as private watchman. Referred.

The chief of ordnance requested that the two hundred revolvers issued to the police force at the time of the railroad strikes be returned forthwith.

A committee was appointed to confer with the authorities on the subject.

The District Commissioners notified the board that they had given notice to the proper parties of the intention to abandon the place used for stationhouse purposes at Brightwood, and the canceling of the lease.

Nothing being said about the turning over of the fund set aside for this purpose, which was to be used for second additional men in the county, the secretary was directed to correspond with the District Commissioners in relation to the matter.

The opinion of District Attorney Wm. Birney in regard to the issuing of liquor licenses was read and filed.

A communication was received from Lieutenant Austin, of the Fifth precinct, detailing an accident of the laundry at McIntire's restaurant, and the arrest and shooting of one of the parties by Private Bacon. The paper was indorsed by the major and superintendent, recommending that officer Bacon be put on the line of promotion for his actions, which recommendation was adopted and the Lieutenant of each precinct instructed to read the action of the board at the head of the platoon before they went on duty.

The Major submitted a statement that officer Haney, by direction of Lieutenant Skippon arrested Samuel Brennan, of Georgetown, for keeping open his saloon in that city, after 12 o'clock midnight. Assistant District Attorney Murray, of the Police Court, declined to proceed against him, stating that there was no law to prevent restaurants in Georgetown from keeping open all night if the proprietors thought fit to do so.

The board directed a minute to be made of the case for their information, which the party should apply for a renewal of his license.

Mr. Gatchel from the committee on stationers, stated that bids had been received for the washing, but no contract had been made.

The respective propositions were then submitted, and Mr. Ball was found to be the lowest bidder, offering to do the work at 25 cents per dozen.

The committee was granted further time to consider the subject before any award should be made.

Mr. Gatchel, from the same committee, stated that they had received several proposals for the removal of prisoners from the station-houses to the Police Court, but that the committee was not yet prepared to report. Further time was granted.

Mr. Somerville, from the committee on uniforms, reported that most of the hats have been delivered, and were fully up to the sample furnished. It was decided that the acting sergeants should wear a silver wreath on their hats.

An advance of $500 on account was authorized to be made to Mr. John Wannamaker.

Mr. Somerville informed the board that the cells in the new station-house of the Seventh precinct were now being used, and that the building had been accepted by Inspector Entwisle.

On motion it was decided that Lansburg Brothers be paid for the blankets furnished by them under contract.

Mr. Gatchel gave notice that at the next meeting he should move to consider liquor licences in open meeting.

DISTRICT AFFAIRS.

Removal of the Sixth-Street Hack-Stand.

In regard to the removal of the hack-stand on Sixth street northwest the engineer says that if the stand is to be removed to a locality where it will be less objectionable to residents, he should recommend Sixth street, south of Missouri avenue, opposite the reservation, and near the Baltimore and Potomac railroad depot, or on the south side of B street, immediately west of the depot, as the hackmen may prefer. Either of these localities should be free from objections on the part of the residents of the neighborhood, but neither is as accessible to the public as the present stand. The interest of the hackmen and of the property-owners in the vicinity of the present stand are necessarily at variance.
