PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR FUEL.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF DISTRIBUTING CLERK AND SUPT., WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20, 1880.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock noon on MONDAY, December 6, 1880, for furnishing Fuel for the Postoffice Department, as follows:

For the delivery and storage of five hundred (500) cords, more or less, (2240 pounds to the ton), of the best quality of Lehigh Anthracite Furnace or Stemboat Coal, to be thoroughly screened and free from slate, and to be delivered and stored on or before December 31, 1880, in the vaults of the Department building before the contracting party will be paid therefor.

Average samples of the coal must accompany each bid, and the contracting party must exhibit satisfactory certificates from shippers that the coal delivered to him from the vessel or cars is the kind required by the Department.

Also, for the delivery and storage of ten (10) cords of best Baker's Pine Wood, to be delivered and corded at the Department building as may be required within ten (10) days from date of contract. The whole to be weighed or measured by the inspector appointed under the provisions of Section 3, U. Revised Statues of the United States.

The bids will be opened in the office of the Superintendent, in the presence of such bidders as may choose to attend, on MONDAY, December the 24th, 1880, at 12 o'clock noon, and the awards will be made on or before Saturday, December 25, 1880.

The Department reserves the right to reject all or any part of the bids received, if deemed for the best interest of the Government so to do.

A satisfactory bond will be required in each case to be executed and filed within five (5) days after the award is made, for the faithful performance of the contract.

PROPOSALS FOR MAIL LOCKS.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25, 1880.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this Department, UNTIL 12 O'CLOCK NOON, ON THE 26TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1881, for furnishing a new kind of mail locks and keys for the sole and exclusive use of the United States through registered mails.

As the public exposure and searching examination necessary to intelligent bidding on any prescribed model of a lock and key would tend to impair, if not entirely destroy, the further utility of such locks and keys for the purposes of the mails, the Postmaster-General prescribes no model or sample for bidders, but relies for a selection on the mechanical skill and ingenuity which a fair competition among inventors, hereby invited, may develop in samples submitted by them.

Specifications of the conditions and requirements relating to proposals, samples, contract, etc., as well as forms of proposal, will be furnished on application by letter to the Second Assistant Postmaster-General.

No proposal will be considered unless it shall have been submitted in accordance with such specification and forms.

The contracts which may be made will be in conformity to the specifications and the accepted proposals. But the right is, however, reserved to reject any and all of the proposals.

JAMES N. TYNER, Acting Postmaster-General. oc26

PROPOSALS FOR MAIL BAGS.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., October 20, 1880.

SEPARATE SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE received at this Department until noon on the 24 day of December, 1880, for furnishing, by contract, for four years from the 1st day of January, 1881, like the samples of this Department; also for furnishing MAIL BAGS conforming in materials and sizes to the official samples, but of different construction and improved patterns, of which bidders are to furnish samples.

MAIL BAGS

Specifications of the kinds of Mail Bags and of the conditions and requirements relating to proposals, contracts, &c., as well as forms of bidding, will be furnished on application by letter to the Second Assistant Postmaster-General. No proposal will be considered which shall not have been submitted in accordance with such specifications and forms.

The contracts which may be made will be in conformity to the specifications and the accepted proposals. The right is reserved, however, to reject any or all the proposals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The River Side.

BY H. C. D.

On the emerald banks of the river we strolled,
At the hour of sunset salute,
Where we viewed the dark flood as it languidly rolled,
And the hum of the city was mute.

Arching willow boughs sheltered the seat that we found,
While the stars glimmered through from above,
And the breeze and the branches that trailed o'er the ground
Gently sighed to the voice of my love.

Through the gloom shown the boatman's dim light at the prow,
As it nodded and rose on the wave,
While the orbs flashing light from beneath a dark brow
Sent their gleams to the soul of the brave.

Though the thoughts that her tender devotion betrayed
She concealed; while inspired by their power,
Yet I felt as we lingered beneath the dark shade
That the love god had breathed in our bower.

Soothly sweet is the thought of that midsummer night,
When my love nestled close at my side,
And my heart ever wakes with a thrill of delight
When she tells me, "In thee I confide."

Soft and fair were those lips in their warm damask hues,
While her love-perfumed kisses were given
With a wealth of affection I could not refuse,
For their touch seemed the foretaste of heaven.

True Economies.

In view of the fact that most of the expense for police force, jails, almshouses, prisons and hospitals is the outgrowth of the ignorance which blasts the children of the degraded, and the fact given in one of his reports by Commissioner Eaton, that "if the illiterate voters of the United States but acquired a slightly advanced degree of education it would annually add to the productions of our country $311,286,999, or five times the whole amount expended for education in this country," the most stupid patriot naturally proceeds to add the sum which ignorance, the father of vice, takes out of the government for the support of vice, to the amount of which the government is robbed by the uselessness of these non-producing vagrants. The total result looms nebulously on the startled vision, showing us that ignorance is vastly more expensive to government than would be the gift of a most liberal education carried on in the being of every child in the nation from the age of two years to eighteen. In the following extract from a letter which precedes Commissioner Eaton's "statement of the system of education of the United States," he says "the free public education of the children of the United States depends everywhere on the action taken by the several states and by the citizens of those states in their several localities," and that "the existence of the republic, unless all its citizens are educated, is an impossibility."

From this it is seen that the necessity of the rescue of the masses from ignorance is not only one of social economics, but that this rescue is dependent upon the action of the citizens of the different localities, and that it is a problem fundamental to the existence of the republic.
