FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

A Protracted Executive Session of the Senate.

The Indian Transfer Report Presented—Private Bill Day in the House—Defeat of the Fairfax Seminary Bill—A Short War Claim Discussion—But a Small Number of Bills Acted Upon.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Jan. 31.

Mr. EATON said he had a remarkable petition to present this morning, being one from 475 citizens of Windsor and East Windsor, Connecticut, remonstrating against the expenditure of money for the pretended improvement of the navigation of the Connecticut River above Hartford. Referred.

Mr. VOORHEES, from the Committee on Pensions, reported a bill granting a pension to the widow of the late General Charles Thomas. Placed on the calendar.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the credentials of Hon. George G. Vest, elected United States Senator from the State of Missouri for six years from March 4, 1879. Read and placed on file.

On motion of Mr. WALLACE, Mr. Stilwell was appointed a member of the Committees on Railroads and Enrolled Bills, in place of Mr. Armstrong, whose term of service has expired.

Mr. SAUNDERS, from the joint committee appointed at the last session of Congress to inquire into the expediency of transferring the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War Department, reported that the committee had been unable to agree upon a report, being equally divided. They had agreed, however, to make two statements or reports, to be submitted to the respective houses of Congress. He now submitted his report, accompanied by a bill to authorize the President temporarily to transfer the custody, control, and management of certain Indian tribes from the Interior to the War Department, and for other purposes. Laid on the table, and he gave notice that he would call it up for consideration at an early day.

Mr. VOORHEES, from the Committee on Pensions, reported a resolution instructing the Secretary of the Interior to report to the Senate without delay what additional clerical force is necessary in the Pension Office and in the office of the Surgeon-General of the Army to secure to applicants for pensions a prompt adjustment of their claims and to the pensioners of the Government a speedy and efficient transaction of their business. Agreed to.

Mr. COKE submitted a resolution requesting the Committee on Railroads to consider the bills to aid in the construction of a railroad from San Antonio to Laredo, on the Rio Grande, and authorizing the Secretary of War to contract with the Galveston and Camargo Railroad Company for the immediate construction of its line of road to Rio Grande City, opposite Camargo, Mexico, as a coast defense and a commercial and military highway to the Rio Grande. Also to make report on these bills at their earliest convenience. Laid on the table to be called up hereafter.

Mr. MAXEY called up Senate bill appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of Fort Clark, Texas. Passed.

At 12:35 Mr. Pruden, assistant private secretary to the President, appeared with a message from the President. He was accompanied by a messenger, bearing a large bundle of documents, supposed to be from Secretary Sherman in regard to the New York appointments. The bundle was not disturbed in open session, but allowed to rest on the Vice-President's table.

Mr. WADLEIGH, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported back the letter of the Secretary of War and resolutions of the Society of the Army of the Potomac in regard to a history of the Gettysburg battle field, together with a bill appropriating $30,000 to provide for the completion and preservation of data showing the various positions and movements of troops engaged in the battle of Gettysburg, and for a descriptive account of the same, with illustrations. Placed on the calendar.

The Senate then, at one o'clock p. m., on motion of Mr. Conkling, went into executive session. At 4:30 the doors were reopened, and the Senate adjourned until twelve o'clock to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. O'NEILL offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for a copy of any report submitted by Colonel McComb or Captain Ludlow in regard to the proposed improvement of the Delaware River, near Schooner Ledge. Adopted.

Mr. CONGER, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported back a bill in reference to the proceeds of the sale of captured and abandoned property. Printed and recommitted.

On motion of Mr. WHITTHORNE, the Senate amendments to the bill to abolish the United States volunteer navy were non-concurred in.

The Senate bill for the erection of a military post at El Paso, Texas, was passed.

The Speaker then proceeded to call committees for reports of a private nature, and the consideration of the pending bill for the correction of certain land boundaries in San Mateo County, Cal., was postponed until Friday next.

Mr. MORGAN, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill for the relief of settlers on the absentee Shawnee lands in Kansas. Passed.

Mr. BRAGG, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill authorizing the President to reinstate Major Joseph B. Collins, and to retire him in that grade as of date at which he was previously mustered out. Passed.

Mr. COX (N. Y.), presented a petition of the presidents of the street railroads in New York city and other citizens for the redemption of small coin with legal tenders. Referred.

The House then, at 1:45, went into the Committee of the Whole (Mr. Covert in the chair) on the private calendar, the pending bill being the one known as the Fairfax seminary bill.

Mr. WHITE (Pa.) opposed the bill. It was essentially a war claim, for the payment of which the Government was in no way liable. The passage of this bill would set a dangerous precedent, and would be followed by an avalanche of similar claims against the Government.

Mr. HUNTON advocated the bill. The payment of the claim was prohibited by the technical rulings of the law of 1867, but it was because the claim came within the equity of the law that Congress was asked to pass this bill. Alexandria had been in what was called the loyal district of Virginia, which had been represented in the United States Congress throughout the war.

Mr. WHITE inquired if it had not been represented in the Confederate Congress.

Mr. HUNTON replied that it had not. Not a vote in that district had been cast for a Confederate officer of any description. In no sense of the word had the institution been a sectional one. Most, if not all of its professors, had come from the North, and its students from all parts of the country.

Mr. CONGER opposed the bill. Congress should not pay rent for buildings while the United States was protecting them from destruction.

Mr. POTTER favored the bill. It was the first principle of government to do justice, and to do justice about war claims as about peace claims. The settled and necessary rule was that the Government was not liable for property destroyed in the enemy's country by operation of war. This country had made an exception to that rule, and given the loyal citizen in the South a right to payment for property destroyed.

That right had expired by limitation, and he was opposed to renewing that right. The time had gone by for the payment of those loyal claims, and it would be a mistake to again open the doors of the Treasury for their payment. But this was not a war claim, and not subject to the objection that it was for property destroyed in the enemy's country. The property lay within the defenses of Washington City, not in insurrectionary territory at all. It lay in territory excluded by proclamation of President Lincoln.

Mr. WHITE declared that that territory had not been excepted by the proclamation.

Mr. POTTER replied that it excepted that identical territory. The claim should be paid without reference to the fact of its being a religious institution. It had a right to be paid.

Mr. TOWNSEND (N. Y.): Then we shall have to pay for the rent of all the forts we occupied there.

Mr. POTTER. We did not ask permission to take them.

The motion to report the bill to the House was then defeated—76 to 78, and on motion of Mr. Burchard the enacting clause was stricken out, and the committee (in accordance with the rule) rose and reported its action to the House, which, by a vote of yeas, 131; nays, 89, concurred in that action.

The House at 3:15 again went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar, and at 4:10 the committee rose and the House passed a bill for the relief of Henry M. Meade, late paymaster in the navy.

Mr. BOOSE submitted the report of the commission appointed for the purpose of examining the practicability of transferring the Indian Bureau to the War Department, in favor of the transfer.

Mr. VOORHEES submitted a dissenting report on the same subject.

The reports were ordered printed and referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The House at 5:35 adjourned till to-morrow, after an ineffectual effort on the part of some members to have an evening session.

GEORGETOWN NEWS.

Collected by Republican Reporters.

A large crowd collected on the Aqueduct Bridge yesterday morning, expecting that Bell, the negro arrested for a dastardly assault on Mrs. Robertson, would be taken to Alexandria by that way. If he had it is probable that the officers would have been troubled to keep the crowd from capturing their prisoner.

John W. Jackson, alias Jackson Bowie, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Edwards, on the charge of petit larceny of three tea spoons from Rachael Hutchinson. He will have a hearing in the police court this morning.

The shipments from the mines of the Cumberland coal region for the week ending January 25, were 16,817 tons, and for the year to that date 47,918 tons, a decrease of 14,423 tons as compared with the corresponding period of 1878.—Cumberland News, 29th inst.

The tableaux at the Curtis School building last evening, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Mite Society, were a success in every particular. The audience was large and select, and quite a handsome sum was realized.

Randall Galliday and Charles Bell, two colored boys, were arrested on High street yesterday afternoon by Mounted Officer Hess, on the charge of disorderly conduct, and locked up for a hearing in the Police Court this morning.

George Florence, an Italian boy, while playing his fiddle on Monroe street was knocked down yesterday afternoon and robbed of his fiddle by an unknown colored man. The thief escaped.

Edward Johnson, a colored boy, residing on Stoddard street extended, near Mill street, aged nine years, died yesterday without the attendance of a physician. The coroner has been notified.

They encircle the body with Electric and Magnetic influence, restore the Nervous and Debilitated, and impart New Life and Strength to the waning organism.
THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF NEW YORK has this year awarded A DIPLOMA FOR THIS INVENTION, after having been thoroughly examined and tested by the eminent Physicians and Electricians appointed for the purpose by the Directors of the Institution. Some of the most eminent physicians of the city have certified to the merits of this Therapeutic agent.
Read the following from Dr. Guernsey, No. 18 West Twenty-third street: "I have used Bryan's Electric Voltaic Belts with very decided benefit. In all cases where competent testimony is required they give very decided satisfaction. Their construction is thoroughly scientific, and physicians will find them of great aid in cases that resist every other form of treatment. "EGBERT GUERNSEY, M. D."
