FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Army Appropriation Bill Passed by the House.

The Reorganization Clause Added as a Rider —Overwhelming Defeat of the Indian Bureau Transportation Scheme— Conference Reports—A Hitch on the Naval and Fortification Bills, &c., &c.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, Feb. 8, 1879.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the annual report of Professor Baird, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. Ordered that it be printed and lie on the table.

Mr. GARLAND presented the credentials of Hon. James D. Walker, elected United States Senator from Arkansas for six years, from March 4, 1879. Read and placed on file.

Mr. SAUNDERS gave notice that he would call up at his earliest opportunity the bill recently introduced by him, providing for the temporary transfer of certain Indian tribes from the control of the Interior to the War Department.

On motion of Mr. WINDOM, the Senate still further insisted upon its amendments to the naval appropriation bill, and the new conference asked for by the House of Representatives was agreed to.

The Vice-President appointed as the new committee Messrs. Windom, Sargent, and Beck.

Mr. HEREFORD gave notice that on Thursday next, after the morning hour, he would move to take up the bill for the relief of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at Charleston, Kanawha County, W. Va.

Mr. WINDOM presented the report of the conference committee on the fortification appropriation bill, to the effect that the committee had been unable to agree.

On motion of Mr. WINDOM the Senate still further insisted upon its amendments to the bill, and agreed to the conference asked for by the House.

Messrs. Windom, Dorsey, and Wallace were appointed as the new conferees on the part of the Senate.

Mr. SARGENT, from the conference committee on the bill to abolish the volunteer navy of the United States, submitted a report, and in an explanation thereof said the committee had agreed to allow to all officers mustered out under the bill one year's pay. The bill affected one line officer and twenty-six medical officers. Provision had been made for the admission of the medical officers to the medical corps of the navy, after examination.

The report was agreed to, and the bill passed.

Mr. WINDOM, from the conference committee on the Indian appropriation bill, submitted a report, which was agreed to, and the bill passed.

House amendments to the joint resolution to print the report of Professor S. F. Baird, United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, for the years 1877 and 1878 were agreed to, and the joint resolution passed.

Mr. BAYARD, from the Committee on Finance, reported with amendments House bill to amend the laws relating to internal revenue. Ordered that it be printed with the amendments and placed on the calendar.

Mr. BECK, from the Committee on Levees and Improvement of the Mississippi River, reported without amendment House bill to provide for the organization of the Mississippi River Improvement Commission, and for the correction, permanent location, and deepening of the channel, and the improvement of the navigation of said Mississippi River and the protection of its alluvial lands. Placed on the calendar.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate a message from the President of the United States transmitting the report of the commission appointed under the act of May 3, 1878, authorizing the President of the United States to make certain negotiations with the Ute Indians of Colorado. Ordered to be printed and lie on the table.

Mr. HAMLIN submitted a resolution to print extra copies of the report of the Smithsonian Institution for the year 1878. Referred to the Committee on Printing.

The Senate then proceeded to consider the bills on the calendar.

The bill of Mr. Burnside to introduce moral and social science into the public schools of the District of Columbia, partly considered yesterday, was on motion of Mr. Edmunds, postponed until Monday.

The Senate bill to enable Albert Fuller, of New York, to have a hearing for the extension of his patent for improvement in harvesters was discussed until half-past one p. m. and then laid aside.

The Senate then, in accordance with a previous order, proceeded to consider the bills reported by the Committee on Military Affairs, and the following were disposed of:

The House bill providing for the payment to the officers and soldiers of the Mexican war of the three months' extra pay provided for by the act of July 19, 1848, was amended by Messrs. Maxey and Withers so as to provide that the act shall include officers and soldiers of the United States army, officers, petty officers, seamen, and marines of the United States, and officers and seamen of the revenue marine service.

An amendment submitted by Mr. Edmunds some time ago to have the bill apply to those who served in the late war for the preservation of the Union was rejected and the bill was then passed.

The Senate bill to confer upon the army boards of the United States army organized by the President to review the sentences of court-martial, authority to compel the attendance of witnesses and to send for persons and papers as is now given by law to courts-martial. Passed.

The Senate bill donating granite to aid the completion of the soldiers' and sailors' monument at Chalmette National Cemetery, Louisiana. Passed.

House bill for the relief of James Clift, late captain Fifth Tennessee Cavalry. Passed.

Senate bill to provide for the settlement of accounts with certain railroad companies.

[This bill authorizes the Secretary of War to reopen the settlements made with various Southern railroad companies for rolling stock and material purchased by them from the United States in 1865 and 1866, and to adjust the same upon the basis and plan of settlement which was adopted in the settlement with the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, under authority of the act of March 3, 1877. It also provides for refunding to the companies any money found to be due them after the new settlement.]

This bill was opposed by Mr. Edmunds, who had read numerous documents from the War Department to show why the settlement should not be reopened.

Pending discussion, at 4:25, the Senate, on motion of Mr. MCMILLAN, by a vote of—yeas, 33; nays, 22, adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

After the reading of the journal, R. L. T. Beale was sworn in as a member to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Beverly B. Douglass, of Virginia.

On motion of Mr. COX (N. Y.), the Senate census bill was taken from the Speaker's table and referred to the Committee on Census.

The Speaker announced the regular order to be the bill reported last night from the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, authorizing the Sub-Treasurer in New York to exchange, upon presentation at the Sub-Treasury, for coins of the United States, to the extent and amount that such coins are by law a legal tender, an equal amount of United States notes; and directing that all silver coins received under this act which shall be unfit for circulation by reason of abrasion shall be sent to the mint for recoinage.

The pending question was on the motion of Mr. Robbins to lay the bill on the table, and it was agreed to—yeas, 127; nays, 104.

Mr. WHITTHORNE asked leave to present a report of the Committee on Naval Appropriations in regard to matters investigated by that committee.

Mr. CONGER objected.

The House then, at 1:05, went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Eden in the chair) upon the army appropriation bill.

The pending amendment was that offered by Mr. Page as a substitute for the Indian transfer amendment, authorizing the President to transfer the control and management of any of the Indian tribes temporarily to the War Department whenever he shall deem that action to be desirable, on account of hostility on the part of such tribes toward the United States, or on account of difficulties between them and the settlers.

Mr. SCALES raised the point of order that the substitute changed existing law, and did not retrench expenditures.

The Chair overruled the point of order.

Mr. GARFIELD thought that Congress ought not to enter on any legislation upon which a committee could not come to a conclusion. The Indian Commission had been at work for months, and had failed to report any bill which had received the assent of a majority of that commission. But if he were compelled to vote at all, he should vote for the substitute of the gentleman from California.

Mr. BOONE said that though the commission had been equally divided still a majority of the House commissioners had been in favor of the transfer.

Mr. BUTLER offered an amendment to the transfer amendment providing that all tribes of Indians which within the last five years have done hostile acts to the United States in the nature of war, or which may hereafter commit such acts, shall be transferred to the War Department. The difference between his amendment and that offered by the gentleman from California [Mr. Page] was that the latter left the matter in the discretion of the President, while his amendment made it a provision of law.

Mr. HOOKER advocated the transfer, and cited from the testimony taken before the Congressional commission that recently investigated the question, showing some striking instances of fraud on the part of Indian agents.

Mr. HANNA opposed the transfer. The proposed legislation, he said, deserved the withering condemnation of every moral representative and would be deplored by every good man who believed in the humane and civilizing influences exercised by Christian teachers.

Mr. TOWNSEND (N. Y.) favored the transfer. While the gentleman on the other side had been hounding down the army his side had believed that the army was composed of moral intelligent men; but now from another standpoint they were monsters. [Laughter.] Turning over the Indians to the care of those gentlemen did not mean extermination. He preferred to trust the Indians to a faithful, intelligent body of men than to a body of men picked up haphazard at the recommendation of this or that member of Congress. The transfer did not mean war. Secretary McCrary was as peaceful a man as the Secretary of the Interior. Everybody knew that Indian rings lived through the Indian agents. There never had been an army ring and there never would be. If the army had had the care of the Cheyennes, forty souls now called to account would be living in Kansas.

After further debate, the committee proceeded to vote on the pending amendments. The first vote was on Mr. Butler's amendment, and it was rejected.

Mr. COLE offered an amendment requiring the inspection of supplies by the quartermaster or commissary nearest the place of the successful bidder. Agreed to.

Mr. JACOBS offered an amendment allowing Indians the benefit of the homestead and pre-emption laws. Ruled out on a point of order.

The question was then taken on Mr. Page's substitute, and it was rejected—yeas, 67; nays, 92.

Mr. JACOBS offered an amendment that Indians who settle on lands under the homestead or pre-emption laws or on purchased land shall be free from the control of Indian agents.

Mr. PHILLIPS suggested that that would give a single Indian the power to open a reservation.

The amendment was adopted.

The original proposition, offered by Mr. Boone (for the transfer of the Indians to the War Department), was then rejected on a vote by tellers of 88 to 101. The result was applauded on the Republican side, the proposition having received only six or eight affirmative votes on that side and only about a dozen negative votes on the Democratic side.

The committee then rose and reported the bill and amendments to the House.

The previous question was ordered on the following amendment, offered by Mr. Butler:

"And telegrams are authorized to be transmitted by railroad companies that may have telegraph lines for the Government and for the general public, at rates to be fixed by the Government according to the provisions of title 65, Revised Statutes."

Mr. TUCKER demanded the yeas and nays, but they were not ordered.

The amendment was adopted.

The next amendment of importance was that for the reorganization of the army. The amendment was agreed to—yeas, 116; nays, 92.

Messrs. CUTLER and PHELPS were the only Democrats who voted in the negative.

The next amendment was that offered by Mr. Hewitt (N. Y.), amending section 2002 of the Revised Statutes so as to expunge therefrom the authority to have troops at the polls on election day "to keep the peace." It was adopted—yeas, 110; nays, 95, a strict party vote with the exception of Mr. Brogden, who voted in the affirmative with the Democrats.

Mr. CULBERSON offered an amendment repealing the law which requires that military headquarters in time of peace shall be established at points where the Government owns buildings and barracks. Adopted.

The bill was then passed.

The Speaker appointed as conferees on the naval appropriation bill Messrs. Clymer, Blount, and Hale.

Mr. SMALLS offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information in regard to any balance remaining in the Treasury from direct taxes collected from the State of South Carolina. Adopted.

The House then, at 5:15, adjourned until Monday at eleven o'clock.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

FINANCIAL.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8, 1879.

The foreign commerce of New York for the past week was: General merchandise (imports), including dry goods, $6,630,618; produce (exports), $7,692,123.

Money was easy at 2@2½.

Foreign exchange was quiet at 465¾@486 for long and 488¼@488¾ for demand.

Government bonds were lower.

State bonds were dull.

Railroad bonds were strong and higher. New Jersey Central issues were the leading features, adjustment rising from 85½ to 86¾. do consolidated firsts assented from 82½ to 83, and do convertible assented from 81¾ to 82. Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern firsts rose to 62, Union Pacific firsts to 109, St Paul gold 7's to 103½, do consolidated sinking funds to 103½, Hannibal and St Joseph convertibles to 107½, Canada Southern firsts to 80¾, Ohio and Mississippi seconds to 38½, Central Pacifics to 104¾, Pacific of Missouri firsts to 106, Cincinnati and Springfield firsts (guaranteed by Lake Shore) to 98. Toledo and Wabash seconds (ex coupon) sold at 84¾@85 and Denver and Rio Grande firsts at 90¼@91.

The stock market was strong and buoyant to-day, especially for investment shares, among which Rock Island was the special feature. This stock advanced, under brisk purchases, from 128¾ to 131¾@132 at the close, the improvement being due to the large earnings of the company and to the small supply of the stock on the street. Panama advanced 3 per cent to 129 (sales), this price being bid and 135 asked at the close. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy rose 1¼ to 118 11¾. There was a considerable amount of New York Central taken at 110¼@117. In the general list prices advanced ¼@1 per cent at the opening, subsequently reacted, and at the close became strong again and partially recovered. The rise in New Jersey Central was due to a report that the stock was largely oversold in the London market. The principal activity was in Northwestern, St Paul, Lake Shore, Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and Ohio and Mississippi. The transactions aggregated 150,000 shares, of which 18,000 were Erie, 12,000 were Lake Shore, 33,000 were Northwestern, 5,000 were Rock Island, 20,000 were St Paul, 13,000 were Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 5,000 were New Jersey Central, and 10,000 were Ohio and Mississippi.

The following were the closing prices:

BRYAN'S

ELECTRIC BELTS,

A SELF-CURE, WITHOUT MEDICINE,

For all Diseases Arising From a Loss of Vital Force.

Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Epilepsy, Hysteria, Weak Lungs, Nervous Debility, Weakness, Kidney Complaints, Impotency, and Physical Prostration.

This improvement in electric appliances embraces the effective properties of older inventions without requiring vinegar or other liquid to excite action. The metals in this belt are so nicely adjusted that the heat and moisture of the body is sufficient to evolve the current of Electricity. They encircle the body with Electric and Magnetic influence, restore the Nervous and Debilitated, and impart New Life and Strength to the wasting organism.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF NEW YORK has this year awarded A DIPLOMA FOR THIS INVENTION after having been thoroughly examined and tested by the eminent Physicians and Electricians appointed for the purpose by the Directors of the Institution. Some of the most eminent physicians of the city have certified to the merits of this Therapeutic agent.

Read the following from Dr. Guernsey, No. 18 West Twenty-third street: "I have used Bryan's Electric Voltaic Belts with very decided benefit. In all cases where curative action is required they give very decided satisfaction. Their construction is thoroughly scientific, and physicians will find them of great aid in cases that resist every other form of treatment."

JOSEPH SAUNDERS says: "My disease, nervous debility, and all its horrors, unfitted me for business, society, or domestic life. Your belt has proved a sovereign balm and effected a perfect cure."
