MONETARY MATTERS IN NEW YORK AND SAN FRANCISCO.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, October 27, 1879.

The imports of specie for the past week amounted to $1,917,357.

Money loaned at 7 throughout the day, but closed somewhat easier at 6@7 per cent.

Government bonds were quiet and unchanged.

State bonds were dull and nominal, except Louisiana consols, which were steady.

Exchange was steady on a light business at 480½@480¾ for long and 482¾@486 for short sight.

Railroad bonds were generally firm; Erie new seconds advanced from 85¾ to 86¼, and fell off to 85½; do. funded fives dropped from 82¾ to 81½; Kansas & Texas firsts sold up from 88¼ to 89⅞, with later transactions at 89¼@89½. Chesapeake & Ohio firsts rose from 57 to 58¼; do. currency sixes from 28¾ to 29⅞. San Francisco seconds, class B, from 60 to 61½; do. class C from 58 to 60. Jersey Central adjustments fell off to 107, do. assented consols to 102½, and Iron Mountain firsts, preferred incomes, to 80.

The stock speculation was strong and buoyant, with a largely increased volume of business. The market opened buoyant, and under the leadership of New York Central and Wabash prices advanced ½ to 6%. During the afternoon there was a reaction of ½ to 4¾ per cent, the latter, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Erie declining ⅜ per cent, on a report that Vanderbilt was to have no voice in the management. Subsequently a stronger feeling prevailed, and there was an advance of 1@5 per cent., Delaware, Lackawanna & Western showing greatest improvement. This was followed by a slight reaction, but the market closed generally firm. Lake Shore was noticeably firm and rose 3¼ per cent.

The total sales aggregated 558,000 shares, including Erie 156,300, Lake Shore 49,600, Wabash 42,100, Northwestern 10,100, St. Paul 18,900, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western 28,200, New Jersey Central 22,800, Delaware & Hudson 13,600, Michigan Central 11,500, Union Pacific 6,400, C. GEORGETOWN NEWS.

Collected by Republican Reporters.

The funeral of Mr. J. B. Dodson, a very prominent merchant and an old resident of Georgetown, took place yesterday afternoon, services being performed at Christ Church. The remains were interred at the Congressional cemetery. The following gentlemen were the pall-bearers: Thomas J. Berry, Thomas L. Hume, H. C. Shuster, William M. Gall, Henry Sunken, William Shuster, William H. Gisgett. The deceased was in his sixty-seventh years.

There seems to be a satisfactory revival of business along the river front, and merchants are corresponding happy. Quite a number of arrivals and departures of vessels is noted.

Dr. Ritchie remains in pretty much the same condition as at last reports. No indications of a change for the worse can be detected.

The good people of this thriving port, having been somewhat infused with the go-ahead spirit of the National Fair, thought they would not let themselves be entirely outdone in the grand procession to-day. Accordingly several of the more enterprising merchants prepared their turnouts for the general admiration of the public. Among those represented are Mr. Samuel Cropley, who manes a tremendously large wagon drawn by eight respectable mules. A number of attaches of Mr. Cropley's store will decorate the aforesaid wagon and indulge in appropriate antics. Mr. Scrivener, well known as the excursion-boat manager up at the Aqueduct bridge, also furnishes a double team. Then comes Mr. Tenney & Sons, the flour dealers, who with their usual enterprise contribute one of their large grain wagons, which will be fixed up with banners and other paraphernalia. Mr. J. J. Cook will have a four-horse team attached to a good staunch carriage, in which will be seen a sturdy blacksmith wielding the mightly sledge and turning somersaults three in a second. Next and last comes Fugitt, the restaurateur, with a single turnout. A large pyramid of oyster shells will be the feature of this particular spectacle. Mr. Fugitt proposes to make the same more interesting to the settling mass of humanity by throwing overboard freshly cooked fried oysters at irregular intervals.
