HOME AFFAIRS.

CITY NOTES.

—It rained last night.

—Roose sends New York papers in advance of the mail.

—Somebody lost four false teeth at the Capitol yesterday.

—Game is more abundant this fall than it has been for some years.

—The pile of gravel at Seventh and E street has been a doubtful ornament for three or four weeks.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of Capitol Hill will hold a meeting at McCauley's Hall, this afternoon, to devise ways for helping the poor of that section of the city through the winter.

—The Metropolitan line of street-cars make a man "work his passage" and at the same time pay two cents for his ride. The public should demand lower fare and less inconvenience.

—Messrs. J. E. Carpenter, Alphonso Young and Warren Choate have been appointed a committee on the part of the Young Men's Christian Association to provide reading-rooms at the respective railroad depots in the city.

—Wild turkeys were never more numerous than at present. A flock entered the city of Lynchburg, Va., last week, and since then a large flock, of which one was killed, entered Woodstock. One killed in Shenandoah County a day or two ago weighed thirty-five pounds.

—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon the driver of Judge Swayne's carriage attempted to run over a coal cart at the corner of Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue, and the result was that the carriage was considerably damaged and had to be withdrawn for repairs.

—The new bell of the Columbia Fire Company of Alexandria, has been placed in position in the cupola of of their engine house. The bell seems to be a superior one, and has been named the "Little Robert," in honor of a well-known and active member of the company.

—L. J. Ryder slipped and fell at the corner of Louisiana avenue and Sixth street last evening and dislocated his shoulder. Detective Clarvoe took him to Police Headquarters, where Dr. Elliott rendered surgical aid. He was afterwards taken to his home, 1330 Fourth street northwest, by Detective Clarvoe.

DISTRICT AFFAIRS.

The Removal of the Tar-Sheds.

In regard to the proposition to remove the tar-sheds and works, and open Eleventh street to B northwest the engineer reports "that if the District should ever undertake the work of laying concrete pavements or of resurfacing them, it will be necessary to establish a yard for that purpose, and it is doubtful whether a better location than this can be found, being central and not in the immediate vicinity of residences. The cost of opening Eleventh street through will be $2,600.80, estimated at present contract rates and assuming that the debris will be removed at the expense of the proprietors of the work."

Minor District Notes.

—James W. Hower has been appointed an overseer at the Washington Asylum.

—District Attorney Riddle recommends that the compensation of the clerk in his office be increased.

—The contractors for paving Seventh street northwest have finished their work in front of the Patent Office.

—The Parking Commission report that the repairing around trees can be resumed as soon as the planting again commences.

—The engineer estimates the cost of improvements on D street, between New Jersey avenue and Second street east, at $1,583.40.

—The engineer recommends that W. O. Denison be allowed to lay a sewer, at his own expense, on Third, between Seventh and K streets.

—The Commissioners are considering the proposition of paving the intersection of Seventh and F streets northwest with Richmond granite.

—Mr. E. M. Chapin, superintendant of repairs, estimates the cost of the work asked for on D between Third and Four-and-a-Half streets southwest, to be $280, including all material, the sidewalks to be only eight feet wide.

—The contract for constructing an apron at the culvert on New Cut road, at Foundry branch, has been awarded to B. J. Coyle & Co., and the contract for the improvement of Montgomery street, between West and Stoddard streets, Georgetown, to J. Desmond & Co.

☞—Permits have been issued to the following parties to build: A. Hanlein, two story brick on Potomac street, Georgetown, $1,900; William Callor, one-story brick, on Pennsylvania avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth street northwest, $250; Julia Willis, repair porch, $20.

A Novel Inkstand.

A newly-patented inkstand is attracting considerable attention at E. M. Whitaker & Son's bookstore. By a clever contrivance it shall upper well is regulated so that the writer can have just the amount he wishes on his pen, and force the fingers never become soiled by dipping too deep as is often the case in the ordinary inkstand. The lower well is made of rubber, and when a thumb screw is turned the pressure forces the ink into the upper one. The whole is inclosed in a neat form and makes an attractive ornament.

Willis Cornell vs. Charles F. Sigourney et al.; judgment against administrators.

R. I. Fleming vs. C. J. Hillyer; referred to R. Ross Perry.

R. I. Fleming vs. N. L. Jeffries; referred to R. Ross Perry.

Webster & Bro. vs. Rawlings; verdict for plaintiff for $189.20 with interest from January 16, 1875.

Mary E. Van Ortwick vs. Edward Walters; an action for breach of promise. The declaration sets forth that the defendant entered into an engagement to marry the plaintiff on the 26th of November, 1873, the marriage to be consummated six months later—on Christmas day. She refused to contract marriage with any other man, and has remained unmarried from the time of making the promise to the defendant. She is still willing to marry Mr. Walters, but he persistently refused, and she claims by this refusal to have sustained damages to the extent of $10,000. The defense put in was that Mrs. Van Ortwick represented herself to be a single woman, when, in fact, she was married, and could not legally contract a marriage. Mrs. Lockwood, counsel for the plaintiff, claimed that the plaintiff had been divorced and was therefore at liberty to marry again. The point was raised by the defense that the decree of divorce was not binding, and thereupon the bill and papers were produced and examined. It was ascertained that the petition did not contain sufficient grounds on which to grant a divorce. The decree was made on the averment that the respondent, the husband, was confined in the penitentiary, which in this jurisdiction is not, in itself, a sufficient cause for divorce. The Court held that the complainant could not contract a marriage with the defendant in the suit because the divorce was not properly granted. Under instructions the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

Mrs. Lockwood excepted to the ruling of the court. Messrs. Rose and Dean appeared for the defendant.

Lisher vs. Gallaher, Loane & Co.; judgment for plaintiff for $11,24[illegible].

CRIMINAL COURT—JUSTICE MACARTHUR.

John R. Brooks, Anthony Brooks, forgery; John Shea, assaulting officer; James Dunnington, assault; George T. Smallwood, false pretenses; Madison Barrett, selling lottery tickets; Lewis Barn, receiving stolen property; J. L. Wimsatt, assault.

Bogus Real Estate Sales.

The first of the five cases against John R. Brooks and Anthony Brooks, indicted for forgery, came up before Justice MacArthur yesterday. In this case a nolle pros. was entered so far as Mary Dangerfield, indicted with the above mentioned parties, is concerned. The indictment charges these parties with forgery and counterfeiting the names of Charles Baker and Sarah E. Baker, his wife, in a transfer deed to Hannah Brooks of certain property known as lot 5, in Davidson's sub-division of square 283, for $3,500, with intention to defraud the parties of the first part in the bogus deed.

After the prosecution closed their testimony, Anthony Brooks was dismissed by the court, on motion of his counsel, Col. William A. Cook, there being no evidence to connect him with the case. He, however, having another indictment hanging over him, was returned to the dock until that case shall be called. The defense in the case of John R. Brooks, will put in their testimony to-day. It now looks as if the accused will escape a conviction under this indictment.

Senator Patterson's Case.

The habeas corpus case of Senator John H. Patterson, of South Carolina, came up before Justice Humphries, by agreement yesterday, in chambers. Col. William A. Cook appeared for the Senator, and Mr. Lowndes for the state of South Carolina. It being evident that the Attorney-General of the state, who is engaged at home, could not attend on the case at present, and there being a mutual understanding between the counsel, the argument was postponed until Wednesday, November 21.

His Honor expressed the belief that it would take several days to dispose of the case. He inclined to permit the fullest argument that might be desired, and imagined that each of the counsel would consume about five hours in making his address. There were three attorneys representing Senator Patterson, and two if not more, for the state. It was a case in which there was no necessary haste, and he intended that there should be none in disposing of it.

The Result of a Dog-Bite.

A middle-aged colored man, named Stephen Thomas, was arraigned before Justice MacArthur on the charge of assaulting a white child named Elizabeth Hammond, by setting a vicious dog upon her, causing her to be severely bitten, and resulting in her injuries so seriously resulting in her death. It appeared in the evidence that the little girl was picking up pieces of ice in the yard of the Kennedy Ice Company, on the wharves of Georgetown, and while so engaged the dog came into the yard, she started to climb the fence, when the dog rushed for her, seized her by the leg, and bit her before he could be checked. The jury found the man guilty, and he was sentenced to six months in jail.

Ready to Marry.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following applicants: Gabriel Clark and Martha Perry; Peter Kline and Jane H. Rogers; James Ender and Delia Dairy; Robert P. Middleton and Florence B. Fowler; J. P. Robertson and Emma Pistorio; Stephen Raymond and Anna James; Joseph Bruce and Margaret Davis; C. A. Beallc and M. T. Hicks; James Cook and Eva Scott; P. C. Alston and Rachael T. Freeman; James Martin, jr., and M. Addie Simpson.

Real Estate Transfers.

Gordon, jr., trustee, to Charles Bradley, for $2,415, lots 63, 64, 65, 66 and 67, square 153; Moses Kelly, trustee, to Nathaniel Wilson, for $1,850, sub-lot 4, square 257; Richard Rothwell to Lewis Brown, for $375, sub-lot 17, square 991; R. P. Dodge and A. Herr, trustees, to E. M. Darneille, for $6,200, part of lots 1 and 2, square 449.

Judgments by Default.

The following judgments by default were taken before Chief Justice Cartter yesterday: Jerome Bradley vs. Dr. D.W. Bliss, for $180; G. and N. Poppleton, jr., vs. G. W. Forsberg, for $230.65; H. T. Quackenbos vs. Clifford Warden, for $225; H. T. Quackenbos vs. Jonathan Taylor, for $225.

Law Summary.

—Frank Simpson was convicted of committing rape on a colored girl, named Anna J. Lee, and sentenced to the penitentiary for twelve years.

Police Court.

District cases.—Randall Hanson, profane and indecent language, $5. Michall Griffin, same offense, $5. Maggie Hughes, vagrancy, fifteen days. Victoria Burke and Kate Goslin, same offense, sent up; Thomas Babbington for boisterous and disorderly talk, was fined $5; James A. Kaiser, for making a disturbance in Georgetown, $5. Mahala Stevenson, for throwing mud and dirt upon the clothes of Mary Gray, was detained until a physician could ascertain whether she was sane and in right mind.

Police Court cases.—Benjamin Johnson, for assault, $20 or sixty days; Spencer White, larceny of a wheelbarrow from George Wier, $5 or fifteen days. Henry Edmondson, assault, continued until next Tuesday. Henry Williams, larceny, continued until the 13th. John Meredith was dismissed on the charge of assault. Marshall Parker, for assault on Mr. Kelley, continued until the 13th. Henry Williams, larceny from William Smith, $5 and costs. Edward Thacker, stealing $10, dismissed for want of evidence. Adolphus Burgess and Thomas Davis were arraigned for breaking in Mr. Borchell's store on the night of the 5th; Davis was sent to the grand jury and the case of Burgess continued until to-morrow. Butler, one of the gang engaged in the burglary, sent up for six months for stealing some umbrellas, turned state's evidence. James Johnson, same offense, pleaded guilty and was sent up for six months. David Spicks, striking a white woman in the face, paid $5 for his fun.

CANAL BLOCKADES.

There was another jam of the canal-boats above the Aqueduct Bridge yesterday for several hours. One boat in attempting to cross the Aqueduct Bridge was swung across the canal, and the jam commenced. There were about 200 boats in it, and they got into such positions as to render it impossible for them to be extricated until after some eight or ten boats, light, had assembled just east of the Aqueduct Bridge, which came near causing a jam at that point. After lying there several hours the boat that was swung across the canal passed on to Alexandria through the aqueduct, the jam above the bridge was broken up, some boats passed down, and the others proceeded on their way to Cumberland.

BEING attracted by the sign of the Big Balloon in front of the B—C Dining Rooms, on F street, near Ninth, we dropped in, only to find our friend George, the proprietor, busily engaged in supplying the demands of his numerous patrons, and were politely shown through the entire establishment, which convinced us that a want for a long time felt by strangers visiting the national capital and the public generally has at last been supplied. His bill of fare teems with every luxury in the way of edibles, and the astonishingly low prices at which he furnishes first-class meals will surprise every one who may favor him with a call. One visit to George's, 912 F street, will certainly ensure another.

Record of the National Club for the Past Season—Averages of the Leading Eleven Players.

There being no doubt but that the Nationals will be declared the champions of the District by the championship committee, at their meeting on the 15th of the present month, it will prove interesting to base-ball readers to see the individual scores of the playing members of the nine. The following carefully-prepared table is furnished by Mr. Cross, the official scorer of the club, and shows the batting and fielding standard of each player; and although it may appear strange that men who have played in the least number of games should lead those who have done more work, still it does not detract from the merits of the last named:

| Players. | Batting. Games played. | Times at bat. | Base hits. | Total bases. | Per cent. of base hits to times at bat. | Fielding. Rank. | Put out. | Assisted. | Chances. | Errors. | Per cent. of chances accepted. |
