NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., FEBRUARY 14, 1881.

ABOUT THE SIZE OF IT.

BY A. R. "TICH."

'Tis said that thirty inches span
The average woman's waist,
And just so long the arm of man;
So when 'tis singly placed
Around the damsel whom one treasures,
There is conformity of measures.

How admirable are thy works,
O Nature, kind and dear!
For, spite of all thy kinks and quirks,
And various doings queer,
Thou mould'st waists of proper bias,
While arms to fit thou dost supply us.

HAM AND EGGS.

—Uneasy lies the head that eats crackers while in bed.—Hackensack Republican

—Evident.—Rider (on a very lean horse)—"Some very good points, eh?" Friend—"Seems made of 'em."

—"The Parlor Cattle Car Company" has been incorporated in Cincinnati, and "boudoir hog cars" are expected next.

—It was a Vassar girl, just graduated, who inquired: "Is the crack of a rifle that place where they put the powder in?"

—When Spain's baby gets old enough to say, "Papa, take me to see anuzzer bull fight," won't Alfonso be the proudest man in Europe?

—"Would you like to look through the big telescope?" asked one girl of another. To which the other replied: "No, I'd a great deal rather look through a keyhole."

—A Boston artist claims to have painted an orange peel on the sidewalk so naturally that six fat men slipped up on it before the deception was discovered.—Hartford Evening Post.

—"Well, I have done one good deed to-day," said Billington. "What's that?" asked his friend. "I have given a poor deserving man an overcoat: how do you think it fits?"

—A young man who didn't like the color of his hair, wrote to a chemist, asking, "What is the best dying receipt?" The chemist wrote back: "Fool with an empty shot-gun."

"I wish to pay you for five cakes," said a traveler to a railway restaurant-keeper. "But you had only four—a sponge-cake, a cocoanut-cake, an almond-cake, and a currant-cake." "And a stomach-ache," added the traveler.

—A distinguished foreigner visiting this country remarked that the United States was the greatest country he ever saw for well-dressed beggars. He referred to the young men who hang around the church and theatre entrances. Only paupers do so abroad.

—"Go where there is the most sin, sir," said the old clergyman's coachman, when asked which of two calls the dominie ought to accept. The old man thought it over, and concluded that where there was most money there would be most sin. So he accepted the call which offered the most substantial salary.

—"Who can fathom the human heart?" earnestly inquires a young lady of Sangamon County, in the course of a charmingly short article, on "Life's Realities." We do not exactly know. You might start in with a butter-tryer, and if that don't work send to Detroit for a submarine diver. If you really want your heart fathomed, it can be done; but more likely it is your liver that needs repairs.

National Rifle Notes.

The National Rifles, in their new scarlet dress-uniforms, will parade on the 22d instant with sixty rifles, the Marine Band furnishing the music. The President of the United States, General W. T. Sherman, and the Commissioners of the District will be given a marching salute by the company on this occasion. Having received uniforms for sixty men complete, it is understood that the company will at once proceed to uniform forty additional men, the number being limited by the constitution and by-laws to one hundred.

Cards of invitation are out for the first dress uniform reception and soiree by the National Rifles, to be given at the company's armory, Marini's building, on the evening of the 22d instant. Mrs. General John A. Logan, assisted by several young lady friends, will receive on this occasion, for which great preparations are being made. Louis Weber's band will furnish the dancing music, and Mr. Copeland has been engaged to tastefully decorate the hall.

Mr. Donald B. MacLeod is perfecting arrangements to reproduce "Pinafore," with the ever popular Miss Eva Mills as Josephine, and the other well-known Washington amateurs in the cast and chorus, on the 28th instant and March 1, at Lincoln Hall, under the auspices of the enterprising National Rifles. Three performances are to be given.

England's Perfidy.

To the Editor of The Republican:

It looks a little strange to see in your issue of the 9th an article exposing England's perfidy, and see in the Washington Post of last Saturday, a Democratic organ, an apology for England's perfidy. Is it possible that the Republicans have become the defenders of liberty and the Democrats the defenders and apologists of tyrants? If the Washington Post be an exponent of the principles of Democracy, of the Democratic party, such actually is the case. The Washington Post of the 5th apologizes for the British Ministry in committing the greatest outrage that could be committed on man in the suspension of the Irish members from constitutional debate. Yes, the Washington Post, a Democratic organ (save the mark!), apologizes for the tyrants of Europe. I wrote him an article, giving him sixty years' experience of the perfidy of English Whig and Liberal statesmen, asking him to publish it. He answered it in the paper of the 5th, under the head of "Friendship for Ireland," belittling me and my communication, and not publishing it, but tenaciously holding on to his apology for the British Liberals' perfidy. American Republican statesmen, English statesmen, have pronounced that one of Gladstone (see New York Herald) as the most infamous act that man could perpetrate on another; and, after all, it is left to a Democratic organ at the Capital of a Republican Government to insist that these are wrong, and that he is correct in defending Gladstone and the British Ministry in their perfidy in trampling under foot the defenders of an oppressed and outraged people. Oh, shame, flame on such Democracy, on such Democratic organs!

TOLKA.

A Drunken Vagabond.

In New Orleans the actor Emmet has at last found an audience that will not be trifled with. The drunken vagabond ought to be banished from the stage.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Wall Street Transactions—Latest Quotations in Stocks and Bonds.

The following observations on the transactions in the financial market Saturday, together with highest, lowest, and closing stock quotations, are furnished by the banking-house of H. D. Cooke, jr., & Co., 1429 F street, Washington, D. C.:

The market opened strong, with the chief interest centering in Union Pacific, Western Union, Pacific Mail, and Ohio and Mississippi. The Vanderbilt stocks were generally strong, excepting Canada Southern, which was unsettled. Gould stocks were very firm, but dull. The market closed strong, and looks like advancing on Monday. We think, from all we can learn, there will soon be a downward movement in Mobile and Ohio, Illinois Central, and the Coals, which close firm, New Jersey Central being the chief feature of the same.
