HOME AFFAIRS.

CITY NOTES.

—Boose sends New York papers in advance.

—I rest last night.

—Yesterday was the coldest day of the season.

—Get out your medicated flannels if you've got any.

—Sixty-six tramps lodged in the station-houses Saturday night.

—The President and Mrs. Hayes attended the New York-avenue Presbyterian Church yesterday morning.

—The contract between the Board of Health and the Odorless Excavating Company will expire in a few days.

—The police made forty-six arrests during Saturday and Saturday night. Nineteen were registered drunk.

—Persons having short-hand work to be done, or who need the services of a stenographic assistant, can get good work done by applying to Mr. James D. Ryan, Congressional Globe office.

—The Inspector of Buildings has issued the following permits: To build—D. B. Graff, eight two-story bricks, in alley between Sixteenth and Seventeenth and L and M streets northwest, $9,000. To repair—James Brown, brick front, $150; Mrs. McCormon, raise house a story; Hugh McCaffery, vault; L. R. York, awning.

—About six o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in house No. 718 second street northwest. The alarm was sounded, and extinguished when about $5 worth of damage had been done. The house, which is owned by Mrs. Slater, is insured. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

—Yesterday morning a colored boy named Thomas Lidler, alias Henry Parker, snatched a Catholic Sunday school book from a little boy while the latter was passing up Fifteenth street, between New York avenue and H street northwest, on his way to St. Augustine Sunday school. The thief ran up Pennsylvania avenue as far as Fifteen-and-a-half street, where he was captured by Officer Riley, of the Fifth Precinct, taken to the station and locked up for a hearing in the Police Court this morning.

A Wine Cellar Robbed.

About 8:30 o'clock Saturday night the wine cellar of Admiral Gustavus H. Scott, No. 1029 G street northwest, was robbed of wines and liquors by a colored man named Louis Smith. Smith was formerly in the Admiral's service as coachman, but was discharged some time since for cause. When he was discharged he carried a set of keys to the wine cellar, which he carried while in the Admiral's service. Saturday Smith called at the house to see some of the servant girls, and was standing at the front door talking with the girl when he suddenly ran upstairs by a member of the family, and in responding to the call she kept the door open. As soon as she was out of sight Smith entered the house and proceeded to the wine cellar and committed the robbery. Smith has not yet been arrested.

John B. Gough.

The lecture by Mr. Gough, to be given on Wednesday evening in Lincoln Hall, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be an attraction that will doubtless draw a crowded house. Mr. Gough is now in his best health, just starting out on his lecturing tour, and will come fresh and vigorous. The title of his lecture is "The Reform Movement," and he alludes to some of the reforms in various countries, and tells of his own experience at reform. He has something startling to say, and will say it as only Gough can. The tickets have been placed at the price of fifty cents, without extra charge for reserved seats, and can be had at Ballantyne's bookstore, on Seventh street.

The Birney-Bryan Controversy.

Commissioner Bryan last Saturday filed with the Senate District Committee a rejoinder to the statement submitted to the committee by ex-District Attorney Birney last Friday. Mr. Bryan said that a mere passing allusion to the odious nature of a tax had been tortured into a declaration of resistance to the law; that the ex-District Attorney "resigned" only after a strong intimation that his resignation was wanted; that the Anacostan Boat Club, and others mentioned as paying fees to the District Attorney, had applied to him as the District Attorney, and had not expected to pay fees until demanded; that the ex-District Attorney met in secret conclave at his office a band of men lately discharged from the District service, and decided upon defamation of character as their course of action; and he reiterated more forcibly what he had said in his first paper.

Ex-District Attorney Birney addressed the public through a column card in the Star yesterday, in reply to Mr. Bryan. He avowed the latter gentleman's past of a want of candor, and of cunningly endeavoring by insinuations instead of assertions, to create false impressions. He denies all set forth against him by Mr. Bryan, and says that Mr. Bryan lacked fairness in making public only such parts of certain transactions as suited.

Mr. Birney again denied that he had been dismissed from the office of District Attorney. He says he found that Mr. Bryan had uttered the foulest slanders against every man whom he had intrigued, limited or bruised out of office, and concludes: "My exposure of Mr. Bryan, the public will bear witness, has been literally forced from me by his untruthful libels."

Y. M. C. A Lyceum.

The Lyceum, having reorganized for the winter under the most auspicious circumstances, held an interesting meeting Saturday evening, in the chapel-room of the Y. M. C. A. The meeting being called to order by the president, J. R. Isabrie, the members were entertained by a reading by Mr. E. Cochman; an essay by H. H. Grant; a recitation by Richard Stuart Evans, and remarks from Col. Frank, Capt. Rogers, Drs. Gross and Murphy, and Messrs. Rued, May, and Milliken, after which the subject of debate for the evening was taken up, being "Resolved, That the Roman Catholic Church is inimical to a republican form of government," the leaders being Dr. Gross and Mr. Maupin. The subject was discussed with considerable warmth by many members present, and is carried over for discussion at the next regular meeting. The Lyceum holds its meetings every Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, and is free to all interested in a discussion of topics of the day.

IF ANY one of our lady readers suffers with headache they will thank us for calling attention to Ledlie's Headache Specific. It is beyond doubt the greatest discovery of the age. Only fifty cents.

DISTRICT AFFAIRS.

Physician to the Washington Asylum.

The report of Dr. J. J. Dyer, visiting physician to Washington Asylum, says the number of patients under treatment November 1, 1876, was 94—53 males, 41 females. Admitted during the year 565—males, 319; females, 246; white, 267; colored 298; births, 18—males, 13; females, 5; white, 1; colored, 17.

Discharged during the year, 483—males, 265; females, 220; white, 214; colored, 269. Deaths during the year, 93—males, 55; females, 38; white, 29; colored, 64; leaving in hospital October 31, 1877, 83. Number admitted in small-pox hospital during the year, 5. Besides the sick in hospital, one of the resident physicians attended a daily sick call at which all prisoners complaining can present themselves for medical treatment. The inmates of the poor-house are also visited, and with the colored male paupers in what are known as the "Shanties," who receive medical attention as needed, make up a daily average of at least five additional patients, and add to that number of prescriptions prepared in the dispensary during the year 1,500 or more. The number of patients admitted born in the District is little over one-fourth of the whole number of the colored patients. The States of Virginia and Maryland are to be credited with three-fourths. Of the whites the District has a

A VERY SMALL PER CENT.,

those from other States, and the foreign-born furnishing much the larger number requiring the charitable aid of the District. The facts are suggestive. Should not the authorities receive largely assistance from the National Legislature? There cannot be a more powerful appeal or a stronger claim upon their justice or liberality. As occasion has required necessary repairs have been made in the different wards under the supervision of the Intendent of the asylum, and it is a source of congratulation that we were prepared to meet the inclemency of the winter with tight roofs and window, and warm, comfortable quarters for the accommodation of the sick.

From among the convalescents who show the most aptitude for such service nurses have been employed, and while not filling the requirements to be expected of well-trained and well-paid nurses, have performed their duties in a satisfactory manner; only two since my service at the hospital commenced have been compelled to leave on account of disorderly conduct. From our location many infer that various forms of malarial fever prevail in our midst, but the contrary is the fact. No case of intermittent or other form of fever attributable to such influence has originated in the hospital in the past four months. This immunity is plainly due to the good sanitary condition maintained among the inmates of the institution.

He recommends that an additional lying-in ward and new office and dispensary be built, a pay ward be added to the institution, and a hospital steward and head nurse be added to the staff.

He concludes with a very complimentary notice of his predecessor, Dr. Page, and his assistants, Drs. Faulkner and Hazen.

The District Surveyor's Report.

Capt. John A. Partridge, District Surveyor, has transmitted his annual report to Engineer Hoxie, from which the following synopsis is taken:

Since the previous report assessments have been made on account of streets, avenues and county roads, to which is added all expenditures for alleys amounting to $19,991,917.98. This includes the addition of 5 per cent. after deducting the amounts due from the United States and certain advances to the general fund, the District of Columbia street railways, and half of intersections of lateral streets.

ASSESSMENTS

have been made on account of 232 streets and avenues in Washington, Georgetown, Mount Pleasant and Uniontown, and assessments on account of fifty-five roads and avenues in the county. One hundred and thirty-five alleys have been assessed and one alley in square 354 condemned by inquisition jury. After further enumerating the extent and character of the work of his office, in relation to Georgetown he says:

The preparation of a book of plats, showing the ownership, location, and dimensions of each lot and subdivision in every square in Georgetown, was commenced by the undersigned, that the surveyor is continuing this work, and when completed it will furnish the basis for a proper and correct numerical book of the town, so much needed by the assessors and the superintendent of taxes and water department. The preparation of this book involves the platting in detail of all lots and subdivisions in accordance with the lines and dimensions as shown in deeds. The descriptions by deed are, in many cases, so indefinite and conflicting that new surveys are necessary to establish the proper boundaries of squares and lots. In repeated instances buildings long established are found to encroach several feet upon the street lines and property lines as defined by deed frequently overlap. In other instances the correct area in square feet included within the lines, as given in the deeds, is greatly in excess of the area therein named, and good reasons exist for the belief that at least two hundred thousand square feet of property within the town limits is and that the District government is a large loser of annual revenue from this cause. A book of plats, showing all subdivisions and the areas and all other traces and parcels of property in Georgetown, is recommended to be prepared, showing the limits of certain roads. Some means should be taken to establish permanent corners to squares throughout the city, the monument defining them having in many cases become obliterated. No better method suggests itself than by actual survey and measurement to fix the boundaries of the squares as built upon, and re-establish monuments. These may be stones from two and one-half to three feet in length, reach below the surface, but accurately square to six inches at the top, and set with the top flush with the footwalks at recorded distances from the corners. The intersecting lines of the squares can be permanently marked thereon by the insertion of a plug of soft metal. These corners once fixed can be protected by law.

Superintendent of Streets and Repairs.

Mr. E. M. Chapin, Superintendent of Streets and Repairs, has submitted to the Engineer a report of the work done under his supervision since the date of his appointment, October 1. He suggests that the sewer-traps, wherever found defective, especially the goose necks connecting traps with main sewers, be altered from six to twelve inches, which if found too large can be reduced; also, that large bags and brackets with valves be furnished, in order to facilitate the work of cleaning the traps. He also recommends that in the erection of new fire plugs they be located at or near the sewer traps, and be made to connect with the traps under ground, for the purpose of flushing the traps and sewers. In relation to sewers, the superintendent expresses his disapprobation of them, also the traps, together with the appliances in use, and suggests that close iron cars be established, with swinging beds for discharging their loads, and constructed low enough to enable the men to easily empty their vessels into them; also that large iron pans or trays on wheels be furnished, in which to hold the filth and debris while the carts are off depositing their loads. This would obviate the necessity of piling it up on the streets. The sewerage being of a thin, watery nature, runs and spreads over a large surface, making it very difficult to gather up, besides being very expensive. He also urges the importance of having a large wrecking pump, to be used in pumping out sewers when stopped up. In relations to street pavements after describing the condition of the streets paved with wooden blocks, he recommended as a pavement Belgian block (Richmond granite) such as now is laid in front of the depot of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. He disapproves of the challenging labors as not remunerative on public work. In relation to the payments of the laborers under him he recommends that they receive their pay twice per month.

Black Hills Delegates.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 17, 1877.

To the Editor of the National Republican:

In the edition of your paper of the 17th instant appears the following paragraph:

"The Hon. E. C. Brearly, the newly-elected delegate from the proposed Territory of Lincoln, which includes the Black Hill country, is in town, urging its early organization upon the attention of Congress. The proposed territory comprises upward of 100 miles square and now has a population of nearly 30,000, principally voters. Mr. Brearly has a host of friends in this District."

Evidently you have fallen into error as to who is the accredited Delegate from the Black Hills, for the proposed Territory of Lincoln.

At a convention representing the entire people of the proposed Territory, held in pursuance on the 10th of May, 1877, C. M. Meyer and myself were elected to represent the people of that section of country during the term of the Forty-fifth Congress. Subsequent to the said convention Dr. Meyer resigned, and the people in convention on the 20th of September, 1877, selected Judge J. R. Whitehead to fill the vacancy, who is at present my accredited colleague. As for myself, I would not have noticed this mistake; but as a faithful representative, having a trust reposed in me, and in justice to the constituency I have the honor to represent, I ask you to make this correction. Respectfully,

HOWARD C. WALKER,
Delegate from Black Hills on New Territorial Organization.

Death of Miss Catherine Walter.

The many friends of Mr. Charles Walter, the well known magistrate, will regret to hear of the death of his daughter Catherine, who, after several months intense suffering, departed this life yesterday about noon. The young lady was endowed with qualities of mind and heart that endeared her to all who knew her, and her untimely demise—she was but twenty-four years of age—sheds a gloom not only over the afflicted family but over a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. Walter has, in this hour of bereavement, the heartfelt sympathy of his numerous professional and social friends.

FUNERAL OF MR. R. A. MACOMB.

The funeral of Mr. Richard A. Macomb took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, from his late residence, No. 108 Washington street, and was one of the largest funerals that has occurred in the town for years past. Among those present were a large number of printers from Washington. The remains were enclosed in an elegant walnut coffin, casket shape; on the lid was a handsome silver plate inscribed with the name, date of death, and age of the deceased. The linings were of white silk and satin. The floral decorations consisted of crosses, wreaths, and anchors, the tributes of kind and loving friends. After the services at the house, which were conducted in the Catholic faith, the funeral procession proceeded to Oak Hill cemetery, where the burial services were concluded in the orders of the Episcopal faith.

FUNERAL OF MR. S. H. HOWELL.

The funeral of Mr. S. H. Howell, who died on Thursday last, took place from the West-street Presbyterian Church, at three o'clock, Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. S. H. Howe, of the West-street Presbyterian Church, who spoke in eloquent terms of the life and character of the deceased. At the conclusion of Mr. Howe's remarks the casket was borne to the hearse by the following pall-bearers: Messrs. C. F. Peck, William L. Dunlap, R. B. Mayfield, Charles B. Church, George H. Clark, and Thomas Harrison. The cortege then proceeded to Oak Hill Cemetery, where the remains were interred.

GEORGETOWN PARAGRAPHS.

J. G. Barron and lady, Baltimore, Md.; S. Thornton, Peoria, Ill.; H. Chatfield, Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Westmoreland, Alandria, Va.; B. Morton, Dayton, Ohio; J. R. Smith, Halfway, Va.; William H. Wilson, New York, are registered at the West End Hotel.

The town has been remarkably quiet for several days. There were not a dozen arrests made by the police during the week, and those that were made were for petty offenses.

At Trinity (Catholic) Church yesterday the usual high mass was celebrated in the morning and vesper in the afternoon. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Spah, rendered appropriate music.

The churches were all well attended yesterday.

The M. Y. O. B. Social Club.

The fourth social of the M. Y. O. B. Social Club was celebrated on Friday night, at the residence of Miss Lulu French, 1110 F street. The affair was a most enjoyable one. About fifty young gents and ladies were assembled, and the spacious parlors were the scene of terpsichorean enjoyment up to a late, or rather early, hour. A sumptuous repast was prepared and set out to tempt the gastronomic fancies of the way whirlers. A programme of twenty-two dances was prepared, ending up with the ever-lively Virginia reel.

Notwithstanding the severe weather Dante, Adams, Graves, Edwards, Hollingsworth, Wilson, Shreck, Falkner, Trevett, Rodgers, Houston, House, Bates, and Waugh; Misses Scott, Trevett, Newton, Edelston, Wise, Grow, Wade, Williams, Wight, Elder, Lewis, Gaeler, and J. E. Williams. The floor manager, Mr. George A. Wight, deserves great credit for the able manner in which he attended to the wants of the company, and so arranged the many sets as to make ample room for all.

For the refreshments the company was indebted to the committee on arrangements, Messrs. Charles H. Scott, Charles E. Trevett and Frank A. Norton, George W. Edelston and Samuel G. Wise did the the honors of the reception committee.

Journalistic Pleasantries.

There was a ripple of excitement created at Willard's Hotel, yesterday, by an altercation between Mr. E. F. Rhodes and Mr. George Alfred Townsend, two well-known journalists, which resulted in Townsend giving Brooks the lie and the latter returning his compliment by giving Townsend a staggering blow in the face and eyes, accompanied with a polite offer of such further satisfaction as he might desire, at such time as Townsend might desire it in his cooler moments.
